Malibu Civic Center WTP
2019 Annual Monitoring Report

WDR: R4-2015-0051
MRP: CI-10042

OVERVIEW

Malibu Civic Center Wastewater Treatment Plant (MCCWTP) ran well all year, with no major equipment or process issues.

A. Tabular and Graphical Summaries of Data

a. Influent and effluent quality and quantity is summarized in Attachment A.
b. Groundwater quality is summarized in the attached report by Rincon Consultants.
c. Surface water quality is summarized in the attached report by Rincon Consultants.

B. Compliance Record

a. There were no incidents of non-compliance this reporting period.

C. Results of Effluent, Groundwater, and Surface Monitoring

a. Changes in surface water quality resulting from injection and irrigation are summarized in the attached report by Rincon Consultants.
b. Changes in groundwater flow patterns resulting from injection are summarized in the attached report by Rincon Consultants.

D. Description of Changes and Anticipated Changes

During startup and subsequent operation of the new WTP, various shortcomings were identified and associated improvements were undertaken. The most notable are:

Screened Solids Handling Difficulties

Preliminary Treatment includes a coarse screen, followed by a vortex grit removal device, followed by a 1 mm fine screen. The coarse screen removed so much of the larger fibrous material that the fine screen only received extremely fine material, so fine that although it was removed by the fine screen, it was impossible to wash and compact, since it simply squeezed through the perforations of the compactor when washwater and pressure were applied. After testing various methods, the most satisfactory resolution was to bypass the coarse screen and vortex grit device. Once all preliminary solids were applied to the fine screen, the additional bulk of larger and coarser fibrous material improved performance of the washer/compactor, resolving the original problem. IPC monitors solids capture closely to ensure adequate performance with the coarse screen and vortex grit device bypassed, and will return that equipment to service when process conditions dictate.

Inadequate Flow Equalization Pump Delivery Rate

The EQ Pumps were unable to deliver design flow to the Bioreactors due to excessive headloss in the discharge piping. Design flow was 130 gpm per Bioreactor Train, but the EQ pumps were only able to deliver 60 to 110 gpm per Bioreactor Train, depending on the level in the EQ Tank. A larger test pump was installed, including an electrical upgrade for higher horsepower requirement, and this resolved the flow deficit, achieving flows up to 180 gpm and available turndown to 25 gpm with the variable frequency drive. Due to the success of the test pump, all three Phase I EQ Pumps will be similarly converted. This work is currently in progress as part of Phase II design.

Cement Mortar Lined Steel (CML) Pipe Issues

CML pipe was used almost exclusively for above ground liquid transport at the WTP. This created immediate problems with the MBR and UV systems during startup when dislodged mortar was found in samples, having been liberated due to the addition of chemicals and associated variations in pH. Membranes and UV quartz sleeves cannot tolerate abrasion, so the offending CML pipe sections were scheduled for replacement with Schedule 80 PVC. Most of that work has been completed.

Excessively Hot Control Panels

A number of control panels, including those at both sewage pump stations, all three injection wells, and the WTP hydropneumatic system were found to be operating at much higher temperatures than recommended, over 130 deg F versus the 104 deg F maximum mandated by the project specifications, subjecting sensitive electronic control components of these critical facilities to premature failure. All responsible panel manufacturer's were directed to improve cooling to meet project standards at their own cost. Bluffs Park and Legacy Park sewage pump stations high-temperature concerns have been resolved by installation of air conditioners. Injection wells 1-3 are currently being addressed. Efforts on the hydropneumatic system panels have been stalled due to refusal to comply by the equipment supplier, Pulsco.

UV Unit Flow Control Issues

The UV System was originally piped in a way that made flow measurement impossible because the outlet piping drained by gravity to the reclaimed water Clearwell, and the individual UV Unit flow meters on the outlet piping could not be kept full, which is a requirement for this type of flow meter. In concert with the CML pipe replacement job mentioned previously, the outlet piping was elevated to ensure the UV Unit flow meters remained full at all times. Once this was completed, it became apparent that it was not possible to control flow adequately to each UV Unit by relying on the natural hydraulic split expected by the designer. In order to resolve this, IPC replaced the original OPEN / CLOSED motor operated inlet valves with motor operated analog flow control valves. It is now possible to specifically control flow to each UV Unit, so that flow is distributed evenly and not allowed to exceed the 0.1 MGD design threshold per UV Unit.

Ultrasonic Level Transmitter Failures

Ultrasonic level transmitters were widely used in the original plant design. Many of these meters performed erratically, causing significant control issues during startup. The most problematic six of them (Bioreactor 1 Post Anoxic Tank 1, Bioreactor 1 Post Anoxic Tank 2, Bioreactor 2 Post Anoxic Tank 1, Bioreactor 2 Post Anoxic Tank 2, Reclaimed Water Clearwell, and Membrane Thickener), were replaced with submersible pressure style transmitters. Since then, no erratic behavior or control issues have been experienced.

Off Spec Bypass

MBRs typically produce high-quality filtrate with low turbidity, on the order of 0.05 to 0.15 ntu. Occasionally MBR filtrate turbidity is elevated, for various reasons such as increased pore size immediately after a chemical clean, the inclusion of air bubbles, etc. These types of high turbidity events can usually be resolved by continued filtration or process adjustments, but this creates a paradox that in order to improve turbidity, filtration must be allowed to continue when turbidity is high, and this creates a significant risk of a turbidity violation. No provision was made for this in the original design, so modifications were undertaken to install a high turbidity bypass system (off spec). When turbidity is off spec, the bypass is opened and remains open until turbidity is back within spec. The off-spec filtrate is therefore directed to the headworks for retreatment, and no high turbidity filtrate is allowed to proceed downstream to the UV system, where high turbidity could present difficulties with disinfection.

Consistently Low UVT

The Trojan UV Fit system was certified to achieve adequate disinfection when operated as designed on feed water with UVT of 65% or higher. It has proven very impossible to reliably achieve 65% UVT in the UV feed water. UVT was initially controlled by adding alum, but this was subsequently abandoned in favor of filtrate chlorination at 5 to 10 mg/L.

Injection Well Piping

On initial attempts to start up the injection wells, they were found to have a similar problem as the one described earlier on the UV Units, in terms of discharge piping that could not be kept full so that the flow meter could function properly. Injection Well 1 was repiped for a test, adding an inverted U downstream of the flow meter to keep the meter flooded when the backflush pump was running. The piping modification was a success and was subsequently applied to Injection Well 2. Injection Well 3 piping modifications will be completed as part of Phase II construction.

E. List of Analytical Methods and QA/QC

A summary of the laboratories used, along with their ELAP certification numbers, expiration dates, and applicable Fields of Testing is shown on page XX. Additionally, all of the referenced ELAP certificates are attached. Analytical methods and QA/QC procedures are compiled with test reports, throughout the document.

F. Operator Certification

The following personnel are employed in the Operation and Maintenance of the WTP and associated facilities:

NAME	GRADE	CERT NO.	POSITION
Ric Vardel	V	4467	Chief Plant Operator
Golan Kfir	III	41641	Operations Supervisor
Kyle Vardel	III	42661	Operations Supervisor
Carlos Alvarez	I	35031	Lead Operator
Julio Leal	I (OIT)	44542	Operator in Training
Juan Aguilar	I (OIT)	44061	Operator in Training
Mohammed Monghasem	I (OIT)	44418	Operator in Training
Victor Arikian	I (OIT)	45069	Operator in Training

G. Summarize Changes to OMM Plan

The OMM Plan is a living document that is being revised as necessary when changes occur. The list of modifications noted in Section D, above comprises typical examples. In such cases, OMM updates include changes to Operations & Maintenance Instructions, the Asset Management program (where applicable), as well as PLC and SCADA programs.

H. Groundwater Flow and Transport

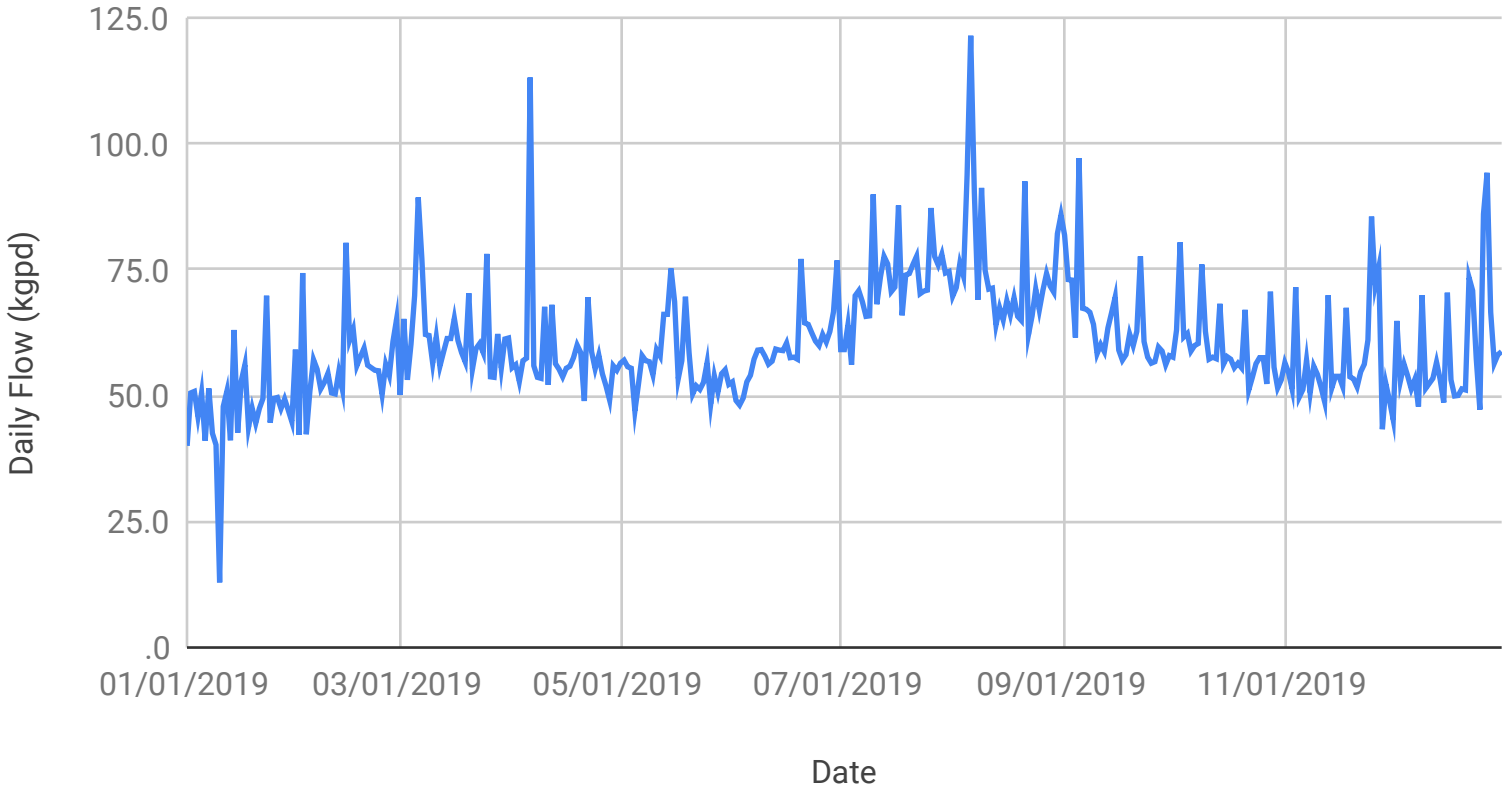
Groundwater flow and transport is summarized in the attached Surface and Groundwater monitoring report by Rincon Consultants.

a. Injection into the aquifer began in March and continued throughout the reporting period.
b. The rate and path of flow of injected water is summarized in the attached Surface and Groundwater monitoring report by Rincon Consultants.
c. Data used as parameters to calculate rates of groundwater flow reaching Santa Monica Bay, Malibu Creek, and Lagoon is summarized in the attached Surface and Groundwater monitoring report by Rincon Consultants.

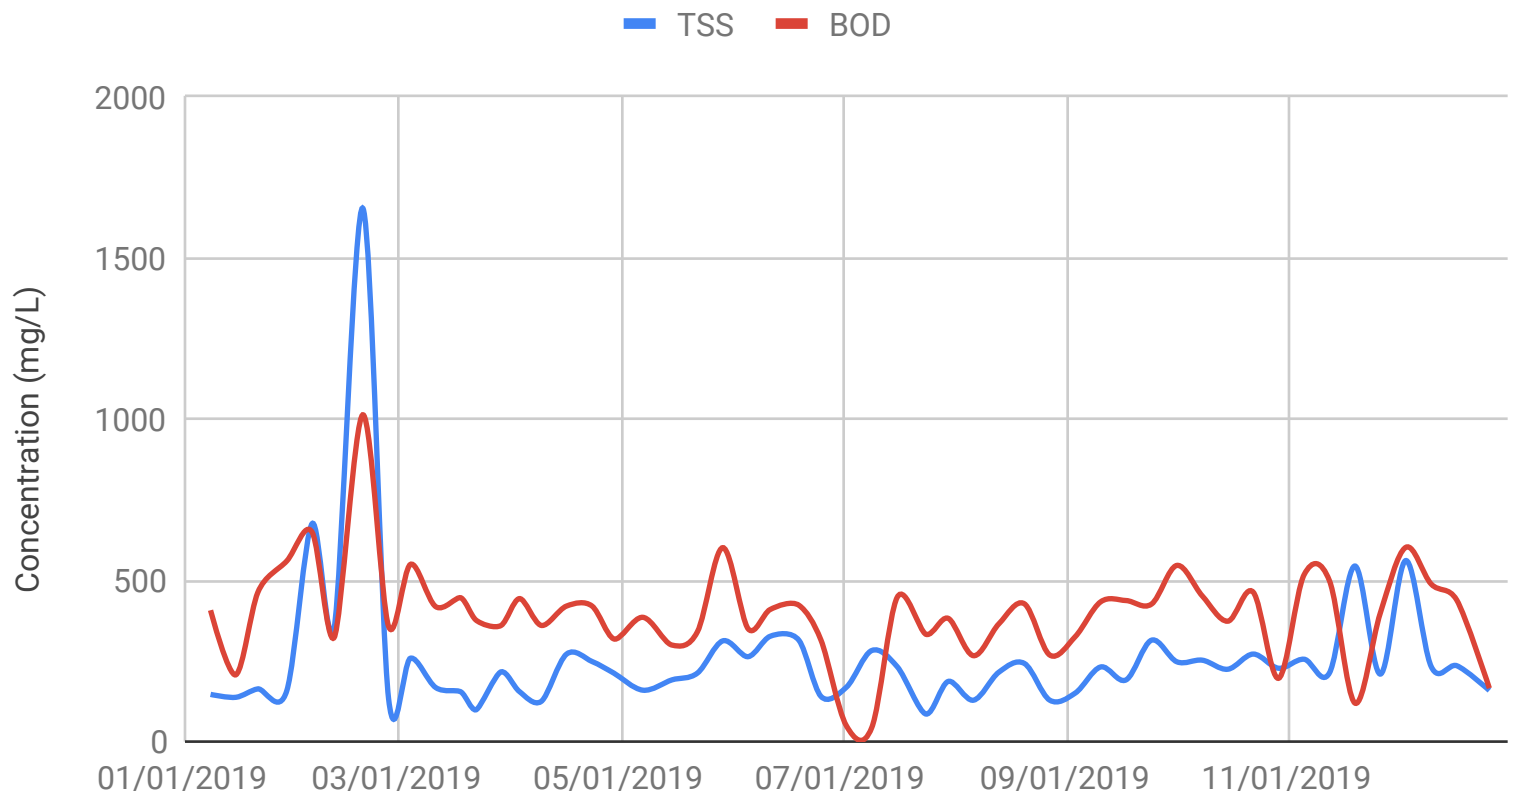
All analyses were conducted at a laboratory certified for such analyses by the California Department of Health Services, and in accordance with current United States Environmental Protection Agency (USEPA) guideline procedures or as specified in this Monitoring Program. A copy of the ELAP certificate for Sierra Analytical and copies of the completed chain of custody forms are attached.

I certify under penalty of law that this document, including all attachments and supplemental information, were prepared under my direction or supervision in accordance with a system designed to assure that qualified personnel properly gathered and evaluated the information submitted. Based on my inquiry of the person or persons who manage the system, or those persons directly responsible for gathering the information, the information submitted is, to the best of my knowledge and belief, true, accurate, and complete. I am aware that there are significant penalties for submitting false information, including the possibility of a fine and imprisonment.

Executed on the 1st day of March, 2020, at Irvine, CA.



Sincerely,



Ric Vardel, IPC Inc.

Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

Definitions

"Terms and Conditions" means these Terms and Conditions of sale, including the price schedule, and any additions or amendments hereto which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity who may request laboratory services, consulting or sampling services and his or its heirs, successors, assigns and representatives. "Price Schedule" means Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule as such document may be amended or released from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services (as defined herein) only under the following General Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing, which does not incorporate the Terms. No modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the client and PCL.

The Client may order services by submitting a written chain of custody (COC) to PCL. Any such order constitutes 1. an acceptance by the client of PCL's offer to do business with the client under the terms and conditions and 2. an agreement to be bound by these terms and conditions. The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or initiation of consulting services constitutes the client's express assent to be governed by these terms and conditions. No contrary or additional terms and conditions expressed in a client's document shall be deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of the terms and conditions.

For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of workmanship in the profession. Where applicable, PCL will use analytical methodologies which are in substantial conformity with the U.S Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), CA Waterboard (ELAP), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM), Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC), Standard Methods (SM) of the Examination of Water and Wastewater and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate due to the nature or compositions of the samples or as otherwise based on the reasonable judgement of PCL. Deviations, if any, will be made on a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and/or our QA/QC policies. The total liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or successors to the client, arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided herein, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for said services. Client's acceptance of a work order and /or proposal releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in any client purchase orders or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel performs the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the condition which the samples are collected and for conditions in and about the sampling site and for advising PCL of the same and all information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder subject to payment for all services rendered and out-of-pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally, except to the extent that Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample materials provided by client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public or is the public domain or client has failed to pay PCL for all services rendered or is otherwise in breach of the agreements subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of such data where such standard has otherwise. PCL reports and information provided thereunder are for the exclusive use and benefit of client and client agrees there shall be no third party beneficiaries of such reports, data or information. Client shall not disclose to any third party any interpretations or any technical information, software, programs or other formulations.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent harmless from and against any and all liabilities, losses, environmental claims, penalties, causes of action, suits and any and all costs and expenses including, but not limited to, court fees (the "Litigation Expenses") and expert arising in favor of client or any third party as a result of, and/or in any way arising, incident to, arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or transportation, handling, or disposal of client's hazardous materials, 1. injury, illness or death of persons 2. loss of, damage to, or theft of, or loss of use or property and/or 3. financial loss of every kind or character. This indemnity does not apply to any of the foregoing losses, costs, damages, or liabilities caused solely by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall specifically apply to losses, claims, liabilities, actions of every kind and character, arising out of or in connection with the negligence or acts or breach of contract by any indemnified Person, whether active or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any liability which the client might otherwise have to PCL and the other indemnified Persons. To the extent necessary under applicable law, client agrees that its indemnity obligation will be supported by available liability insurance coverage to be furnished by client, which insurance shall be in the minimum amounts permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable to client for indirect, punitive, special, incidental or consequential damages (including without limitation, loss of profit or business interruption) Litigation Expenses or other fees including, without limitation, attorney's fees, court costs, and/or pre or post judgment interest), or any other expenses or costs incurred by client or any other party in any litigation against or involving PCL or any indemnified person in connection with this agreement or all services provided under this agreement even if client is the prevailing party.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by client, client will provide and PCL will receive samples materials for analyses such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls, bacteria or any other hazardous or toxic material, wastes and substances which are defined, determined or identified as such under federal, state or local laws, rules, PCL policies or regulations (whether now existing or hereafter enacted or promulgated or any judicial or administrative interpretation of any thereof the "Hazardous Materials"). Client understands and agrees that any hazardous material received by PCL from clients or at client's request shall remain the property of Client and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of all unused portions of samples as specified by client or by PCL's QA/QC policies. In the event the client does not specify its preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain Hazardous Materials. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for any/all bacterial analysis, client will be charged a sample disposal fee, per sample submitted, in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect in the area of operations on the date the services were rendered or with prices quoted and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment in advance or when analysis is completed is required for all new clients or until a history of payment and/or credit worthiness has been established with PCL. For those clients with an established credit account, the terms for payment of charges are NET CASH within thirty (30) days from date of invoices. To the fullest extent permitted by all by applicable law, any amount unpaid at the end of thirty (30) days is subject to interest at the lesser of the maximum rate permitted by law or one and one-half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balances. If unpaid amounts are collected through legal proceedings or by an attorney, the client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees or agents' fees associated with such collection procedure or efforts.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to the terms shall be effective only if in writing and executed by an officer of PCL and by client authorized representative, except that subsequent orders for additional services may be verbal or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries: No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information or reports furnished by PCL. Client is securing services hereunder for his own account, and not as agent or broker, or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity. It is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party may rely on such data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that said data, information and reports are not requested, or shall be used to resell same, in connection with or as part of the purchase, sale, underwriting, or distribution of any securities, any periodic or other reporting to the holders of any security, the securing, amendment, renewal, or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender or the consideration to or contracting with, directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advance. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are delivered on weekends or after 3pm on weekdays without prior modification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed prior to any samples being received by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to the client if requested. All analytes with holding times of 24 days or less, samples must arrive within 96 hours to allow PCL to meet holding times without applying a rush surcharge. All short holding times, 2-7 days, samples must arrive at the lab within 24 hours before expiration to ensure that the holding times can be met. Short Holding Times of 48 hours or less (Bacteriological) must be delivered that same day in order to guarantee holding times are met. After hours, late delivery, freight company delays or similar issues are subject to additional rush fees and/or the inability to meet holding times. All holding times are in effect as of the publication date of this fee schedule and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are retained for at least thirty (30) days after analysis has been completed. Sample storage for longer periods is by request only. Pre-arranged long term storage is subject to an additional charge. Samples will be discarded at the end of the pre-arranged storage time.

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

All pick up/sampling fees have been notated on the fee schedule. Reasonable time has been allocated for each pick up or service. Unnecessary delays during the pick up or sampling, might be accessed an additional fee.

Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

1. Definitions

"Terms and Conditions" means those Terms and Conditions of sale, including the price schedule, and any additions or amendments hereto which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity who may request laboratory services, consulting or sampling services and his or its heirs, successors, assigns and representatives. "Price Schedule" means Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule as such document may be amended or reissued from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services (as defined herein) only under the following General Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which does not incorporate the Terms. No modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the client and PCL.
The client may order service by submitting a written Chain of custody (COC) to PCL. Any such order constitutes 1. an acceptance by the client of PCL's offer to do business with the client under the terms and conditions and 2. an agreement to be bound by these terms and conditions.
The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or initiation of consulting services constitutes the client's express assent to be governed by these terms and conditions. No contrary or additional terms and conditions expressed in a client's document shall be deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of the terms and conditions.
For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of workmanship in the profession. Where applicable, PCL will use analytical methodologies which are in substantial conformity with the U.S Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), CA Waterboard (ELAP), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM), Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC) Standard Methods (SM) of the Examination of Water and Wastewater and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate due to the nature or compositions of the samples or otherwise based on the reasonable judgement of PCL. Deviations, if any, will be made on a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and/or our QA/QC policies. The total liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or successors to the client arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided herein, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for said services. Client's acceptance of a work order and /or proposal releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in any client purchase orders or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel performs the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the condition which the samples are collected and for conditions in and about the sampling site and for advising PCL of the same and all information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder subject to payment for all services rendered and out-of-pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally, except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample materials provided by client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public, or is in the public domain) or client has failed to pay PCL for all services rendered or is otherwise in breach of the agreement) subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care as it is presenting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of such data where such standard was observed. PCL reports and information provided thereto are for the exclusive use and benefit of client and client agrees there shall be no third party beneficiaries of such reports, data or information. Client will not disclose to any third party any information, including technical information, software programs or other formulations.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent harmless from and against any and all liabilities, losses or damages, claims, demands, causes of action, suits and associated expenses, including, but not limited to, all court fees (the obligation Expenses) and awards arising in favor of Client or any third party, as a result of, and/or in any way occurring incident to arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL hereunder, this agreement and/or transportation, handling, or disposal of client's hazardous materials. 1. Injury, illness or death of persons 2. Loss of, damage to, loss of, or loss of use of property and/or 3. Financial loss of every kind or character. This indemnity does not apply to any of the foregoing losses, such damages, or expenses caused solely by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall specifically apply to losses, claims damages, actions of every kind and character arising out of or in connection with the negligence of or breach of contract by any indemnified Person, whether actual or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any liability which the client might otherwise have to PCL and the other indemnified persons. To the extent necessary under applicable law, client agrees that its indemnity obligation will be supported by available liability insurance coverage to be furnished by client, which insurance shall be in the maximum amounts permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable to client for indirect, punitive, special, incidental or consequential damages (including without limitation, loss of profit or business interruption) Litigation Expenses (as other fees (including, without limitation, attorney's fees, court costs, and pre or post judgment interest), or any other expenses or costs incurred by client or any other party in any litigation against or involving PCL or any indemnified persons in connection with this agreement or all services provided under this agreement even if client is the prevailing party.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by client, client will provide and PCL will receive samples materials for analyses such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls, bacteria or any other hazardous or toxic material, wastes and substances which are defined, determined or identified as such under federal, state or local laws, rules, PCL policies or regulations (whether now existing or hereafter enacted or promulgated or any judicial or administrative interpretation of any thereof (the "Hazardous Materials"). Client understands and agrees that any hazardous material received by PCL from client or at client's request shall remain the property of Client and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of all unused portions of samples as specified by client or by PCL's QA/QC policies. In the event the client does not specify its preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain Hazardous Materials. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for asbestos bacterial analysis, client will be charged a sample disposal fee, per sample submitted, in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedure.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect in the area of operations on the date the services were rendered or with prices quoted and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment in advance or when analysis is completed is required for all new clients or client's with a history of payment and/or client account has been established with PCL. For those clients with an established credit account, the terms for payment of charges are NET EACH within thirty (30) days from date of invoices. To the fullest extent permitted by law or by applicable law, any amount unpaid at the end of thirty (30) days is subject to interest at the lesser of the maximum rate (as limited by law or rule and one half percent (1.5%) per month, or the unpaid balance. If unpaid accounts are collected through legal proceedings by an attorney, the client will pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees, or salary, fees associated with such collection procedure or efforts.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to the terms shall be effective only if in writing and executed by an officer of PCL and by client's authorized representative. Verbal or telephonic orders for additional services may be verified or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries; No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information, or reports furnished by PCL. Client in securing services hereunder for its own account, and not as agent or broker, or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity. It is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement and that no third party may rely on such data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that said data, information and reports are not requested, or shall be used to relied upon, in connection with or as part of, the purchase, sale, underwriting, or distribution of any securities, any periodic or other reporting to the holders of any securities, the securing, amendment, renewal, or extension of any loan from any financial institutions or other lender or the certification to or contracting with, directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advance. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are delivered on weekends or after 3pm on weekdays without prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed prior to any samples being received by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to the client if requested. All analyses with holding times of 24 hours or less (samples must arrive within 36 hours to allow PCL to meet holding times without applying a rush surcharge. All short holding times (< 7 days), samples must arrive at the lab within 24 hours before expiration to ensure that the holding times can be met. Short Holding Times of 48 hours or less (such as 48 hours) must be delivered the same day in order to guarantee holding times are met. After hours, late delivery, freight company delays or similar issues are subject to additional rush fees and/or the inability to meet holding times. All holding times are in effect as of the publication date of this fee schedule and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are retained for at least thirty (30) days after analysis has been completed. Sample storage for longer periods is by request only. Pre-arranged long term storage is subject to an additional charge. Samples will be discarded at the end of the pre-arranged storage time.

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

All pick up/sampling fees have been included on the fee schedule. Reasonable time has been allocated for each pick up or service. Unnecessary delays during the pick up or sampling might be accessed an additional fee.

Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

1. Definitions

"Terms and Conditions" means these Terms and Conditions of sale, including the price schedule, and any additions or amendments hereto which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity who may request laboratory services, consulting or sampling services and his or its heirs, successors, assigns and representatives. "Price Schedule" means Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule as such document may be amended or reissued from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services (as defined herein) only under the following General Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which does not incorporate the Terms. No modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the client and PCL.
The client may order services by submitting a written chain of custody (COC) to PCL. Any such order constitutes 1. an acceptance by the client of PCL's offer to do business with the client under the terms and conditions and 2. an agreement to be bound by these terms and conditions.
The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or initiation of consulting services constitutes the client's express assent to be governed by these terms and conditions. No contrary or additional terms and conditions expressed in a client's document shall be deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of the terms and conditions.
For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of workmanship in the profession. Where applicable, PCL will use analytical methodologies which are in substantial conformity with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), CA Waterboard (ELAP), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM), Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC), Standard Methods (SM) of the Examination of Water and Wastewater and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate due to the nature or composition of the samples or otherwise based on the reasonable judgement of PCL. Deviations, if any, will be made on a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and/or our QA/QC policies. The total liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or successors to the client, arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided herein, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for said services. Client's acceptance of a work order and /or proposal releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in any client purchase orders or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel performs the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the condition which the samples are collected and for conditions in and about the sampling site and for advising PCL of the same and all information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder subject to payment for all services rendered and out-of-pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally, except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample material provided by client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public or in the public domain or client has failed to pay PCL for all invoices rendered or is otherwise in breach of this agreement) subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of confidential information. Standard laboratory PCL reports and information provided thereon are for the exclusive use and benefit of client and client agrees there shall be no third party beneficiary of such reports, data or information. Client will not distribute any third party any information concerning technical information, software program or other formulations.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases and at its sole, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent harmless from and against any and all claims, losses or damages, claims, demands, causes of action, costs and associated expenses, including, but not limited to, attorneys fees (the "Litigation Expenses") and awards arising in favor of Client or any third party as a result of, and/or in any way occurring incident to, arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or transportation, handling or disposal of client's hazardous materials. 1. injury, disease or death of persons 2. Loss of, damage to, or use of, or loss of use of property and/or 3. Financial loss of every kind of character. This indemnity does not apply to any of the foregoing losses, costs, damages or injuries caused solely by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall specifically apply to liens, claims, damages, actions of every kind and description arising out of or in connection with the negligence of or breach of contract by any unqualified person, whether actual or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any liability which the client might otherwise have to PCL and the other indemnified Persons. To the extent necessary under applicable law, Client agrees that its indemnity obligation will be supported by available liability insurance coverage to be furnished by client, which insurance shall be in the maximum amounts permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable to client for indirect, punitive, special, incidental or consequential damages (including without limitation, loss of profit or business interruption) Litigation Expenses or other fees (including, without limitation, attorney's fees, court costs, and /or pre or post judgment interest), or any other expenses or costs incurred by client or any other party in any litigation against or involving PCL or any indemnified person in connection with this agreement or all services provided under this agreement even if client is the prevailing party.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by client, client will provide and PCL will receive samples materials for analyses such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls, bacteria or any other hazardous or toxic material, wastes and substances which are defined, determined or identified as such under federal, state or local laws, rules, PCL policies or regulations (whether now existing or hereafter enacted or promulgated or any judicial or administrative interpretation of any thereof the "Hazardous Materials"). Client understands and agrees that any hazardous material received by PCL from client or at client's request shall remain the property of Client and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of all unused portions of samples as specified by client or by PCL's QA/QC policies. In the event the client does not specify its preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain Hazardous Materials. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for any/all bacterial analysis client will be charged a sample disposal fee per sample submitted, in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's authorized price schedule in effect in the area of operations on the date the services were rendered or with prices quoted and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment is due at or when analysis is completed is required for all new clients or until a history of payment and/or credit account has been established with PCL. For those clients with an established credit account, the terms for payment of charges are NET (with within thirty (30) days from date of invoices. To the fullest extent permitted by at all be applicable law, any amount subject to invoice or thirty (30) days is subject to interest at the rate of the maximum rate permitted by law of one and one-half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balances. If unpaid amounts are referred to an legal proceedings or by an attorney, the client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees as readily been associated with such collection procedure or efforts.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes or modifications or amendments to the terms shall be effective only if in writing and executed by an officer of PCL and by client authorized representative, except that subsequent orders for additional services may be verbal or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries: No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information or reports furnished by PCL client or to client's services hereunder for his own account, and not as agent or broker, or in any other representative capacity to any other person or entity. It is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party may rely on such data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that said data, information and reports are not requested, or shall be used to relied upon, in connection with or as part of, the purchase, sale, underwriting or continuation of any securities, any periodic or other reporting to the holders of any securities, the issuing, amendment, renewal, or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender or the certification of contracting with, dates by or indirectly, any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advance. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are delivered on weekends or after 3pm on weekdays without prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed prior to any samples being received by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to the client if requested. All analyses with holding times of 14 days or less, samples must arrive within 96 hours to allow PCL to meet holding times without applying a rush surcharge. All short holding times, 2-7 days, samples must arrive at the lab within 24 hours before expiration to ensure that the holding times can be met. Short holding Times of 48 hours or less (bacteria is 8 hours) must be delivered that same day in order to guarantee holding times are met. After hours, late delivery, freight company delays or similar issues are subject to additional rush fees and/or the inability to meet holding times. All holding times are in effect as of the publication date of this fee schedule and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are retained for at least thirty (30) days after analysis has been completed. Sample storage for longer periods is by request only. Pre-arranged long term storage is subject to an additional charge. Samples will be discarded at the end of the pre-arranged storage time.

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

All pick up/sampling fees have been notated on the fee schedule. Reasonable time has been allocated for each pick up or service. Unnecessary delays during the pick up or sampling might be assessed an additional fee.

Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

1. Definitions

"Terms and Conditions" means these Terms and Conditions of sale, including the price schedule, and any additions or amendments hereto which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity who may request laboratory services, consulting or sampling services and his or its heirs, successors, assigns and representatives. "Price Schedule" means Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule as such document may be amended or revised from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services (as defined herein) only under the following General Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which does not incorporate the Terms. No modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the client and PCL.

The client may order services by submitting a written chain of custody (COC) to PCL. Any such order constitutes 1. an acceptance by the client of PCL's offer to do business with the client under the terms and condition and 2. an agreement to be bound by these terms and conditions.

The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or initiation of consulting services constitutes the client's express assent to be governed by these terms and conditions. No contrary or additional terms and conditions expressed in a client's document shall be deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of the terms and conditions.

For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of workmanship in the profession. Where applicable, PCL will use analytical methodologies which are in substantial conformity with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), CA Waterboard (ELAP), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM), Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC), Standard Methods (SM) of the Examination of Water and Wastewater and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate due to the nature or compositions of the samples or otherwise based on the reasonable judgement of PCL. Deviations, if any, will be made on a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and/or our QA/QC policies. The total liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or successors to the client, arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided herein, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for said services. Client's acceptance of a work order and /or proposal releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in any client purchase orders or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel performs the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the condition which the samples are collected and for conditions in and about the sampling site and for advising PCL of the same and all information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder subject to payment for all services rendered and out-of-pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally, except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample materials provided by client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public or is the public domain or client has failed to pay PCL for all services rendered or is otherwise in breach of the agreement) subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of said data where such standard was observed. PCL's reports and information provided hereto are for the exclusive use and benefit of client and client agrees there shall be no third party beneficiary of such reports, data or information. Clients will not disclose to any third party any information concerning technical information, software programs or other formulations.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent harmless from and against any and all liabilities, losses or damages, claims, demands, causes of action, suits and associated expenses, including, but not limited to, all court fees (the litigation Expenses) and awards arising in favor of Client or any third party as a result of, and/or in any way occurring incident to arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or transportation, handling or disposal of client's hazardous materials. 1. Injury, disease or death of persons 2. Loss of, damage to, loss of, or loss of use of property and/or 3. Financial loss of every kind or character. This indemnity does not apply to any of the foregoing losses, costs, damages, or injuries caused solely by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall specifically apply to losses, claims, damages, actions of every kind and character arising out of or in connection with the negligence of or breach of contract by any Indemnified Person, whether actual or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any liability which the client might otherwise have to PCL and the other Indemnified Persons. To the extent necessary under applicable law, client agrees that its indemnity obligation will be supported by available liability insurance coverage to be furnished by client, which insurance shall be in the maximum amounts permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable to client for indirect, punitive, special, incidental or consequential damages (including, without limitation, loss of profit or business interruption) litigation Expenses or other fees (including, without limitation, attorney's fees, court costs, and /or pre or post judgment interest), or any other expenses or costs incurred by client or any other party in any litigation against or involving PCL or any indemnified person in connection with this agreement or all services provided under this agreement even if client is the prevailing party.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by client, client will provide and PCL will receive samples materials for analyses such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls, bacteria or any other hazardous or toxic material, wastes and substances which are defined, determined or identified as such under federal, state or local laws, rules, PCL policies or regulations (whether now existing or hereafter enacted or promulgated or any judicial or administrative interpretation of any thereof the "Hazardous Materials"). In the event the client does not specify its preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain Hazardous Materials. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for any/all bacterial analysis, client will be charged a sample disposal fee, per sample submitted, in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect at the time of operations on the date the services were rendered or with prices quoted and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment in advance or when analysis is completed is required for all new clients, or until a history of payment and/or credit has been established with PCL. For those clients with an established credit account, the terms for payment of charges are NET (XX) (e.g. Net thirty (30) days from date of invoices. To the fullest extent permitted by or will by applicable law, any amount unpaid at the end of thirty (30) days is subject to interest at the union of the maximum rate permitted by law or one and one-half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balances. If unpaid amounts are collected through legal proceedings or by an attorney, the client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees or agents' fees associated with such collection procedure or efforts.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to the terms shall be effective only in writing and executed by an officer of PCL and by clients' authorized representative, except that subsequent orders for additional services may be verbal or by writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries: No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information or reports furnished to PCL. Client is securing services hereunder for his own account, and not as agent or broker, or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity. It is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party may rely on such data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that said data, information and reports are not requested, or shall be used to relied upon, in connection with or as part of, the purchase, sale, underwriting, or distribution of any securities, any periodic or other reporting to the holders of any security, the securing, amendment, renewal, or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender or the certification to or contracting with, directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or department.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample materials provided by client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public or is the public domain or client has failed to pay PCL for all services rendered or is otherwise in breach of the agreement) subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of said data where such standard was observed. PCL reports and information provided thereto are for the exclusive use and benefit of client and client agrees there shall be no third party beneficiary of PCL's reports, data or information. Client will not disclose to any third party any information concerning technical information, software programs or other trade secrets.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent harmless from and against any and all liabilities, losses or damages, claims, demands, causes of action, suits and associated expenses, including, but not limited to attorney fees (the Litigation Expenses) and awards arising in favor of Client or any third party as a result of, and/or in any way occurring incident to arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or transportation, handling, or disposal of client's hazardous materials, 1. injury, disease or death of persons 2. Loss of, damage to, loss of, or loss of use of property and or 3. Financial loss of every kind of character. This indemnity does not apply to any of the foregoing losses, costs, damages or injuries caused solely by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall specifically apply to losses, claims damages, actions of every kind and character arising out of or in connection with the negligence of or breach of contract by any Indemnified Person, whether actual or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any liability which the client might otherwise have to PCL and the other Indemnified Persons. To the extent necessary under applicable law, client agrees that its indemnity obligation will be supported by available liability insurance coverage to be furnished by client, which insurance shall be in the maximum amounts permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable to client for indirect, punitive, special, incidental or consequential damages (including, without limitation, loss of profit or business interruption) Litigation Expenses or other fees (including, without limitation, attorney's fees, court costs, and /or pre or post-judgment interest), or any other expenses or costs incurred by client or any other party in any litigation against or involving PCL or any indemnified person in connection with this agreement or an services provided under this agreement even if client is the prevailing party.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by client, client will provide and PCL will receive samples materials for analyses such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls, bacteria or any other hazardous or toxic material, wastes and substances which are defined, determined or identified as such under federal, state or local laws, rules, PCL policies or regulations (whether now existing or hereafter enacted or promulgated or any judicial or administrative interpretation of any thereof the "Hazardous Materials"). Client understands and agrees that any hazardous material received by PCL from client or at client's request shall remain the property of Client and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of all unused portions of samples as specified by client or by PCL's QA/QC policies. In the event the client does not specify its preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain Hazardous Materials. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for any/all bacterial analysis, client will be charged a sample disposal fee, per sample submitted, in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect in the area of operations on the date the services were rendered or with prices quoted and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment in advance or when analysis is completed is required for all new clients or until a history of payment and / or credit account has been established with PCL. For those clients with an established credit account, the terms for payment of charges are NET CASH within thirty (30) days from date of invoices. To the fullest extent permitted by or allowed by applicable law, any amount unpaid as the end of thirty (30) days is subject to interest at the lesser of the maximum rate permitted by law or one and one-half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balances. If unpaid amounts are collected through legal proceedings or by an attorney, the client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees or agents' fees associated with such collection procedure or effort.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to the terms shall be effective only in writing and executed by an officer of PCL and by clients authorized representative, except that subsequent orders for additional services may be verbal or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries: No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information, or reports furnished by PCL. Client is securing services hereunder for his own account, and not as agent or broker, or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity. It is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party may rely on such data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that said data, information and reports are not requested, or shall be used to relied upon, in connection with or as part of, the purchase, sale, underwriting, or distribution of any securities, any benefit or other reporting to the holders of any security, the securing, assumption, renewal, or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender or the certification to or contracting with, directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analytes are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advanced. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal order will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are delivered on weekends or after 3pm on weekdays without prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed prior to any samples being received by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to the client if requested. All analyses with holding times of 14 days or less, samples must arrive within 96 hours to allow PCL to meet holding times without applying a rush surcharge. All short holding times, 2-7 days, samples must arrive at the lab within 24 hours before expiration to ensure that the holding times can be met. Short Holding Times of 48 hours or less (bacteria is 6 hours) must be delivered that same day in order to guarantee holding times are met. After hours, late delivery, freight company delays or similar issues are subject to additional rush fees and/or the inability to meet holding times. All holding times are in effect as of the publication date of this fee schedule and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are retained for at least thirty (30) days after analysis has been completed. Sample storage for longer periods is by request only. Pre-arranged long term storage is subject to an additional charge. Samples will be discarded at the end of the pre-arranged storage term.

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

All pick up/sampling fees have been notated on the fee schedule. Reasonable time has been allocated for each pick up or service. Unnecessary delays during the pick up or sampling, might be accessed an additional fee.

Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

1. Definitions

"Terms and Conditions" means these Terms and conditions of sale, including the price schedule, and any additions or amendments hereto which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity who may request laboratory services, consulting or sampling services and his or its heirs, successors, assigns and representatives. "Price Schedule" means Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule as such document may be amended or reissued from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services (as defined herein) only under the following General Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which does not incorporate the Terms. No modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the client and PCL.
The client may order services by submitting a written chain of custody (COC) to PCL. Any such order constitutes 1. an acceptance by the client of PCL's offer to do business with the client under the terms and condition and 2. an agreement to be bound by these terms and conditions.
The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or initiation of consulting services constitutes the client's express assent to be governed by these terms and conditions. No contrary or additional terms and conditions expressed in a client's document shall be deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of the terms and conditions.
For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of workmanship in the profession. Where applicable, PCL will use analytical methodologies which are in substantial conformity with the U.S Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), CA Waterboard (LEAP), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM), Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC), Standard Methods (SM) of the Examination of Water and Wastewater and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate due to the nature or compositions of the samples or otherwise based on the reasonable judgement of PCL. Deviations, if any, will be made on a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and/or our QA/QC policies. The total liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or subcontractors to the client arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided herein, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for said services. Client's acceptance of a work order and /or proposal releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in any client purchase orders or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel performs the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the condition which the samples are collected and for conditions in and about the sampling site and for advising PCL of the safe and all information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder subject to payment for all services rendered and out-of-pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally, except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample materials provided by client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public, or is the public domain or client has failed to pay PCL for all services rendered. It is otherwise in breach of the agreement) subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of said data where such standard was observed. PCL reports and information provided hereunder are for the exclusive use and benefit of client and client agrees there shall be no third party beneficiary of such reports, data or information. Client will not disclose to any third party any details about confidential technical information, software programs or other information.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent harmless from and against any and all liabilities, losses, damages, claims, demands, causes of action, suits and associated expenses including, but not limited to all court fees (the Litigation Expenses) and awards arising in favor of Client or any third party as a result of, and/or in any way occurring incident to arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or transportation, handling or disposal of client's hazardous materials. I injury, disease or death of persons 2. loss of, damage to, loss of, or misuse of property and/or 3. financial loss of every kind or character. This indemnity does not apply to any of the foregoing losses, suits, damages or injuries caused solely by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall specifically apply to losses, claims (attorneys fees, attorneys of every kind and character arising out of or in connection with the negligence of or breach of contract by any indemnified Person, whether actual or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any liability which the client might otherwise have to PCL and the other indemnified Persons. To the extent necessary under applicable law, client agrees that its indemnity obligation will be supported by available liability insurance coverage to be furnished by client, which insurance shall be in the maximum amounts permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable to client for indirect, punitive special, incidental or consequential damages including, without limitation, loss of profit or business interruption. Litigation Expenses or other fees (including, without limitation, attorney's fees, court costs, and pre or post judgment interest), or any other expenses or costs incurred by client or any other party in any litigation against or involving PCL or any indemnified person in connection with this agreement or all services provided under this agreement even if client is the prevailing party.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by client, client will provide and PCL will receive samples materials for analyses such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls, bacteria or any other hazardous or toxic material, wastes and substances which are defined, determined or identified as such under federal, state or local laws, rules, PCL policies or regulations (whether now existing or hereafter enacted or promulgated or any judicial or administrative interpretation of any thereof (the "Hazardous Materials"). Client understands and agrees that any hazardous material received by PCL from client or at client's request shall remain the property of Client and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of all unused portions of samples as specified by client or by PCL's QA/QC policies. In the event the client does not specify its preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain Hazardous Materials. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for any/all Bacterial analysis, client will be charged a sample disposal fee per sample submitted, in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect in the area of operations on the date the services were rendered or work/goods quoted and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment in advance or when analysis is completed is required for all new clients or those without a history of payment and/or credit account has been established with PCL. For those clients with an established credit account, the terms for payment of charges are NET CASH within thirty (30) days from date of invoices. To the fullest extent permitted (if at all) by applicable law, any amount unpaid at the end of thirty (30) days is subject to interest at the lesser of the maximum rate permitted by law or one and one half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balances. If unpaid amounts are collected through legal proceedings or by an attorney, the client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees or assists from in connection with such collection procedure or efforts.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to the terms shall be effective only in writing and executed by an officer of PCL and by clients authorized representative, except that subsequent orders for additional services may be verbal or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries: No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information or reports furnished by PCL. Client is securing services hereunder for his own account, and not as agent or broker, or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity. It is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party may rely on such data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that said data, information and reports are not circulated, or shall be used to relied upon, in connection with or as part of, the purchase, sale, underwriting, or distribution of any securities, any periodic or other reporting to the holders of any security, the securing, amendment, renewal, or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender or the certification to or contracting with, directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advanced. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are delivered on weekends or after 3pm on weekdays without prior notification and acceptance. Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

1. Definitions

"Terms and Conditions" means these Terms and Conditions of sale, including the price schedule, and any additions or amendments hereto which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity who may request laboratory services, consulting or sampling services and his or its heirs, successors, assigns and representatives. "Price Schedule" means Pat Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule as such document may be amended or reissued from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services (as defined hereinbelow) under the following General Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which does not incorporate the Terms. No modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the client and PCL.

The client may order services by submitting a written chain of custody (COC) to PCL. Any such order constitutes (i) an acceptance by the client of PCL's offer to do business with the client under the terms and conditions and (ii) an agreement to be bound by these terms and conditions. The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or substantial completion of services constitutes the client's express assent to be governed by these terms and conditions. No contrary or additional terms and conditions expressed in a client's purchase order shall be deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of the terms and conditions.

For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of workmanship in the profession. Where applicable, PCL will use analytical methodologies which are in substantial conformity with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), CA Waterboard (LUFT), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM), Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC), Standard Methods (SM) of the Examination of Water and Wastewater and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate due to the nature or composition of the sample or otherwise based on the reasonable judgement of PCL. Deviations, if any, will be made on a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and/or our QA/QC policies. The total liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or successors to the client, arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided herein, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for said services. Client's acceptance of a work order and/or proposal releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in any client purchase orders or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel performs the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the condition which the samples are collected and for conditions in and about the sampling site and for advising PCL of the same and all information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder subject to payment for all services rendered and out-of-pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally, except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample materials provided by client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (albeit to such information is generally available to the public or in the public domain) or client has failed to pay PCL for all services rendered, or in contravention or breach of the agreement subject to any exception outlined below or to legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care as it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of data, where such standard was observed. PCL reports and information provided thereunder are for the exclusive use and benefit of client and client agrees that shall be no third party beneficiary of such reports, data or information. Client will not disclose to any third party any information concerning technical information, software, programs or other innovations.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent harmless from and against any and all liabilities, losses, damages, claims, demands, causes of action, costs and expenses including, but not limited to, attorneys' fees and costs of suit, (collectively, Expenses) and agrees to assume in favor of PCL to any third party, as a result of, and/or in any way occurring, incident to, arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and (1) if applicable, handling or disposal of client's hazardous materials, 1) injury, illness or death of persons2) loss of, damage to, or destruction or use of property and/or 3) financial loss of every kind or character. This indemnity shall apply to any of the foregoing losses, costs, damages, or expenses sustained by the extent negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall specifically apply to losses, claims damages, actions of every kind and character, actual or alleged, in connection with the negligence or breach of contract by any indemnified person, whether actual or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any liability which the client might otherwise have to PCL and the other indemnified persons. To the extent necessary under applicable law, client agrees that its indemnity obligation will be supported by available liability insurance coverage to be furnished by client, which insurance shall be in the maximum amounts permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable to client for indirect, punitive, special, incidental or consequential damages including, without limitation, loss of profit or business interruption, Litigation Expenses or other fees (including, without limitation, attorney's fees, court costs, fees for pre or post judgment interest), or any other expenses or costs incurred by client or any other party in any litigation against or involving PCL or any indemnified persons in connection with this agreement or all services provided under this agreement even if client is the prevailing party.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by client, client will provide and PCL will receive samples or materials for analyses such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls, bacteria or any other hazardous or toxic material, wastes and substances which are defined, determined or identified as such under federal, state or local laws, rules, PCL policies or regulations (whether now existing or hereafter enacted or promulgated or any judicial or administrative interpretation of any thereof) (the collective "Hazardous Materials"). Client understands and agrees that any Hazardous material received by PCL from client or at client's request shall remain the property of Client and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of all unused portions of samples as specified by client or by PCL's QA/QC policies. In the event the client does not specify its preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain Hazardous Materials. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for any lab bacterial analysis, client will be charged a sample disposal fee, per sample submitted, in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect in the area of operations on the date the services were rendered in accordance with the terms and conditions of billing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment in advance or in a manner as requested is required for all work unless credit terms (payment after work is performed) has been established with PCL. For those clients with an established credit account, the terms for payment of charges are NET CASH without discount from date of invoice. Invoice shall be considered past due if all or any applicable part of any invoice subject to interest at the rate of 1½% per month (18% per annum) or the maximum rate permitted by law, whichever is less, on the unpaid balance. If suit or all fees are collected through legal proceedings or by an attorney, the client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees of equity from any court with jurisdiction and collection and/or suit.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes or modifications or amendments to this contract shall be effective only if in writing and executed by an authorized officer of each party. Any oral agreement or any oral subsequent consent to waive terms may be enforced or be in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries; No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information or reports furnished by PCL. Client is acting as an independent contractor and not as agent or broker or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity. It is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party may rely on such data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that said data, information and reports are not intended, or shall be used to rely upon in connection with or as part of the purchase, sale, underwriting, or distribution of any securities, any periodic or other reporting to the Federal any security, the issuing, amendment, renewal, or extension of any loan, lease, any financial instrument or other similar in the certification to or contracting with directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advance. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are delivered on weekends or after 3pm on weekdays without prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding times and shortest deadlines should be reviewed prior to any samples being received by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to the client if requested. All analytes with holding times of 16 days or less, samples must arrive within 96 hours to allow PCL to meet holding time without applying a rush surcharge. All short holding time, 24 hour, samples must arrive at the lab within 24 hours before expiration to ensure that the holding times can be met. Short holding times of 48 hour or less (nitrate) are hours must be delivered next same day in order to guarantee holding times are met. After hours, late delivery, freight company delays or similar issues are subject to additional rush fees and/or the inability to meet holding times. All holding times were effect as of the publication date of this fee schedule and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are retained for at least thirty (30) days after analysis has been completed. Sample storage for longer periods is by request only. The arranged long term storage is subject to an additional charge. Samples will be discarded at the end of the pre-arranged storage time.

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

All pick up/sampling fees have been noted on the fee schedule. If no specific time has been indicated for a pick up or service. Unnecessary delays during the pick up or sampling, might be assessed an additional fee.

Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

1. Definitions

"Terms and conditions" means these Terms and Conditions of sale, including the price schedule, and any additions or amendments hereto which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity who may request laboratory services, consulting or sampling services and his or its heirs, successors, assigns and representatives. "Price Schedule" means Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule as such document may be amended or released from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services (as defined herein) only under the following General Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which does not incorporate the Terms. Any modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the client and PCL.
The client may order services by submitting a written Chain of Custody (COC) to PCL. Any such order constitutes 1. an acceptance by the client of PCL's offer to do business with the client under the terms and conditions and 2. an agreement to be bound by these terms and conditions.
The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or initiation of consulting services constitutes the client's express assent to be governed by these Terms and conditions. No contrary or additional terms and conditions expressed in a client's document shall be deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of the terms and conditions.
For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of workmanship in the profession. Where applicable, PCL will use analytical methodologies which are in substantial conformity with the U.S Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), CA Waterboard (ELAP), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM), Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC), Standard Methods (SM) of the Examination of Water and Wastewater and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate due to the nature or composition of the samples or otherwise based on the reasonable judgement of PCL. Deviations, if any, will be made on a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and/or our QA/QC policies. The total Liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or successors to the client, arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided herein, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for said services. Client's acceptance of a work order and /or proposal releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in any client purchase orders or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel performs the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the condition which the samples are collected and the conditions in and about the sampling site and for advising PCL of the same and all information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder subject to payment for all services rendered and out-of-pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally, except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample materials provided by client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public or is the public domain or client has failed to pay PCL for all services rendered or is otherwise in breach of the agreement) subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not disclose the data to any third party (hereinafter all such data is collectively referred to as "Confidential Information"). Client agrees that PCL reports are confidential and provided thereto are for the exclusive use and benefit of client and client agrees there shall be no third party beneficiary of the reports and information. Client will not disclose to any third party any information concerning testing methodologies, results or findings of PCL.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent harmless from and against any and all liabilities, losses or damages, claims (including 3 hours of action, suits and any costs, expenses, penalties and fines incurred in connection therewith (including attorneys' fees) and interest arising in favor of Client or any third party as a result of, and/or in any way occurring incident to, arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or transportation, handling or disposal of client's hazardous materials. 1. Injury, disease or death of persons 2. Loss of, damage to, or loss of, or loss of use of property; and/or 3. Financial loss of every kind or character. This indemnity shall not apply to any of the foregoing to the extent damages or liability caused solely by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity is not specifically applicable to claims, losses, damages, actions of every kind and character arising out of and in connection with work that negligence of or breach of contract by any indemnified person, whether actively or allegedly, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any liability which the client might otherwise have to PCL and the other indemnified persons. To the extent necessary under applicable law, client agrees that its indemnity obligation will be supported by available liability insurance coverage to be furnished by client, which insurance shall have the maximum amounts permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable to client for indirect, punitive, special, incidental or consequential damages including, without limitation, loss of profit or business interruption, Litigation Expenses or other fees including, without limitation, attorney's fees, court costs, and /or pre or post judgment interest), or any other expenses or costs incurred by client or any other party in any litigation against or involving PCL or any indemnified person in connection with this agreement or all services provided under this agreement even if client is the prevailing party.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by client, client will provide and PCL will receive samples or materials for analysis such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls, bacteria or any other hazardous or toxic material, wastes and substances which are defined, determined or identified as such under federal, state or local laws, rules, PCL policies or regulations (whether now existing or hereafter enacted or promulgated or any judicial or administrative interpretation of any thereof (the "Hazardous Materials"). Client understands and agrees that any hazardous materials received by PCL from client or at client's request shall remain the property of Client and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of all unused portions of samples as specified by client or by PCL's QA/QC policies. In the event the client does not specify its preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain Hazardous Materials. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for any/all bacterial analysis, client will be charged a sample disposal fee, per sample submitted, in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect at the time of agreement or the date the services were rendered or with prices quoted and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Pursuant to statutes or where a credit is extended or has been established or until a history of payment and credit is established with PCL, for those clients with an established client account, the terms for payment of charges are NET EACH within thirty (30) days from date of invoice. To the fullest extent permitted by law, a late charge, any amount unpaid after thirty (30) days is subject to interest at the rate of 1½% per month (18% per annum) and one-half percent (.5%) per month on any unpaid balance, or capped at the rate established through legal proceedings, or by an attorney. The client shall pay reasonable collection costs and attorney's fees or assess client's account with collection fee, procedure or efforts.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to the Terms shall be effective only if in writing and executed by an officer of PCL and by client's authorized representative. Except for subsequent orders for additional services, no verbal modifications.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries; No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information or reports furnished by PCL. Client is assuming sole responsibility for the billing account, and not as agent or broker, or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity. It is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party may rely on particular information or opinion. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that said data, information and reports are not intended, or shall be used to relied upon, in connection with or as part of, the purchase, sale, underwriting, or distribution of any securities, any person, or other solicitation by the holders of any security, the pledging, amendment, renewal, or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender or the certification to or contracting with, directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advance. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are delivered on weekends or after 2pm on weekdays without prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed prior to any samples being received by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to the client if requested. All analyses with holding times of 48 hours or less, samples must arrive within 36 hours to allow PCL to meet holding times without applying a rush surcharge. All short holding times (≤7 days, samples must arrive at the lab within 24 hours before it is unlikely to meet the holding times can be met. Short Holding Times of 48 hours or less (turnaround hours) must be delivered that same day in order to guarantee holding times are met. The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally, except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample materials provided by client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public or in the public domain or client has failed to pay PCL for all services rendered or is otherwise in breach of the agreement) subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of such data where such standard was observed. PCL reports and information provided thereunder are for the exclusive use and benefit of client and client agrees there shall be no third party beneficiary of such reports, data or information. Client will not disclose to any third party any information concerning technical information, software programs or other formulations.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent harmless from and against any and all liabilities, losses or damages, claims, demands, causes of action, costs and associated expenses including, but not limited to, all court fees (the Litigation Expenses) and awards arising in favor of Client or any third party as a result of, and/or in any way occurring, incident to arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or transportation, handling or disposal of client's hazardous materials. 1. injury, disease or death of persons 2. Loss of, damage to, loss of, or loss of use of property and or 3. Financial loss of every kind or character. This indemnity does not apply to any of the foregoing losses, costs, damages, or injuries caused solely by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall specifically apply to losses, claims damages, actions of every kind and character arising out of or in connection with the negligence of or breach of contract by any indemnified Person, whether actual or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any liability which the client might otherwise have to PCL and the other indemnified Persons. To the extent necessary under applicable law, client agrees that its indemnity obligation will be supported by available liability insurance coverage to be furnished by client, which insurance shall be in the maximum amounts permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable to client for indirect, punitive, special, incidental or consequential damages (including, without limitation, loss of profit or business interruption) Litigation Expenses or other fees (including, without limitation, attorney's fees, court costs, and /or pre or post judgment interest), or any other expenses or costs incurred by client or any other party in any litigation against or involving PCL or any indemnified person in connection with this agreement or an services provided under this agreement even if client is the prevailing party.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by client, client will provide and PCL will receive samples materials for analyses such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls, bacteria or any other hazardous or toxic material, wastes and substances which are defined, determined or identified as such under federal, state or local laws, rules, PCL policies or regulations (whether now existing or hereafter enacted or promulgated) or any judicial or administrative interpretation of any thereof (the "Hazardous Materials"). Client understands and agrees that any hazardous material received by PCL from client or at client's request shall remain the property of Client and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of all unused portions of samples as specified by client or by PCL's QA/QC policies. In the event the client does not specify its preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain Hazardous Materials. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for any/all bacterial analysis, client will be charged a sample disposal fee, per sample submitted, in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect in the area of operations on the date the services were rendered or with prices quoted and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment in advance or when analysis is completed is required for all new clients or until a history of payment and/or credit account has been established with PCL. For those clients with an established credit account, the terms for payment of charges are NET CASH within thirty (30) days from date of invoices. To the fullest extent permitted (if at all) by applicable law, any amount unpaid at the end of thirty (30) days is subject to interest at the lesser of the maximum rate permitted by law or one and one half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balances. If unpaid amounts are collected through legal proceedings or by an attorney, the client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees or agents' fees associated with such collection procedure or efforts.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to the terms shall be effective only in writing and executed by an officer of PCL and by clients authorized representative, except that subsequent orders for additional services may be verbal or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries: No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information, or reports furnished by PCL. Client is securing services hereunder for his own account, and not as agent or broker, or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity. It is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party may rely on such data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that said data, information and reports are not requested, or shall be used to relied upon, in connection with or as part of, the purchase, sale, underwriting, or distribution of any securities, any periodic or other reporting to the holders of any security, the securing, amendment, renewal, or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender or the certification as or contracting with, directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advanced. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are delivered on weekends or after 3pm on weekdays without prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed prior to any samples being received by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to the client if requested. All analytes with holding times of 14 days or less, samples must arrive within 96 hours to allow PCL to meet holding times without applying a rush surcharge. All short holding times, 2-7 days, samples must arrive at the lab within 24 hours before expiration to insure that the holding times can be met. Short Holding Times of 48 hours or less (bacteria is 6 hours) must be delivered that same day in order to guarantee holding times are met. After hours, late delivery, freight company delays or similar issues are subject to additional rush fees and/or the inability to meet holding times. All holding times are in effect as of the publication date of this fee schedule and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are retained for at least thirty (30) days after analysis has been completed. Sample storage for longer periods is by request only. Pre-arranged long term storage is subject to an additional charge. Samples will be discarded at the end of the pre-arranged storage time.

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

All pick up/sampling fees have been notated on the fee schedule. Reasonable time has been allocated for each pick up or service. Unnecessary delays during the pick up or sampling, might be accessed an additional fee.

Rev 2 Effective 5/1/17

Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

1. Definitions

"Terms and Conditions" means these Terms and Conditions of sale, including the price schedule, and any additions or amendments hereto which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity who may request laboratory services, consulting or sampling services and his or its heirs, successors, assigns and representatives. "Price Schedule" means Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule as such document may be amended or reissued from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services (as defined herein) only under the following General Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which does not incorporate the Terms. No modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the client and PCL.

The client may order services by submitting a written chain of custody (COC) to PCL. Any such order constitutes 1. an acceptance by the client of PCL's offer to do business with the client under the Terms and conditions and 2. an agreement to be bound by these terms and conditions.

The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or initiation of consulting services constitutes the Client's express assent to be governed by these terms and conditions. No contrary or additional terms and conditions expressed in a client's document shall be deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of the terms and conditions.

For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the Client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of workmanship in the profession. Where applicable, PCL will use analytical methodologies which are in substantial conformity with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), CA Waterboard (LEAP), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM), Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC), Standard Methods (SM) of the Examination of Water and Wastewater and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate due to the nature or compositions of the samples or otherwise based on the reasonable judgement of PCL. Deviations, if any, will be made on a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and/or our QA/QC policies. The total liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or successors to the client, arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided herein, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for said services. Client's acceptance of a work order and /or proposal releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in any client purchase orders or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel performs the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the condition which the samples are collected and for conditions in and about the sampling site and for advising PCL of the same and all information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder subject to payment for all services rendered and out-of-pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally, except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample materials provided by client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public, or is the public domain or client has failed to pay PCL for all services rendered or is otherwise in breach of the agreement) subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of said data, which shall mean any and all PCL reports and information provided thereto are for the exclusive use and benefit of Client and do not agreed there shall be no third party beneficiaries of such reports, data or information. Client will not disclose to any third party any information containing technical information, software programs or other formulations.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent, harmless from and against any and all liabilities, losses or damages, claims, demands, causes of action, costs and associated expenses including, but not limited to, attorneys' fees (the Litigation Expenses) and expert witness fees of Client or any third party, as a result of, and/or in any way or setting incident to, arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or transportation, handling or disposal of client's hazardous materials. 1. injury, disease or death of persons 2. loss of, damage to, loss of, misuse of use of property and/or 3. financial loss of every kind and character arising out of or in connection with the negligence or misconduct of any indemnified Person, whether actual or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnification will be in addition to any liability which the Client might otherwise have to PCL and the other indemnified Persons. To the extent necessary under applicable law, Client agrees that its indemnity obligation will be supported by available liability insurance coverage to be furnished by client, which insurance shall be in the maximum amounts permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable to Client for indirect, punitive, special, incidental or consequential damages (including without limitation, loss of profit or business interruption) Litigation Expenses or other fees (including, without limitation, attorney's fees, court costs, and/or pre or post judgment interest), or any other expenses or costs incurred by client or any other party in any litigation against or involving PCL or any indemnified person in connection with this agreement or all services provided under this agreement even if client is the prevailing party.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by client, client will provide and PCL will receive samples materials for analyses such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls, bacteria or any other hazardous or toxic material, wastes and substances which are defined, determined or identified as such under federal, state or local laws, rules, PCL policies or regulations (whether now existing or hereafter enacted or promulgated or any judicial or administrative interpretation of any thereof (the "Hazardous Materials"). Client understands and agrees that any hazardous material received by PCL from client or at client's request shall remain the property of Client and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of all unused portions of samples as specified by client or by PCL's QA/QC policies. In the event the client does not specify its preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain Hazards as Materials. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of stored samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for any/all bacterial analysis, client will be charged a sample disposal fee, per sample submitted, in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect at the time of open account on the date the services were rendered or with prices quoted and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment in advance or when services or containers is requested for all new clients or until a history of payment and/or credit account has been established with PCL. For those clients with an established credit account, the terms for payment of charges are NET CASH within thirty (30) days from date of invoices. To the fullest extent permitted by or as by applicable law, any amount unpaid within said thirty (30) days is subject to and shall at the time of the next invoice date permitted by law, include and one half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balances. If unpaid amounts are collected through legal proceedings or by an attorney, the client to all payments, costs and attorney's fees or expenses incurred with such collection procedure or efforts.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to the terms shall be effective only in writing and executed by an officer of PCL and by others authorized representative, except that subsequent orders for additional services may be placed orally or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries: No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information or reports furnished by PCL. PCL is providing services hereunder for its own account, and not as agent or broker, or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity. It is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party may rely on such data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants and agrees that said data, information and reports are not requested, or shall be used to necessitate, in connection with or as part of, the purchase, sale, underwriting, or distribution of any securities, any persons, or other creditors by the holders of any security, the renewal, amendment, renewal, or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender or the certification to or contracting with, directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advanced. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are delivered on weekends or after 2pm on weekdays without prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed prior to any samples being received by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to the client if requested. For analytes with holding times of 24 days or less, samples must arrive within 36 hours to allow PCL to meet holding times without applying a rush surcharge. All short holding times, 2-7 days, samples must arrive at the lab within 48 hours before expiration to ensure that the holding times can be met. Short Holding Times of 48 hours or less (microbiology) must be delivered that same day in order to guarantee holding times are met. After hours, late delivery, freight company delays or similar issues are subject to additional rush fees and/or the inability to meet holding times. All holding times are in effect as of the publication date of this fee schedule and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are retained for at least thirty (30) days after analysis has been completed. Sample storage for longer periods is by request only. We arrange long term storage is subject to an additional charge. Samples will be discarded at the end of the pre-arranged storage time.

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

All pick up/sampling fees have been refined on the fee schedule. Reasonable time has been allocated for each pick up or service. Unnecessary delays during the pick up or sampling might be considered an additional fee.

Rev 2 Effective 5/1/17

Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

1. Definitions

"Terms and Conditions" means these Terms and Conditions of sale, including the price schedule, and any additions or amendments hereto which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity who may request laboratory services, consulting or sampling services and his or its heirs, successors, assigns and representatives. "Price Schedule" means Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule as such document may be amended or released from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services (as defined herein) only under the following General Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which does not incorporate the Terms. No modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the client and PCL.

The client may order services by submitting a written chain of custody (COC) to PCL. Any such order constitutes 1. an acceptance by the client of PCL's offer to do business with the client under the terms and conditions and 2. an agreement to be bound by these terms and conditions.

The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or initiation of consulting services constitutes the client's express assent to be governed by these terms and conditions. No separate or additional terms and conditions expressed in a client's document shall be deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of the terms and conditions.

For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of workmanship in the profession. Where applicable, PCL will use analytical methodologies which are in substantial conformity with the U.S Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), CA Waterboard (ELAP), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM), Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC), Standard Methods (SM) of the Examination of Water and Wastewater and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate due to the nature or compositions of the samples or otherwise based on the reasonable judgement of PCL. Deviations, if any, will be made on a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and/or our QA/QC policies. The total liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or successors to the client, arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided herein, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for said services. Client's acceptance of a work order and our proposal releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in any client purchase orders or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel performs the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the condition which the samples are collected and for conditions in and about the sampling site and for advising PCL of the same and all information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder subject to payment for all services rendered and out-of-pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally, except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample materials provided by client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is given or available to the public or in the public domain or client has filed to pay PCL for all services rendered or is otherwise in breach of the agreement), subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of confidential information if such standard was followed. PCL reports and information provided pursuant to this agreement are for the exclusive use and benefit of client and client agrees they shall not be used by third party beneficiary of our reports, data or information. Client will not disclose to any third parties any information pertaining to technical information, software protocols or other formulations.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, successors and parent harmless from and against any and all liabilities, losses or damages, claims, demands, causes of action, suits and associated expenses including, but not limited to, all court fees (litigation expenses) and awards arising in favor of Client or any third party, as a result of, and/or in any way occurring, incident or arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or transportation, handling or disposal of client's hazardous materials, 1. injury, disease or death of persons, 2. Loss of, damage to, loss of, or loss of use of property, and/or 3. Financial or moral injury suffered by any third party. This indemnity does not apply to any of the foregoing losses, costs, damages or claims caused solely by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall specifically apply to losses, claims, liens, demands, actions of any kind and character arising out of client's connection with the negligence or breach of contract by any Indemnified Person, whether active or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any liability which the client might have to PCL and the other Indemnified Persons. To the extent necessary under applicable law, client agrees that its indemnity obligation will be supported by adequate liability insurance coverage to be furnished by client, which insurance shall be in the maximum amounts permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable to client for indirect, punitive, special, incidental or consequential damages including, without limitation, loss of profit or business interruption. Litigation Expenses or other fees (including, without limitation, attorney's fees, court costs, and/or pre or post judgment interest), or any other expenses or costs incurred by client or any other party in any litigation against or involving PCL or any indemnified parties in connection with this agreement or all services provided under this agreement even if client is the prevailing party.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by client, client will provide and PCL will receive samples/materials for analyses such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls, bacteria or any other hazardous or toxic material, wastes and substances which are defined, determined or identified as such under federal, state or local laws, rules, PCL policies or regulations (whether now existing or hereafter enacted or promulgated) or any judicial or administrative interpretation of any thereof (the "Hazardous Materials"). Client understands and agrees that any hazardous material received by PCL from client or at Client's request shall remain the property of Client and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of all unused portions of samples as specified by client or by PCL's QA/QC policies. In the event the client does not specify its preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain Hazardous Materials. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for any/all bacterial analysis, client will be charged a sample disposal fee, per sample submitted, in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect at the time of execution of the date the services were rendered or work prices quoted and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment in advance or when analysis is completed is required for all work unless or until a history of payment and/or credit account has been established with PCL. For those clients with an established credit account, the terms for payment of charges are NET CASH within thirty (30) days from date of invoice. To the fullest extent permitted by all applicable law, any amount owed to the extent not paid when due shall bear interest at the rate of the maximum rate permitted by law or one and one-half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balance. If unpaid amounts are collected through legal proceedings or by an attorney, the client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees in addition to any other collection procedure or efforts.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to the Terms shall be effective only if in writing and executed by an officer of PCL and by the or authorized representative, stating that subsequent orders for additional services may be verbal or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries: No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information or reports furnished by PCL. Client is retaining services hereunder for his own account, and not as an agent or broker, or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity. It is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party may rely on such data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that such data, information and reports are not requested, or shall be used to resell such, in connection with or as part of, the purchase, sale, underwriting, or distribution of any securities, any periodic or other reporting to the holders of any securities, the securing, amendment, renewal, or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender or the certification to or contracting with, directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advanced. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are delivered on weekends or after 3pm on weekdays without prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed prior to any samples being received by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to the client at request. For analyses with holding times of 24 hours or less, samples must arrive within 36 hours to allow PCL to meet holding times without applying a rush surcharge. For short holding times 2-7 days, samples must arrive at the lab within 24 hours before expiration to insure that the holding times can be met. Short Holding Times of 48 hours or less (bacteria) it is best/must be delivered that same day in order to guarantee holding times are met. After hours, late delivery, freight company delays or similar issues are subject to additional rush fees and/or the inability to meet holding times. All holding times are in effect as of the publication date of this fee schedule and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are retained for at least thirty (30) days after analysis has been completed. Sample storage for longer periods is on request only. Pre-arranged long term storage is subject to an additional charge. Samples will be discarded at the end of the pre-arranged storage term.

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

All pick up/sampling fees have been notated on the fee schedule. Reasonable time has been allocated for each pick up or service. Unnecessary delays during the pick up or sampling, might be accessed an additional fee.

Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

1. Definitions

"Terms and Conditions" means these Terms and Conditions of sale, including the price schedule, and any addition or amendments hereto which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity who may request laboratory services, consulting or sampling services and his or its heirs, successors, assigns and representatives. "Price Schedule" means Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule as such document may be amended or revised from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services (as defined herein) only under the following General Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which does not incorporate the Terms. No modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the client and PCL.

The Client may order services by submitting a written Chain of Custody (COC) to PCL. Any such order constitutes 1. an acceptance by the Client of PCL's offer to do business with the Client under the terms and conditions and 2. an agreement to be bound by these terms and conditions. The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or initiation of consulting services constitutes the client's express assent to be governed by these terms and conditions. No contrary or additional terms and conditions expressed in a client's document shall be deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of the terms and conditions.

For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the Client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of workmanship in the profession. Where applicable, PCL will use analytical methodologies which are in substantial conformity with the U.S Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), CA Waterboard (ELAP), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM), Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC), Standard Methods (SM) of the Examination of Water and Wastewater and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate due to the nature or compositions of the samples or otherwise based on the reasonable judgement of PCL. Deviations, if any, will be made on a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and/or our QA/QC policies. The total liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or successors to the client, arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided herein, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for said services. Client's acceptance of a work order and /or proposal releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services notwithstanding any provision to the contrary in any client purchase orders or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel performs the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the condition which the samples are collected and for conditions in and about the sampling site and for advising PCL of the same and all information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder subject to payment for all services rendered and out-of-pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally, except to the extent that Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample materials provided by client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public or is for public domain or client has filed to pay PCL for all services rendered or is otherwise in breach of the agreement) subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of such data which was provided was obtained PCL reports and information provided hereunder are for the exclusive use and benefit of client and client agrees there shall be no third party beneficiaries of such reports, data or information. Client will not disclose to any third party any information concerning technical information, software or programs or other formulations.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases and will save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent harmless from and against any and all liabilities, losses or damages, claims, demands, causes of action, suits and associated expenses including, but not limited to attorneys fees (during trial and appeal) and costs arising in favor of client, or any third party as a result of, related in any way to arising, incident to arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or client's failure, handling, or disposal of client's hazardous materials. 1. injury, illness or death of persons 2. loss of, damage to, use of, or loss of use of property and/or 3. financial loss of every kind of that sort. This indemnity shall apply to any of the foregoing losses, costs, damages or injuries caused solely by PCL's negligence and/or misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall specifically apply to claims, damages, actions of every kind and character arising out of or in connection with the negligent acts or omissions of persons by any independent person, whether actual or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing provisions will be in addition to any liability which the client might otherwise have to PCL and the other indemnified parties. To the extent necessary under applicable law, client agrees that its indemnity obligation will be supported by available liability insurance coverage to be maintained by client, which insurance shall be in the maximum amounts permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable to client for indirect, punitive, special, incidental or consequential damages including, without limitation, loss of profit or business interruption, litigation expenses or other fees (including, without limitation, attorney's fees, court costs, and /or pre or post-judgment interest), or any other expenses or costs incurred by client or any other party in any litigation against or involving PCL or any indemnifies persons in connection with this agreement or all services provided under this agreement even if client is the prevailing party.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by client, client will provide and PCL will receive samples materials for analysis such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls, bacteria or any other hazardous or toxic material, wastes and substances which are defined, determined or identified as such under federal, state or local laws, rules, PCL policies or regulations (whether now existing or hereafter enacted or promulgated or any judicial or administrative interpretation of any thereof (the "Hazardous Substances"). Client understands and agrees that any hazardous material received by PCL from client or at client's request shall remain the property of Client and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of all unused portions of samples as specified by client or by PCL's QA/QC policies. In the event the client does not specify its preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain Hazardous Materials. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for any/all bacterial analysis, client will be charged a sample disposal fee, per sample submitted, in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect in the area of operations on the date the services were rendered or such other agreed upon terms mutually in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment in advance or upon analysis is required for all new clients or until a history of payment and/or credit account has been established with PCL. For those clients with an established credit account, payment for services or charges are NET 30/60 within thirty (30) days from date of invoices. To the fullest extent permitted by or set by applicable law, any amount unpaid at the end of thirty (30) days is subject to interest or payment of the maximum rate permitted by law, or one and one half percent (1.5%) per month, on the unpaid balances. If unpaid amounts are collected through legal proceedings or by an attorney, the client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees, as well as court costs associated with such collection proceedings or efforts.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to this contract are effective only in writing and executed by an officer of PCL and by client's authorized representative, except that subsequent orders for additional services may be verbal or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries: No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information, or reports furnished by PCL. Client is acquiring services hereunder for its own account, and not as agent or broker, or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity. It is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party may rely on such data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that said data, information and reports are not expected, or shall be used to relied upon, in connection with or as part of the purchase, sale, underwriting, or distribution of any securities, any periodic or other reporting to the holders of any security, the securing, amendment, renewal, or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender or the certification to or contracting with, directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advanced. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are achieved because of samples that are delivered on weekends or after 3pm on weekdays without prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed prior to any samples being received by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to the client if requested. All analyses with holding times of 14 days or less, samples must arrive within 96 hours to allow PCL to meet holding times without applying a rush surcharge. All short holding times, 7 days, samples must arrive at the lab within 24 hours before expiration to ensure that the holding times can be met. Short holding times of 48 hours or less (microbiology) must be delivered that same day in order to guarantee holding times are met. After hours, late delivery, freight company delays or similar issues are subject to additional rush fees and/or the inability to meet holding times. All holding times are in effect as of the publication date of this fee schedule and are subject to change without notice.

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally, except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample materials provided by client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public or is the public domain or client has filed to pay PCL for all services rendered or is otherwise in breach of the agreement) subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unwilling/unintentional disclosure of said data where such standard was observed. PCL reports and information provided hereunder are for the exclusive use and benefit of client and client agrees there shall be no third party beneficiary of such reports, data or information. Client will not disclose to any third party any information concerning PCL's testing methodologies, software, programs or other intellectuals.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent harmless from and against any and all liabilities, losses to third party claims, demands, actions or causes of action, costs and associated expenses including, but not limited to, all court fees (but not limited to Expenses) and awards arising in favor of client or any third party, as a result of, and/or in any way occurring incident to, arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or client's performance, handling or disposal of client's hazardous materials. 1. injury, disease or death of persons 2. loss of, damage to, loss of, or loss of use of property and/or 3. claims of any kind of character. This indemnity does not apply to any of the foregoing where such claims are ultimately caused solely by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL, its employees. Further, this indemnity shall specifically apply to losses, claims damages, actions of every kind and character arising out of or in connection with the negligence or breach of contract by any indemnified person, whether actual or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any liability which the client might otherwise have to PCL and the other indemnified Persons. To the extent necessary under applicable law, client agrees that its indemnity obligation will be supported by available liability insurance coverage to be furnished by client, which insurance shall be in the maximum amounts permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable to client for indirect, punitive, special, incidental or consequential damages including, without limitation, loss of profit or business interruption, Litigation Expenses or other fees (including, without limitation, attorney's fees, court costs, and /or pre or post judgment interest), or any other expenses or costs incurred by client or any other party in any litigation against or involving PCL or any indemnified person in connection with this agreement or all services provided under this agreement even if client is the prevailing party.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by client, client will provide and PCL will receive samples/materials for analyses such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls, bacteria or any other hazardous or toxic material, wastes and substances which are defined, determined or identified as such under federal, state or local laws, rules, PCL policies or regulations (whether now existing or hereafter enacted or promulgated or any judicial or administrative interpretation of any thereof (the "Hazardous Materials"). Client understands and agrees that any hazardous material received by PCL from client or at client's request shall remain the property of Client and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of all unused portions of samples as specified by client or by PCL's QA/QC policies. In the event the client does not specify its preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain Hazardous Materials. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for asp/lab bacterial analysis, client will be charged a sample disposal fee per sample submitted, in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect at the time of execution of the date the services were rendered or with prices quoted and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment in full is due when analysis is completed is required for all new clients or until a history of payment and satisfactory account has been established with PCL. For those clients with an established credit account, the terms for payment of charges are NET 30 days unless thirty (30) days from date of invoice. To the fullest extent permitted by law by applicable law, an amount unpaid at the end of thirty (30) days is subject to interest at the lesser of the maximum rate determined by law, or one and one-half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balances. If unpaid amounts are collected through legal proceedings or by an attorney, the client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees or agents' fees associated with such collection proceedings or efforts.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to the terms shall be effective only in writing and executed by an officer of PCL and by client or authorized representative. Verbal or subsequent orders for additional services may be verbal or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries: No Right of Reliance

PCL will have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information, or reports furnished by PCL. Client is solely liable to provider for its own payment, and not as agent or broker, or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity. It is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party may rely on such data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that said data, information and reports are not intended, or shall be used or relied upon in connection with or as part of, the purchase, sale, underwriting, or distribution of any securities, any periodic or other reporting to the holders of any security, the securing, amendment, renewal, or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender or the certification to or contracting with, directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advance. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are delivered on weekends or after 3pm on weekdays without prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed prior to any samples being received by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to the client if requested. All analyses with holding times of 14 days or less, samples must arrive within 96 hours to allow PCL to meet holding times without applying a rush surcharge. For short holding times, 2-7 days, samples must arrive at the lab within 24 hours before expiration to ensure that the holding times can be met. Short Holding Times of 48 hours or less (bacteria is 8 hours) must be delivered that same day in order to guarantee holding times are met. After hours, Site delivery, freight company delays or similar issues are subject to additional rush fees and/or the inability to meet holding times. All holding times are in effect as of the publication date of this fee schedule and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are retained for at least thirty (30) days after analysis has been completed. Sample storage for longer periods is by request only. Pre-arranged long term storage is subject to an additional charge. Samples will be discarded at the end of the pre-arranged storage time.

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

All pick up/sampling fees have been noted on the fee schedule. Reasonable time has been allocated for each pick up or service. Unnecessary delays during the pick up or sampling might be accessed an additional fee.

Rev 2 Effective 5/1/17

Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

1. Definitions

"Terms and Conditions" means these Terms and Conditions of sale, including the price schedule, and any additions or amendments hereto which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity who may request laboratory services, consulting or sampling services and his or its heirs, successors, assigns and representatives. "Price Schedule" means Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule as such document may be amended or revised from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services (as defined herein) only under the following General Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which does not conform to the Terms. No modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the client and PCL.

The client may order services by submitting a written chain of custody (COC) to PCL. Any such order constitutes 1. an acceptance by the client of PCL's offer to do business with the client under the terms and conditions and 2. an agreement to be bound by these terms and conditions. The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or initiation of consulting services constitutes the client's express assent to be governed by these terms and conditions. No contrary or additional terms and conditions expressed in a client's document shall be deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of the terms and conditions.

For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of workmanship in the profession. Where applicable, PCL will use analytical methods/digest which are in substantial conformity with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), CA Waterboard (ELAP), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM), Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC), Standard Methods (SM) of the Examination of Water and Wastewater and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate due to the nature or compositions of the samples or otherwise based on the reasonable judgment of PCL. Deviations, if any, will be made on a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and/or our QA/QC policies. The total liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or successors to the client, arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided herein, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for said services. Client's acceptance of a work order and/or proposal releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in any client purchase orders or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel performs the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the condition which the samples are collected and for conditions in and about the sampling site and for advising PCL of the same and all information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder subject to payment for all services rendered and out-of-pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally, except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample materials provided by client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public or is in the public domain or client has failed to pay PCL for all services rendered or is otherwise in breach of the agreement) subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of said data where such disclosure was otherwise. PCL reports are confidential to client and client agrees that it will be the only party to receive any of such reports, data or information. Client will not disclose to any third party any information concerning technology information, software programs or other proprietary.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent companies from and against any and all liabilities, losses or damages, claims, demands, causes of action, costs and expenses (including, but not limited to, all costs, fees and expenses of experts and attorneys relating to any of them) or any third party, arising in any way out of, directly or indirectly in connection with the performance or omission by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or the handling, testing or disposal of client's hazardous materials 1. injury, disease or death of persons 2. loss of, damage to, use of, or loss of use of property and/or 3. the pollution of rivers, bays, or tidal flats. This indemnity does not apply to any of the foregoing losses, costs, damages or expenses which solely by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall specifically apply to losses, claims, damages, actions of every kind and character arising out of or in connection with the negligence of any party or person not by any indemnified Person, who are actively engaged in the performance of services which this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any liability which the client might otherwise have to PCL and the other indemnified Persons. To the extent necessary under applicable law, client agrees that its indemnity obligation will be supported by available liability insurance coverage to be furnished by client, which insurance shall be in the maximum amounts permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable to client for indirect, punitive, special, incidental or consequential damages (including, without limitation, loss of profits), attorneys' fees, expert witness fees or other fees (including, without limitation, attorney's fees, court costs, and /or pre or post judgment interest), or any other expenses or costs incurred by client or any other party in any litigation against or involving PCL or any indemnified person in connection with this agreement or all services provided under this agreement even if client is the prevailing party.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by client, client will provide and PCL will receive samples and materials for analyses such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls, bacteria or any other hazardous or toxic material, wastes and substances which are defined, determined or identified as such under federal, state or local laws, rules, PCL policies or regulations (whether now existing or hereafter enacted or promulgated or any judicial or administrative interpretation of any thereof the "Hazardous Materials"). Client understands and agrees that any hazardous material received by PCL from client or at client's request shall remain the property of Client and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of all unused portions of samples as specified by client or by PCL's QA/QC policies. In the event the client does not specify its preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain Hazardous Materials. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for any of microbiological analysis, client will be charged a sample disposal fee per sample submitted, in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect at the time of operation on the date the services were rendered or, with prices quoted and later confirmed in writing, the price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment in advance of when analysis is completed is required for all new clients or until a history of payment and/or credit account has been established with PCL. For those clients with an established credit account, the terms for payment of charges are NET (30) days from date of invoice. In the future except government that all be enforceable (and client consents thereto) in the end of thirty (30) days, subject to interest at the lesser of the maximum rate permitted by law in your and one half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balance. If unpaid accounts are collected through legal action and/or by an attorney, the client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees in addition to any applicable collection procedure or efforts.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications, amendments or additions to the Terms shall be effective only if in writing and executed by an officer of PCL and by clients authorized representative. Unless otherwise stated, subsequent orders for additional services may be verbal or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries: No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information or reports furnished to PCL. Client's receiving services hereunder for its own account and not as agent or broker, or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity. You agree and acknowledge that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party may rely on such data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that said data, information and reports are not provided, or shall be used to resell about, in connection with or as part of, any plan, trade, sale, underwriting, or distribution of any securities, any periodic or other reporting to the holders of any security, the securing, amendment, renewal, or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender or the certification to or contracting with, directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged or accepted. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal order will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are delivered on weekends or after 3pm on weekdays without prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed on or to any samples being received by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to the client if requested. All analyses with holding times of 24 days or less, samples must arrive within 48 hours to allow PCL to meet holding times without applying a rush surcharge. For short holding times, 2-7 days, samples must arrive at the lab within 24 hours before expiration to ensure that the holding times can be met. Short holding Times of 24 hours or less (typically 8 hours) must be delivered that same day in order to guarantee holding times are met. After hours, late deliveries, freight company delays or similar issues are subject to additional rush fees and/or the inability to meet holding times. All holding times are subject as of the publication date of this fee schedule and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are retained for at least thirty (30) days after analysis has been completed. Sample storage for longer periods is by request only. Pre-arranged long term storage is subject to an additional charge. Samples will be discarded at the end of the pre-arranged storage time.

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

All pick up/sampling fees have been notated on the fee schedule. Reasonable time has been allocated for each pick up or service. Unnecessary delays during the pick up or sampling might be assessed an additional fee.

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services (as defined herein) only under the following General Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which does not incorporate the Terms. No modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the Client and PCL.

The client may order services by submitting a written chain of custody (COC) to PCL. Any such order constitutes 1. an acceptance by the client of PCL's offer to do business with the client under the terms and condition and 2. an agreement to be bound by these terms and conditions. The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or initiation of consulting services constitutes the client's express assent to be governed by these terms and conditions. No contrary or additional terms and conditions expressed in a client's document shall be deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of the terms and conditions.

For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of workmanship in the profession. Where applicable, PCL will use analytical methodologies which are in substantial conformity with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), CA Waterboard (ELAP), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM), Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC), Standard Methods (SM) of the Examination of Water and Wastewater and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate due to the nature or compositions of the samples or otherwise based on the reasonable judgement of PCL. Deviations, if any, will be made on a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and/or our QA/QC policies. The total liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or successors to the client, arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided herein, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for said services. Client's acceptance of a work order and /or proposal releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in any client purchase orders or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel performs the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the condition which the samples are collected and for conditions in and about the sampling site and for advising PCL of the same and all information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder subject to payment for all services rendered and out-of-pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally, except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample materials provided by client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public or is free public domain or client has filed to pay PCL for all services rendered or is otherwise in breach of the agreement subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of said data where such standard was observed. PCL reports and information provided thereto are for the exclusive use and benefit of client and client agrees there shall be no third party beneficiary of such reports, data or information. Client without disclosing any confidential information concerning technical information, software programs or other financial matters.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent harmless from and against any and all liabilities, losses or damages, claims, demands, causes of action, suits and associated expenses including, but not limited to all court fees (the Litigation Expenses) and awards arising in favor of Client or any third party as a result of, and/or in any way occurring, incident to arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or transportation, handling or disposal of client's hazardous materials. 1. injury, disease or death of persons 2. loss of, damage to, loss of, or loss of use of property and or 3. financial loss of every kind of character. The indemnity described apply to any of the foregoing losses, suits, damages or liabilities caused solely by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall specifically apply to actual, claims damages, actions of every kind and character arising out of or in connection with the negligence of or breach of contract by any independent person, whether actual or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any liability which the client might otherwise have on PCL and the other indemnified persons. To the extent necessary under applicable law, Client agrees that its indemnity obligation will be supported by available liability insurance coverage to be furnished by client, which insurance shall be in the maximum amounts permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable to client for indirect, punitive, special, incidental or consequential damages (including without limitation, loss of profit or business interruption) Litigation Expenses or other fees (including, without limitation, attorney's fees, court costs, and / or pre or post judgment interest), or any other expenses or costs incurred by client or any other party in any litigation against or involving PCL or any indemnified person in connection with this agreement or on services provided under this agreement even if client is the prevailing party.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by client, client will provide and PCL will receive samples materials for analyses such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls, bacteria or any other hazardous or toxic material, wastes and substances which are defined, determined to identified as such under federal, state or local laws, rules, PCL policies or regulations (whether now existing or hereafter enacted or promulgated) or any judicial or administrative interpretation of any thereof (the "Hazardous Materials"). Client understands and agrees that any hazardous material received by PCL from client or at client's request shall remain the property of Client and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of all unused portions of samples as specified by client or by PCL's QA/QC policies. In the event the client does not specify its preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain Hazardous Materials. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for any/all bacterial analysis, client will be charged a sample disposal fee, per sample submitted, in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect at the time of acceptance of the order, the date the services were rendered or with prices quoted and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment of 25% or other amount is required for all new clients or clients without a history of payment and/or credit account has been established with PCL. For those clients with an established credit account, the terms for payment of charges are NET CASH within thirty (30) days from date of invoices. To the fullest extent permitted by law and by applicable law, any amount unpaid at the end of thirty (30) days is subject to interest at the lesser of the maximum rate permitted by law or one and one-half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balance. If unpaid amounts are collected through legal proceedings or by an attorney, the client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees on appeal. Each agreement with each collection procedure is effects.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to the terms shall be effective only if in writing and executed by an officer of PCL and by client's authorized representative, except that subsequent orders for additional services may be verbal or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries: No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information or reports furnished by PCL. Client in securing services hereunder for its own account, and not as agent or broker, or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity. It is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party may rely on such data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that said data, information and reports are not intended, or shall be used to relied upon, in connection with or as part of, the purchase, sale, underwriting, or distribution of any securities, any periodic or other reporting to the holders of any securities, the securing, amendment, renewal, or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender or the certification to or contracting with, directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advance. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are delivered on weekends or after 3pm on weekdays without prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed prior to any samples being received by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to the client if requested. All analyses with holding times of 14 days or less, samples must arrive within 96 hours to allow PCL to meet holding times without applying a rush surcharge. All short holding times, 2-7 days, samples must arrive at the lab in less 24 hours before expiration to ensure that the holding times can be met. Short Holding Times of 48 hours or less (bacteria is 8 hours) must be delivered that same day in order to guarantee holding times are met. After hours, late delivery, freight company delays or similar issues are subject to additional rush fees and/or the inability to meet holding times. All holding times are in effect as of the publication date of this fee schedule and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are retained for at least thirty (30) days after analysis has been completed. Sample storage for longer periods is by request only. Pre-arranged long term storage is subject to an additional charge. Samples will be discarded at the end of the pre-arranged storage time.

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

All pick up/sampling fees have been notated on the fee schedule. Reasonable time has been allocated for each pick up or service. Unnecessary delays during the pick up or sampling, might be accessed an additional fee.

Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

1. Definitions

"Terms and Conditions" means these Terms and Conditions of sale, including the price schedule, and any additions or amendments hereto which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity who may request laboratory services, consulting or sampling services and his or its heirs, successors, assigns and representatives. "Price Schedule" means Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule as such document may be amended or released from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services (as defined herein) only under the following General Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which does not incorporate the Terms. No modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the Client and PCL.

The client may order services by submitting a written chain of custody (COC) to PCL. Any such order constitutes 1. an acceptance by the client of PCL's offer to do business with the client under the terms and conditions and 2. an agreement to be bound by these terms and conditions. The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or initiation of consulting services constitutes the client's express assent to be governed by these terms and conditions. No contrary or additional terms and conditions expressed in a client's document shall be deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of the terms and conditions.

For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of workmanship in the profession. Where applicable, PCL will use analytical methodologies which are in substantial conformity with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), CA Waterboard (ELAP), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM) Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC), Standard Methods (SM) of the Examination of Water and Wastewater and/or other recognized methodologies. Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

1. Definitions

"Terms and Conditions" means these Terms and Conditions of sale, including the price schedule, and any additions or amendments hereto which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity who may request laboratory services, consulting or sampling services and his or her/its successors, assigns and representatives. "Price Schedule" means Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule as such document may be amended or reissued from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services (as defined herein) only under the following General Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which does not incorporate the Terms. PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample materials provided by client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public, or is the public domain or client has filed to pay PCL for all services rendered) or is otherwise in breach of the agreement) subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of confidential information whose such standard was observed. PCL reports and information provided hereto are for the exclusive use and benefit of client and client agrees there shall be no third party beneficiaries of such reports, data or information. Client will not disclose to any third party any information regarding technical information, software programs or other proprietary.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases and at all times indemnifies, defends and holds PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent harmless from and against any and all liabilities, losses or damages, claims, demands, causes of action, suits and associated expenses including, but not limited to, attorneys fees (for litigation, arbitration and appeal) and expert fees arising in favor of Client or any third party as a result of, and/or in any way occurring incident to arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or transportation, handling or disposal of client's hazardous materials. 1. injury, illness or death of persons 2. loss of, damage to, loss of use of, or loss of use of property and or 3. financial loss of every kind or character. This indemnity shall not apply to any of the foregoing losses, costs, damages, or expenses caused solely by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall specifically apply to losses, claims, damages, actions of every kind and character arising out of or in connection with the negligence or breach of contract by any unidentified person, whether actual or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any liability which the client might otherwise have to PCL and the other indemnified persons. To the extent necessary under applicable law, client agrees that its indemnity obligation will be supported by available liability insurance coverage to be furnished by client, which insurance shall be in the maximum amounts permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable to client for indirect, punitive, special, incidental or consequential damages including, without limitation, loss of profit or business interruption, litigation expenses or other fees (including, without limitation, attorney's fees, court costs, and /or pre or post judgment interest), or any other expenses or costs incurred by client or any other party in any litigation against or involving PCL or any indemnified person in connection with this agreement or all services provided under this agreement even if client is the prevailing party.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by client, client will provide and PCL will receive samples and results for analyses such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls, bacteria or any other hazardous or toxic material, wastes and substances which are defined, determined or identified as such under federal, state or local laws, rules, PCL policies or regulations (whether now existing or hereafter enacted or promulgated) or any judicial or administrative interpretation of any thereof (the "Hazardous Materials"). Client understands and agrees that any Hazardous material received by PCL from client or at client's request shall remain the property of Client and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of all unused portion of samples as specified by Client or by PCL's QA/QC policies. In the event the client does not specify its preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain Hazardous Materials. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for any/all bacterial analysis, client will be charged a sample disposal fee per sample submitted, or in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect in the area of operations on the date the services were rendered or such prices quoted and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment is required on emails sent/or as completed is required for all new clients or until a history of payment and/or credit account has been established with PCL. For those clients with an established credit account, the terms for payment of charges are NET CASH within thirty (30) days from date of invoice. To the fullest extent permitted (if at all) by applicable law, any amount unpaid as the end of thirty (30) days is subject to interest at the lesser of the maximum rate permitted by law or one and one half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balances. If unpaid amounts are collected through proceedings or by an attorney, the client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees (for against) fees associated with such collection and recovery efforts.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to the terms shall be effective only if in writing and executed by authorized PCL and its clients authorized representative, except that subsequent orders for additional services may be verbal or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries: No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information, or reports furnished by PCL. Client's sampling services hereunder for his own account, and not as agent or broker, or on any other representative capacity for any other person or entity. It is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries of this agreement, and that no third party may rely on any data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that said data, information and reports are not requested, or shall be used to lend credit or assistance with respect to the purchase, sale, underwriting, or distribution of any securities, any periodic or other reporting to the holders of any security, the issuing, amendment, renewal, or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender of the certification to or contracting with, directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advanced. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are delivered on weekends or after 3pm on weekdays without prior modification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed prior to any samples being received by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to the client if requested. All analyses with holding times of 14 days or less, samples must arrive within 96 hours to allow PCL to meet holding times without applying a rush surcharge. All short holding times (2-7 days), samples must arrive at the lab within 24 hours before expiration to ensure that the holding times can be met. Short Holding Times of 48 hours or less (bacteria is 8 hours) must be delivered the same day in order to guarantee holding times are met. After hours, late delivery, freight company delays or similar issues are subject to additional rush fees and/or the inability to meet holding times. All holding times are in effect as of the publication date of this fee schedule and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are retained for at least thirty (30) days after analysis has been completed. Sample storage for longer periods is by request only. Pre-arranged long term storage is subject to an additional charge. Samples will be discarded at the end of the pre-arranged storage term.

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

All pick up/sampling fees have been included on the fee schedule. Reasonable time has been allocated for each pick up or service. Unnecessary delays during the pick up or sampling might be accessed an additional fee.

Rev 2 Effective 5/1/17

Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

1. Definitions

"Terms and Conditions" means these Terms and Conditions of sale, including the price schedule, and any additions or amendments hereto which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity who may request laboratory services, consulting or sampling services and his or its heirs, successors, assigns and representatives. "Price Schedule" means Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule as such document may be amended or reissued from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services (as defined herein) only under the following General Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which does not incorporate the Terms. No modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the client and PCL.

The client may order services by submitting a written chain of custody (COC) to PCL. Any such order constitutes 1. an acceptance by the client of PCL's offer to do business with the client under the terms and condition and 2. an agreement to be bound by these terms and conditions. The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or initiation of consulting services constitutes the client's express assent to be governed by these terms and conditions. No contrary or additional terms and conditions expressed in a client's document shall be deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of the terms and conditions.

For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of workmanship in the profession. Where applicable, PCL will use analytical methodologies which are in substantial conformity with the U.S Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), CA Waterboard (ELAP), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM), Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC), Standard Methods (SM) of the Examination of Water and Wastewater and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate due to the nature or composition of the sample(s) or otherwise based on the reasonable judgement of PCL. Deviations, if any, will be made on a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and/or our QA/QC policies. The total liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or successors to the client, arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided herein, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for said services. Client's acceptance of a work order and /or proposal releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in any client purchase orders or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel performs the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the condition which the samples are collected and for conditions in and about the sampling site and for advising PCL of the same and all information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder subject to payment for all services rendered and out-of-pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally, except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample materials provided by client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public or is the public domain or client has failed to pay PCL for all services rendered) or is otherwise in breach of the agreement subject to any processes required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of such data where such standard was observed. PCL's reports, invoices or provided materials are for the exclusive use and benefit of client and client agrees these shall be no third party beneficiary of such reports, data or information. Client will not disclose to any third party any information concerning technical information, software programs or other trade secrets.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent harmless from and against any and all liabilities, losses, damages, claims, demands, causes of action, costs and associated expenses (including, but not limited to, attorneys' fees) suffered, incurred and awarded arising in favor of Client or any third party as a result of, and/or in any way occurring incident to arising out of, or in connection with, any performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or transportation, handling or disposal of client's hazardous materials. 1. injury, disease or death of persons 2. loss of, damage to, loss of, or loss of use of property and or 3. financial loss of every kind or character. This indemnity does not apply to any of the foregoing losses, costs, damages or liabilities caused solely by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Except from indemnity shall specifically apply to injury, claim, cost, loss, actions of every kind and character arising out of or in connection with the negligence or breach of contract by any indemnified person, whether active or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any liability which the client might otherwise have to PCL and the other indemnified persons. To the extent necessary under applicable law, client agrees that its indemnity obligation will be supported by available liability insurance coverage to be furnished by client, which insurance shall be in the maximum amounts permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable to client for indirect, punitive, special, incidental or consequential damages (including, without limitation, loss of profit or business interruption) litigation expenses or other fees (including, without limitation, attorney's fees, court costs, and /or pre or post judgment interest), or any other expenses or costs incurred by client or any other party in any litigation against or involving PCL or any indemnified person or claims from which this agreement or an services provided under this agreement even if client is the prevailing party.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by client, client will provide and PCL will receive samples/materials for analyses such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls, bacteria or any other hazardous or toxic material, wastes and substances which are defined, determined or identified as such under federal, state or local laws, rules, PCL policies or regulations (whether now existing or hereafter enacted or promulgated or any judicial or administrative interpretation of any thereof (the "Hazardous Materials"). Client understands and agrees that any hazardous material received by PCL from client or at client's request shall remain the property of Client and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of all unused portions of samples as specified by client or by PCL's QA/QC policies. In the event the client does not specify its preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain Hazardous Materials. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for aircraft bacterial analysis, client will be charged a sample disposal fee per sample submitted, in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect for the area of operation and the date the services were rendered or work orders issued and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment in advance of analysis may be required. Client's request for all new clients or until a history of payment and/or credit approval has been established with PCL. For those clients with an established credit account, the terms for payment of all charges are NET EACH within thirty (30) days from date of invoice. To the fullest extent permitted by law or by applicable law, any amount unpaid by client after thirty (30) days is subject to interest at the lesser of the maximum rate permitted by law or one and one half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balance. If unpaid amounts are collected through legal proceedings or by an attorney, the client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees in addition to any amounts due and owing, including interest.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes to or additions or amendments to the Terms shall be effective only in writing and executed by an officer of PCL and by client's authorized representative. Orders for additional services may be verbal or oral.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries: No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information, or reports furnished by PCL. Client is solely responsible for his or her own actions, and not as agent or broker, or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity. It is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party may rely on client data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that said data, information and reports are not requested, or shall be used to relied upon, in connection with or as part of, the purchase, sale, underwriting, or continuation of any securities, any private or other ownership in the holders of any security, the securing, amendment, renewal, or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender or the certification to or contracting with, directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advanced. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are extended because of samples that arrive delivered on weekends or after 2pm on weekdays without prior notification and concurrence. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed prior to any samples being received by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to the client if requested. All analyses with holding times of 14 days or less, samples must arrive within 96 hours to allow PCL to meet holding times without applying a rush surcharge. For short holding times of 7 days, samples must arrive at the lab within 24 hours before expiration to ensure that the holding times can be met. Those holding times of 48 hours or less (3 days or 72 hours) must be delivered that same day in order to guarantee holding times are met. After hours, late delivery, freight company delays or similar issues are subject to additional rush fees and/or the inability to meet holding times. All holding times are in effect as of the publication date of this fee schedule and are subject to change without notice.

Rev 2 Effective 5/1/17

Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

1. Definitions

"Terms and Conditions" means these Terms and Conditions of sale, including the price schedule, and any additions or amendments hereto which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity who may request laboratory services, consulting or sampling services and his or its heirs, successors, assigns and representatives. "Price Schedule" means Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule as such document may be amended or revised from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services (as defined herein) only under the following General Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which does not incorporate the Terms. No modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the client and PCL.

The client may order services by submitting a written Chain of Custody (COC) to PCL. Any such order constitutes 1. an acceptance by the client of PCL's offer to do business with the client under the terms and conditions and 2. an agreement to be bound by these terms and conditions. The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or initiation of consulting services constitutes the client's express assent to be governed by these terms and conditions. No counter or additional terms and conditions expressed in a client's document shall be deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of the terms and conditions.

For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of workmanship in the profession. Where applicable, PCL will use analytical methodologies which are substantially conformed with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), CA Waterboard (ELAP), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM), Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC), Standard Methods (SM) of the Examination of Water and Wastewater and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate due to the nature or composition of the samples or otherwise based on the reasonable judgement of PCL. Deviations, if any, will be made on a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and/or our QA/QC policies. The total liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or successors to the client, arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided herein, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for said services. Client's acceptance of a work order and /or proposal releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary or any client purchase orders or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel performs the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the condition which the samples are collected and for conditions in and about the sampling site and for advising PCL of the same and all information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder subject to payment for all services rendered and out-of-pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally, except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the test pre materials provided by client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence unless such information is generally available to the public, or to the extent client has failed to pay PCL for all services rendered or is otherwise in breach of the agreement subject to any disclosure required by law or court process. PCL may use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of such data, provided such standard was met. PCL reports and information provided thereto are for the exclusive use and benefit of client and client agrees that it shall not distribute any or all reports, data or information Client will not disclose to any third party any information concerning technical information, software, processes or other know-how.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases, indemnifies, defends and holds PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates harmless (collectively "Harmless") from and against any and all liabilities, judgments, damages, claims, demands, losses, actions, suits, and costs and expenses, including, but not limited to, attorneys' fees (collectively "Liabilities"), and covenants not to sue PCL in favor of Client or any third party as a result of, and/or in any way arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or transportation, handling or disposal of client's hazardous materials, 1. injury, illness or death of persons, 2. cost of damage to, or loss of, or loss of use of property, and/or 3. financial loss of every kind or character. This indemnity does not apply to any of the foregoing losses, suits, damages or injuries caused solely by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL, or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall specifically apply to, without limitation, attorney's fees and costs for any and all claims, losses, actions, suits and damages arising out of client's connection with the negligence or presumed conduct by any independent person, whether actual or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any liability which the client might otherwise have to PCL and the other indemnified persons. To the extent necessary under applicable law, client agrees that its indemnity obligations will be supported by available liability insurance coverage to be furnished by client, which insurance shall be in the maximum amounts permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable to client for indirect, punitive, special, incidental or consequential damages (including without limitation, loss of profit or business interruption, Litigation Expenses or other fees (including, without limitation, attorney's fees, court costs, and/or pre or post judgment interest), or any other expenses or costs) incurred by client or any other party in any litigation against or involving PCL or any indemnified person in connection with this agreement or all services provided under this agreement even if client is the prevailing party.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by client, client will provide and PCL will receive samples materials for analyses such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls, bacteria or any other hazardous or toxic material, wastes and substances which are listed, determined or identified as such under federal, state or local laws, rules, PCL policies or regulations (whether now existing or hereafter enacted or promulgated or any judicial or administrative interpretation of any thereof (the "Hazardous Materials"). Client understands and agrees that any hazardous material received by PCL from client or at client's request shall remain the property of Client and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of all unused portions of samples as specified by client or by PCL's QA/QC policies. In the event the client does not specify its preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain Hazardous Materials. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for any/all bacterial analysis, client will be charged a sample disposal fee per sample submitted, in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect at the time of acceptance of the order by PCL. Unless otherwise stated in writing, the price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment in advance or cash on delivery may be required for all new clients or clients who have not established credit with PCL. For those clients with established credit accounts, the terms of payment are NET 30 days from invoice date unless otherwise noted in invoices. To the fullest extent permitted by law and by applicable law, any unpaid amounts invoiced to client shall bear interest at the rate of the maximum rate permitted by law or one and one half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balance, if greater as more particularly provided in the invoice. In addition, client shall pay all costs and expenses (including reasonable attorney's fees) incurred by PCL in connection with the collection of such amounts.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to the terms of this agreement are binding only if executed by both parties and if such modifications are identified as such. Subsequent orders for additional services may be verbal or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries; No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information, or reports furnished by PCL. Client is engaging services hereunder for its own account, and not as agent or broker, or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity. It is agreed and acknowledged that there are neither any third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party may rely on work, data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that said data, information and reports are not requested, or shall be used or relied upon, in connection with or as part of the purchase, sale, underwriting, or syndication of any securities, any periodic or other reporting to the holders of any security, the securing, amendment, renewal, or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender or the certification to or contracting with, directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advanced. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are delivered on weekends or after 3pm on weekdays without prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed prior to any samples being received by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to the client if requested. All analyses with holding times of 24 hours or less, samples must arrive within 36 hours to allow PCL to meet holding times without applying a rush surcharge. All short holding times 2-7 days, samples must arrive at the lab within 72 hours before expiration to ensure that the holding times can be met. Short Holding Times of 48 hours or less (analysis is 0 hours) must be delivered that same day to allow to guarantee holding times are met. After hours, late deliveries, freight company delays or similar issues are subject to additional rush fees and/or the inability to ensure holding times. All holding times are in effect as of the publication date of this fee schedule and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are retained for at least thirty (30) days after analysis has been completed. Sample storage for longer periods is by request only. Pre-arranged long term storage is subject to an additional charge. Samples will be discarded at the end of the pre-arranged storage time.

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

All pick up/sampling fees have been indicated on the fee schedule. Reasonable time has been provided for each pick up or service. Unnecessary delays during the pick up or sampling, might be assessed an additional fee.

Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

1. Definitions

"Terms and Conditions" means these Terms and Conditions of sale, including the price schedule, and any additions or amendments hereto which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity who may request laboratory services, consulting or sampling services and his or its heirs, successors, assigns and representatives. "Price Schedule" means Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule as such document may be amended or reissued from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services (as defined herein) only under the following General Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which does not incorporate the Terms. No modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the client and PCL.

The client may order services by submitting a written chain of custody (COC) to PCL. Any such order constitutes 1. an acceptance by the client of PCL's offer to do business with the client under the terms and conditions and 2. an agreement to be bound by these terms and conditions. The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or initiation of consulting services constitutes the client's express assent to be governed by these terms and conditions. No contrary or additional terms and conditions expressed in a client's document shall be deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of the terms and conditions.

For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of workmanship in the profession. Where applicable, PCL will use analytical methodologies which are in substantial conformity with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), CA Waterboard (ELAP), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM), Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC), Standard Methods (SM) of the Examination of Water and Wastewater and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate due to the nature or composition of the samples or otherwise based on the reasonable judgement of PCL. Deviations, if any, will be made on a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and/or our QA/QC policies. The total liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or successors to the client arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided herein, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for said services. Client's acceptance of a work order and/or proposal releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in any client purchase orders or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel performs the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the condition which the samples are collected and for conditions in and about the sampling site and for advising PCL of the same and all information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder subject to payment for all services rendered and out-of-pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally, except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample materials provided by client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence unless such information is generally available to the public or is the public domain or the client fails to pay PCL for all services rendered or any service or breach of the agreement) subject to any applicable measure by law or legal process any more than the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not divulge to any unauthorized employee of said data except to the extent such disclosure is necessary for the performance of its services. Client agrees that PCL may use any reports issued to client hereunder, provided however that the exclusive property of client and client agrees that PCL shall be no third party beneficiary of such reports, data or information. Client will not disclose to any third party any information concerning technical information, software programs or other innovations.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent harmless from and against any and all liabilities, losses or damages, claims, demands, causes of action, costs and associated expenses, including, but not limited to attorneys fees (the litigation Expenses) and awards, arising in favor of Client or any third party as a result of, related in any way occurring incident to arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or transportation, handling or disposal of client's hazardous materials. [theory, discovery or tests of persons 2. Loss of damage to, loss of, or use of property, and/or 3. Financial loss of every kind and character. This indemnity does not apply to any of the foregoing losses, costs, damages, or liabilities caused solely by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity is not specifically applicable to losses, claims, damages, or liability of every kind and character arising out of or in connection with the negligence of or breach of a contract by any Indemnified Person, whether actual or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any liability which the client might otherwise have to PCL and the other indemnified Persons. To the extent necessary under applicable law, client agrees that its indemnification obligation will be supported by available liability insurance coverage to be furnished by client, which insurance shall be in the maximum amounts permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable to client for indirect, punitive, special, incidental or consequential damages including, without limitation, loss of profit or business interruption) Litigation Expenses or other fees including, without limitation, attorney's fees, court costs, and pre or post judgment interest), or any other expenses or costs incurred by client or any other party in any litigation against or involving PCL or any indemnified person in connection with this agreement or on services provided under this agreement even if client is the prevailing party.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by client, client will provide and PCL will receive samples materials for analysis such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls, bacteria or any other hazardous or toxic material, wastes and substances which are defined, determined or identified as such under federal, state or local laws, rules, PCL policies or regulation (whether now existing or hereafter enacted or promulgated or any judicial or administrative interpretation of any thereof the "Hazardous Materials"). No contrary or additional terms and conditions expressed in a client's document shall be deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of the terms and conditions.

For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of workmanship in the profession. Where applicable, PCL will use analytical methodologies which are in substantial conformity with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), EA Waterboard (ELAP), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM), Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC), Standard Methods (SM) of the Examination of Water and Wastewater, and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate due to the nature or composition of the samples or otherwise based on the reasonable judgement of PCL. Deviations, if any, will be made on a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and/or our QA/QC policies. The total liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or successors to the client, arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided herein, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for said services. Client's acceptance of a work order and /or proposal releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in any client purchase orders or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel performs the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the conditions which the samples are collected and for conditions in and about the sampling site and for advising PCL of the same and all information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder subject to payment for all services rendered and out-of-pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally, except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample materials provided by client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public or is in the public domain or Client has tried to pay PCL for all services rendered or is otherwise in breach of the agreement) subject to any disclosure required by law or by a court. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of said data where such standard was observed. PCL reports and information provided hereunder are for the exclusive use and benefit of Client and client agrees there shall be no third party beneficiaries of such reports, data or information. Client will not disclose to any third party any information concerning technical information, software programs or other formulations.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent harmless from and against any and all suits, claims, losses, damages, costs, demands, causes of action, liabilities and associated expenses (including but not limited to attorneys' fees, litigation expenses and awards arising in favor of Client or any third party as a result of, and/or in any way occurring incident to, arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or in connection herewith, or disposal of client's waste hereunder), 1. injury, disease or death of persons 2. loss of, damage to, loss of use of, or loss of value of property and or 3. financial loss of every kind of character. This indemnity does not apply to any of the foregoing arising under damages or injuries caused solely by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall specifically apply to losses, claims, damages, actions of every kind and character arising out of or in connection with the negligence or violation of contract by any indemnified Person, whether actual or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any rights which the client might otherwise have to PCL and the other indemnified persons. To the extent necessary under applicable law, client agrees that its indemnity obligations will be supported by aviation liability insurance coverage to be furnished by client, which insurance shall be in the maximum amounts permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable to client for indirect, punitive, special, incidental or consequential damages including, without limitation, loss of profit or business interruption, litigation expenses or attorney fees (including, without limitation, attorney's fees, court costs, and /or pre or post judgment interest), or any other expenses or costs incurred by client or any other party in any litigation against or involving PCL or any intermediate parties in connection with this agreement or as services provided under this agreement even if client is the prevailing party.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by client, client will provide and PCL will receive samples materials for analyses such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls, bacteria or any other hazardous or toxic material, wastes and substances which are defined, determined or identified as such under federal, state or local laws, rules, PCL policies or regulations (whether now existing or hereafter enacted or promulgated) or any judicial or administrative interpretation of any thereof (the "Hazardous Materials"). Client understands and agrees that any hazardous material received by PCL from client or at client's request shall remain the property of client and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of all unused portions of samples as specified by client or by PCL's QA/QC policies. In the event the client does not specify its preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain Hazardous Materials. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for any/all bacterial analysis, client will be charged a sample disposal fee, per sample submitted, in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect in the area of operations on the date the services were rendered or with prices quoted and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment in advance or when services is completed is required for all new clients or with a history of payment and/or credit account has been established with PCL. For those clients with an established credit account, the terms for payment of charges are NET CASH within thirty (30) days from date of invoice. To the fullest extent permitted (if at all) by applicable law, any amount unpaid at the end of thirty (30) days is subject to interest at the lesser of the maximum rate permitted by law or one and one-half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balance. If unpaid amounts are submitted through legal proceedings or by an attorney, the client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees or agents' fees associated with such collection procedure or efforts.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to the Terms shall be effective only in writing and executed by an officer of PCL or by client's authorized representative, except that subsequent orders for additional services may be verbal or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries: No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for Client's use of or reliance on data, information, or reports furnished by PCL. Client is ordering services hereunder for its own account, and not as agent or broker, or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity. It is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party may rely on such data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that said data, information and reports are not requested, or shall be used to relied upon, in connection with or as part of, the purchase, sale, underwriting, or securitization of any securities, any periodic or other reporting to the holders of any security, the securing, amendment, renewal, or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender or the certification to or contracting with directly or indirectly any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advance. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are delivered on weekends or after 3pm on weekdays without prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed prior to any samples being received by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to the client if requested. All analyses with holding times of 14 days or less, samples must arrive within 96 hours to allow PCL to meet holding times without incurring a rush surcharge. All short holding times, 2-7 days, samples must arrive at the lab within 24 hours before expiration to ensure that the holding times can be met. Short Holding Times of 48 hours or less (bacteria is a 6 hours) must be delivered that same day or under to guarantee holding times are met. After hours, late delivery, freight company delays or similar issues are subject to additional cost/fees and/or the inability to meet holding times. All holding times are in effect as of the publication date of this fee schedule and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are retained for at least thirty (30) days after analysis has been completed. Sample storage for longer periods is on request only. Pre-arranged long term storage is subject to an additional charge. Samples will be discarded at the end of the pre-arranged storage time.

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

All pick up/sampling fees have been outlined on the fee schedule. Reasonable time has been allocated for each pick up or service. Unnecessary delays during the pick up or sampling, might be accessed an additional fee.

Rev 2 Effective 5/1/17

Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

1. Definitions

"Terms and Conditions" means these Terms and Conditions of sale, including the price schedule, and any additions or amendments hereto which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity who may request laboratory services, consulting or sampling services and his or its heirs, successors, assigns and representatives. "Price Schedule" means Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule as such document may be amended or reissued from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services (as defined herein) only under the following General Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which does not incorporate the Terms. No modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the client and PCL.

The client may order services by submitting a written Chain of Custody (COC) to PCL. Any such order constitutes 1. an acceptance by the client of PCL's offer to do business with the client under the terms and conditions and 2. an agreement to be bound by these terms and conditions. The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or initiation of consulting services constitutes the client's express assent to be governed by these terms and conditions. No contrary or additional terms and conditions expressed in a client's document shall be deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of the terms and conditions.

For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of workmanship in the profession. Where applicable, PCL will use analytical methodologies which are in substantial conformity with the U.S Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), CA Waterboard (ELAP), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM), Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC), Standard Methods (SM) of the Examination of Water and Wastewater and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate due to the nature or composition of the samples or otherwise based on the reasonable judgement of PCL. Deviations, if any, will be made on a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and/or our QA/QC policies. The total liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or successors to the client arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided herein, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for said services. Client's acceptance of a work order and /or proposal releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in any client purchase orders or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel performs the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the condition which the samples are collected and for conditions in and about the sampling site and for advising PCL of the same and all information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder subject to payment for all services rendered and out-of-pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally, except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample materials provided by client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public or in the public domain or client has failed to pay PCL for all services rendered) or is otherwise in breach of the agreement) subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of said data where such standard was observed. PCL's reports and information provided thereunder are for the exclusive use and benefit of client and client agrees there shall be no third party beneficiary of such reports, data or information. Client will not disclose to any third party any information concerning technical information, software, programs or other formulations.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent harmless from and against any and all liabilities, losses or damages, claims, demands, causes of action, suits and any related expenses, including, but not limited to attorneys' fees (the Litigation Expenses) and awards arising in favor of client or any third party as a result of, and/or in any way occurring incident to arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or transportation, handling or disposal of Client's hazardous materials. 1. injury, disease or death of persons 2. Loss of, damage to, loss of, or loss of use of property and/or 3. Financial loss of every kind of character. This indemnity shall not apply to any of the foregoing losses, suits, damages or injuries caused solely by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall specifically apply to losses, claims, causes of action, actions of every kind and character arising out of or in connection with the negligence of or breach of contract by any indemnified Person, whether active or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any liability which the client might otherwise have to PCL and the other indemnified Persons. To the extent necessary under applicable law, client agrees that its indemnity obligation will be supported by available liability insurance coverage to be furnished by client, which insurance shall be in the maximum amounts permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable to client for indirect, punitive, special, incidental or consequential damages including, without limitation, loss of profit or business interruption, Litigation Expenses or other fees including, without limitation, attorney's fees, court costs, and /or pre or post judgment interest, or any other expenses or costs incurred by client or any other party in any litigation against or involving PCL or any indemnified person in connection with this agreement or all services provided under this agreement even if client is the prevailing party.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by client, client will provide and PCL will receive samples materials for analysis such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls, Bacteria or any other hazardous or toxic material, waste and substances which are defined, determined or identified as such under federal, state or local laws, rules, PCL policies or regulations (whether now existing or hereafter enacted or promulgated or any judicial or administrative interpretation of any thereof (the "Hazardous Materials"). Client understands and agrees that any hazardous material received by PCL from client or at client's request shall remain the property of Client and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of all unused portions of samples as specified by client or by PCL's QA/QC policies. In the event the client does not specify its preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain Hazardous Materials. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for any/all bacterial analysis, client will be charged a sample disposal fee, per sample submitted, in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect at the area of operations on the date the services were rendered or with prices quoted and later confirmed in writing. Each price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment in advance or when analysis is completed is required for all new clients or until a history of payment and/or credit account has been established with PCL. To ensure clients with an established credit account, the terms for payment of charges are NET CASH within thirty (30) days from date of invoice. To the fullest extent permitted by law all by applicable law, any amount unpaid on this account thirty (30) days is subject to interest at the lesser of the maximum rate permitted by law or one and one half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balance. If unpaid amount is put collected through legal proceedings, suit or attorney, client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees in addition to any costs associated with such collection procedure or efforts.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to the Terms shall be effective only if in writing and executed by an officer of PCL and (i) Client, authorized representative, (ii) any subsequent orders for additional services shall be deemed to be in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries; No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information, or reports furnished by PCL. Client is securing services hereunder for its own account, and not as agent or broker, or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity. It is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party may rely on such data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that said data, information and reports are not requested, or shall be used to relied upon, in connection with or as pursuant, the purchase, sale, underwriting, or distribution of any securities, any person, or other recipient (or the holders of any security, the securing, amendment, renewal, or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender or the certification to or contracting with, directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advanced. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are delivered on weekends or after 2pm on weekdays without prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed prior to any samples being received by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to the client if requested. All analyses with holding times of 14 days or less, samples must arrive within 96 hours to allow PCL to meet holding times without apply rush surcharge. All short holding times (7 days), samples must arrive at the lab within 72 hours before expiration to ensure that the holding times can be met. Short Holding Times of 48 hours or less (pH, DO's in 15 hours) must be delivered that same day in order to guarantee holding times are met. After hours, late delivery, freight company delays or similar issues are subject to additional rush fees and/or the inability to meet holding times. All holding times are in effect as of the publication date of this fee schedule and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are retained for, at least thirty (30) days after analysis has been completed. Sample storage for longer periods is by request only. Pre-arranged long term storage is subject to an additional charge. Samples will be discarded at the end of the pre-arranged storage time.

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

All pick up/sampling fees have been noted on the fee schedule. Reasonable time has been allocated for each pick up or service. Unnecessary delays during the pick up or sampling, may be accessed an additional fee.

Deviations, if any, will be made on a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and/or our QA/QC policies. The total liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or successors to the client, arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided herein, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for said services. Client's acceptance of a work order and /or proposal releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in any client purchase orders or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel performs the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the condition which the samples are collected and for conditions in and about the sampling site and for advising PCL of the same and all information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder subject to payment for all services rendered and out-of-pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally, except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the raw data materials provided by client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public or is the public domain or client has failed to pay PCL for all services rendered or is otherwise in breach of the agreement) subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standards of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of said data when such standard was observed. PCL reports and information provided thereto are for the exclusive use and benefit of client and client agrees there shall be no third party beneficiary of such reports, data or information. Client will not disclose to any third party any information concerning technical information, software programs or other proprietary.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent harmless from and against any and all liabilities, losses or damages, claims, demands, causes of action, suits and associated expenses, including, but not limited to, all court fees, fines, Litigation Expenses and awards, arising in favor of Client or any third party, as a result of, and/or in any way occurring incident to, arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or transportation, handling or disposal of client's hazardous materials, 1. injury, disease or death of persons 2. Loss of, damage to, loss of, or loss of use of property, and/or 3. Financial loss of every kind or character. This indemnity does not apply to any of the foregoing losses, costs, damages or liabilities caused solely by the sole negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall specifically apply to losses, claims damages, actions of every kind and character, arising out of or in connection with the negligence and/or breach of contract by any indemnified Person, whether actual or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any liability which the client might otherwise have in PCL and the other indemnified Persons. To the extent necessary under applicable law, Client agrees that its indemnity obligation will be supported by available liability insurance coverage to be furnished by client, which insurance shall be in the maximum amounts permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable to client for indirect, punitive, special, incidental or consequential damages including, without limitation, loss of profit or business interruption, Litigation Expenses or other fees including, without limitation, attorney's fees, court costs, and /or pre or post judgment interest, or any other expenses or costs incurred by client or any other party in any litigation against or involving PCL or any indemnified person in connection with this agreement or all services provided under this agreement even if client is the prevailing party.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by client, client will provide and PCL will receive samples materials for analyses such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls, bacteria or any other hazardous or toxic material, wastes and substances which are defined, determined or identified as such under federal, state or local laws, rules, PCL policies or regulations (wastes), now existing or hereafter enacted or promulgated or any judicial or administrative interpretation of any thereof (the "Hazardous Materials"). Client understands and agrees that any hazardous material received by PCL from client or at client's request shall remain the property of Client and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of all unused portions of samples as specified by client or by PCL's QA/QC policies. In the event the client does not specify its preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain Hazardous Materials. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for any/all bacterial analysis client will be charged a sample disposal fee, per sample submitted, in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect at the time of operations on the date the services were rendered or with prices quoted and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment in advance or when service is completed is required unless credit or until a history of payment and/or credit account has been established with PCL. For those clients with an established credit account, the terms for payment of charges are NET CASH within thirty (30) days from date of invoice. To the fullest extent permitted by at all by applicable law, any amount unpaid at the end of thirty (30) days is subject to interest at the lesser of the maximum rate permitted by law at one and one half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balance. If unpaid amounts are collected through legal proceedings or by an attorney, the client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees or agents fees associated with such action, court costs and or efforts.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to the terms shall be effective upon writing and executed by an officer of PCL and by client's authorized representative, except that subsequent orders for additional services may be verbal or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries: No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information, or reports furnished by PCL. Client is securing services hereunder for its own account, and not as agent or broker, or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity. It agrees and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to PCL agreement, and that no third party may rely on such data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that said data, information and reports are not requested, or shall be used to relied upon, in connection with or as part of, the purchase, sale, underwriting, or distribution of any securities, or periodic or other reporting to the holders of any security, the securing, amendment, renewal, or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender or the certification to or contracting with, directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advanced. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are delivered on weekends or after 3pm on weekdays without prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed prior to any samples being received by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to the client if requested. All analyses with holding times of 36 hours or less, (Ex:Nitrate is 48 hours) must be delivered that same day in order to guarantee holding times are met. After hours, late delivery, freight company delays or similar issues are subject to additional rush fees and/or the inability to meet holding times. All holding times are in effect as of the publication date of this fee schedule and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are retained for at least thirty (30) days after analysis has been completed. Sample storage for longer periods is by request only. Pre-arranged long term storage is subject to an additional charge. Samples will be discarded at the end of the pre-arranged storage time.

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

All pick up/sampling fees have been notated on the fee schedule. Reasonable time has been allocated for each pick up or service. Unnecessary delays during the pick up or sampling, might be accessed an additional fee.

Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

1. Definitions

"Terms and Conditions" means these Terms and Conditions of sale, including the price schedule, and any additions or amendments hereto which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity who may request laboratory services, consulting or sampling services and his or its heirs, successors, assigns and representatives. "Price Schedule" means Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule as such document may be amended or reissued from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services (as defined herein) only under the following General Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which does not incorporate the Terms. No modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the client and PCL.

The client may order services by submitting a written chain of custody (COC) to PCL. Any such order constitutes 1. an acceptance by the client of PCL's offer to do business with the client under the terms and condition and 2. an agreement to be bound by these terms and conditions.

The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or initiation of consulting services constitutes the client's express assent to be governed by these terms and conditions. No contrary or additional terms and conditions expressed in a client's document shall be deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of the terms and conditions.

For purpose of this agreement, "Services" shall mean all work to be performed for the client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of workmanship in the profession. Where applicable, PCL will use analytical methodologies which are in substantial conformity with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), CA Waterboard (ELAP), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM), Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC), Standard Methods (SM) of the Examination of Water and Wastewater and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate due to the nature or compositions of the samples or otherwise based on the reasonable judgement of PCL. Deviations, if any, will be made on a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and/or our QA/QC policies. The total liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or successors to the client arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided herein, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for said services. Client's acceptance of a work order and /or proposal releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in any client purchase orders or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel performs the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the condition which the samples are collected and for conditions in and about the sampling site and for advising PCL of the same and all information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder subject to payment for all services rendered and out-of-pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally, except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample materials provided by client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public or is the public domain or client has failed to pay PCL for all services rendered) or is otherwise in breach of the agreement) subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of said data when such standard was observed. PCL reports and information provided thereto are for the exclusive use and benefit of client and client agrees that it shall be no third party beneficiary of such reports, data or information. Client will not disclose to any third party any information concerning technical information, software programs or other know-how.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent harmless from and against any and all liabilities, losses or damages, claims, demands, causes of action, suits and associated expenses, including, but not limited to, all court fees (the Litigation Expenses) and awards arising in favor of Client or any third party, as a result of, and/or in any way resulting in, directly or indirectly arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or transportation, handling or disposal of client's hazardous materials 1. injury, disease or death of persons 2. loss of damage to use of, or loss of use of property and/or 3. financial loss of every kind or character. This indemnity does not apply to any of the foregoing losses, costs, damages or liabilities caused solely by the sole negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall specifically apply to losses, claims damages, actions of every kind and character arising out of or in connection with the negligence of or breach of contract by any indemnified Person, whether actual or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any liability which the client might otherwise have in PCL and the other indemnified persons. To the extent necessary under applicable law, Client agrees that its indemnity obligation will be supported by available liability insurance coverage to be furnished by client, which insurance shall be to the maximum amounts permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable to client for indirect, punitive special, incidental or consequential damages including without limitation, loss of profit or business interruption. Litigation Expenses or other fees including, without limitation, attorney's fees, court costs, and /or pre or post judgment interests, or any other expenses or costs incurred by client or any other party, in any litigation against or involving PCL or any indemnified person in connection with this agreement or all services provided under this agreement even if client is the prevailing party.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by client, client will provide and PCL will receive samples or materials for analyses such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls, Bacteria or any other hazardous or toxic material, wastes and substances which are defined, determined or identified as such under federal, state or local laws, rules, PCL policies or regulations (as all or now existing or hereafter enacted or promulgated or any judicial or administrative interpretation of any thereof the "Hazardous Materials"). Client understands and agrees that any Hazardous material received by PCL from client or at client's request shall remain the property of Client and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of all unused portions of samples as specified by client or by PCL's QA/QC policies. In the event the client does not specify its preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain Hazardous Materials. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for asbestos bacterial analysis, client will be charged a sample disposal fee, per sample submitted, in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect in the area of operations on the date the services were rendered or work orders quoted and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment in advance or when sample is submitted is required for all new clients or upon establishment of payment and/or credit account has been established with PCL. For those clients with established credit account, the terms for payment of charges are NET EXCEPTION thirty (30) days from date of invoice. To the fullest extent permitted by or all by applicable law, any amount unpaid in thirty and (30) days is subject to interest at the lesser of the maximum rate permitted by law or one and one half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balances. If unpaid amounts are collected through legal proceedings or by an attorney, the client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees or awards that are calculated with such collection procedure or efforts.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to the Terms shall be effective only in writing and executed by an officer of PCL and the client or authorized representative, except that subsequent orders for additional services may be verbal or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries; No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information or reports furnished by PCL. Client is retaining services hereunder for its own account, and not as agent or broker, or in any other representative capacity for any other person to apply. It is agreed and acknowledged that these and other duly bargained for to this agreement, and that no third party may rely on such data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that said data, information and reports are not requested or shall be used to relied upon in connection with or as part of the purchase, sale, underwriting, or issuance of any securities, any periodic or other reporting to the holders of any security, the securing, amendment, renewal or extension of any loan from any financial institutions or other lender or the certification to or client acting with, directly or indirectly, any government agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advanced. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are delivered on weekends or after 5pm on weekdays without prior authorization and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions are shown on price sheet. Prior to any samples being received by PCL, a list of holding times can be provided to the client if requested. All analyses with holding times of 14 days or less, samples must arrive within 96 hours to allow PCL to meet holding times without applying a rush surcharge. All short holding times (< 7 days), samples must arrive at the lab within 24 hours before expiration to ensure that the holding times can be met. Short Holding Times of 48 hours or less (analysis is 6 hours) must be delivered that same day in order to guarantee holding times are met. After hours, late delivery, freight company delays or similar issues are subject to additional rush fees and/or the inability to meet holding times. All holding times are in effect as of the publication date of this fee schedule and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent harmless from and against any and all liabilities, losses or damages, claims, demands, causes of action, suits and associated expenses, including, but not limited to, all court fees (like Litigation Expense) and awards arising in favor of Client or any third party, as a result of, and/or in any way occurring, incident to arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or transportation, handling or disposal of client's hazardous materials. 1. injury, disease or death of persons 2. Loss of, damage to, loss of, or loss of use of property and/or 3. Financial loss of every kind or character. This indemnity does not apply to any of the foregoing to the extent damages or injuries caused solely by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall specifically apply to suits, claims, damages, actions of every kind and character arising out of or in connection with the negligence of the breach of contract by any indemnified Person, whether actual or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any liability which the client might otherwise have to PCL and the other indemnified Persons. To the extent necessary under applicable law, Client agrees that its indemnity obligation will be supported by available liability insurance coverage to be furnished by Client, which coverage shall be in the maximum amounts permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable to client for indirect, punitive, special, incidental or consequential damages (including, without limitation, loss of profit or business interruption, Litigation Expenses or other fees (including, without limitation, attorney's fees, court costs, and/or pre or post judgment interest)), or any other expenses or costs incurred by client or any other party in any litigation against or involving PCL or any indemnified person in connection with this agreement or an services provided under this agreement even if client is the prevailing party.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by client, client will provide and PCL will receive samples materials for analyses such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls, bacteria or any other hazardous or toxic material, wastes and substances which are defined, determined or identified as such under federal, state or local laws, rules, PCL policies or regulations (whether now existing or hereafter enacted or promulgated or any judicial or administrative interpretation of any thereof (the "Hazardous Materials"). Client understands and agrees that any hazardous material received by PCL from client or at client's request shall remain the property of Client and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of all unused portions of samples as specified by client or by PCL's QA/QC policies. In the event the client does not specify its preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain Hazardous Materials. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for any lab bacterial analysis, client will be charged a sample disposal fee, per sample submitted, in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect in the area of operations on the date the services were rendered or work was started and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment in advance or when analysis is completed is required for all new clients or until a history of payment satisfactory to PCL has been established with PCL. For those clients with an established credit account, the terms for payment of charges are NET (as set forth) thirty (30) days from date of invoices. To the fullest extent permitted by all applicable law, any amount unpaid 30 thirty (30) days is subject to interest at the lesser of the maximum rate permitted by law or one and one half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balances. If unpaid accounts are collected through an attorney-at-law or otherwise, the client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees as against client associated with such collection procedures or efforts.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to the terms shall be effective only if in writing and executed by an officer of PCL and by clients authorized representative. Client's that subsequent orders for additional services may be verbal or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries; No Right of Reliance

Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

1. Definitions

"Terms and Conditions" means these Terms and Conditions of sale, including the price schedule, and any additions or amendments hereto which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity who may request laboratory services, consulting or sampling services and his or its heirs, successors, assigns and representatives. "Price Schedule" means Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule as such document may be amended or reissued from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services (as defined herein) only under the following General Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which does not incorporate the Terms. No modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the client and PCL.

The client may order services by submitting a written chain of custody (COC) to PCL. Any such order constitutes 1. an acceptance by the client of PCL's offer to do business with the client under the terms and conditions and 2. an agreement to be bound by these terms and conditions.

The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or initiation of consulting services constitutes the client's express assent to be governed by these terms and conditions. No contrary or additional terms and conditions expressed in a client's document shall be deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of the terms and conditions.

For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of workmanship in the profession. Where applicable, PCL will use analytical methodologies which are in substantial conformity with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), CA Waterboard (ELAP), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM), Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC), Standard Methods (SM) of the Examination of Water and Wastewater and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate due to the nature or composition of the samples or otherwise based on the reasonable judgement of PCL. Deviations, if any, will be made on a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and/or our QA/QC policies. The total liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or successors to the client, arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided herein, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for said services. Client's acceptance of a work order and/or proposal releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in any client purchase orders or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel performs the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the condition which the samples are collected and for conditions in and about the sampling site and for advising PCL of the same and all information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder subject to payment for all services rendered and out-of-pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally, except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample materials provided by client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public, or to the public domain or Client has filed to pay PCL for all services rendered, or is otherwise in breach of the agreement) subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of such data where such standard was observed. PCL reports and information provided thereon are for the exclusive use and benefit of client and client agrees there shall be no third party beneficiary of such reports, data or information. Client will not disseminate any third party any information concerning technical information, software, processes or other know-how.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent harmless from and against any and all claims, losses or damages, claims, demands, causes of action, liens and associated expenses, including, but not limited to attorneys fees (the Litigation Expenses) and awards arising in favor of Client or any third party as a result of, and/or in any way occurring incident to arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or transportation, handling or disposal of client's hazard ous materials, 1. injury, disease or death of persons 2. Loss of, damage to, loss of, or loss of use of property and/or 3. Financial loss of every kind of character. This indemnity does not apply to any of the foregoing losses, costs, damages or expenses caused solely by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall specifically apply to losses, claims, damages, actions of every kind and character arising out of or in connection with the negligence of or breach of contract by any indemnified Person, whether active or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any liability which the client might otherwise have to PCL and the other indemnified Persons. To the extent necessary under applicable law, client agrees that its indemnity obligation will be supported by available liability insurance coverage to be furnished by client, which insurance shall be in the maximum amounts permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable to client for indirect, punitive, special, incidental or consequential damages (including without limitation, loss of profit or business interruption). Litigation Expenses or other fees (including, without limitation, attorney's fees, court costs, and pre or post judgment interest), or any other expenses or costs incurred by client or any other party in any litigation against or involving PCL or any indemnified person in connection with this agreement or all services provided under this agreement even if client is the prevailing party.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by client, client will provide and PCL will receive samples/ materials for analyses such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls, bacteria or any other hazardous or toxic material, wastes and substances which are defined, determined or identified as such under federal, state or local laws, rules, PCL policies or regulations (whether now existing or hereafter enacted or promulgated or any judicial or administrative interpretation of any thereof (the "Hazardous Materials"). Client understands and agrees that any hazardous material received by PCL from client or at client's request shall remain the property of Client and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of all unused portions of samples as specified by client or by PCL's QA/QC policies. In the event the client does not specify its preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain Hazardous Materials. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for any/all bacterial analysis, client will be charged a sample disposal fee, per sample submitted, in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect at the time of operations on the date the services were rendered or with prices quoted and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment in advance or when invoice is completed is required for all new clients or until a history of payment and/or credit account has been established with PCL. For those clients with an established credit account, the terms for payment of charges are NET CASH within thirty (30) days from date of invoice. To the fullest extent permitted by at all by applicable law, any amount unpaid at the end of thirty (30) days is subject to interest at the lesser of the maximum rate permitted by law or one and one-half percent (1.5%) per month or the highest allowed. If unpaid amounts are collected through legal proceedings or by an attorney, the client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees or assist with such collection procedure or efforts.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to the Terms shall be effective only in writing and if signed by an officer of PCL and by client or authorized representative, except that subsequent orders for additional services may be verbal or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries: No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information or reports furnished by PCL. Client is securing services for his or her own account, and not as agent or broker, or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity. It is agreed, but acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party may rely on such data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that said data, information and reports are not requested, or shall be used to record upon, in connection with or as part of, the purchase, sale, underwriting, or distribution of any securities, any periodic or other reporting to the holders of any security, the issuing, amendment, renewal, or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender or the qualification to or contracting with, directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

In the event the client does not specify its preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain Hazardous Materials. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for any/all bacterial analysis, client will be charged a sample disposal fee, per sample submitted, as accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's quote for prices, and/or in effect at the time of quotation, or the time the services were rendered or with prices quoted and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment in advance or where credit is to be established, a reasonable credit limit will be given. Client agrees that payment shall be made in accordance with PCL's then-current credit application. Client agrees to pay all charges are NET (Cash/within thirty (30) days from date of invoice). To the fullest extent permitted by law, PCL shall be entitled to any amount unpaid or delinquent more than thirty (30) days as subject to interest at the lesser of the maximum rate permitted by law or one and one half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balance. If unpaid amounts are collected through legal proceedings or by an attorney, the client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney fees or agents fees in association with such collection procedures or efforts.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments of the terms shall be effective only in writing and executed by an officer of PCL and by duly authorized representative, except that subsequent orders for additional services may be verbal or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries; No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information or reports furnished by PCL. Client in securing samples known to be for its own account, and not as agent or broker, or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity, it is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party may rely on such data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that said data, information and reports are not represented, or shall be used to rely upon, in connection with or as part of, the purchase, sale, underwriting, or distribution at any securities, any periodic or other reporting to the holders of any securities, the securing, amendment, renewal, or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender or the certification to or complying with directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advance. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are delivered on weekends or after 5pm for overnight without prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed prior to any samples being received by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to the client if requested. All analytes with holding times of 14 days or less, samples must arrive within 48 hours to allow PCL to meet holding times without applying a rush surcharge. For short holding times, 2-7 days, samples must arrive at the lab within 24 hours before expiration to insure that the holding times can be met. Short Holding Times of 48 hours or less (excepting 24 hours) must be delivered that same day in order to guarantee holding times are met. After hours, late deliveries, freight company delays or similar issues are subject to additional rush fees and/or the inability to meet holding times. All holding times are in effect as of the publication date of this fee schedule and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are retained for at least thirty (30) days after analysis has been completed. Sample storage for longer periods is by request only. Pre-arranged long term storage is subject to an additional charge. Samples will be discarded at the end of the pre-arranged storage time.

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

All pick up/sampling fees have been notated on the fee schedule. Reasonable time has been allocated for each pick up or service. Unnecessary delays during the pick up or sampling, might be accessed an additional fee.

Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

1. Definitions

"Terms and Conditions" means these Terms and Conditions of sale, including the price schedule, and any additions or amendments hereto which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity who may request laboratory services, consulting or sampling services and his or its heirs, successors, assigns and representatives. "Price Schedule" means Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule as such document may be amended or reissued from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services (as defined herein) only under the following General Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which does not incorporate the Terms. No modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the client and PCL.
The client may order services by submitting a written chain of custody (COC) to PCL. Any such order constitutes 1. an acceptance by the client of PCL's offer to do business with the client under the terms and condition and 2. an agreement to be bound by these terms and conditions.
The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or initiation of consulting services constitutes the client's express assent to be governed by these terms and conditions. No contrary or additional terms and conditions expressed in a client's document shall be deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of the Terms and conditions.
For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of workmanship in the profession. Where applicable, PCL will use analytical methodologies which are in substantial conformity with the U.S Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), CA Waterboard (ELAP), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM), Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC) Standard Methods (SM) of the Examination of Water and Wastewater and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate due to the nature or composition of the samples or otherwise based on the reasonable judgement of PCL. Deviations, if any, will be made on a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and/or our QA/QC policies. The total liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or successors to the client, arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided herein, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for said services. Client's acceptance of a work order and /or proposal releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in any client purchase orders or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel performs the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the condition which the samples are collected and for conditions in and about the sampling site and for advising PCL of the same and all information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder subject to payment for all services rendered and out-of-pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally, except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample materials provided by client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public or is the public domain or client has failed to pay PCL for all services rendered, or is otherwise in breach of the agreement) subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of confidential information unless such disclosure was caused by PCL's reckless misconduct or willful misconduct. PCL reports and information provided hereunder are for the exclusive use and benefit of Client and no person other than Client shall be a third party beneficiary of our reports, data or information. Client will not disclose any such information without prior consent to technical information, software, equipment or other trade secrets.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent harmless from and against any and all liabilities, losses or damages, claims, demands, causes of action, suits and associated expenses, including, but not limited to attorneys fees (the Litigation Expenses) and costs arising in favor of Client or any third party as a result of, and/or in any way according, incidental to arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or transportation, handling, or disposal of client's hazardous materials, 1. injury, sickness or death of persons 2. loss of damage to, loss of, or loss of use of property, and/or 3. financial loss of every kind of character. This indemnity does not apply to any of the foregoing losses, suits, damages, or injuries caused solely by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall not, in any way, apply to direct, consequential, punitive of every kind and description arising out of or in connection with the negligence of or breach of contract by any indemnified Person, whether actual or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any liability which the client might otherwise have to PCL and the other indemnified Persons. To the extent necessary under applicable law, client agrees that its indemnity obligations will be supported by available liability insurance coverage to be furnished by Client, which insurance shall be in the maximum amounts permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable to client for indirect, punitive, special, incidental or consequential damages (including without limitation, loss of profit or business interruption) litigation Expenses or other fees including, without limitation, attorney's fees, court costs, and /or pre or post judgment interest), or any other expenses or costs incurred by client or any other party in any litigation against or involving PCL or any indemnified person in connection with this agreement or all services provided under this agreement even if client is the prevailing party.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by client, client will provide and PCL will receive samples or materials for analyses such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls, bacteria or any other hazardous or toxic material, wastes and substances which are defined, determined or identified as such under federal, state or local laws, rules, PCL policies or regulations (whether now existing or hereafter enacted or promulgated) or any judicial or administrative interpretation of any thereof (the "Hazardous Materials"). Client understands and agrees that any hazardous material received by PCL from client or at client's request shall remain the property of Client and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of all unused portions of samples as specified by client or by PCL's QA/QC policies. In the event the client does not specify its preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain Hazardous Materials. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for any/all bacterial analysis, client will be charged a sample disposal fee, per sample submitted, in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect in the area of operations on the date the services were rendered or materials provided and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment is due upon which invoice is presented. Payment is due upon receipt of invoice unless other terms of payment shall have been established with PCL. For those clients with an established credit account, the terms for payment of charges are NET 30th within thirty (30) days from date of invoices. To the fullest extent permitted by law or by applicable law, any amount unpaid 30 days after invoice is subject to interest at the lesser of maximum rate allowed by law or one and one half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balance. If client account is not collected through legal proceedings or court attorney, the client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees incurred by client with such collection proceedings or efforts.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to the Terms shall be effective only if agreed in writing and executed by authorized representatives of PCL and client. Unforeseen circumstances, events that occur which PCL could not for additional services may be verbal or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries: No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information, or reports furnished by PCL. Client is acquiring services hereunder for its own account, and not as agent or broker, or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity. It is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party may rely on such data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that said data, information and reports are not intended, or shall be used or relied upon, in connection with or as part of, the purchase, sale, underwriting, or distribution of any securities, any periodic or other reporting to the holders of any security, the securing, amendment, renewal, or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender or the certification to or contracting with, directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advanced. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are delivered on weekends or after 2pm on weekdays without prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed prior to any samples being received by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to you upon if requested. For analytes with holding times of 24 days or less, samples must arrive within 96 hours to allow PCL to meet holding times without applying a rush surcharge. For short holding times of 7 days, samples must arrive at the lab within 24 hours before expiration to ensure that the holding times can be met. Short Holding Times of 48 hours or less (for which 6 hours must be delivered that same day in order to guarantee holding times are met. After hours, late delivery, freight company delays or similar issues are subject to additional rush fees and/or the inability to meet holding times. All holding times are in effect as of the publication date of this fee schedule and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are retained for at least thirty (30) days after analysis has been completed. Sample storage for longer periods is by request only. Pre-arranged long term storage is subject to an additional charge. Samples will be discarded at the end of the pre-arranged storage time.

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

All pick up/sampling fees have been noted on the fee schedule. Reasonable time has been allocated for each pick up or service. Unnecessary delays during the pick up or sampling, might be assessed an additional fee.

Rev 2 Effective 5/1/17

Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

1. Definitions

"Terms and Conditions" means these Terms and Conditions of sale, including the price schedule, and any additions or amendments hereto which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity who may request laboratory services, consulting or sampling services and his or its heirs, successors, assigns and representatives. "Price Schedule" means Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule as such document may be amended or reissued from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services (as defined herein) only under the following General Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which does not incorporate the Terms. No modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the client and PCL.

The client may order services by submitting a written chain of custody (COC) to PCL. Any such order constitutes 1. an acceptance by the client of PCL's offer to do business with the client under the terms and conditions and 2. an agreement to be bound by these terms and conditions. The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or initiation of consulting services constitutes the client's express assent to be governed by these terms and conditions. No contrary or additional terms and conditions expressed in a client's document shall be deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of the terms and conditions.

For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of workmanship in the profession. Where applicable, PCL will use analytical methodologies which are in substantial conformity with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), LA Waterboard (LELAP), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM), Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC), Standard Methods (SM) of the Examination of Water and Wastewater and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate due to the nature or compositions of the samples or otherwise based on the reasonable judgement of PCL. Deviations, if any, will be made on a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and/or our QA/QC policies. The total liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or successors to the client, arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided herein, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for said services. Client's acceptance of a work order and /or proposal releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in any client purchase orders or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel performs the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the condition which the samples are collected and for conditions in and about the sampling site and for advising PCL of the same and all information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder subject to payment for all services rendered and out-of-pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample materials provided to client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public, or is the public domain or client has had to pay PCL for all services rendered or is otherwise in breach of this agreement) subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of such data where such standard was observed. PCL reports and information provided thereunder for the exclusive use and benefit of client and cannot be relied upon by third party beneficiaries or such reports, data or information. Client will not disclose to any third party any information concerning technical information, software or quality or other information.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent harmless from and against any and all liabilities, losses or damages, claims, demands, causes of action, costs and expenses (and expenses including, but not limited to, court fees, the Litigation Expenses) and events arising in favor of Client or any third party as a result of, and/or in any way occurring incident to, arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or transportation, handling or disposal of client's hazardous materials 1. illness, disease or death of persons 2. loss of, damage to, loss of, or loss of use of property and or 3. financial loss of every kind or nature. This indemnity does not apply to any of the foregoing losses, costs, damages or claims caused solely by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall specifically apply to losses, client damages, actions of every kind and claims by, arising out of or in connection with the negligence or on breach of contract by any indemnified Person, whether actual or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any liability which the client might otherwise have to PCL and the other indemnified Persons. To the extent applicable under applicable law, client agrees that its indemnity obligation will be supported by available liability insurance coverage to be furnished by client, which insurance shall be in the maximum amounts permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable to client for indirect, punitive, special, incidental or consequential damages (including, without limitation, loss of profit or business interruption Litigation Expenses or other fees including, without limitation, attorney's fees, court costs, and /or pre or post judgment interest), or any other expenses or costs incurred by client or any other party in any litigation against or involving PCL or any indemnified person in connection with this agreement or any services provided under this agreement even if client is the prevailing party.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by client, client will provide and PCL will receive samples in client's for mixtures such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls, batteria or any other hazardous or toxic material, wastes and substances which are defined, determined or identified as such under federal, state or local laws, rules, PCL policies or regulations (whether now existing or hereafter enacted or promulgated or any judicial or administrative interpretation of any thereof (the "Hazardous Materials"). Client understands and agrees that any hazardous material received by PCL from client or at client's request shall remain the property of Client and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of all unused portions of samples as specified by client or by PCL's QA/QC policies. In the event the client does not specify its preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain Hazardous Materials. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for any/all bacterial analysis, client will be charged a sample disposal fee, per sample submitted, in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect at the time of operations on the date the services rendered or with prices quoted and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment in advance or with credit card is required for all new clients or unless terms of payment and/or credit account have been established with PCL. For those clients with an established credit account, the terms for payment of charges are NET CASH within thirty (30) days from date of invoice. To the fullest extent permitted by or all by applicable law, any amount which is not paid within thirty (30) days is subject to interest at the lesser of the maximum rate permitted by law or one and one half percent (1 1/2) per month on the unpaid balance. If unpaid amounts are collected through legal proceedings or by an attorney, the client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees or agency fees associated with such collection procedure or efforts.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to the Terms shall be effective only if in writing and executed by an officer of PCL and by one or authorized representative. Unless that subsequent orders for additional services may be verbal or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries; No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information or reports furnished by PCL. Client is solely responsible for its own decisions, and not as agent or broker, or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity. It is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party may rely on such data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants and agrees that said data, information and reports are not requested, or shall be used to relied upon, in connection with or as part of the purchase, sale, underwriting, or distribution of any securities, any periodic or other reporting to the holders of any securities, the issuing, amendment, renewal, or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender or the certification to or contracting with, directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advanced. If for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are delivered on weekends or after 3pm on weekdays without prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed in order for any samples being received by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to the client if requested. All analyses with holding times of 72 hours or less, samples must arrive within 48 hours to allow PCL to meet holding times without applying a rush surcharge. All short holding times 7 days, samples must arrive at the laboratory 24 hours before expiration to ensure that the holding times can be met. Short Holding Times of 24 hours or less (benzene & 8 hours) must be delivered that same day in order to guarantee holding times are met. After hours, late delivery, freight company delays or similar issues are subject to additional rush fees and/or the inability to meet holding times. All holding times are in effect as of the publication date of this fee schedule and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are retained for at least thirty (30) days after analysis has been completed. Sample storage for longer periods is by request only. Pre-arranged long term storage is subject to an additional charge. Samples will be discarded at the end of the pre-arranged storage time.

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

All pick up/sampling fees have been notated on the fee schedule. Reasonable time has been allocated for each pick up or service. Unnecessary delays during the pick up or sampling, might be assessed an additional fee.

Rev 2 Effective 5/1/17

Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

1. Definitions

"Terms and Conditions" means these Terms and Conditions of sale, including the price schedule, and any additions or amendments hereto which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity who may request laboratory services, consulting or sampling services and his or its heirs, successors, assigns and representatives. "Price Schedule" means Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule as such document may be amended or reissued from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services (as defined herein) only under the following General Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which does not incorporate the Terms. No modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the client and PCL.

The client may order services by submitting a written chain of custody (COC) to PCL. Any such order constitutes 1. an acceptance by the client of PCL's offer to do business with the client under the terms and condition and 2. an agreement to be bound by these terms and conditions. The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or initiation of consulting services constitutes the client's express assent to be governed by these terms and conditions. No contrary or additional terms and conditions expressed in a client's document shall be deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of the terms and conditions.

For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of workmanship in the profession. Where applicable, PCL will use analytical methodologies which are in substantial conformity with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), CA Waterboard (ELAP), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM), Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC), Standard Methods (SM) of the Examination of Water and Wastewater and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate due to the nature of compositions of the samples or otherwise based on the reasonable judgement of PCL. Deviations, if any, will be made on a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and/or our QA/QC policies. The total liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or successors to the client, arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided hereon, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for said services. Client's acceptance of a work order and /or proposal releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in any client purchase orders or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel performs the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the condition which the samples are collected and for conditions in and about the sampling site and for advising PCL of the same and all information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder subject to payment for all services rendered and out-of-pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally, except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample materials provided by client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public or is the public domain or client has failed to pay PCL for all services rendered or is otherwise in breach of the agreement) subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of said data where such standard was observed. PCL reports and information provided thereon are for the exclusive use and benefit of client and client agrees there shall be no third party beneficiary of such reports, data or information. Client shall not disclose to any third party any information concerning technical information, software programs or other formations.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, related sites and parent harmless from and against any and all liabilities, losses or damages, claims, demands, causes of action, suits and associated expenses including, but not limited to all court fees (the Litigation Expenses) and awards arising in favor of Client or any third party as a result of, and/or in any way occurring incident to, arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or transportation, handling or disposal of client's hazardous materials, 3. injury, disease or death of persons 4. loss of, damage to, loss of use of, or loss of use of property and/or 5. financial loss of every kind of character. The indemnity obligation applies to any of the foregoing losses, costs, damages, or injuries caused solely by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall specifically apply to binary claims damages, actions of every kind and character arising out of or in connection with the negligence of or breach of contract by any indemnified Person, whether actual or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any liability which the client might otherwise venture to PCL and the other indemnified Persons. To the extent necessary under applicable law, client agrees that its indemnity obligation will be supported by available liability insurance coverage to be furnished by client, which insurance shall be in the maximum amounts permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable to client for indirect, punitive, special, incidental or consequential damages (including, without limitation, loss of profit or business interruption) Litigation Expenses or other fees (including, without limitation, attorney's fees, court costs, and/or pre-or post judgment interest), or any other expenses or costs incurred by client or any other party in any lawsuit against or involving PCL or any indemnified person in connection with this agreement or any services provided under this agreement even if client is the prevailing party.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by client, client will provide and PCL will receive samples materials for analyses such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls, bacteria or any other hazardous or toxic material, wastes and substances which are defined, determined or classified as such under federal, state or local laws, rules, PCL policies or regulations (whether now existing or hereafter enacted or promulgated or any judicial or administrative interpretation of any thereof) (a "Hazardous Materials"). Client understands and agrees that any hazardous material received by PCL from client or at client's request shall remain the property of Client and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of all unused portions of samples as specified by client or by PCL's EH/QC policies. In the event the client does not specify its preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain Hazardous Materials. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for any/all Hazardous analysis, client will be charged a sample disposal fee, per sample submitted, in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect at the time of operation on the date the services were rendered or with prices quoted and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment in advance or when analysis is completed is required for all new clients or until a history of payment and/or credit account has been established with PCL. For those clients with an established credit account, the terms for payment of charges are NET CASH within thirty (30) days from date of invoices. To the fullest extent permitted by law or any applicable law, any amount unpaid at the end of thirty (30) days is subject to interest at the lesser of the maximum rate permitted by law or one and one-half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balances. If unpaid amounts are collected through legal proceedings or by an attorney, the client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees or agents' fees associated with such collection procedure or efforts.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendment to the terms shall be effective only if in writing and executed by an officer of PCL and by clients authorized representative, except that subsequent orders for additional services may be verbal or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries: No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information, or reports furnished by PCL. Client is receiving services hereunder for its own account, and not as agent or broker, or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity. It is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and in no event may any third party rely on such data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that said data, information and reports are not requested, or shall be used, to relied upon, in connection with or as part of, the purchase, sale, underwriting, or distribution of any securities, any permits or other reporting to the holders of any securities, the securing, amendment, renewal or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender or the certification to or conducting with, directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advanced. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are delivered on weekends or after 3pm on weekdays without prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed prior to any samples being received by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to the client if requested. All analyses with holding times of 14 days or less, samples must arrive within 36 hours to allow PCL to meet holding times without applying a rush surcharge. All short holding times, 7 days, samples must arrive at the lab within 24 hours before expiration to ensure that the holding times can be met. Short Holding Times of 48 hours or less (bacteria & Tannin) must be delivered that same day in order to guarantee holding times are met. After hours, late delivery, freight company delays or similar issues are subject to additional rush fees and/or the inability to meet holding times. All holding times are in effect as of the publication date of this fee schedule and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are retained for at least thirty (30) days after analysis has been completed. Storage for longer periods is by request only. Pre-arranged long term storage is subject to additional charges. Samples will be discarded at the end of the pre-arranged storage time.

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

All pick up/sampling fees have been notated on the fee schedule. Reasonable time has been allocated for each pick up or service. Unnecessary delays during the pick up or sampling might be accessed an additional fee.

Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

1. Definitions

"Terms and Conditions" means these Terms and Conditions of sale, including the price schedule, and any additions or amendments hereto which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity who may request laboratory services, consulting or sampling services and his or its heirs, successors, assigns and representatives. "Price Schedule" means Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule as such document may be amended or replaced from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services (as defined herein) only under the following Standard Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which does not incorporate the Terms. No modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the client and PCL.

The client may order services by submitting a written chain of custody (COC) to PCL. Any such order constitutes 1. an acceptance by the client of PCL's offer to do business with the client under the terms and conditions and 2. an agreement to be bound by these terms and conditions.

The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or initiation of consulting services constitutes the client's express assent to be governed by these terms and conditions. No contrary or additional terms and conditions expressed in a client's document shall be deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of the terms and conditions.

For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of workmanship in the profession. Where applicable, PCL will use analytical methodologies which are in substantial conformity with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), CA Waterboard (SLAP), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM), Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC), Standard Methods (SM) of the Examination of Water and Wastewater and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate due to the nature or composition of the samples or otherwise based on the reasonable judgement of PCL. Deviations, if any, will be made on a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and/or our QA/QC policies. The total liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or successors to the client, arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided herein, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for said services. Client's acceptance of a work order and /or proposal releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in any client purchase orders or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel performs the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the condition which the samples are collected and for conditions in and about the sampling site and for advising PCL of the same and all information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder subject to payment for all services rendered and out-of-pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally, except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample materials provided to client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence. Unless such information is generally available to the public or is the public domain or client has filed to pay PCL for all services rendered or is otherwise in breach of the agreement subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for any inadvertent disclosure of such data which occurs despite such standard of care. Any reports, data or information provided to client are for the exclusive use and benefit of client and no one else. There shall be no third party beneficiary of such reports, data or information. Client will not disclose to any third party any information concerning technical information, software or programs or other formulations.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, owners, affiliated subsidiaries and parent companies, its and assignees and all respective agents harmless against, and reimburse, costs of action, suits and reasonable expenses, including but not limited to all sums (less the Litigation Payment) and awards arising in favor of Client or any third party as a result of, and/or in any way occurring incident to, arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or sample testing, handling or disposal of client's hazardous materials. I. injury, disease or death of persons 2. Loss of damage to, loss of, or loss of use of property, and/or 3. Financial loss of every kind of character. This indemnity does not apply to any of the foregoing losses, costs, damages or injuries directly to the extent negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall specifically apply to losses, claims, damages, actions of every kind and character arising out of or in connection with the negligence alleged breach of contract by any indemnified Person, and/or active or alleged role in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any liability which the client might otherwise have to PCL and the other indemnified Persons. To the extent necessary under applicable law, client agrees that its indemnity obligation will be supported by annual liability insurance coverage to be submitted by client, which insurance shall be in the maximum amounts permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable to client for indirect, punitive, special, incidental or consequential damages including, without limitation, loss of profit or business interruption, litigation Expenses or other fees including, without limitation, attorney's fees, court costs, and /or pre or post judgment interest, or any other expenses or costs incurred by client or any other party in any litigation against or involving PCL or any indemnified person in connection with this agreement or all services provided under this agreement even if client is the prevailing party.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by client, client will provide and PCL will receive samples materials for analyses such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls (PCBs) or any other hazardous or toxic material, wastes and substances which are defined, determined or identified as such under federal, state or local laws, rules, PCL policies or regulations (whether now existing or hereafter enacted or promulgated or any judicial or administrative interpretation of any thereof (the "Hazardous Materials"). Client understands and agrees that any hazardous material received by PCL from client or at client's request shall remain the property of Client and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of all unused portions of samples as specified by client or by PCL's QA/QC policies. In the event the client does not specify its preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain Hazardous Materials. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for any/all bacterial analysis, client will be charged a sample disposal fee, per sample submitted, in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Charges shall be PCL in accordance with PCL's current price schedule in effect for the area of operations on the date the services were rendered or with prices quoted and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment in advance or when analysis is completed is required for all new clients or until a history of payments and credit worthiness has been established with PCL. For those clients to whom established credit accounts, the terms of payment of charges are NET 30 days from date of invoice. To the fullest extent permitted by all applicable laws, account unpaid at the end of thirty (30) days from invoice date shall bear interest at the lesser of the maximum rate permitted by law or one and one half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balance. If unpaid amounts are collected through legal proceedings or by an attorney, the client shall pay collection costs and attorney's fees in addition to the amount due, including court costs and attorney's fees associated with collection and appeal efforts.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to the Terms shall be effective only if made in writing and executed by an officer or other authorized representative, except that subsequent orders for additional services may be verbal or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries; No Right of Reliance

PCL assumes no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information or reports furnished by PCL. Client is securing services hereunder for his/her personal use and not as agent, broker, or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity. It is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement and client is not relying on such data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that said data, information and reports are not intended, or shall be used to relied upon, in connection with or as part of the purchase, sale, underwriting, or distribution of any securities, any periodic or other reporting to the holders of any securities, the securing, amendment, renewal, or extension of any bank loan, any financial institution or other lender of the certification to or contracting with, directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advance. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are delivered on weekends or after 5pm on weekdays without prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed prior to any samples being received by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to the client if requested. All analyses with holding times of 14 days or less, samples must arrive within 96 hours to allow PCL to meet holding times without applying a rush surcharge. All short holding times (< 7 days), samples must arrive at the lab within 24 hours, before expiration to allow that the holding times can be met. Short Holding Times of 48 hours or less (excepting 6 hours) must be delivered that same day in order to guarantee holding times are met. After hours, late delivery, freight company delays or similar issues are subject to additional rush fees and/or the inability to meet holding times. All holding times are in effect as of the publication date of this fee schedule and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are retained for at least thirty (30) days after analysis has been completed. Sample storage for longer periods is by request only. Pre-arranged long term storage is subject to an additional charge. Samples will be discarded at the end of the pre-arranged storage time.

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

All pick up/sampling fees have been noticed on the fee schedule. Reasonable time has been allocated for each pick up or service. Unnecessary delays during the pick up or sampling might be assessed an additional fee.

Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

1. Definitions

"Terms and Conditions" means these Terms and Conditions of sale, including the price schedule, and any additions or amendments hereto which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity who may request laboratory services, consulting or sampling services and his or its heirs, successors, assigns and representatives. "Price Schedule" means Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule as such document may be amended or reissued from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services (as defined herein) only under the following General Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which does not incorporate the Terms. No modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the client and PCL.

The client may order services by submitting a written chain of custody (COC) to PCL. Any such order constitutes 1. an acceptance by the client of PCL's offer to do business with the client under the terms and conditions and 2. an agreement to be bound by these terms and conditions. The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or initiation of consulting services constitutes the client's express assent to be governed by these terms and conditions. No contrary or additional terms and conditions expressed in a client's document shall be deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of the terms and conditions.

For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of workmanship in the profession. Where applicable, PCL will use analytical methodologies which are in substantial conformity with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), CA Waterboard (ELAP), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM), Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC), Standard Methods (SM) of the Examination of Water and Wastewater and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate due to the nature or compositions of the samples or otherwise based on the reasonable judgement of PCL. Deviations, if any, will be made on a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and/or our QA/QC policies. The total liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or successors to the client, arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided herein, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for said services. Client's acceptance of a work order and /or proposal releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in any client purchase orders or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel performs the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the condition which the samples are collected and for conditions in and about the sampling site and for advising PCL of the same and all information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder subject to payment for all services rendered and out-of-pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally, except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample materials provided by client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public or in the public domain) or client has filed to pay PCL for all services rendered or is otherwise in breach of the agreement subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of said data when such standard was observed. PCL reports and information provided thereto are for the exclusive use and benefit of client and client agrees Shall not be a third party beneficiary of such reports, data or information. Client will not disclose to any third party any information concerning in-house information, software, procedures or other methodology.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent harmless from and against any and all liabilities, losses or damages, claims, demands, causes of action, suits and costs (and expenses, including, but not limited to, attorneys fees (the Litigation Expenses) and awards arising in favor of Client or any third party, as a result of, and/or in any way occurring incident to, arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or transportation, handling or disposal of client's hazardous materials. 2. Injury, illness or death of persons 3. Loss of, damage to, loss of, or loss of use of property and/or 4. Financial loss of every kind, if charged. This indemnity does not apply to any of the foregoing losses, costs, damages or expenses caused solely by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall specifically apply to losses, claims damages, actions of every kind and nature arising out of or in connection with the negligence or breach of contract by any intermediate Person, whether actual or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any liability which the client might otherwise have to PCL and the other indemnified Persons. To the extent necessary or as per applicable law, client agrees that its or its/their obligation will be supported by available liquids insurance coverage to be furnished by client, which insurance shall be in the maximum amounts permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable to client for indirect, punitive special, incidental or consequential damages including, without limitation, loss of profit or business interruption. Litigation Expenses or other fees including, without limitation, attorney's fees, court costs, and /or pre or post-judgment interest, or any other expenses or costs incurred by client or any other party to any litigation against or involving PCL or any indemnified person in connection with this agreement or all services provided under this agreement in the prevailing party.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by client, client will provide and PCL will receive samples materials for analyses such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls, bacteria or any other hazardous or toxic material, wastes and substances which are defined, determined or identified as such under federal, state or local laws, rules, PCL policies or regulations (whether now existing or hereafter enacted or promulgated or any judicial or administrative interpretation of any thereof the "Hazardous Materials") Client understands and agrees that any hazardous material received by PCL from client or at client's request shall remain the property of Client and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of all unused portions of samples as specified by client or by PCL's QA/QC policies. In the event the client does not specify its preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain Hazardous Materials. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for any/all bacterial analysis, client will be charged a sample disposal fee per sample submitted, in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect at the time of acceptance of the order, the services were rendered or when a client visited and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment in advance or when analyses completed is required for all new clients or until a history of payment and/or credit approval has been established with PCL. For those clients with an established credit account, the terms for payment of charges are NET (ACH within thirty (30) days from account closing. To the fullest extent permitted by law or as to accounts over any amount subject to this and of thirty (30) days is subject to interest at the lesser of the maximum rate permitted by law or one and one half percent (1.5%) per month, on the unpaid balances. If client's accounts are collected through legal proceedings or by an attorney, the client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees or eighty (80) percent of such collection proceeds or efforts.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to this agreement are effective only if in writing and executed by all officers of the and by client with proper representation, except that subsequent orders for additional services may be verbal or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries; No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information, or reports furnished by PCL. Client, including entities known to PCL as an acceptor, and not as agent or broker, or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity, it is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party may rely on such data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that said data, information and reports are not intended, or shall be used to relied upon, in connection with or as part of, the purchase, sale, underwriting, or registration of any securities, any periodic or other reporting to the owners of any security, the securing, amendment, renewal, or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender or the certification to or contracting with, directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advance. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are delivered on weekends or after 2pm on weekdays without prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed prior to any samples being received by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to the client if requested. All analyses with holding times of 14 days or less samples must arrive within 48 hours to allow PCL to meet holding times without applying a rush surcharge. All short holding times 2-7 days, samples must arrive at the lab within 24 hours before expiration to ensure that the holding times can be met. Short Holding Times of 48 hours or less (2 days or 48 hours) must be delivered that same day in order to guarantee holding times are met. After hours, late delivery, freight company delays or similar issues are subject to additional rush fees and/or the inability to meet holding times. Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

1. Definitions

"Terms and Conditions" means these terms and Conditions of sale, including the price schedule, and any additions or amendments hereto which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity who may request laboratory services, consulting or sampling services and his or its heirs, successors, assigns and representatives. "Price Schedule" means Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule as such document may be amended or revised from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services (as defined herein) only under the following General Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which does not incorporate the Terms. No modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the client and PCL.

The Client may order services by submitting a written chain of custody (COC) to PCL. Any such order constitutes 1. an acceptance by the client of PCL's offer to do business with the client under the Terms and condition and 2. an agreement to be bound by these terms and conditions.

The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or initiation of consulting services constitutes the client's express assent to be governed by these terms and conditions. No contrary or additional terms and conditions expressed in a client's document shall be deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of the terms and conditions.

For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of workmanship in the profession. Where applicable, PCL will use analytical methodologies which are in substantial conformity with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), 40 Waterboard (ELAP), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM) Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC), Standard Methods (SM) of the Examination of Water and Wastewater and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate due to the nature of constituents of the samples or otherwise based on the reasonable judgement of PCL. Deviations, if any, will be made on a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and/or our QA/QC policies. The total liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or successors to the client, arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided herein, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for said services. Client's acceptance of a work order and/or proposal releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in any client purchase orders or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel performs the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the condition which the samples are collected and for conditions in and about the sampling site and for advising PCL of the same and all information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder subject to payment for all services rendered and out-of-pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally, except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample materials provided by client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public or the public domain (client has filed to pay PCL for all services rendered or is otherwise in breach of the agreement) subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of said data unless such standard was observed. PCL reports and information provided thereto are for the exclusive use and benefit of client and client agrees there shall be no third party beneficiary of such reports, data or information. Client will not disclose to any third party any information concerning technical information, software programs or other formulations.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent harmless from and against any and all liabilities, losses or damages, claims, demands, causes of action, suits and associated expenses including, but not limited to all court fees (the Litigation Expenses) and awards arising in favor of Client or any third party as a result of and/or in any way occurring, incident to, arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or transportation, handling or disposal of client's hazardous materials. 1. Injury, disease or death of persons 2. Loss of, damage to, loss of, or loss of use of property and or 3. Financial loss of every kind or character. This indemnity does not apply to any of the foregoing losses, costs, damages or injuries caused solely by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall specifically apply to losses, claims damages, actions of every kind and character arising out of in connection with the negligence of or breach of contract by any Indemnified Person, whether actual or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any liability which the client might otherwise have to PCL and the other Indemnified Persons. To the extent necessary under applicable law, Client agrees that its indemnity obligations will be supported by available liability insurance coverage to be furnished by client, which insurance shall be in the maximum amounts permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable to client for indirect, punitive, special, incidental or consequential damages (including, without limitation, loss of profits or business interruption). Litigation Expenses, other fees (including, without limitation, attorney's fees, court costs, and cost of post judgment interest), or any other expenses or costs incurred by client or any other party in any litigation against or involving PCL or any indemnified person in connection with this agreement or all services provided under this agreement even if client is the prevailing party.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by client, client will provide and PCL will receive samples, materials for analyses such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls, Radon or any other Hazardous or toxic material, wastes and substances which are defined, determined or identified as such under federal, state or local laws, rules, PCL policies or regulations (whether now existing or hereafter enacted or promulgated) or any judicial or administrative interpretation of any thereof (the "Hazardous Materials"). Client understands and agrees that any hazardous material received by PCL from client or at client's request shall remain the property of client and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of all unused portions of samples as directed by client or as PCL's QA/QC policies. In the event the client does not specify its preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain Hazardous Materials. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all services received by PCL for any lab bacterial analysis, client will be charged a sample disposal fee, per sample submitted, in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect in the area of operations on the date the services were rendered or with prices quoted and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time with notice. Payment in advance or when analysis is completed is required for all new clients or until a history of payment and/or credit account has been established with PCL. For those clients with an established credit account, the terms for payment of charges are NET CASH within thirty (30) days from date of invoices. To the fullest extent permitted (if at all) by applicable law, any amount unpaid at the end of thirty (30) days is subject to interest at the lesser of the maximum rate permitted by law or one and one-half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balances. If unpaid amounts are collected through legal proceedings or by an attorney, the client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees or agents' fees associated with such collection procedures or efforts.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to the terms shall be effective only in writing and executed by an officer of PCL and by client's authorized representative, except that subsequent orders for additional services may be verbal or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries: No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information, or reports furnished by PCL. Client is receiving services hereunder for its own account, and not as agent or broker, or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity. It is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party may rely on such data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that said data, information and reports are not requested, or shall be used to relied upon, in connection with or as part of, the purchase, sale, underwriting, or distribution of any securities, any periodic or other reporting to the holders of any securities, the securing, amendment, renewal, or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender or the certification to or contracting with, directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advance. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are delivered on weekends or after 7pm on weekdays without prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed prior to any samples being received by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to the client if requested. All analyses with holding times of 72 hours or less, samples must arrive within 36 hours to allow PCL to meet holding times without assessing a rush surcharge. All short holding times (< 7 days, samples must arrive at the lab within 24 hours before expiration to ensure that the holding times can be met. Short Holding Times of 48 hours or less (Bacteria 6-8 hours) must be delivered that same day in order to guarantee holding times are met. After hours, late delivery, freight company delays or similar issues are subject to additional rush fees and/or the inability to meet holding times. All holding times are in effect as of the publication date of this fee schedule and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are retained for at least thirty (30) days after analysis has been completed. Sample storage for longer periods by request only. PCL can accept long term storage is subject to an additional charge. Samples will be disposed of at the end of the pre-arranged storage time.

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

All pick up/sampling fees have been included on the fee schedule. Reasonable time has been allocated for each pick up or service. Unnecessary delays during the pick up or sampling might be assessed an additional fee.

Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

1. Definitions

"Terms and Conditions" means these Terms and Conditions of sale, including the price schedule, and any additions or amendments hereto which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity who may request laboratory services, consulting or sampling services and his or its heirs, successors, assigns and representatives. "Price Schedule" means Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule as such document may be amended or reissued from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services (as defined herein) only under the following General Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which does not incorporate the Terms. No modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the client and PCL.

The client may order services by submitting a written chain of custody (COC) to PCL. Any such order constitutes 1. an acceptance by the client of PCL's offer to do business with the client under the terms and condition and 2. an agreement to be bound by these terms and conditions. The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or initiation of consulting services constitutes the client's express assent to be governed by these terms and conditions. No contrary or additional terms and conditions expressed in a client's document shall be deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of the terms and conditions.

For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of workmanship in the profession. Where applicable, PCL will use analytical methodologies which are in substantial conformity with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), CA Waterboards (ELAP), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM), Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC), Standard Methods (SM) of the Examination of Water and Wastewater and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate due to the nature of compositions of the samples or otherwise based on the reasonable judgement of PCL. Deviations, if any, will be made in a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and/or our QA/QC policies. The total liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or successors to the client, arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided herein, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for said services. Client's acceptance of a work order and /or proposal releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in any client purchase orders or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel performs the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the condition which the samples are collected and for conditions in and about the sampling site and for advising PCL of the same and all information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder subject to payment for all services rendered and out-of-pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally, except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample material(s) provided by client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public or is the public domain or client has failed to pay PCL for all services rendered or is otherwise in breach of the agreement) subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of said data where such standard was observed. PCL reports and information provided thereto are for the exclusive use and benefit of client and client agrees there shall be no third party beneficiary of such reports, data or information. Client will not disclose to any third party any information concerning techical information, software programs or other formulations.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent harmless from and against any and all liabilities, losses or damages, claims, demands, causes of action, suits and associated expenses including, but not limited to all court fees (the Litigation Expenses) and awards arising in favor of Client or any third party as a result of, and/or in any way occurring, incident to arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or transportation, handling, disposal of client's hazardous materials, 1. injury, disease or death of persons 2. loss of, damage to, loss of, or loss of use of property and or 3. Environmental of every kind of character. This indemnity does not apply to any of the foregoing losses, costs, damages, or injuries caused solely by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall specifically apply to losses, claims damages, actions of every kind and character arising out of or in connection with the negligence of or breach of contract by any indemnified Person, whether actual or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any remedy which the client might otherwise have in PCL and the other indemnified Persons. To the extent necessary under applicable law, client agrees that its indemnity obligation will be supported by available liability insurance coverage to be furnished by client, which insurance shall be in the maximum amounts permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable to client for indirect, punitive, special, incidental or consequential damages including, without limitation, loss of profit or business interruption, Litigation Expenses or other fees (including, without limitation, attorney's fees, court costs, and /or pre or post judgment interest), or any other expenses or costs incurred by users or any other party in any suit/case against or involving PCL or any indemnified person in connection with this agreement or as otherwise provided under this agreement even if client is the prevailing party.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by client, client will provide and PCL will receive samples /materials for analysis such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls, lead or any other hazardous or toxic material which are and/or which are defined, determined or considered as such under federal, state or local laws, rules, PCL policies or regulations (whether now existing or hereafter enacted or promulgated or any judicial or administrative interpretation of any thereof (the "Hazardous Materials"). Client understands and agrees that any hazardous material received by PCL from client or at client's request shall remain the property of client and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of all unused portions of samples as specified by client or to PCL's QA/QC policies. In the event the client does not specify its preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain hazardous substance. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for any/all Bacterial analysis, client will be charged a sample disposal fee, per sample submitted, in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect at the time of quotation on the date the services were rendered or with prices quoted and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment in advance or when analysis is completed is required for all new clients or until a history of payment and/or credit account has been established with PCL. For those clients with an established credit account, the terms for payment of charges are NET CASH within thirty (30) days from date of invoices. To the fullest extent permitted (if at all) by applicable law, any amount unpaid at the end of thirty (30) days is subject to interest at the lesser of the maximum rate permitted by law or one and one half percent (1.50%) per month on the unpaid balances. If unpaid amounts are collected through legal proceedings or by an attorney, the client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees or agents' fees associated with such collection procedure or efforts.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to the terms shall be effective only in writing and executed by an officer of PCL and by clients authorized representative, except that subsequent orders for additional services may be verbal or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries: No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information, or reports furnished by PCL. Client is retaining services hereunder for his own benefit, and not as agent or broker, or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity. It is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party may rely on such data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that said data, information and reports are not requested, or shall be used or relied upon, in connection with or as part of, the purchase, sale, underwriting, or distribution of any securities, any periodic or other reporting to the holders of any securities, the solicitation, amendment, renewal, or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender or the certification to or contracting with, directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advanced. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are delivered on weekends or after 5pm on weekdays without prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed prior to any samples being received by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to the client if requested. All analyses with holding times of 48 hours or less, samples must arrive within 36 hours to allow PCL to meet holding times without assessing a rush surcharge. All short holding times (< 7 days), samples must arrive at the lab within 24 hours unless prior arrangements have been made to ensure that the holding times can be met. Holding times of 48 hours or less (bacteria) will require prior arrangements that same day or next to guarantee holding times are met. After hours, late deliveries, weekend delivery, delays or similar issues are subject to additional rush fees and/or the inability to meet holding times. All holding times are in effect as of the publication date of this fee schedule and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are retained for at least ninety (30) days after analysis has been completed. Sample storage for longer periods is required only if a written long term storage is subject to an additional charge. Samples will be disposed at the end of the pre-arranged storage time.

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

All pick up/sampling fees do not exist outside of the San Leandro. Reasonable time has been allocated for each pick up of samples. Unnecessary delays during the pick up or sampling might incur and extend an additional fee.

Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

1. Definitions

"Terms and Conditions" means these terms and conditions of sale, including the price schedule, and any additions or amendments hereto which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity who may request laboratory services, consulting or licensing services and his or its heirs, successors, assigns and representatives. "Price Schedule" means Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule as such document may be amended or restated from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services (as defined herein) only under the following General Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which does not incorporate the Terms. No modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the Client and PCL.

The Client may order services by submitting a written chain of custody (COC) to PCL. Any such order constitutes 1. an acceptance by the Client of PCL's offer to do business with the Client under the terms and condition and 2. an agreement to be bound by these terms and conditions. The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or initiation of consulting services constitutes the client's express assent to be governed by these terms and conditions. No contrary or additional terms and conditions expressed in a client's document shall be deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of the terms and conditions.

For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of workmanship in the profession. Where applicable, PCL will use analytical methodologies which are in substantial conformity with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), CA Waterboard (CLAP), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM), Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC), Standard Methods (SM) or the Examination of Water and Wastewater and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate due to the nature or composition of the samples or otherwise based on the reasonable judgement of PCL. Deviations, if any, will be made on a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and/or our QA/QC policies. The total liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or subcontractors to the client, arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided hereunder, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for said services. Client's acceptance of a work order and/or proposal releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in any client purchase orders or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel performs the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the conditions which the samples are collected and for providing to and about the sampling site and for advising PCL of the same and all information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder subject to payment for all services rendered and out-of-pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of all client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally. Except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the samples materials provided by client or at client's request and the results generated by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public or is the public domain or client has cited to pay PCL for all services rendered or notherwise in breach of the agreement) subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of such data where such standard was observed. PCL reports and information provided thereto are for the exclusive use and benefit of client and client agrees there shall be no third party beneficiary of such reports, data or information. Clients will not disclose to any third party the information concerning technical information, soft ware programs or PCL limitations.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, successors and parent harmless from and against any and all liabilities, losses or damages, claims, demands, causes of action, suits and associated expenses resulting, but not limited to court costs, investigation Expenses and awards arising in favor of Client or any third party as a result of, and/or in any way occurring incident to arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or transportation, handling or disposal of client's materials hereunder. 1. Injury, disease or death of persons 2. Loss of, damage to, loss of, or use of any kind of property and or 3. Violation of law of every kind of character. This indemnity does not apply to any of the foregoing losses, suits, damages, or injuries caused solely by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall specifically apply to losses, claims, damages, actions of every kind and character arising out of or in connection with the negligence of or breach of contract by any Indemnified Person, whether actual or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities are given in addition to any liability which the client might otherwise have to PCL and the other Indemnified Persons. To the extent necessary under applicable law, client agrees that its indemnity obligation shall be supported by available insurance coverage or shall be secured by a bond, which insurance shall be in the minimum amounts permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable for special, incidental, punitive, indirect, consequential damages (including, without limitation, loss of profit or business interruption, litigation expenses or attorneys fees (including, both out of pocket expenses, attorney's fees, court costs, and the use of such in-house attorneys), or any other expenses or costs incurred by client or any other party or third party arising out of or related to this agreement or its services provided under this agreement even if client is the prevailing party.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services required by client, client and provide and PCL will receive samples (materials for analysis such as solvents, contaminated materials, waste, soils, etc.) any other materials or their materials, wastes and conditions which are defined, determined or classified pursuant to federal, state or other law, rules, PCL policies or regulatory positions now existing or hereafter enacted or promulgated as any particular environmentally deleterious or dangerous substance or "Hazardous Materials". Client and client shall agree that any hazardous materials received by PCL from client or its client's agent shall remain the property of client and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of or return (portions of samples as specified by client or by PCL's SOP/QC policies. In the event the client does not specify its preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain hazardous Materials. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal or unused samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for any lab facility, client will be charged a sample disposal fee per sample submitted in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect at the time of operations or the date the services were rendered or with prices accepted and confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment in advance or when analysis is completed is required for all new clients or until a history of payment and/or credit account has been established with PCL. For those clients with an established credit account, the terms for payment of charges are NET CASH (within thirty (30) days from date of invoice). To the fullest extent permitted by law or applicable law, any amount owed at the end of such (30) days is subject to interest at the lesser of the maximum rate permitted by law or one and one half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balance. If unpaid amounts are collected by court legal proceedings or by an attorney, the client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees or agents' fees associated with such collection procedure or efforts.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to the terms shall be effective only in writing and executed by an officer of PCL and by Client's authorized representative, except that subsequent orders for additional services may be verbal or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries: No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of reliance on data, information, or reports furnished by PCL. Client is retaining services hereunder for his own account, and not as agent or trustee, or on any other representative capacity for any other person or entity. It is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party may rely on such data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that said data, information, and reports are not requested, or shall be used to relied upon, in connection with or as part of, the purchase, sale, underwriting, or distribution of any securities, any periodic or other reporting to the holders of any securities, the existing, prospective, renewal or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender or the verification or contracting with, directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analysis are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advanced. If for any unforeseen reason the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are delivered on weekends or other days not accessible without prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be followed prior to any samples being received by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to the client if requested. All analyses with holding times of 14 days or less, samples must arrive within 72 hours to allow PCL to meet holding times without applying a rush surcharge. All short holding times, (7 days), samples must arrive at the lab within 24 hours prior to analysis to ensure that the holding time can be met. Short Holding Times of 48 hours or less (marked as rush) must be received and relinquished that same day in order to guarantee holding times are met. After hours, late delivery, freight company delays or similar issues are subject to additional rush fees and/or the inability to meet holding times. All holding times are in effect as of the publication date of this fee schedule and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are retained for thirty (30) days after analysis has been completed. Sample storage for longer periods is by request only. The arranged long term storage is subject to an additional charge. Samples will be discarded at the end of the pre-arranged storage time.

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

All pick up/sampling fees have been established on the fee schedule. Reasonable time has been allocated for each pick up or service. Unnecessary delays during the pick up or sampling might be assessed an additional fee.

Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

1. Definitions

"Terms and Conditions" means these Terms and Conditions of sale, including the price schedule, and any additions or amendments hereto which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity who may request laboratory services, consulting or sampling services and his or its heirs, successors, assigns and representatives. "Price Schedule" means Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule as such document may be amended or reissued from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services (as defined herein) only under the following General Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which does not incorporate the Terms. No modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the client and PCL.

The client may order services by submitting a written chain of custody (COC) to PCL. Any such order constitutes 1. an acceptance by the client of PCL's offer to do business with the client under the terms and condition and 2. an agreement to be bound by these terms and conditions.

The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or initiation of consulting services constitutes the client's express assent to be governed by these terms and conditions. No contrary or additional terms and conditions expressed in a client's document shall be deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of the terms and conditions.

For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of workmanship in the profession. Where applicable, PCL will use analytical methodologies which are in substantial conformity with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), CA Waterboard (ELAP), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM), Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC), Standard Methods (SM) of the Examination of Water and Wastewater and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate due to the nature or compositions of the samples or otherwise based on the reasonable judgement of PCL. Deviations, if any, will be made on a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and/or our QA/QC policies. The total liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or successors to the client, arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided herein, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for said services. Client's acceptance of a work order and/or proposal releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in any client purchase orders or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel performs the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the condition which the samples are collected and for conditions in and about the sampling site and for advising PCL of the same and all information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder subject to payment for all services rendered and out-of-pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally, except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample materials provided by client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public or in the public domain or client has failed to pay PCL for all services rendered or is otherwise in breach of the Agreement) subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of said data where such standard was observed. PCL reports and information provided thereto are for the exclusive use and benefit of client and client agrees there shall be no third party beneficiaries of such reports, data or information. Client will not disclose to any third party any information concerning technical information, software programs or other formulations.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent harmless from and against any and all liabilities, losses or damages, claims, demands, causes of action, suits and associated expenses including, but not limited to all court fees (the Litigation Expenses) and awards arising in favor of Client or any third party as a result of, and/or in any way occurring incident to arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or transportation, handling or disposal of client's hazardous materials: 1. injury, disease or death of persons 2. loss of, damage to, loss of, or loss of use of property and/or 3. Financial loss of every kind of character. This indemnity does not apply to any of the foregoing losses, suits, damages, or injuries caused solely by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall specifically apply to losses, claims, damages, actions of every kind and character arising out of or in connection with the negligence (if or breach of contract by any Indemnified Person, whether actual or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any liability which the client might otherwise have to PCL and the other Indemnified Persons. To the extent necessary under applicable law, client agrees that its indemnity obligation will be supported by available liability insurance coverage to be furnished by client, which insurance shall be in the maximum amounts permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable to client for indirect, punitive, special, incidental or consequential damages (including, without limitation, loss of profit or business interruption) Litigation Expenses or other fees (including, without limitation, attorney's fees, court costs, and pre or post-judgment interest), or any other expenses or costs incurred by client or any other party in any litigation against or involving PCL or any indemnified person in connection with this agreement or all services provided under this agreement even if client is the prevailing party.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by client, client will provide and PCL will receive samples materials for analyses such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls, bacteria or any other hazardous or toxic material, wastes and substances which are defined, determined or identified as such under federal, state or local laws, rules, PCL policies or regulations (whether now existing or hereafter enacted or promulgated) or any judicial or administrative interpretation of any thereof (the "Hazardous Materials"). Client understands and agrees that any hazardous material received by PCL from client or at client's request shall remain the property of Client and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of all unused portions of samples as specified by client or by PCL's QA/QC policies. In the event the client does not specify its preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain Hazardous Materials. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for any/all bacterial analysis, client will be charged a sample disposal fee, per sample submitted, in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect in the area of operations on the date the services were rendered or with prices quoted and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment in advance or when analysis is completed is required for all new clients or until a history of payment and/or credit account has been established with PCL. For those clients with an established credit account, the terms for payment of charges are NET CASH within thirty (30) days from date of invoices. To the fullest extent permitted (if at all) by applicable law, any amount unpaid at the end of thirty (30) days is subject to interest at the lesser of the maximum rate permitted by law or one and one-half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balances. If unpaid amounts are collected through legal proceedings or by an attorney, the client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees or agents' fees associated with such collection procedure or efforts.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to the terms shall be effective on in writing and executed by an officer of PCL and by clients authorized representative, except that subsequent orders for additional services may be verbal or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries: No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information, or reports furnished by PCL. Client is securing services hereunder for his own account, and not as agent or broker, or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity. It is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party may rely on such data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants and agrees that said data, information and reports are not requested, or shall be used to relied upon, in connection with or as part of, the purchase, sale, underwriting, or distribution of any securities, any periodic or other reporting to the holders of any security, the securing, amendment, renewal, or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender or the certification to or contracting with, directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advanced. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are delivered on weekends or after 3pm on weekdays without prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed prior to any samples being received by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to the client if requested. All analyses with holding times of 14 days or less, samples must arrive within 96 hours to allow PCL to meet holding times without applying a rush surcharge. All short holding times, 2-7 days, samples must arrive at the lab within 24 hours before expiration to insure that the holding times can be met. Short Holding Times of 48 hours or less (bacteria is 6 hours) must be delivered that same day in order to guarantee holding times are met. After hours, late delivery, freight company delays or similar issues are subject to additional rush fees and/or the inability to meet holding times. All holding times are in effect as of the publication date of this fee schedule and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are retained for at least thirty (30) days after analysis has been completed. Sample storage for longer periods is by request only. Pre-arranged long term storage is subject to an additional charge. Samples will be discarded at the end of the pre-arranged storage time.

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

All pick up/sampling fees have been notated on the fee schedule. Reasonable time has been allocated for each pick up or service. Unnecessary delays during the pick up or sampling, might be accessed an additional fee.

The total liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or successors to the client arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided herein, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for said services. Client's acceptance of a work order and/or disposal releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in any client purchase orders or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel performs the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the condition which the samples are collected and for conditions in and about the sampling site and for advising PCL of the same and all information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder subject to payment for all services rendered and out-of-pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally, except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample materials provided by client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public, or is the public domain or client has failed to pay PCL for all services rendered or is otherwise in breach of the agreement) subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care as it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of confidential information unless such disclosure was caused by PCL's gross negligence or willful misconduct. PCL reports and information provided thereto are for the exclusive use and benefit of client and client agrees there shall be no third party beneficiary of PCL's reports, data or information. Client will not disclose to any third party any information concerning technical information, software, processes or other formulations.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subcontractors and agents harmless from and against any and all liabilities, losses, damages, claims, demands, causes of action, suits and expenses whatsoever, including, but not limited to, attorneys' fees, litigation, arbitration and expert witness fees, arising in favor of Client or any third party as a result of, and/or in any way occurring, incident to, arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or transportation, handling or disposal of client's hazardous materials, (1) injury, sickness or death of persons, (2) loss of, damage to, loss of, or loss of use of property and/or (3) financial loss of every kind or character. This indemnity does not apply to any of the foregoing losses, costs, damages or liabilities caused solely by the sole negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall specifically apply to claims, damages, actions of every kind and character arising out of or in connection with the negligence (but not gross negligence) of the indemnified person, whether actual or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any liability which the client might otherwise have to PCL and the other indemnified Persons. To the extent necessary under applicable law, Client agrees that its indemnity obligation will be supported by available liability insurance coverage to be furnished by client, which insurance shall be in the maximum amounts permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable to client for indirect, punitive, special, incidental or consequential damages including, without limitation, loss of profit or business interruption (taxation) Expenses or other fees (including, without limitation, attorney's fees, court costs, and pre or post judgment interest), or any other expenses or costs incurred by client or any other party in any litigation against or involving PCL or any indemnified person in connection with this agreement or all services provided under this agreement even if client or the prevailing party

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by client, client will provide and PCL will receive samples materials for analyses such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls, bacteria or any other hazardous or toxic material, wastes and substances which are defined, determined or identified as such under federal, state or local laws, rules, PCL policies or regulations (whether now existing or hereafter enacted or promulgated or any judicial or administrative interpretation of any thereof (the "Hazardous Materials"). Client understands and agrees that any hazardous material received by PCL from clients at client's request shall remain the property of Client and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of all unused portions of samples as specified by client or by PCL's QA/QC policies. In the event the client does not specify its preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain Hazardous Materials. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for any lab functional analysis, client will be charged a sample disposal fee, per sample submitted, in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect at the time of operations or the date the services were rendered or with prices quoted and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment in advance of when services is requested is required but all new clients or with a history of payment and/or credit equivalent to unsatisfactory with PCL, PCL may require such as a condition precedent to work. Failure to make payment of charges are NET CASH within thirty (30) days from date of invoices. To the fullest extent permitted (if at all) by applicable law, any amount unpaid at the end of thirty (30) days is subject to interest at the lesser of the maximum rate permitted by law in effect and one half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balances. If unpaid amounts are collected through legal proceedings or by an attorney, the client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees or expenses that associated with such collection proceedings or efforts.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to the Terms must be effective only in writing and executed by an officer of PCL and by a duly authorized representative of client. Client's acknowledgment letters for additional services may be verbal or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries: No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information, or reports furnished by PCL. Client is acting solely on his own behalf and not as agent or broker, or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity. It is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party receives or uses data, information, or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that said data, information and reports are not relevant, or shall be used to refer upon, in connection with or as part of, the purchase, sale, underwriting, or distribution of any securities, any periodic or other reporting to the holders of any securities, the securing, amendment, renewal, or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender or the qualification to or contracting with, directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

1. Definitions

"Terms and Conditions" means these Terms and Conditions of sale, including the price schedule, and any additions or amendments hereto which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity who may request laboratory services, consulting or sampling services and his or its heirs, successors, assigns and representatives. "Price Schedule" means Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule as such document may be amended or restated from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services (as defined herein) only under the following General Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which does not incorporate the Terms. No modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the Client and PCL.

The client may order services by submitting a written chain of custody (COC) to PCL. Any such order constitutes 1. an acceptance by the client of PCL's offer to do business with the client under the terms and condition and 2. an agreement to be bound by these terms and conditions. The client's delivery of samples to PCL or its agents or consulting services constitutes the client's express assent to be governed by these terms and conditions. No contrary or additional terms and conditions expressed in a client's document shall be deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of the terms and conditions.

For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the Client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of workmanship in the profession. Where applicable, PCL will use analytical methodologies which are in substantial conformity with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), CA Water Board (ELAP), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM), Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC), Standard Methods (SM) of the Examination of Water and Wastewater and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate due to the nature of, compositions of the samples or otherwise based on the reasonable judgement of PCL. Deviations, if any, will be made on a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and/or our QA/QC policies. The total liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or successors to the client arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided herein, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for said services. Client's acceptance of a work order and /or proposal releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in any client purchase orders or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel performs the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the condition which the samples are collected and for conditions in and about the sampling site and for advising PCL of the same and all information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder subject to payment for all services rendered and out-of-pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally, except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample materials provided by client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public or in the public domain or client has failed to pay PCL for all services rendered or is otherwise in breach of the agreement) subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of said data where such standard was observed. PCL reports and information provided thereon are for the exclusive use and benefit of client and client agrees there shall be no third party beneficiaries of such reports, data or information. Client will not disclose to any third party any information concerning technical information, software programs or other formulations.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent harmless from and against any and all liabilities, losses or damages, claims, demands, causes of action, suits and associated expenses including, but not limited to attorneys fees (the "Losses and Expenses") and awards arising in favor of Client or any third party as a result of, and/or in any way occurring incident to, arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or transportation, handling, or disposal of client's hazardous materials. 1. Injury, disease or death of persons 2. Loss of, damage to, use of, or loss of use of property and/or 3. Economic loss of every kind of character. This indemnity does not apply to any of the foregoing losses, costs, damages, or injuries caused solely by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall specifically apply to losses, claims, damages, actions of every kind and character arising out of or in connection with the negligence of or breach of contract by any indemnified Person, whether actual or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any liability which the client might otherwise have to PCL and the other indemnified Persons. To the extent necessary under applicable law, client agrees that its indemnity obligation will be supported by available liability insurance coverage to be furnished by client, which insurance shall be in the maximum amounts permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable to client for indirect, punitive, special, incidental or consequential damages including, without limitation, loss of profit or business interruption, litigation Expenses or other fees (including, without limitation, attorney's fees, court costs, and /or pre or post-judgment interest), or any other expenses or costs incurred by client or any other party or any litigation against or involving PCL or any indemnified person in connection with this agreement or any services provided under this agreement even if client is the prevailing party.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by client, client will provide and PCL will receive samples of materials for analyses such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls, bacteria or any other hazardous or toxic material, wastes and substances which are defined, designated or identified as such under federal, state or local laws, rules, PCL policies or regulations (whether now existing or hereafter enacted or promulgated or any judicial or administrative interpretation of any thereof (the "Hazardous Materials"). Client understands and agrees that any hazardous material received by PCL from client or at client's request shall remain the property of Client and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of all unused portions of samples as specified by client or by PCL's QA/QC policies. In the event the client does not specify its preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain Hazardous Materials. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for any/all bacterial analyses, client will be charged a sample disposal fee, per sample submitted, in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect in the area of operations on the date the services were rendered or with prices quoted and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment in advance or when analysis is completed is required for all new clients or until a history of payment and/or credit account has been established with PCL. For those clients with an established credit account, the terms for payment of charges are NET CASH within thirty (30) days from date of invoices. To the fullest extent permitted by law or any applicable law, any amount unpaid at the end of thirty (30) days is subject to interest at the lesser of the maximum rate permitted by law or one and one-half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balance. If unpaid amounts are collected through legal proceedings or by an attorney, the client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees or agents' fees associated with such collection procedure or efforts.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to the terms shall be effective only in writing and executed by an officer of PCL and by client's authorized representative, except that subsequent orders for additional services may be verbal or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries: No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information, or reports furnished by PCL. Client is securing services hereunder for its own account, and not as agent or broker, or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity. It is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party may rely on such data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that said data, information and reports are not requested or shall be used to reliad upon in connection with or as part of, the purchase, sale, underwriting, or distributing of any securities, any periodic or other reporting to the holders of any security, the securing, amendment, renewal, or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender or the certification to or contracting with directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advance. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are delivered on weekends or after business weekdays without prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed prior to any samples being received by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to the client if requested. All analyses with holding times of 14 days or less, samples must arrive within 96 hours to allow PCL to meet holding times (without applying a rush surcharge). All short holding times (i.e. 7 days) samples must arrive at the lab within 24 hours before expiration to insure that the holding times can be met. Short Holding Times of 48 hours or less (bacteria is 6 hours) must be delivered that same day in order to guarantee holding times are met. After hours, late delivery, freight company delays or similar issues are subject to additional surcharges and/or the inability to meet holding times. All holding times are in effect as of the publication date of this fee schedule and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are retained for at least thirty (30) days after analysis has been completed. Sample storage for longer periods is by request only. Pre-arranged long term storage is subject to an additional charge. Samples will be disposed of at the end of the pre-arranged storage time.

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

All pick up/sampling fees have been noted on the fee schedule. Reasonable time has been allocated for each pick up or service. Unnecessary delays during the pick up or sampling, might be assessed an additional fee.

To the fullest extent permitted (if at all) by applicable law, any amount unpaid at the end of thirty (30) days is subject to interest at the lesser of the maximum rate permitted by law or one and one half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balances. If unpaid amounts are collected through legal proceedings or by an attorney, the client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees or agents' fees consistent with such collection procedures in effect.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to the terms shall be effective only if in writing and executed by an officer of PCL and by clients authorized representative, except that subsequent orders for additional services may be verbal or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries: No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information, or reports furnished by PCL. Client in ordering services hereunder for his own account, and not as agent or broker, or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity, it is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party may rely on such data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that said data, information and reports are not requested, or shall be used to relied upon in connection with or as part of, the purchase, sale, underwriting, or distribution of any securities, any periodic or other reporting to the holders of any security, the securing, amendment, renewal, or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender or the certification to or contracting with, directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or instrument.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advanced. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are delivered on weekends or after 3pm on weekdays without prior notification and acceptance. Maximum holding time and storage conditions should be reviewed prior to any samples being received by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to the client if requested. All analyses with holding times of 14 days or less' samples must arrive within 96 hours to allow PCL to meet holding times without applying a rush surcharge. All short holding times, 72 hours, samples must arrive at the lab within 24 hours before expiration to ensure that the holding times can be met. Short holding times of 48 hours or less (bacteria & Nitrate) must be delivered the same day in order to guarantee holding times are met. After hours, late delivery, freight company deliver or similar issues are subject to additional rush fees and/or the inability to meet holding times. All holding times are in effect as of the publication date of this fee schedule and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are retained for at least sixty (30) days after analysis has been completion. Sample storage for longer periods is by request only, the arranged long term storage is subject to an additional charge. Samples will be disposed at the end of the pre-arranged storage time.

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

All pick up/sampling fees have been notated on the fee schedule. Reasonable time has been allocated for each pick up or service. Unnecessary delays during the pick up or sampling might be accessed an additional fee.

Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

1. Definitions

"Terms and Conditions" means these Terms and Conditions of sale, including the price schedule, and any additions or amendments hereto which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity who may request laboratory services, consulting or sampling services and his or its heirs, successors, assigns and representatives. "Price Schedule" means Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule as such document may be amended or reissued from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services (as defined herein) only under the following General Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which does not incorporate the Terms. No modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the client and PCL.

The client may order services by submitting a written chain of custody (COC) to PCL. Any such order constitutes 1. an acceptance by the client of PCL's offer to do business with the client under the terms and condition and 2. an agreement to be bound by these terms and conditions. The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or initiation of consulting services constitutes the client's express assent to be governed by these terms and conditions. No contrary or additional terms and conditions expressed in a client's document shall be deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of the terms and conditions.

For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of workmanship in the profession. Where applicable, PCL will use analytical methodologies which are in substantial conformity with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), CA Waterboard (ELAP), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM), Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC), Standard Methods (SM) of the Examination of Water and Wastewater and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate due to the nature or compositions of the samples or otherwise based on the reasonable judgement of PCL. Deviations, if any, will be made on a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and/or our QA/QC policies. The total liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or successors to the client arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided herein, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for said services. Client's acceptance of a work order and/or proposal releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in any client purchase orders or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL's personnel performs the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the condition which the samples are collected and for conditions in and about the sampling site and for advising PCL of the same and all information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder subject to payment for all services rendered and out-of-pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally, except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample materials provided by Client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public or is in the public domain or client has filed to pay PCL for all services rendered or is otherwise in breach of the agreement) subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of said data where such standard was observed. PCL reports and information provided thereon are for the exclusive use and benefit of Client and Client agrees there shall be no third party beneficiaries of such reports, data or information. Client will not disclose to any third party any information concerning technical information, software programs or other formulations.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent harmless from and against any and all liabilities, losses or damages, claims, demands, causes of action, suits and associated expenses (including, but not limited to, all court fees (the Litigation Expenses) and awards arising in favor of Client or any third party as a result of, and/or in any way occurring or incident to arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL hereunder or this agreement and/or transportation, handling or disposal of client's hazardous materials, 1. injury, disease or death of persons 2. Loss of, damage to, loss of, or loss of use of property and/or 3. Financial loss of every kind or character. This indemnity does not apply to any of the foregoing losses, costs, damages, or injuries caused solely by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall specifically apply to losses, claims damages, actions of every kind and character arising out of or in connection with the negligence of or breach of contract by any indemnified Person, whether actual or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any liability which the client might otherwise have to PCL and the other indemnified Persons. To the extent necessary under applicable law, Client agrees that its indemnity obligation will be supported by available liability insurance coverage to be furnished by Client, which insurance shall be in the maximum amounts permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable to Client for indirect, punitive, special, incidental or consequential damages (including without limitation loss of profit or business interruption, Litigation Expenses or other fees (including without limitation, attorney's fees, court costs, and the cost of in-house counsel) incurred by client or any other party in defending (as allowed by law), enforcing PCL or any indemnified person in connection with this agreement or as arising from under this agreement even if client is the prevailing party.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by client, client will provide and PCL will receive samples materials for analyses such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls, bacteria or any other hazardous or toxic material, waste and substance which are defined, determined or identified as such under federal, state or local laws, rules, PCL policies or regulations (whether now existing or hereafter enacted or promulgated or any judicial or administrative interpretation of any thereof) (the "Hazardous Materials"). Client understands and agrees that any hazardous material received by PCL from client or at client's request shall remain the property of Client, and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of all unused portions of samples as specified by client or by PCL's QA/QC policies. In the event the client does not specify its preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain Hazardous Materials. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for asbestos bacterial analysis, client will be charged a sample disposal fee per sample submitted in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect at the time of operations on the date the services were rendered or with prices quoted and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment in advance or when services is completed is required for all new clients or until a history of payment and/or credit account has been established with PCL. For those clients with an established credit account, the terms for payment of charges are NET CASH within thirty (30) days from date of invoice. To the fullest extent permitted (if at all) by applicable law, any amount unpaid at the end of thirty (30) days is subject to interest at the lesser of the maximum rate permitted by law or one and one half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balances. If unpaid amounts are collected through legal proceedings or by an attorney, the client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees or agents' fees associated with such collection procedure or efforts.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to the terms shall be effective only in writing and executed by an officer of PCL and by Client's authorized representative, except that subsequent orders for additional services may be verbal or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries: No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information, or reports furnished by PCL. Client is securing services hereunder for his own account, and not as agent or broker, or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity. It is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party may rely on such data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that said data, information and reports are not requested, or shall be used to relied upon in connection with or as part of, the purchase, sale, underwriting, or distribution of any securities, any periodic or other reporting to the holders of any securities, the securing, amendment, renewal, or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender or the certification to or contracting with, directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advance. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are delivered on weekends or after 5pm on weekdays without prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed prior to any samples being received by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to the client if requested. All analyses with holding times of 14 days or less, samples must arrive within 96 hours to allow PCL to meet holding times without incurring a rush surcharge. On short holding times 2-7 days, samples must arrive at the lab within 24 hours before expenditures ensure that the holding times can be met. Short holding times of 48 hours or less (bacteria) it should must be delivered that same day in order to guarantee holding times are met. After hours, late delivery, freight forwarding delivery or similar issues are subject to additional rush fees and/or the inability to meet holding times. All holding times are in effect as of the publication date of the fee schedule and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are retained for at least thirty (30) days after analysis has been completed. Sample storage for longer periods may be required only if pre-arranged long term storage is subject to an additional charge. Samples will be discarded at the end of the pre-arranged storage time.

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

All pick up/sampling fees have been notated on the fee schedule. Reasonable time has been allocated for each pick up or service. Unnecessary delays during the pick up or sampling might be incurred an additional fee.

Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

1. Definitions

"Terms and Conditions" means these Terms and Conditions of sale, including the price schedule, and any additions or amendments thereto which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity who/that requests laboratory services, consulting or sampling services and the employees, successors, assigns and representatives. "Price Schedule" means Pat Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule as such document may be amended or revised from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services (or portion hereof) only under the following General Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which does not incorporate the Terms. No modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the client and PCL.

The client may order services by submitting a written chain of custody (COC) to PCL. Any such order constitutes 1. an acceptance by the client of PCL's offer to do business with the Client under the Terms and condition and 2. an agreement to be bound by these terms and conditions. The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or initiation of consulting services constitutes the Client's express assent to be governed by these terms and conditions. No conflicting or additional terms and conditions expressed in a client's document shall be deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of the Terms and conditions.

For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of work currently in the profession. Where applicable, PCL will use analytical methodologies which are in substantial conformity with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), its Water Board's (ELAP), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM) Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC) Standard Methods (SM) of the Examination of Water and Wastewater, and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate due to the nature or composition of the samples or otherwise based on the reasonable judgement of PCL. Any opinions, if any, will be made on a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and/or our QA/QC policies. The total liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or subcontractors to the client, arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided hereto, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for said services. Client's acceptance of a work order and/or proposal releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services hereunder notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in any client purchase orders or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel perform the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the condition which the samples are collected and for conditions in and around the sampling site and for advising PCL of the same and all information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder subject to payment for all services performed and out of pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing, as verbally agreed to, to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample materials provided by client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public or is the public domain or client has cited to PCL for all services rendered or as otherwise in breach of the agreement) subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of said data unless such standard was observed. PCL reports and information provided thereunder are for the exclusive use and benefit of client and client agrees they shall be no third party beneficiaries of work reports, data or information. Client will not disclose to any third party any information concerning technical information with such privileges or other information.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent harmless from and against any and all liabilities, losses or damages, claims, demands, causes of action, suits and associated expenses including, but not limited to all court fees (the obligation Expenses) and awards arising in favor of Client or any third party as a result of, and/or in any way occurring incident to arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or transportation, handling or disposal of client's hazardous materials, 1. injury, disease or death of persons 2. loss of, damage to, or loss of use of property and or 3. incurring cost of every kind of character. This indemnity does not apply to any of the foregoing losses, costs, damages, or injuries caused solely by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall survive to the extent applicable. Client agrees to waive all rights and claims it may have against PCL for any loss, damage, injury, disease or death of persons, property or business caused by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Client agrees to indemnify, defend and hold harmless PCL from any and all claims, suits, losses, costs and expenses, including reasonable attorneys' fees, court costs, and expert witness fees, damages, or any other expenses or costs incurred by client or any other person or organization claiming against PCL or any indemnified parties in connection with this agreement or an analysis provided under this agreement even if caused by the negligence of PCL.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by client, client will provide and PCL will receive samples materials for analysis such as aqueous, non-hazardous materials, biological specimens or any of the hazardous or toxic materials, wastes and substances which are defined, determined or classified as such under federal, state or local laws, rules or regulations or by statutes (whether now existing or hereafter enacted or promulgated) as any pollutant or contaminant or as a source of any thereof (the "Hazardous Materials"). Client understands and agrees that any Hazardous Materials received by PCL from client or on client's behalf shall remain the property of client and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will return all or any unused portion of samples as specified by client or to PCL's standard policies. In the event the client does not specify its preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain Hazardous Materials. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the shipment of unused samples to client or to dispose of PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for any of chemical analysis client will be charged a sample disposal fee, per sample disposition, or per batch in with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect at the time of operations on the date the services were rendered or with prices quoted and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payments in advance of when analysis is completed is required for all new clients or upon a history of payment and/or credit [illegible] been established with PCL. For those clients with an established credit account, the terms for payment of charges are NET CASH within thirty (30) days from date of invoices. To the fullest extent permitted by all and to applicable law, any amounts unpaid at the end of thirty (30) days is subject to interest at the lesser of the maximum rate permitted by law or one and one half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balances. If unpaid amounts are collected through legal proceedings or by an attorney, the client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees or agents' fees associated with such collection procedure or efforts.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to the terms shall be effective only in writing and executed by an officer of PCL and by clients authorized representative, except that subsequent orders for additional services may be verbal or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries: No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information, or reports furnished to PCL. Client is assuming services hereunder for its own account, and not as agent or broker, or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity. It is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party may rely on such data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that said data, information and reports are not intended, or shall be used to relied upon, in connection with or as part of, the purchase, sale, underwriting, or distribution of any securities, any periodic or other reporting to the holders of any security, the writing, amendment, renewal, or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender, or the certification to or contracting with, directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analysis are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advance. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for exceeding holding times due to inadequate volume of samples that are delivered on weekends or after 3pm on weekdays without prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be followed and/or as any samples as agreed to by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to the client if requested. All analyses with holding times of 14 days or less, samples must arrive within 24 hours of collection to PCL to meet holding times recommended by the laboratory. For short holding times, 2-7 days, appointments must be made with the lab within 24 hours prior to collection to ensure that the holding times can be met. Short holding times of 48 hours or less (bacteria) will be rush and must be scheduled the same day in order to guarantee holding times are met. After hours, 3pm delivery, or any emergency dispatch of personnel or equipment such fees apply at the discretion of PCL to meet holding times. All holding times are in effect as of the collection date of the lab schedule and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are retained for at least thirty (30) days after reports has been completed. Sample storage for longer periods is required only. The arranged long term storage is subject to an additional charge. Samples will be discarded at the end of the pre-arranged storage time.

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

All pick up/sampling fees have been included on the fee schedule. An estimate time has been allocated for each pick up or service. Misrepresentation during the pick up or sampling (wait) or incorrect or additional fee

CASE NARRATIVE

EPA 548:
The endothall recovery for the matrix spike (MS) was below the lower acceptance limit. The recovery was within acceptance limits in the laboratory control sample/laboratory control sample duplicate (LCS/LCSD) indicating the analytical batch was in control.

EPA 549.2:
Diquat strongly adsorbs to soil particles that are suspended in water. The strong chemical bonds make the herbicide chemically inactive. When bound with soil particles, the extraction procedure for method EPA 549.2 is ineffective at isolating the bound diquat. Any reported diquat represents the dissolved analyte in the water that has not been bound to the soil particles.

Laboratory Report

Introduction: This report package contains total of 7 pages divided into 3 sections:

Case Narrative	(2 pages)	: An overview of the work performed at FGL.
Sample Results	(2 pages)	: Results for each sample submitted.
Quality Control	(3 pages)	: Supporting Quality Control (QC) results.

Case Narrative

This Case Narrative pertains to the following samples:

Sample Description	Date Sampled	Date Received	FGL Lab ID #	Matrix
19B0291-01	02/08/2019	02/12/2019	SP 1901915-001	WW

Sampling and Receipt Information: All samples were received in acceptable condition and within temperature requirements, unless noted on the Condition Upon Receipt (CUR) form. All samples arrived on ice. All samples were prepared and analyzed within the method specified hold time. All samples were checked for pH if acid or base preservation is required (except for VOAs). For details of sample receipt information, please see the attached Chain of Custody and Condition Upon Receipt Form.

Quality Control: All samples were prepared and analyzed according to the following tables:

MDA = Minimum Detectable Activity (Calculated at the 95% confidence level) = Data utilized by DHS to determine matrix interference.
MCL / AL = Maximum Contamination Level / Action Level. Alpha's Action Level of 5 pCi/L is based on the Assigned Value (AV).
AV = Assigned Value(Gross Alpha Result + (0.84 x Error)). CCR Section 64442: Drinking Water Compliance Note: Do the following
If Gross Alpha's (AV) exceeds 5 pCi/L run Uranium. If Gross Alpha's (AV) minus Uranium exceeds 5 pCi/L run Radium 226.

Drinking Water Compliance:
Gross Alpha (AV) minus Uranium is less than or equal to 15 pCi/L
Uranium is less than or equal to 20 pCi/L
Radium 226 + Radium 228 is less than or equal to 5 pCi/L

Note: Samples are held for 3-6 months prior to disposal.

CCV	: Continuing Calibration Verification - Analyzed to verify the instrument calibration is within criteria.
CCB	: Continuing Calibration Blank - Analyzed to verify the instrument baseline is within criteria.
Blank	: Method Blank - Prepared to verify that the preparation process is not contributing contamination to the samples.
LCS	: Laboratory Control Standard/Sample - Prepared to verify that the preparation process is not affecting analyte recovery.
MS	: Matrix Spikes - A random sample is spiked with a known amount of analyte. The recoveries are an indication of how that sample matrix affects analyte recovery.
MSD	: Matrix Spike Duplicate of MS/MSD pair - A random sample duplicate is spiked with a known amount of analyte. The recoveries are an indication of how that sample matrix affects analyte recovery.
MSRPD	: MS/MSD Relative Percent Difference (RPD) - The MS relative percent difference is an indication of precision for the preparation and analysis.
ND	: Non-detect - Result was below the DQO listed for the analyte.
DQO	: Data Quality Objective - This is the criteria against which the quality control data is compared.

The following report contains the results for the one aqueous sample received on February 13, 2019. This sample was analyzed for 2,3,7,8-TCDD by EPA 1613B. Routine turn-around time was provided for this work.

Continuing Calibration Verification (CCV) Requirements
All associated calibration verification standard(s) (CCV) met the acceptance criteria.

This work was authorized under Pat-Chem Laboratories' Project # 19B0291.

The report consists of a Cover Letter, Sample Inventory (Section I), Data Summary (Section II), Sample Tracking (Section VI), and Qualifiers/Abbreviations (Section VII). Raw Data (Section III), Continuing Calibration (Section IV), and Initial Calibration (Section V) are available in a full report (.pdf format) upon request.

If you have any questions regarding this report, please feel free to contact me at (916)932-5011.

Sincerely,

James M. Hedin

1. Definitions

"Terms and Conditions" means these Terms and Conditions of sale, including the price schedule, and any subsequent amendments hereto which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity who may request laboratory services, consulting or sampling services and who or its heirs, successors, assigns and representatives. "Price Schedule" means the Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule as such document may be amended or revised from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services (as defined herein) only under the following Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which does not incorporate the Terms. Any modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the client and PCL.

The client may place orders by submitting a written chain of custody (COC) to PCL. Any such order constitutes (i) an acceptance by the client of PCL's offer to do business with the client under the terms and conditions and (ii) an agreement to be bound by these terms and conditions. The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or solicitation of consulting services constitutes the Client's express consent to be governed by these terms and conditions. No contrary or additional terms and conditions contained in a client's document shall be deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of the terms and conditions.

For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of workmanship in the profession where applicable. PCL will use analytical methodologies which are in substantial conformity with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), CA Waterboard (LUFT), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM), Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC), Standard Methods (SM) of the Examination of Water and Wastewater and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate due to the nature or composition of the samples or otherwise based on the reasonable judgement of PCL. Deviations, if any, will be made on a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and/or our QA/QC policies. The total liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or successors to the client, arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided herein, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for said services. Client's acceptance of a work order and/or proposal releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in any client's purchase orders or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel performs the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the condition which the samples are collected and for conditions in and about the sampling site and for advising PCL of the same and all information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder subject to payment for all services rendered and out-of-pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally, except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample materials provided by Client or at Client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence unless such information is generally available to the public or is required to be disclosed by law or legal process. All information received by law or legal process, PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in preserving its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of confidential information unless such disclosure was due to the negligence or willful misconduct of PCL. PCL reports are delivered to Client and Client agrees that the exclusive use and benefit of such reports, data or information. Client will not disclose to any third party any conclusions concerning technical information without prior written or other authorization.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases and at all times indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent harmless from and against any and all liabilities, losses or damages (including reasonable attorneys' fees and expenses) and costs (including, without limitation, court costs and reasonable litigation expenses and experts' fees) of Client or any third party as a result of, and/or in any way occurring incident to, arising out of or connected with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement, except to the extent resulting directly from the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL, its employees, agents or subcontractors. Client specifically waives its claim, demand, attorneys' fees, and costs for, arising out of, or in connection with the negligence of or breach of contract by, any indemnified person, whether actual or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any liability which the Client might otherwise have to PCL and the prevailing party. To the extent insurance under applicable law does not exist to indemnify, Client agrees to self-insure such indemnity obligation or will be supported by adequate liability insurance coverage to be furnished by Client, which insurance shall be in the maximum amounts permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable to Client for indirect, punitive, special, incidental or consequential damages including, without limitation, loss of profit or business interruption. Litigation expenses in other fees including, without limitation, attorney's fees, court costs, and pre or post judgment interest, or any other expenses or costs incurred by Client or any other party in any litigation against or involving PCL or any indemnified persons in connection with this agreement or all services provided under this agreement even if Client is the prevailing party.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by client, client will provide and PCL will receive samples of materials for analysis such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls, ballistic or any other hazardous or toxic material, wastes and substances which are defined, determined or identified as such under federal, state or local laws, rules, PCL policies or regulations (whether now existing or hereafter enacted or promulgated or any judicial or administrative interpretation of any thereof (the "Hazardous Materials"). Client understands and agrees that any Hazardous Material received by PCL from client or at Client's request shall remain the property of Client and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of all unused portions of samples as specified by client or by PCL's QA/QC policies. In the event the client does not specify its preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain Hazardous Materials. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples in accordance with PCL's normal sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for which material analysis client will be charged a sample disposal fee for samples submitted, in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect at the time of execution of the date the services were rendered or, with prices quoted and specified in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment in advance or other security is required for all new clients or until a history of payment and credit worthiness has been established with PCL. For those clients with an established credit account, the terms for payment of invoices are NET 30 days unless otherwise specified in writing. Client shall pay all invoices in full without setoff, counterclaim or deduction of any kind. In the event any amount is not paid when due, Client shall pay PCL interest at the rate of one and one half percent (1.5%) per month (or the highest rate permitted by law, if less) on the unpaid balance. If client's account is collected through legal proceedings or by an attorney, the client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees, as well as any reasonable collection agency fees incurred in effecting collection.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes to provisions or agreements in the Terms shall be effective only in writing and executed by duly authorized representatives. Additional work orders for additional services may be verbal or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries; No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information or reports furnished to PCL Client in securing services from other consultants, and not as agent or broker, or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity. It is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement and that no third party may rely on such data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that said data, information and reports are not intended, or shall be used or relied upon, in connection with or as part of, the purchase, sale, underwriting, or distribution of any securities, any periodic or other reporting to the holders of any security, the existing, amendment, renewal, or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender or the certification to or contracting with, any state or subdivision, any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advance. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are delivered on weekends or after 2pm on weekdays without prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed prior to any samples being received by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to the client if requested. All analytes with holding times of 24 hours or less, samples must arrive within 36 hours to allow PCL to meet holding times without applying a rush surcharge. All short holding time, 7 days, samples must arrive at the lab within 24 hours before expiration to insure that the holding times can be met. Short Holding Times of 48 hours or less (subject to 8 hours) must be delivered that same day to arrive to guarantee holding times are met. After hours, late delivery, freight company delays of similar issues are subject to additional rush fees and/or the inability to meet holding times. All holding times are in effect as of the publication date of this fee schedule and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are retained for at least sixty (60) days after analysis has been completed. Sample storage for longer periods is by request only. Pre-arranged long term storage is subject to an additional charge. Samples will be discarded at the end of the pre-arranged storage time.

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

All pick up/sampling fees have been added to the fee schedule. Reasonable fees has been provided for each pick up or service. Unnecessary delays during the pick up or sampling, might be processed as additional fee.

Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

1. Definitions

"Terms and Conditions" means these Terms and Conditions of sale, including the price schedule, and any additions or amendments hereto which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity who may request laboratory services, consulting or sampling services and his or its heirs, successors, assigns and representatives. "Price Schedule" means Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule as such document may be amended or reissued from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services (as defined herein) only under the following General Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which does not incorporate the Terms. No modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the client and PCL.

The client may order services by submitting a written chain of custody (COC) to PCL. Any such order constitutes 1. an acceptance by the client of PCL's offer to do business with the client under the terms and condition and 2. an agreement to be bound by these terms and conditions. The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or initiation of consulting services constitutes the client's express assent to be governed by these terms and conditions. No contrary or additional terms and conditions expressed in a client's document shall be deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of the terms and conditions.

For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of workmanship in the profession. Where applicable, PCL will use analytical methodologies which are in substantial conformity with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), EA Water Board (LAP), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM), Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC), Standard Methods (SM) of the Examination of Water and Wastewater and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate due to the nature or compositions of the samples or otherwise based on the reasonable judgement of PCL. Deviations, if any, will be made on a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and/or our QA/QC policies. The total liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or successors to the client, arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided hereon, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for said services. Client's acceptance of a work order and/or proposal releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced account for the services notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in any client purchase orders or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel performs the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the condition which the samples are collected and for conditions in and about the sampling site and for advising PCL of the same and all information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any orders for services hereunder subject to payments for all services rendered and out-of-pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally, except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample materials provided by Client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public or in the public domain or client has filed to pay PCL for all services rendered or is otherwise in breach of the agreement) subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of said data where such standard was observed. PCL reports and information provided hereon are for the exclusive use and benefit of Client and client agrees there shall be no third party beneficiary of such reports, data or information. Client will not disclose to any third party any information concerning technical information, software programs or other formulations.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent harmless from and against any and all liabilities, losses or damages, claims, demands, causes of action, suits and associated expenses including, but not limited to all court fees (the Litigation Expenses) and awards arising in favor of Client or any third party as a result of, and/or in any way occurring incident to, arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or transportation, handling or disposal of client's hazardous materials. 1. Injury, disease or death of persons 2. Loss of, damage to, harm to, or loss of use of property and or 3. Financial loss of every kind or character. This indemnity does not apply to any of the foregoing losses, costs, damages, or injuries caused solely by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall specifically apply to losses, claims damages, actions of every kind and character arising out of or in connection with the negligence of or breach of contract by any indemnified Person, whether actual or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any liability which the client might otherwise have to PCL and the other indemnified Persons. To the extent necessary under applicable law, client agrees that its indemnity obligations will be supported by available liability insurance coverage to be furnished by Client, which insurance shall be in the maximum amounts permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable to client for incidental, punitive, special, incidental or consequential damages (including, without limitation, loss of profit or business interruption) Litigation Expenses or other fees (including, without limitation, attorney's fees, court costs, and cost pre or post judgment interest), or any other expenses or costs incurred by client or any other party in any claim against or involving PCL or any indemnified person in connection with this agreement or an services provided under this agreement even if client is the prevailing party.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by client, client will provide and PCL will receive samples materials for analysis such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls, bacteria or any other hazardous or toxic material, wastes and substances which are defined, determined or identified as such under federal, state or local laws, rules, PCL policies or regulations (whether now existing or hereafter enacted or promulgated or any judicial or administrative interpretation of any thereof) (the "Hazardous Materials"). Client understands and agrees that any hazardous material received by PCL from client or client's request, shall remain the property of Client and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of all unused portions of samples as specified by client or by PCL's QA/QC policies. In the event the client does not specify its preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain Hazardous Materials. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for any soil bacterial analyses, client will be charged a sample disposal fee, per sample submitted, in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect in the area of operations on the date the services were rendered or with prices quoted and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment in advance or when analysis is completed is required for all new clients or until a history of payment and/or credit account has been established with PCL. For those clients with an established credit account, the terms for payment of charges are NET CASH within thirty (30) days from date of invoices. To the fullest extent permitted (if at all) by applicable law, any amount unpaid at the end of thirty (30) days is subject to interest at the lesser of the maximum rate permitted by law or one and one-half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balances. If unpaid amounts are collected through legal proceedings or by an attorney, the client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees or agents' fees associated with such collection procedure or efforts.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to the terms shall be effective on in writing and executed by an officer of PCL and by Client's authorized representative, except that subsequent orders for additional services may be verbal or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries: No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information, or reports furnished by PCL. Client is retaining services hereunder for his own account, and not as agent or broker, or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity. It is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and in at no third party may rely on such data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that said data, information, and reports are not requested, or shall be used to relied upon, in connection with or as part of, the purchase, sale, underwriting, or distribution of any securities, any periodic or other reporting to the holders of any security, the securing, amendment, renewal, or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender or the certification to or contracting with, directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or department.

Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

1. Definitions

"Terms and Conditions" means these Terms and Conditions of sale, including the price schedule, and any additions or amendments hereto to which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity who may request laboratory services, consulting or sampling services and his or its heirs, successors, assigns and representatives. "Price Schedule" means Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule as such document may be amended or revised from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services (as defined herein) only under the following General Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which does not incorporate the Terms. No modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the client and PCL.

The client may order services by submitting a written chain of custody (COC) to PCL. Any such order constitutes 1. an acceptance by the client of PCL's offer to do business with the client under the terms and conditions and 2. an agreement to be bound by these Terms and conditions. The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or initiation of consulting services constitutes the client's express assent to be governed by these terms and conditions. No contrary or additional terms and conditions expressed in a client's document shall be deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of the terms and conditions.

For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of workmanship in the profession. Where applicable, PCL will use analytical methodologies which are in substantial conformity with the US Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), EA Water Bell (ELAP), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM), Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC), Standard Methods (SM) of the Examination of Water and Wastewater, and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate due to the nature or composition of the samples or otherwise based on the reasonable judgement of PCL. Evaluations, if any, will be made on a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and/or our ISO/IEC 17025:2017 The total liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or subcontractors to the client, arising out of or connected with the services to be provided hereto, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for said services. Client's acceptance of a work order and/or proposal releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services. Notwithstanding the foregoing, to the extent that any of the provisions of these terms and conditions conflict with applicable law, such provisions shall be deemed modified to conform to such law.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel perform the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the location from which the samples are collected and for conducting and about the sampling site and for advising PCL of the risks and all information reasonably required by PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder subject to payments for all services performed and out of pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that no term shall govern performance of [illegible] unless [illegible] in writing or [illegible] to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services contemplated by this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the samples materials provided by client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public or is the public domain or client has right to use PCL under services rendered or it) otherwise in breach of the agreement) subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of such data where such standard was observed. PCL reports and information provided thereunder are for the exclusive use and benefit of client and client agrees there shall be no third party beneficiary of such reports. Based on information concerning technical information, software, programs or other formulations.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent harmless from and against any and all claims, losses or damages, claims, demands, causes of action, suits and associated expenses including, but not limited to, all court fees (the Litigation Expenses) and awards arising in favor of Client or any third party as a result of, and/or in any way arising incident to or arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL hereunder or this agreement and/or transportation, handling, or disposal of client's hazardous materials. [illegible] disease or death of persons or injury or damage to, loss of, or loss of use of property and/or 8. Financial loss of every kind or character. This indemnity does not apply to any of the foregoing types of claims, damages, or injuries caused solely by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall specifically apply to claims, claims, damages, actions of every kind and character arising out of or in connection with the negligence of or breach of contract by any indemnified person, whether active or passive, of the indemnified person or parties to this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to and not in lieu of the client's obligations set forth in PCL and the [illegible] Terms. To the extent necessary under applicable law, client agrees that its indemnity obligations will be supported by adequate liability insurance coverage to be carried at client's own cost which insurance shall be written in a manner and form permitted under applicable law, to at least cover PCL for losses to client, its officers, partners, agents, employees or representatives for damages, including without limitation, loss of profits or business interruption, Litigation Expenses or other fees (including, without limitation, attorney's fees, costs, [illegible] and expert witness fees), or any other expenses, or costs incurred by client or any other party in connection with or resulting from or in any way related to any claim, action or proceeding against any party or in any [illegible] interpretation of any [illegible] the Indemnified Materials. Client's indemnification shall survive the termination of this agreement or any services provided under this agreement and shall be governed by the laws of the State of [illegible] without regard to its conflicts of law principles. In the event the client disposes of samples or [illegible] in its facility or [illegible] PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain hazardous materials. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples, in accordance with PCL's standard sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for asbestos analysis, client will be charged a sample disposal fee, per sample, unless otherwise agreed to in writing.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested hereunder, client will provide and PCL will receive samples material for analysis as a possible, and to identify [illegible] in accordance with any [illegible] Regulations of any [illegible] and any and all others per [illegible] Agreement, [illegible] or handling of samples by PCL shall in no way relieve client of its obligations to [illegible] in accordance with applicable laws, regulations and [illegible] or [illegible] as a result of any [illegible] interpretation of any [illegible] the Hazardous Materials. Client acknowledges that all samples and [illegible] delivered to PCL from client or at client's request shall remain the property of Client and that upon completion of PCL services, PCL will dispose of all unused portions of samples as provided by client in its PCL's specific policies. In the event the client does not specify its preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain Hazardous Materials. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples, in accordance with PCL's standard sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for asbestos analysis, client will be charged a sample disposal fee, per sample, unless otherwise agreed to in writing.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect at the time of quotation on the date the services were rendered or with prices accepted and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payments in advance or when analysis is completed is required for all new clients or until a history of payment and/or credit account has been established with PCL. For those clients with an established credit account, the terms for payment of charges are NET CASH within thirty (30) days from date of invoice, to the fullest extent permitted by law. Any amounts unpaid at the end of thirty (30) days is subject to interest at the lesser of the maximum rate permitted by law or one and one-half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balances. If unpaid amounts are collected through legal proceedings or by an attorney, the client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees to the extent fees associated with such collection proceedings or efforts.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to the terms shall be effective only if in writing and executed by an officer of PCL or [illegible] authorized representative, except that subsequent orders for additional services may be verbal or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries; No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability to client's use of or reliance on data, information, or reports furnished by PCL. Client is ordering services hereunder for his own account, and not as agent or trustee, or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity. It is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party may rely on such data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that such data, information and reports are not [illegible], or should be used to rely upon in connection with or as part of, the [illegible] sale, underwriting, or distribution of any securities, and disclosure of PCL reports, data, information, or [illegible] or other reporting to the holders of any security, the securing, amendment, renewal, or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other person for the certification to or contracting with any party or indirectly any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advance. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are delivered on weekends or after 3pm on weekdays without prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed prior to any sample being received by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to the client if requested. All analyses with holding times of 72 hours or less, samples must arrive at the laboratory to allow PCL to meet holding times. Nothing within this paragraph [illegible] [illegible] holding times. Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

1. Definitions

"Terms and Conditions" means these Terms and Conditions of sale, including the price schedule, and any additions or amendments hereto which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity who may request laboratory services, consulting or sampling services and his or its heirs, successors, assigns and representatives. "Price Schedule" means Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule as such document may be amended or revised from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services (as defined herein) only under the following General Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which does not incorporate the Terms. No modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the Client and PCL.

The Client may order services by submitting a written chain of custody (COC) to PCL. Any such order constitutes 1. an acceptance by the client of PCL's offer to do business with the client under the terms and condition and 2. an agreement to be bound by these terms and conditions. The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or initiation of consulting services constitutes the client's express assent to be governed by these terms and conditions. No contrary or additional terms and conditions expressed in a client's document shall be deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of the terms and conditions.

For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of workmanship in the profession. Where applicable, PCL will use analytical methodologies which are in substantial conformity with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), CA Waterboards (SWAP), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM), Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC), Standard Methods (SM) of the Examination of Water and Wastewater and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate due to the nature or composition of the sample or otherwise based on the reasonable judgement of PCL. Deviations, if any, will be made on a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and/or our QA/QC policies. The total liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or successors to the client arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided herein, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for said services. Client's acceptance of a work order and/or proposal releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in any client purchase orders or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel performs the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the condition which the samples are collected and for conditions in and about the sampling site and for advising PCL of the same and all information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder, subject to payment for all services rendered and out-of-pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally, except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample materials provided by client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public or in the public domain or client has filed to pay PCL for all services rendered or is otherwise in breach of the agreement) subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of said data where such standard was observed. PCL reports and information provided thereon are for the exclusive use and benefit of client and client agrees there shall be no third party beneficiaries of such reports, data or information. Client will not disclose to any third party any information concerning technical information, software programs or other formulations.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent harmless from and against any and all liabilities, losses or damages, claims, demands, causes of action, suits and associated expenses, including, but not limited to all court fees (the Litigation Expenses) and awards arising in favor of Client or any third party as a result of, and/or in any way occurring incident to arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or transportation, handling or disposal of client's hazardous materials. 1. Injury, disease or death of persons 2. Loss of, damage to, use of, or loss of use of property and or 3. Financial loss of every kind of character. This indemnity does not apply to any of the foregoing losses, costs, damages, or injuries caused solely by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall specifically apply to losses, claims damages, actions of every kind and character arising out of or in connection with the negligence of or breach of contract by any Indemnified Person, whether actual or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing notwithstanding, to the extent client's obligation to indemnify PCL and the Indemnified Persons. To the extent, limitation of liability applies, client agrees that an indemnity obligation will be supported by adequate liability insurance coverage to be furnished by client, with insurance shall be in the maximum amounts permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable to client for business, profits, special, incidental or consequential damages (including without limitation, loss of profits or business interruption, litigation expenses or attorneys fees including, without limitation, attorney's fees, court costs, and cost of any appeal, expert witness fees, or any other expenses) even if such party shall have been advised, knew or should have known of the possibility thereof. In the event of any action, claim or proceeding by client against or involving PCL or any indemnified person in connection with this agreement or all services provided under this agreement, even if client is the prevailing party.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by client, client will provide and PCL will receive samples (samples) for analysis such as asbestos, contaminated soils, soil, sludge, or any other hazardous or non-hazardous, solids and liquids (each, a "Sample"). Accordingly, in connection with such request, client or client's agents PCL agrees or regulations (whether now existing or hereafter enacted or promulgated) as they may be interpreted or enforced from time to time (collectively, "Hazardous Materials"). Client acknowledges and agrees that any hazardous material received by PCL from client or client's agents shall remain the property of client and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of all unused portions of samples in such manner as client is to be PCL's SOP/QC policies. In the event the client does not specify its preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain Hazardous Materials. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for its disposal of unused samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for analysis (solid) analysis, client will be charged a sample disposal fee, per sample accounted, in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect at the time of quotation or the date the services were rendered or with prices quoted and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment in advance or when service is completed is required for all new clients or until a history of payment and/or credit account has been established with PCL. For those clients with an established credit account, the terms for payment of invoices are NET CASH within thirty (30) days from date of invoices. To the fullest extent permitted by law, any amounts unpaid at the end of thirty (30) days is subject to interest at the lesser of the maximum rate permitted by law or one and one-half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balances. If unpaid amounts are collected through legal proceedings or by an attorney, the client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees or agents' fees associated with such collection procedure or efforts.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to the terms shall be effective only in writing and executed by an officer of PCL and by Clients authorized representative, except that subsequent orders for additional services may be verbal or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries: No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information, or reports furnished by PCL. Client is acquiring services hereunder for his own account, and not as agent or broker, or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity. It is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party interests on such data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that said data, information and reports are not requested, or shall be used to relied upon, in connection with or as part of, the purchase, sale, underwriting, or distribution of any securities. Any periodic or other reporting to the holders of any security, the securing, amendment, renewal, or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender or the certification to or contracting with, directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advance. If for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the regular price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are delivered on weekends or after 3pm on weekdays without prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed prior to any samples being received by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to the client if requested. All analytes with holding times of 15 days or less, samples must arrive within 72 hours of sample collection. PCL cannot meet holding times without adequate advance notice. For short holding times, 24 hours, samples must arrive at the lab within 24 hours before arrangements to ensure that the holding times can be met. Short Holding Times of 48 hours or 72 hours will require that we be advised four same day in order to guarantee holding times are met. After hours, Sat. delivery, Sunday delivery or Special Holidays are subject to additional rush fees and/or the inability to meet holding times. All holding times are in effect as of the collection date of the samples and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are retained for at least sixty (30) days after analysis has been completed. Sample storage for longer intervals is by request only. Pre-arranged long term storage is subject to an additional charge. Samples will be disposed of at the end of the pre-arranged storage time.

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

All pick up/sampling fees have been noted on the fee schedule. Reasonable time has been allocated for each pick up or service. Unnecessary delays during the pick up or sampling process or accidental additional fee

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample materials provided by client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public or in the public domain or client has failed to pay PCL for all services rendered, or is otherwise in breach of the agreement), subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of said data where such standard was maintained. PCL reports and information provided thereto are for the exclusive use and benefit of client and PCL agrees there shall be no third party beneficiary of such reports, data or information. Client will not disclose to any third party any information concerning technical information, software programs or other intellectual property.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parents harmless from and against any and all liabilities, losses or damages, claims, penalties, causes of action, costs and reasonable expenses, including, but not limited to, attorneys fees (the Litigation Expenses), and awards arising in favor of Client or any third party as a result of, and/or in any way occurring incident to arising out of, or in connection with, the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or transportation, handling or disposal of client's hazardous materials. 1. Injury, illness or death of persons 2. Loss of, damage to, loss of, or loss of use of property and/or 3. Financial loss of every kind of character. This indemnity does not apply to any of the foregoing losses, costs, damages or injuries caused solely by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL, or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall specifically apply to, cover, claims then upon, actions of every kind and character arising out of or in connection with the negligence of or breach of contract by any indemnified Person, whether actual or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any liability which the client might otherwise have to PCL and the other indemnified Persons. To the extent necessary under applicable law, Client agrees that its indemnity obligation will be supported by available liability insurance coverage to be furnished by client, which insurance shall be in the maximum amounts permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable to client for indirect, punitive special, incidental or consequential damages (including, without limitation, loss of profit or business interruption) Litigation Expenses or other fees (including, without limitation, attorney's fees, court costs, and the pre or post judgment interest), or any other expenses or costs incurred by client or any other party in any litigation against or involving PCL or any indemnified person in connection with this agreement or all services provided under this agreement, even if client is the prevailing party.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by client, client will provide and PCL will receive samples materials for analyses such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls, Bacteria or any other hazardous or toxic material, wastes and substances which are defined, determined or identified as such under federal, state or local laws, rules, PCL policies or regulations (whether now existing or hereafter enacted or promulgated or any judicial or administrative interpretation of any thereof (the "Hazardous Materials"). Client understands and agrees that any hazardous material received by PCL from client or at client's request shall remain the property of Client and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of all unused portions of samples as specified by client or by PCL's QA/QC policies. In the event the client does not specify its preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain Hazardous Materials. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for any/all bacterial analysis, client will be charged a sample disposal fee, per sample submitted, in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect in the area of operations on the date the services were rendered or with prices quoted and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment in advance or where credit is not established may be required for all work. Terms of credit & history of payment and/or credit worthiness must be established with PCL. For those clients with an established credit account, the terms for payment of charges are NET CASH within thirty (30) days from date of invoices. To the fullest extent permitted or at any by applicable law, any amount unpaid on time and to thirty (30) days is subject to interest at the lesser of the maximum rate (identified below or one and one half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balance. If unpaid amounts are collected through legal proceedings or by an attorney, the client shall pay reasonable time and attorney's fees or agency fees associated with such collection procedure or efforts.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to the terms shall be effective only in writing and executed by an officer of PCL and by client's authorized representative, except that verbal work order for additional services may be issued as in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries: No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information, or reports furnished by PCL. Client is securing services hereunder for its own account, and not as agent or broker, or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity. It is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party may rely on such data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that said data, information and reports are not requested or shall not be used to resell upon, in connection with or as part of, the purchase, sale, underwriting, or distribution of any securities, any person, or other recipient as the holders of any security, the securing, amendment, renewal, or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender or the certification to or contracting with, directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advanced. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are delivered on weekends or after 4pm on weekdays without prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed by or treated samples being received by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to the client if requested. All analyses with holding times of 24 hours or less, samples must arrive within 36 hours to allow PCL to meet holding times without applying a rush surcharge. On short holding times, 7-7 days, samples must arrive at the lab within 24 hours before expiration to ensure that the holding times can be met. Short Holding Times of 48 hours or less (excluding 48 hours) must be delivered that same day in order to guarantee holding times are met. After hours, late delivery, freight company delays or similar issues are subject to additional rush fees and/or the inability to meet holding times. All holding times are in effect as of the publication date of this fee schedule and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are retained for at least thirty (30) days after analysis has been completed. Sample storage for longer periods is by request only. Pre-arranged long term storage is subject to an additional charge. Samples will be discarded at the end of the pre-arranged storage time.

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

All pick up/sampling fees have been noted on the fee schedule. Reasonable time has been allocated for each pick up or service. Unnecessary delays during the pick up or sampling, might be assessed an additional fee.

Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

1. Definitions

"Terms and Conditions" means these Terms and Conditions of sale, including the price schedule, and any additions or amendments hereto which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity who may request laboratory services, consulting or sampling services and his or its heirs, successors, assigns and representatives. "Price Schedule" means Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule as such document may be amended or revised from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services (as defined herein) only under the following General Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which does not incorporate the Terms. No modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the client and PCL.

The client may order services by submitting a written chain of custody (COC) to PCL. Any such order constitutes 1. an acceptance by the client of PCL's offer to do business with the client under the terms and conditions and 2. an agreement to be bound by these terms and conditions.

The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or initiation of consulting services constitutes the client's express assent to be governed by these terms and conditions. No contrary or additional terms and conditions expressed in a client's document shall be deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of the terms and conditions.

For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of workmanship in the profession. Where applicable, PCL will use analytical methodologies which are in substantial conformity with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), CA Waterboard (ELAP), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM), Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC), Standard Methods (SM) of the Examination of Water and Wastewater and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate due to the nature or compositions of the samples or otherwise based on the reasonable judgement of PCL. Deviations, if any, will be made on a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and/or our QA/QC policies. The total liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or successors to the client, arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided herein, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for said services. Client's acceptance of a work order and/or proposal releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in any client purchase orders or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel performs the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the condition which the samples are collected and for conditions in and about the sampling site and for advising PCL of the same and all information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder subject to payment for all services rendered and out-of-pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally, except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample materials provided to client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public or is the public domain or client has filed to pay PCL for all services rendered or is otherwise in breach of the agreement) subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of said data where such standard was observed. PCL reports and information provided thereon are for the exclusive use and benefit of Client and client agrees there shall be no third party beneficiary of such reports, data or information. Clients will not disclose to any third party any information concerning technical information, software programs or other communications.

10. Hold Harmless

Client release, and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent harmless from and against any and all liabilities, losses or damages, claims, demands, causes of action, suits and associated expenses including, but not limited to, all court fees (the Litigation Expenses) and awards arising in favor of Client or any third party as a result of, and/or in any way occurring incident to arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or transportation, handling or disposal of client's hazardous materials. 1. injury, disease or death of persons 2. loss of, damage to, loss of, or loss of use of property and or 3. financial loss of every kind of character. This indemnity does not apply to any of the foregoing losses, costs, damages, or injuries caused solely by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall specifically apply to losses, claims damages, actions of every kind and character arising out of or in connection with the negligence of or breach of contract by any Indemnified Person, whether actual or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any liability which the client might otherwise have to PCL and the other indemnified Persons. To the extent necessary under applicable law, Client agrees that its indemnity obligations will be supported by available liability insurance coverage to be furnished by client, which insurance shall be in the maximum amounts permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable to client for indirect, punitive, special, incidental or consequential damages (including, without limitation, loss of profit or business interruption) Litigation Expenses or other fees (including, without limitation, attorney's fees, court costs, and /or pre or post judgment interest), or any other expenses or costs incurred by client or any other party in any litigation against or involving PCL or any indemnified person in connection with this agreement or its services provided under this agreement even if client is the prevailing party.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by client, client will provide and PCL will receive samples or materials for analyses such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls, bacteria or any other hazardous or toxic material, wastes and substances which are defined, determined or identified as such under federal, state or local laws, rules PCL policies or regulations (whether now existing or hereafter enacted or promulgated or any judicial or administrative interpretation of any thereof) (the "Hazardous Materials"). Client understands and agrees that any hazardous material received by PCL from client or at client's request shall remain the property of Client and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of all unused portions of samples as specified by client or by PCL's QA/QC policies. In the event the client does not specify its preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain Hazardous Materials. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for any/all bacterial analysis, client will be charged a sample disposal fee, per sample submitted, in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect in the area of operations on the date the services were rendered or with prices quoted and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payments in advance or when analysis is completed is required for all new clients or until a history of payment and/or credit account has been established with PCL. For those clients with an established credit account, the term for payment of charges are NET CASH within thirty (30) days from date of invoices. To the fullest extent permitted by all by applicable law, any amounts unpaid at the end of thirty (30) days is subject to interest at the lesser of the maximum rate permitted by law or one and one-half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balances. If unpaid amounts are collected through legal proceedings or by an attorney, the client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees or agents' fees associated with such collection procedure or efforts.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to the terms shall be effective on in writing and executed by an officer of PCL and by clients authorized representative, except that subsequent orders for additional services may be verbal or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries: No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information, or reports furnished by PCL. Client is securing services hereunder for his own account, and not as agent or broker, or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity. It is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party may rely on such data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that said data, information and reports are not requested, or shall be used to relied upon, in connection with or as part of, the purchase, sale, underwriting, or distribution of any securities, any periodic or other reporting to the holders of any security, the securing, amendment, renewal or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender or the certification to or connecting with, directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advanced. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal rates will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are delivered on weekends or after 3pm on weekdays without prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed prior to any samples being received by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to the client if requested. All analyses with holding times of 14 days or less, samples must arrive within 96 hours to allow PCL to meet holding times without applying a rush surcharge. For short holding times, 7-8 days, samples must arrive at the lab within 24 hours before expiration to insure that the holding times can be met. Short Holding Times of 48 hours or less (bacteria is a 6 hour) must be delivered that same day in order to guarantee holding times are met. After hours, late delivery, freight company delays or similar issues are subject to additional rush fees and/or the inability to meet holding times. Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

1. Definitions

"Terms and Conditions" means these Terms and Conditions of sale, including the price schedule, and any additions or amendments hereto which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity who may request laboratory services, consulting or sampling services and his or its heirs, successors, assigns and representatives. "Price Schedule" means Pat Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule as such document may be amended or reissued from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services (as defined herein) only under the following General Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which does not incorporate the Terms. No modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the client and PCL.

The Client may order services by submitting a written chain of custody (COC) to PCL. Any such order constitutes 1. an acceptance by the client of PCL's offer to do business with the client under the terms and condition and 2. an agreement to are bound by these terms and conditions. The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or initiation of consulting services constitutes the client's express assent to be governed by these terms and conditions. No contrary or additional terms and conditions expressed in a client's document shall be deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of the terms and conditions.

For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the Client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of workmanship in the profession where applicable. PCL will use analytical methodologies which are in substantial conformity with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), CA state Board (CLAP), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM), Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC), Standard Methods (SM) of the Examination of Water and Wastewater, and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate due to the nature or composition of the samples or otherwise pursuant to the reasonable judgment of PCL. Deviations, if any, will be made on a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and/or our QA/QC policies. The total liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or subcontractors to the client arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided hereby shall not exceed the invoice amount for said services. Client's acceptance of a price quote and/or proposal releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in any client work order forms or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel perform the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the condition in which the samples are collected and for conditions at and around the sampling site and for advising PCL of this status and of information required to enable PCL to perform its services in a safe and efficient.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder subject to payment for all services rendered and out-of-pocket expenses incurred up to the date of such cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern over terms of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or by oral Client to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample materials furnished by client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public or to the same degree as client has filed to pay PCL for all services rendered or is otherwise in breach of the agreement) subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of such data where such standard was observed. PCL's reports and information provided thereto are for the exclusive use and benefit of client and client agrees that it shall be the sole party beneficiary of such reports. Data or information concerning testing or analysis, reports, invoices and all other communications.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent harmless from and against any and all liabilities, losses, damages, claims, demands, causes of action, suits and associated expenses including, but not limited to all court fees (the Litigation Expenses) and expenses arising in favor of Client or any third party as a result of, and/or in any way occurring incident to, arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or transportation, handling or disposal of client's hazardous materials. 1. Bodily injury and or death of persons 2. Loss of, damage to, loss of, or loss of use of property of any or all kinds or loss of every kind of character. This indemnity does not apply to any of the foregoing losses, costs, damages, or injuries caused solely by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall specifically apply to losses, injury damages, actions of every kind and character arising out of or in connection with the negligence of or breach of contract by any indemnified person, whether actual or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any liability which the indemnified party may have to PCL and the other indemnified persons. To the extent an action under applicable law client agrees that its indemnity obligation will not be supported by available liability insurance or the right to be furnished by client, which obligation shall be in the amount which is permitted under applicable law. Client waives any right to claim for business, production, opportunity, consequential damages, including without limitation, loss of profit or business, loss of use, litigation Expenses or other like damages, without limitation, attorneys' fees, court costs, and all other costs and judgment interest, or any other damages or costs incurred by client or any other party in any litigation against or involving PCL or any indemnified person in connection with this agreement or all services rendered under this agreement even if client or the foregoing party has been advised of the possibility of such damages.

11. Hazardous Substances

Unless PCL personnel are actually performing the sampling, client will provide and PCL will have no samples materials for analysis such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls, hazardous or any other dangerous toxic materials, except and unless PCL shall have specifically agreed in writing to perform such analysis. Client represents and warrants that it is aware of the hazardous nature of any materials to be delivered to PCL and that it will inform PCL in writing of the hazardous nature of any materials delivered to PCL prior to delivery. Client shall indemnify and hold PCL harmless from and against any and all claims, demands, causes of action, damages, losses, costs, expenses, fines and liabilities of every kind and character, including attorneys' fees and litigation expenses, asserted against or incurred by PCL at any time and which arise out of or are in any manner connected with the delivery, presence, existence, treatment, storage, release or disposal of any hazardous substance, hazardous waste, hazardous material, toxic substance, pollutant or contaminant in connection with any of the materials delivered to PCL by client or on client's behalf. Client shall comply with all applicable laws, rules and regulations of all federal, state and local governmental authorities having jurisdiction over the disposal of such materials and shall sign such manifests as may be required by PCL or any governmental authority. Client shall be responsible for all costs and expenses associated with the disposal of such materials. PCL reserves the right to return to client, at client's expense, any unused portion of samples or materials delivered to PCL by client. In the event the client does not timely, as preferred method of disposal, PCL will dispose of the client's unused samples and/or materials. Notwithstanding the foregoing, PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for analysis become property of the client and a chain of custody document for the sample submitted in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect at the time of execution on the date the services were rendered or with prices quoted and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment in advance or when analysis is completed is required for all new clients or upon a review of payment and/or credit account has been established with PCL. For those clients with an established credit account, the terms for payment of charges are NET CASH within thirty (30) days from date of invoices. To the fullest extent permitted by law and to apply at the law, any amount unpaid at the end of thirty (30) days is subject to interest at the lesser of the maximum rate permitted by law, or one and one half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balances. If unpaid amounts are collected through legal proceedings or by an attorney, the client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees or agency fees associated with such collection procedure or efforts.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to the terms shall be effective only in writing and executed by an officer of PCL and by clients authorized representative, except that subsequent orders for additional services may be verbal or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries: No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information, or reports furnished by PCL. Client is securing services hereunder for its own account, and not as agent or broker, or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity. It is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party may rely on such data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants and agrees that said data, information and reports are not requested, or shall be used to secure upon, in connection with or in any of the purchase, sale, underwriting, or distribution of any securities, any passage or other reporting to the holders of any securities, the securing, amount, net renewal, or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender or the certification to or confirming with directly or indirectly any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advance. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are delivered or scheduled or other factors not agreed to without prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed prior to any sampling being arranged by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to the client if requested. All analyses with holding times of 72 hours or less, sampled must arrive within 24 hours to allow PCL sufficient holding time. [illegible] holding times [illegible] 24 hours before expiration. Samples received [illegible] 24 hours before expiration may not be tested. Short holding times of 15 minutes or less (such as pH, Residual Chlorine) should be performed in the field by the client to guarantee holding times are met. After hours, due delivery, freight company delivery or courier delivery and [illegible] such fees and/or the inability to meet holding times. All holding times are verified as of the published date of this fee schedule and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are discarded forty-five (45) days after analysis has been completed. Samples that are no longer needed can be returned to client. Prior approval is required. Fees charged to client for storage, shipping and disposal at the end of the year arranged and [illegible]

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

All pick up/sampling fees have been included in the fee schedule. Reasonable time has been allocated for each one of our services. Unnecessary delays during the pick up or sampling may be accessed an additional fee.

Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

1. Definitions

"Terms and Conditions" means these Terms and Conditions of sale, including the price schedule, and any additions or amendments hereto which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity who has request laboratory services, consulting or sampling services and his or its heirs, successors, assigns and representatives. "Price Schedule" means Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule as such document may be amended or reissued from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services (all collectively, Services) only under the following General Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which does not incorporate the Terms. No modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the Client and PCL.

The client may order services by submitting a written chain of custody (COC) to PCL. Any such order constitutes (1) an acceptance by the client of PCL's offer to do business with the client under the terms and condition and (2) an agreement to be bound by these terms and conditions. The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or initiation of consulting services constitutes the client's express assent to be governed by these terms and conditions. No contrary or additional terms and conditions expressed in a client's document shall be deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of the terms and conditions.

For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of workmanship in the profession. Where applicable, PCL will use analytical methodologies which are in substantial conformity with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), CA Water Board (CLRP), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM), Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC), Standard Methods (SM), of the Examination of Water and Wastewater and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate due to the nature or compositions of the samples or otherwise based on the reasonable judgement of PCL. Deviations, if any, will be made on a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and/or our QA/QC policies. The total liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or successors to the client, arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided herein, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for said services. Client's acceptance of a work order and /or proposal releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in any client purchase orders or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel performs the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the condition which the samples are collected and for conditions in and about the sampling site and for advising PCL of the same and all information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder subject to payment for all services rendered and out-of-pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally, except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample materials provided by client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (save to such information as is generally available to the public or in the public domain or client is obligated to pay PCL for all services rendered or is otherwise in breach of the agreement) subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of said data where such standard was observed. PCL reports and information provided thereunder are for the exclusive use and benefit of client and client agrees there shall be no third party beneficiaries of such reports, data or information. Client shall not refer to any third party any information concerning technical information, calculations or other formulations.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent from and against any and all liabilities, losses or damages, claims, demands, causes of action, suits and associated expenses including, but not limited to, all costs, fees (by attorneys and experts) and awards accruing in favor of Client or any third party as a result of, and/or in any way occurring incident to, arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or to possession, handling or disposal of client's hazardous materials; 1. injury, disease or death of persons 2. loss of, damage to, loss of use of, or destruction of property and/or 3. financial loss of every kind or character. This indemnity does not apply to any of the foregoing listed costs, damages, or injuries caused solely by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall specifically apply to losses, claims, damages, actions of every kind and character arising out of or in connection with the negligence of or breach of contract by any indemnified Person, whether actual or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any liability which the client might otherwise have to PCL and the other indemnified Persons. To the extent necessary under applicable law, client agrees that its indemnity obligations will be supported by available liability insurance coverage to be furnished by client, which insurance shall be in the maximum amount permitted under applicable law. At no point shall PCL be liable to client for indirect, punitive, special, incidental or consequential damages (including, without limitation, loss of profit or business interruption), Litigation Expenses or, other fees (including, without limitation, attorney's fees, court costs, and out pre or post judgment interest), or any other expenses or costs incurred by client or any other party or any litigation against or involving PCL or any indemnified person in connection with this agreement or all services provided under this agreement even if client is the prevailing party.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by client, client will provide and PCL will receive samples materials for analyses such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls, bacteria or any other hazardous or toxic material, wastes and substances which are defined, determined or identified as such under federal, state or local laws, rules, PCL policies or regulations (whether now existing or hereafter enacted or promulgated or any judicial or administrative interpretation of any thereof (the "Hazardous Materials"). Client understands and agrees that any hazardous material received by PCL from client or at client's request shall remain the property of Client and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of all unused portions of samples as specified by client or by PCL's QA/QC policies. In the event the client does not specify its preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain Hazardous Materials. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all services received by PCL for analysis for hazardous wastes, client will be charged a sample disposal fee per sample submitted, in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect in the area of operations on the date the services were rendered or with prices quoted and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment in advance or when analysis is completed is required for all new clients or clients a history of payment and/or credit account has been established with PCL. For those clients with an established credit account, the terms for payment of charges are NET CASH within thirty (30) days from date of invoices. To the fullest extent permitted by law or by applicable law, any amount unpaid at the end of thirty (30) days is subject to interest at the lesser of the maximum rate permitted by law or one and one half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balance. If unpaid amounts are collected through legal proceedings or by an attorney, the client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees or agency fees associated with such collection procedures or efforts.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to the terms shall be effective only if in writing and executed by an officer of PCL and by clients authorized representative, except that subsequent orders for additional services may be verbal or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries: No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information, or reports furnished by PCL. Client in procuring services hereunder for his own account, and not as agent or broker, or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity. It is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party may rely on such data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that said data, information and reports are not requested, or shall be used, to relied upon, in connection with or as part of, the purchase, underwriting, or continuation of any securities, any periodic or other reporting to the holders of any securities, the securing, amendment, renewal, or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender or the certification to or contracting with, directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advanced. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are delivered on weekends or after 3pm on weekdays without prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed prior to any samples being received by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to the client if requested. All analyses with holding times of 14 days or less, samples must arrive within 96 hours to allow PCL to meet holding times without applying a rush surcharge. All short holding times, 72 hours, samples must arrive at the lab within 24 hours before weekend to ensure that the holding times can be met. Short Holding Times of 48 hours or less (bacteria is 8 hours) could be delivered that same day in order to guarantee holding times are met. After hours, late delivery, freight companies delays or similar issues are subject to additional rush fees and/or the inability to meet holding times. All holding times are in effect as of the publication date of this fee schedule and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are retained for at least thirty (30) days after analysis has been completed. Sample storage for longer periods is by request only. Pre-arranged long term storage is subject to an additional charge. Samples will be discarded at the end of the pre-arranged storage time.

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

All pick up/sampling fees have been noted on the fee schedule. Reasonable time has been allocated for each pick up or service. Unnecessary delays during the pick up or sampling might be accessed an additional fee.

Any such order constitutes 1. an acceptance by the client of PCL's offer to do business with the client under the terms and condition and 2. an agreement to be bound by these terms and conditions. The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or initiation of consulting services constitutes the client's express assent to be governed by these terms and conditions. No contrary or additional terms and conditions expressed in a client's document shall be deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of the terms and conditions.

For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of workmanship in the profession. Where applicable, PCL will use analytical methodologies which are in substantial conformity with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), CA Waterboard (CLAP), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM), Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC), Standard Methods (SM) of the Examination of Water and Wastewater and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate due to the nature or compositions of the samples or otherwise based on the reasonable judgement of PCL. Deviations, if any, will be made on a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) and/or our QA/QC policies. The total liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or successors to the client, arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided herein, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for such services. Client's acceptance of a work order and/or proposal releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in any client purchase orders or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel performs the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the condition which the samples are collected and for conditions in and about the sampling site and for advising PCL of the same and all information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder subject to payment for all services rendered and out-of-pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally, except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample materials provided by client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public or is the public domain or client has fail to pay PCL for all services rendered or is otherwise in breach of the agreement) subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of said data where such standard was observed. PCL reports and information provided thereon are for the exclusive use and benefit of client and client agrees there shall be no third party beneficiaries of such reports, data or information. Client will not disclose to any third party any information concerning technical information, software programs or other formulations.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent harmless from and against any and all liabilities, losses or damages, claims, demands, causes of action, suits and associated expenses including, but not limited to, attorneys fees (the Litigation Expenses) and awards arising in favor of Client or any third party as a result of, and/or in any way occurring incident to arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or transportation, handling or disposal of client's hazardous materials. 1. Injury, disease or death of persons 2. Loss or damage to, or loss of, or loss of use of property and or 3. Financial loss of every kind or character. This indemnity does not apply to any of the foregoing losses, suits, damages, or injuries caused solely by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall specifically apply to losses, claims damages, actions of every kind and character arising out of or in connection with the negligence of or breach of contract by any indemnified Person, whether actual or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any liability which the client might otherwise have to PCL and the other indemnified Persons. To the extent necessary under applicable law, client agrees that its indemnity obligations will be supported by available liability insurance coverage to be furnished by client, which insurance shall be in the maximum amounts permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable to client for indirect, punitive, special, incidental or consequential damages (including, without limitation, loss of profit or business interruption, Litigation Expenses or other fees (including, without limitation, attorney's fees, court costs, and the like or post judgment interest), or any other expenses or costs incurred by client or any other party in any litigation against or involving PCL or any indemnified person in connection with this agreement or any services provided under this agreement even if client is the prevailing party.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by client, client will provide and PCL will receive samples materials for analysis such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls, bacteria or any other hazardous or toxic materials, wastes and substances which are defined, determined or established as such under federal, state or local laws, rules. PCL agrees no legislation (whether now existing or hereafter enacted or promulgated) or any judicial or administrative interpretation of any thereof (the "Hazardous Materials") client understands and agrees that any hazardous material received by PCL from client or at client's request shall remain the property of client and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of all unused portions of samples as specified by client or to PCL's QA/QC policies. In the event the client does not specify its preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain Hazardous Materials. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for any/all bacterial analysis, client will be charged a sample disposal fee, per sample submitted, in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect at the time of operations on the date the services were rendered or with prices quoted and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment in advance or when analysis is completed is required for all new clients or when a history of payment and/or credit account has been established with PCL. For those clients with an established credit account, the terms for payment of charges are NET CASH within thirty (30) days from date of invoices. To the fullest extent permitted (if at all) by applicable law, any amount unpaid at the end of thirty (30) days is subject to interest at the lesser of the maximum rate permitted by law or one and one half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balances. If unpaid amounts are collected through legal proceedings or by an attorney, the client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees or agents' fees associated with such collection procedure or efforts.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to the terms shall be effective on in writing and executed by an officer of PCL and by clients authorized representative, except that subsequent orders for additional services may be verbal or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries: No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information, or reports furnished by PCL. Client is securing services hereunder for his own account, and not as agent or broker, or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity. It is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party may rely on such data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that said data, information and reports are not requested, or shall be used to relied upon, in connection with or as part of, the purchase, sale, underwriting, or distribution of any securities, any periodic or other reporting to the holders of any security, the securing, amendment, renewal, or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender or the certification to or contracting with, directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analysis are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advanced. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are delivered on weekends or after 3pm on weekdays without prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed prior to any samples being received by PCL. Short of holding times can be provided at the client if requested. All analyses with holding times of 14 days or less, samples must arrive within 96 hours to allow PCL to meet holding times without applying a rush surcharge. All short holding times, e.g. 7 days, we generally arrive at the lab within 24 hours before expiration to ensure that the holding times can be met. Short Holding Times of All tests or less that are 4 hours must be delivered must come day in order to guarantee holding times are met. After hours, late deliveries, freight company delays or similar issues are subject to additional rush fees and/or the inability to meet holding times. All holding times are in effect as of the publication date of this fee schedule and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are retained for an approximately (30) days after analysis has been completed. Sample storage for longer periods is by request only. The arranged long term storage is subject to an additional charge. Samples will be disposed of at the end of the pre-arranged storage time.

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

All pick up/sampling fees have been included on the fee schedule. Reasonable time has been allocated for each pick up or service. Unnecessary delays during the pick up or sampling might be assessed an additional fee.

Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

1. Definitions

"Terms and Conditions" means these Terms and Conditions of sale, including any price schedules, and any additions or amendments thereto which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity who may request laboratory services, including all sampling services and the officers, employees, assigns and representatives. "Price Schedule" means Pat Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule as such document may be amended or revised from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services (as defined herein) only under the following General Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which does not incorporate the Terms. No modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the Client and PCL.

The client may enter services by submitting a written chain of custody (COC) to PCL. Any such order constitutes 1. an acceptance by the client of PCL's offer to do business with the client under the terms and conditions and 2. an agreement to be bound by these terms and conditions. The client's delivery of samples to PCL or initiation of consulting services constitutes the client's express assent to be governed by these terms and conditions. No contrary or additional terms and conditions expressed in a client's document shall be binding to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of the terms and conditions.

For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of workmanship in the profession. Where applicable, PCL will use analytical methodologies which are in substantial conformity with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), CA Water Board (CAWB), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM), Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC), Standard Methods (SM) of the Examination of Water and Wastewater, and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate due to the nature or compositions of the samples or other issue based on the reasonable judgement of PCL Services. If any will be made on a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and/or our QA/QC policies. The total liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or representatives to the client, arising out of or in connection with its services to the client, shall not exceed the lesser of the amount paid by the client for the services or the sum of $5,000.00. Client acceptance of the services constitutes client's agreement to these limitations of liability.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL performs collection of the samples, the client shall be responsible for the condition when the samples are collected and for directions in writing about the sampling and analysis, allowing PCL of the same and all information or materials to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder subject to payments for all services rendered and all of certain expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that these Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally, except to the extent that these Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for costs or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample materials provided by client or on client's behalf, and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public or is in public domain or client has filed to allay PCL has an obligation rendered in contravention or breach of the agreement) subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of such data where such standard was observed. PCL reports and information provided thereon are for the exclusive use and benefit of client and client's agents only. It shall not be a third party beneficiary of such reports. Except as otherwise stated, client will not disclose to any third party, any information concerning testing performed, without prior written consent of PCL.

10. Hold Harmless

Client agrees to and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent harmless from and against any and all liabilities, losses or damages, claims, demands, causes of action, suits and associated expenses including, but not limited to, court fees (the obligation it expresses and exemplifies arising in favor of Client or any third party as a result of, and/or in any way occurring incident to, arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or transportation, handling or disposal of client's hazardous materials. It shall include, but not be limited to, death of persons, injury to, loss of, or damage to property, and/or damage to the environment or loss of use thereof, or any kind of character. The indemnity does not apply to any of the foregoing to the extent such are caused by injuries caused solely by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall specifically apply to claims, claims damages, actions of every kind and character arising out of or in connection with the negligence of or breach of contract by any unidentified Person, whether actual or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to, and not in lieu of, any other indemnities set forth in this agreement between PCL and the client or elsewhere between the parties. To the extent that any such indemnification shall be deemed to be insufficient, void or unenforceable for any reason, then such indemnification shall be apportioned by applicable law in the proportion that the fault of the indemnifying party bears to the fault of the indemnified party, as determined by applicable law. Nothing herein shall be construed to limit the liability of PCL to client for damages resulting from PCL's negligence, willful misconduct or breach of contract. Client agrees to defend, indemnify and hold harmless PCL and any of its officers, directors, employees, agents, affiliates, successors and assigns from and against any and all claims, losses, liabilities, damages, costs and expenses (including but not limited to attorneys' fees and costs and consultant fees) arising out of or in connection with any claim or cause of action asserted against PCL or any of its officers, directors, employees, agents, affiliates, successors and assigns by any third party (including, but not limited to, governmental agencies) that arises out of, results from, or is based upon (i) the failure of client to perform any of its obligations under this agreement, or (ii) any act or omission of client, its employees, agents or subcontractors in connection with this agreement, or (iii) any breach by client of any of its representations or warranties contained in this agreement.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to conduct the services requested by client, client will provide and PCL will receive complete materials safety data sheets, or other documentation identifying any known or suspected hazardous, toxic or dangerous properties or characteristics of materials, wastes and substances which are delivered to PCL for testing or which PCL will encounter in performing services at client's site. Client will inform PCL of any precautions necessary in handling or disposing of such materials. Client will indemnify and hold harmless PCL from any claims, liabilities, damages, costs and expenses arising out of or in any way related to the existence or presence of such hazardous materials on client's site or the removal, handling or disposal of such materials by PCL or any authorized person in connection with this agreement, in addition, to the extent required by applicable law, client shall arrange for the proper disposal of all samples and materials provided to PCL for testing, and all samples and materials resulting from PCL's testing, in accordance with all applicable laws, rules and regulations. Client shall be responsible for all costs associated with the proper disposal of such samples and materials.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect at the time of quotation or the date the services were rendered or with prices quoted and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment in advance or when an order is completed is required for all new clients or upon a formula of payment and/or credit accounts have been established with PCL. For those clients with an established credit account, the terms for payment of charges are NET CASH within thirty (30) days from date of invoice. To the fullest extent permitted (if at all) by applicable law, any amount unpaid at the end of thirty (30) days is subject to interest at the lesser of the maximum rate permitted by law or one and one-half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balances. If unpaid amounts are collected through legal proceedings or by an attorney, the client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees in addition

Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

1. Definitions

"Terms and Conditions" means these Terms and Conditions of sale, including the price schedule, and any additions or amendments hereto which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity who may request laboratory services, consulting or sampling services and his or its heirs, successors, assigns and representatives. "Price Schedule" means Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule as such document may be amended or reissued from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services (as defined herein) only under the following General Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which does not incorporate the Terms. No modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the client and PCL.

The client may order services by submitting a written chain of custody (COC) to PCL. Any such order constitutes 1. an acceptance by the client of PCL's offer to do business with the client under the terms and condition and 2. an agreement to be bound by these terms and conditions. The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or initiation of consulting services constitutes the client's express assent to be governed by those terms and conditions. No contrary or additional terms and conditions expressed in a client's document shall be deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of the terms and conditions.

For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of workmanship in the profession. Where applicable, PCL will use analytical methodologies which are in substantial conformity with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), CA Waterboard (ELAP), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM), Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC), Standard Methods (SM) of the Examination of Water and Wastewater and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate due to the nature or compositions of the samples or otherwise based on the reasonable judgement of PCL. Deviations, if any, will be made on a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and/or our QA/QC policies. The total liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or successors to the client, arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided herein, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for said services. Client's acceptance of a work order and/or proposal releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in any client purchase orders or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel performs the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the condition which the samples are collected and for conditions in and about the sampling site and for advising PCL of the same and all information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder subject to payment for all services rendered and out-of-pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally, except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample materials provided by client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public or in the public domain or client has failed to pay PCL for all services rendered or is otherwise in breach of the agreement), subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of said data where such standard was observed. PCL reports and information provided thereunder are for the exclusive use and benefit of client and client agrees there shall be no third party beneficiaries of such reports, data or information. Client will not disclose to any third party any information concerning technical information, software programs or other communications.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent harmless from and against any and all expenses, losses or damages, claims, suits and/or causes of action, costs and associated expenses including, but not limited to, all court fees, litigation expenses, and awards arising in favor of Client or any third party as a result of, and/or in any way occurring incident to arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or client's retaining, handling or disposal of client's hazardous materials: 1. injury, disease or death of persons 2. loss of, damage to, loss of, or loss of use of property and/or 3. financial loss of every kind or character. This indemnity does not apply to any of the foregoing losses, costs, damages, or injuries caused solely by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall specifically apply to losses, claims, damages, actions of every kind and character arising out of or in connection with the negligence of or breach of contract by any Indemnified Person, whether actual or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any liability which the client might otherwise have to PCL and the other Indemnified Persons. To the extent necessary under applicable law, Client agrees that its indemnity obligations will be supported by available assets, insurance or surety to be furnished by Client, which insurance shall be in the maximum amounts permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable to client for indirect, punitive, special, incidental or consequential damages including, without limitation, loss of profit or business, client claims, litigation expenses or other fees (including, without limitation, attorney's fees, court costs, and fees in post judgment interest), or any other expenses or costs incurred by client or any other party in any litigation against or involving PCL or any indemnified person in connection with this agreement or any services provided under this agreement even if client is the prevailing party.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by client, client will provide and PCL will receive samples that are to be analyzed such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls (PCBs) or any other hazardous or toxic material, waste and substances which are defined, determined or identified as such under federal, state or local laws. Many PCL policies and regulations (whether now existing or hereafter enacted or promulgated) or any judicial or administrative interpretation of any thereof (the "Hazardous Materials"). Client understands and agrees that any hazardous material received by PCL from client or at client's request shall remain the property of Client and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of all unused portions of samples as specified by client or by PCL's QA/QC policies. In the event the client does not specify its preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain Hazardous Materials. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for any of bacterial analysis, client will be charged a sample disposal fee, per sample submitted, in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect at the time of operations on the date the services were rendered or such price is quoted and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment in advance or when analysis is completed is required for all new clients or until a history of payment and/or credit account has been established with PCL. For those clients with an established credit account, the terms for payment of charges are NET CASH within thirty (30) days from date of invoices. To the fullest extent permitted (if at all) by applicable law, any amount unpaid at the end of thirty (30) days is subject to interest at the lesser of the maximum rate permitted by law or one and one half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balances. If unpaid amounts are collected through legal proceedings or by an attorney, the client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees or agents' fees associated with such collection procedure or action.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to the terms shall be effective only in writing and executed by an officer of PCL and by client's authorized representative, except that subsequent orders for additional services may be verbal or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries: No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information, or reports furnished by PCL. Client is acquiring services hereunder for his own account, and not as agent or broker, or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity. It is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party may rely on such data, information or reports. Client recognizes, warrants, and agrees that said data, information and reports are not requested, or shall be used to relied upon in connection with or as part of, the purchase, sale, underwriting, or distribution of any securities, any periodic or other reporting to the holders of any securities, the securing, amendment, renewal, or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender of the certification to or contracting with, directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advanced. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are delivered on weekends or after 3pm on weekdays without prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed prior to any samples being received by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to the client if requested. All analyses with holding times of 24 days or less, samples must arrive within 36 hours to allow PCL to meet holding times without applying a rush surcharge. All short holding times, 2 days, samples must arrive at the lab within 24 hours before expiration to ensure that the holding times can be met. Short holding times of 48 hours or less (bacteria) is it found or discovered that same day or order to guarantee holding times are met. After hours, late delivery, freight problems delays or similar issues are subject to additional rush fees and/or the inability to meet holding times. All holding times are in effect as of the publication date of this fee schedule and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are retained for at least thirty (30) days after analysis has been completed. Sample storage for longer periods is by request only. For arranged long term storage is subject to an additional charge. Samples will be disposed at the end of the pre-arranged storage time.

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

All pick up/sampling fees have been included on the fee schedule. Reasonable time has been allocated for each pick up or service. Unnecessary delays during the pick up or sampling might be assessed an additional fee.

Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

1. Definitions

"Terms and Conditions" means these Terms and Conditions of sale, including the price schedule, and any additions or amendments hereto which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity who may request laboratory services, consulting or sampling services and his or its heirs, successors, assigns and representatives. "Price Schedule" means Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule as such document may be amended or re-issued from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services (as defined herein) only under the following General Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which does not incorporate the Terms. No modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the Client and PCL.

The Client may order services by submitting a written chain of custody (COC) to PCL. Any such order constitutes 1. an acceptance by the client of PCL's offer to do business with the client under the terms and conditions and 2. an agreement to be bound by these terms and conditions. The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or initiation of consulting services constitutes the client's express assent to be governed by these terms and conditions. No boilerplate or additional terms and conditions expressed in a client's document shall be deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of the terms and conditions.

For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of workmanship in the profession. Where applicable, PCL will use analytical methodologies which are in substantial conformity with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), CA Waterboard (ELAP), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM), Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC), Standard Methods (SM) of the Examination of Water and Wastewater and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate due to the nature or compositions of the samples or otherwise based on the reasonable judgement of PCL. Deviations, if any, will be made on a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and/or our QA/QC policies. The total liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or successors to the client arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided herein, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for said services. Client's acceptance of a work order and /or proposal releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in any client purchase orders or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel performs the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the condition which the samples are collected and for conditions in and about the sampling site and for advising PCL of the same and all information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder subject to payment for all services rendered and out-of-pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally, except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the samples materials provided by client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public, is in the public domain or client has failed to pay PCL for all services rendered) and in connection is breach of the agreement (subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process). PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of said data where such standard was observed. PCL reports and information provided thereto are for the exclusive use and benefit of client and client agrees there shall be no third party beneficiary of such reports, data or information. Client will not disclose to any third party any information concerning testing, information, software, processes or other presentations.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent harmless from and against any and all liabilities, losses or damages, claims, demands, causes of action, suits and any and all expenses, including, but not limited to, all court fees, litigation, arbitration and awards arising in favor of Client or any third parties as a result of, and/or in any way resulting, incident to, arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or transportation, handling or disposal of client's hazardous materials, e.g., by reason of death of persons, 2. Loss of, damage to, loss of, or loss of use of property, and/or 3. Breach of legal duty of any kind, of character. This indemnity (hereinafter sometimes referred to as "claims") shall apply, whether or not such claims shall be caused in part by the negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall particularly apply to claims, demands, causes of action of every kind and character arising out of or in connection with the negligence of or breach of contract by any Indemnified Person, whether actual or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any liability which the client might otherwise have to PCL and the other indemnified persons. To the extent necessary under applicable law, Client agrees that its indemnity obligation will be supported by available liability insurance coverage to be furnished by client, which insurance shall be in the maximum amounts permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable to client for indirect, punitive, special, incidental or consequential damages including, without limitation, loss of profit or business interruption, Litigation Expenses or other fees including, without limitation, attorney's fees, court costs, and /or pre or post judgment interest), or any other expenses or costs incurred by client or any other party in any litigation against or involving PCL or any indemnified person in connection with this agreement or all services provided under this agreement even if client is the prevailing party.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by client, client will provide and PCL will receive samples materials for analysis such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls, bacteria or any other hazardous or toxic material, wastes and substances which are defined, determined or identified as such under federal, state or local laws, rules, PCL policies or regulations (whether now existing or hereafter enacted or promulgated or any judicial or administrative interpretation of any thereof (the "Hazardous Materials"). Client understands and agrees that any hazardous material received by PCL from client or at client's request shall remain the property of Client and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of all unused portions of samples as specified by client or by PCL's QA/QC policies. In the event the client does not specify its preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain Hazardous Materials. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for any/all bacterial analysis, client will be charged a sample disposal fee per sample submitted, in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect at the time of specification of the date the services were rendered or such other quoted and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment in advance or where analysis is completed is required for all new clients or until a history of payment and/or credit account has been established with PCL. For those clients with an established credit account, the terms for payment of charges are NET CASH within thirty (30) days from date of invoice. To the fullest extent permitted by all applicable law, any amount unpaid at the end of thirty (30) days is subject to interest at the lower of One and one half percent (1.5%) per month or the highest allowable rate allowed annually or such lower rate as may be agreed to by an attorney. The client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees in addition, fees associated with any collection procedure or efforts.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to the terms shall be effective only if in writing and executed by an officer of PCL and/or their authorized representative, except that subsequent orders for additional services may be verbal or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries: No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information or reports furnished by PCL. Client is including (without limitation) for its own account, and not as agent or broker, or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity, it is agreed and acknowledged that they are not third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party may rely on such data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that said data, information and reports are not intended to, or shall be used to resell upon in connection with or as part of the purchase, sale, underwriting, or distribution of any securities, any persons, or other recipient by the holders of any security, the securing, amendment, renewal, or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender or the certification to or contracting with, directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advanced. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are delivered on weekends or after 3pm on weekdays without prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed prior to any samples being received by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to the client if requested. All analytes with holding times of 24 days or less, samples must arrive within 96 hours to allow PCL to meet holding times without applying a rush surcharge. All short holding times, 2-7 days, samples must arrive at the lab no less 72 hours before expiration to ensure that the holding times can be met. Short Holding Times of 48 hours or less (Coliforms is 6 hours) must be delivered that same day in order to guarantee holding times are met. After hours, late delivery, freight company delays or similar issues are subject to additional rush fees and/or the inability to meet holding times. All holding times are in effect as of the publication date of this fee schedule and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are retained for at least thirty (30) days after analysis has been completed. Sample storage for longer periods is by request only. Pre-arranged long term storage is subject to an additional charge. Samples will be discarded at the end of the pre-arranged storage time.

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

All pick up/sampling fees have been outlined on the fee schedule. Reasonable time has been allocated for each pick up or service. Unnecessary delays during the pick up or sampling might be assessed an additional fee.

Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

1. Definitions

"Terms and Conditions" means these Terms and Conditions of sale, including the price schedule, and any additions or amendments hereto which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity who may request laboratory services consulting or sampling services and his or its heirs, successors, assigns and representatives. "Price Schedule" means Pat Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule as such document may be amended or revised from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services (as defined herein) only under the following General Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which does not incorporate the Terms. No modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the Client and PCL.

The client may order services by submitting a written client purchase order ("PO") to PCL. Any such order constitutes 1. an acceptance by the client of PCL's offer to do business with the client under the terms and condition and 2. an agreement to be bound by these terms and conditions. The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or initiation of consulting services constitutes the Client's express assent to be governed by these terms and conditions. No contrary or additional terms and conditions expressed in a client's document shall be deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of the terms and conditions.

For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the Client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of workmanship in the profession. Where applicable, PCL will use analytical methodologies which are in substantial conformity with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA); CA Waterboard (ELAP), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM); Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC); Standard Methods (SM) of the Examination of Water and Wastewater and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate due to the nature of compositions of the samples or otherwise based on the reasonable judgement of PCL. Deviations, if any, will be made on a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and/or our QA/QC policies. The total liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or successors to the client, arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided herein, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for said services. Client's acceptance of a work order and/or proposal releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in any client purchase orders or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel performs the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the condition which the samples are collected and for conditions in and about the sampling site and for advising PCL of the same and all information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder subject to payment for all services rendered and out-of-pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally, except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample materials provided by client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public or is the public domain or client has filed or pay PCL for all services rendered or is otherwise in breach of the agreement) subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of said data unless such standard was observed. PCL reports and information provided thereto are for the exclusive use and benefit of client and client agrees there shall be no third party beneficiary of such reports, data or information. Client will not disclose to any third party any information concerning technical information, test work programs or other formulations.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent harmless from and against any and all claims, losses or damages, actions, demands, causes of action, costs and associated expenses including, but not limited to all court fees (the Litigation Expenses) and awards arising in favor of Client or any third party as a result of and/or in any way occurring incident to arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement as due to accumulation, handling, or disposal of client's hazardous materials: 1. injury, disease or death of persons 2. loss of, damage to, loss of, or use of, or destruction of property and or 3. Economic loss of every kind or character. This indemnity does not apply to any of the foregoing losses, costs, damages, or injuries caused solely by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall specifically apply to losses, claims, damages, actions of every kind and character arising out of or in connection with the negligence of or breach of contract by any Indemnified Person, whether it be or alleged. In the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any liability which the client might otherwise have to PCL and the other indemnified Persons. To the extent necessary under applicable law, client agrees that its indemnity obligations will be supported by available liability insurance coverage to be furnished by client, which insurance shall be in the maximum amounts permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable to client for incidental, punitive, special, consequential or consequential damages (including, without limitation, loss of profits or business interruption), Litigation Expenses or attorneys fees (including, without limitation, attorney's fees, court costs, and for pre or post judgment interest), or any other expenses or costs incurred by client or any other party, in any litigation against or involving PCL or any indemnified person in connection with this agreement or as services provided under this agreement even if client is the prevailing party.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by client, client will provide and PCL will receive samples materials for analyses such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls, bacteria or any other hazardous or toxic material, wastes and substances which are defined, determined or identified as such under federal, state or local laws, rules, PCL policies or regulations (whether now existing or hereafter enacted or promulgated) or any judicial or administrative interpretation of any from and the "Hazardous Materials". Client understands and agrees that any hazardous material received by PCL from client or at client's request shall remain the property of Client and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of all unused portions of samples as specified by client or by PCL's QA/QC policies. In the event the client does not specify its preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain Hazardous Materials. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for any/all bacterial analyses, client will be charged a sample disposal fee, per sample submitted, in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect at the time of quotation on the date the services were performed or with prices quoted and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment in advance or when analysis is completed is required for all new clients or until a history of payment and/or credit account has been established with PCL. For those clients with an established credit account, the terms for payment of charges are NET CASH within thirty (30) days from date of invoices. To the fullest extent permitted by law, any amount unpaid at the end of thirty (30) days is subject to interest at the lesser of the maximum rate permitted by law or one and one half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balances. If unpaid amounts are collected through legal proceedings or by an attorney, the client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees or agents' fees associated with such collection procedure or efforts.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to the terms shall be effective only in writing and executed by an officer of PCL and by client's authorized representative, except that subsequent orders for additional services may be verbal or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries: No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information, or reports furnished by PCL. Client is acquiring services hereunder for its own account, and not as agent or broker, or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity. It is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party may rely on such data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that said data, information and reports are not requested, or shall be used to rely upon, in connection with or as part of, the purchase, sale, underwriting, or distribution of any securities, any periodic or other reporting to the holders of any securities, the securing, amendment, renewal, or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender or the certification to or contracting with directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advanced. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are delivered on weekends or after 5pm on weekdays without prior notifications and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed prior to any samples being received by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to the client if requested. All analyses with holding times of 14 days or less, samples must arrive within 96 hours to allow PCL to meet holding times without applying a rush surcharge. All short holding times, 7 days, samples must arrive at the lab within 24 hours before expiration to insure that the holding times can be met. Short Holding Times of 48 hours or less (bacteria) it is highly recommended that same day or overnight to guarantee holding times are met. After hours, late delivery, freight company delays or courier issues are subject to additional rush fees and/or the inability to meet holding times. All holding times are in effect as of the publication date of this fee schedule and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are retained for at least thirty (30) days after analysis has been completed. Sample storage for longer periods is by request only. Pre-arranged long term storage is subject to an additional charge. Samples will be discarded at the end of the pre-arranged storage time.

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

All pick up/sampling fees have been included on the fee schedule. Reasonable time has been allocated for each pick up or service. Unnecessary delays during the pick up or sampling, might be assessed an additional fee.

Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

1. Definitions

"Terms and Conditions" means these Terms and Conditions of sale, including the price schedule, and any additions or amendments hereto which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity who may request laboratory services, including an employee, servant and his or its heirs, executors, assigns and representatives. "Price Schedule" means Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule as such document may be amended or reissued from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services (as defined herein) only under the following General Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which does not incorporate the Terms. No modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the Client and PCL.

The client may order services by submitting a verified chain of custody (COC) to PCL. Any such order constitutes 1. an acceptance by the client of PCL's offer to do business with the client under the terms and condition and 2. an agreement to be bound by these terms and conditions.

The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or in relation of consulting services constitutes the Client's express assent to be governed by these terms and conditions. No contrary or additional terms and conditions expressed in a client's document shall be deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of the terms and conditions.

For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of workmanship in the profession. Where applicable, PCL will use analytical methodologies which are in substantial conformity with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), 40 CFR Parts 136 and 141, the American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM), Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC), Standard Methods (SM) for the Examination of Water and Wastewater and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate due to the nature or composition of the samples or otherwise based on the reasonable judgement of PCL. Deviations, if any, will be made on a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and/or our QA/QC policies. The responsibility of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or servants to the client, arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided herein, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for said services. Client's acceptance of a work order and/or proposal releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services hereof including any provisions to the contrary in any client purchase orders or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel performs the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the conditions which the samples are collected and for conditions in and about the sampling site and for advising PCL of the same and of information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder (other) to payment for all services rendered and out-of-pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's order under any accepted orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally, except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the samples materials provided by Client or at Client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public or is the prior property of Client has filed to pay PCL for all services rendered or is otherwise in pursuit of the agreement) subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of said data where such standard was observed. PCL reports and information provided thereunder are for the exclusive use and benefit of client and nothing herein shall be no third party beneficiary of all agreements. Data or information Client is not disclose to any third party any information concerning technical information, software programs or other formulations.

10. Hold Harmless

Client release, and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent harmless from and against any and all actions, losses or damages, claims, demands, causes of action, suits and associated expenses including, but not limited to, all court fees, litigation, counsel and awards arising in favor of Client or any third party as a result of, and/or in any way occurring incident to arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services. b. PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or transportation handling, or disposal of client's hazardous materials. 1. Injury, disease or death of persons 2. Loss of, damage to, loss of, or loss of use of property and or 3. Financial loss of every kind of character. Risk, indemnity does not apply to any of the foregoing losses, costs, damages, or injuries caused solely by the gross negligence or wilful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall specifically apply to losses, claim damages, actions of every kind and character arising out of or in connection with the negligence of or breach of contract by any subcontractor hereof, whether actual or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any liability which the client might otherwise have to PCL and the other indemnified persons. To the extent necessary under applicable law, client agrees that all indemnity obligations will be supported by available liability insurance of the type to be purchased by client, which insurance shall be in the minimum amounts customary under appropriate law. Nothing herein shall PCL be liable to client for indirect, punitive, special, consequential or incidental damages (including without limitation, loss of profits or business interruption, litigation expenses or court fees (including without limitation attorney's fees, court costs, and cost of in-house judgment interest), or any other expenses incurred by client or any other party in any litigation against or involving PCL or any indemnified person in connection with this agreement, or any services provided under this agreement even if client is advised of the possibility of such damages.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services hereunder, client will provide PCL with reasonable samples material for analysis (such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls (PCBs) or any other hazardous or toxic materials, wastes and substances which are defined, listed or regulated as such under federal, state or local law, rules or regulations (together, "Hazardous Substances"). Client represents, warrants and agrees that it will comply with all applicable laws, rules, regulations and ordinances relating to the handling, storage, transportation, disposal and use of Hazardous Substances. Client will inform PCL in writing of the presence or suspected presence of any Hazardous Substances in any samples submitted to PCL for analysis or testing. Client will indemnify, defend and hold harmless PCL from and against any and all claims, losses, damages, liabilities and expenses (including reasonable attorneys' fees and costs of investigation and defense) which may arise out of or result from Client's failure to comply with the provisions of this Section 11

Rev 2 Effective 5/1/17

Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

1. Definitions

"Terms and Conditions" means these Terms and Conditions of sale, including the price schedule, and any additions or amendments hereto which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity who may request laboratory services, consulting or sampling services and his or its heirs, successors, assigns and representatives. "Price Schedule" means Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule as such document may be amended or reissued from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services (as defined herein) only under the following General Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which does not incorporate the Terms. No modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the client and PCL.

The client may order services by submitting a written Chain of Custody (COC) to PCL. Any such order constitutes 1. an acceptance by the client of PCL's offer to do business with the client under the terms and conditions and 2. an agreement to be bound by these terms and conditions.

The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or initiation of consulting services constitutes the client's express assent to be governed by these terms and conditions. No contrary or additional terms and conditions expressed in a client's document shall be deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of the terms and conditions.

For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of workmanship in the profession. Where applicable, PCL will use analytical methodologies which are in substantial conformity with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), CA Waterboard (ELAP), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM), Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC), Standard Methods (SM) of the Examination of Water and Wastewater and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate due to the nature or compositions of the samples or otherwise based on the reasonable judgement of PCL. Deviations, if any, will be made on a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and/or our QA/QC policies. The total liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or successors to the client, arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided herein, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for said services. Client's acceptance of a work order and /or proposal releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in any client purchase orders or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel performs the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the condition which the samples are collected and for conditions in and about the sampling site and for advising PCL of the same and all information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder subject to payment for all services rendered and out-of-pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally, except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample materials provided by client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public, or in the public domain, or client has failed to pay PCL for all services rendered or is otherwise in breach of the agreement) subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of said data where such standard was observed. PCL reports and information provided thereto are for the exclusive use and benefit of client and client agrees there shall be no third party beneficiary of such reports, data or information. Client will not disclose to any third party any information concerning technical information, software problems or other formulations.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent harmless from and against any and all liabilities, losses, damages, claims, demands, causes of action, suits and reasonable expenses, including, but not limited to, all court fees, litigation expenses and lawyers' fees arising in favor of Client or any third party as a result of, and/or in any way occurring, incident to arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or transportation, handling or disposal of client's hazardous materials. 1. Injury, disease or death of persons 2. Loss of, damage to, loss of, or loss of use of property and or 3. Financial loss of every kind or character. This indemnity does not apply to any of the foregoing losses, suits, damages or liabilities caused solely by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, the indemnity shall specifically apply to losses, claims damages, actions of every kind and character arising out of or in connection with the negligence of or breach of contract by any indemnified person, whether actual or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any liability which the client might otherwise have to PCL and the other indemnified persons. To the extent necessary under applicable law, client agrees that its indemnity obligations will be supported by available liability insurance coverage to be furnished by client, which insurance shall be in the maximum amounts permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable to client for indirect, punitive special, incidental or consequential damages including without limitation, loss of profit or business interruption, Litigation Expenses or other fees including, without limitation, attorney's fees, court costs, and pre or post judgment interest), or any other expenses or costs incurred by client or any other party in any litigation against or involving PCL or any indemnified person in connection with this agreement or all services provided under this agreement even if client or the prevailing party.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by client, client will provide and PCL will receive samples or materials for analyses such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls, bacteria or any other hazardous or toxic material, wastes and substances which are defined, determined or identified as such under federal, state or local laws, rules, PCL policies or regulations (whether now existing or hereafter enacted or promulgated or any judicial or administrative interpretation of any thereof (the "Hazardous Materials"). Client understands and agrees that any hazardous material received by PCL from client or at client's request shall remain the property of Client and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of all unused portions of samples as specified by client or by PCL's QA/QC policies. In the event the client does not specify its preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain Hazardous Materials. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for any/all bacterial analysis, client will be charged a sample disposal fee per sample submitted, in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect in the area of operations on the date the services were rendered or such prices quoted and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment of all sums in which a dispute is not raised is required for all new clients or until a history of payment and/or credit acceptance has been established with PCL. For clients (if any) with an established credit account, the terms of payment are NET CASH within thirty (30) days from date of invoice. To the fullest extent permitted (if at all) by applicable law, any amount unpaid at the end of thirty (30) days is subject to interest at the lesser of the maximum rate permitted by law or one and one half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balances. If unpaid amounts are collected through legal proceedings or by an attorney, the client shall pay to reimburse costs and attorney's fees or agents' fees associated with such collection procedure or effort.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to the terms shall be effective only in writing and executed by an officer of PCL and its client authorized representative. Unless that subsequent orders for additional services may be verbal or written.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries; No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information, or reports furnished by PCL. Client (in securing services hereunder for his own account, and not as agent or broker for or any other representative capacity for any other person or entity) is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party may rely on such data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that said data, information and reports are not requested, or shall be used to relied upon, in connection with or as part of the purchase, sale, underwriting, or distribution of any securities, any person, or other reference to the holders of any security, the securing, amendment, renewal, or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender or the certification to or contracting with, directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advanced. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are delivered on weekends or after 2pm on weekdays without prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed prior to any samples being received by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to the client if requested. All analyses with holding times of 14 days or less. Samples must arrive within 96 hours to allow PCL to meet holding times without applying a rush surcharge. All short holding times (2-7 days), samples must arrive at the lab within 24 hours before expiration to ensure that the holding times can be met. Short Holding Times of 48 hours or less (pH and 15 hour) must be delivered that same day in order to guarantee holding times are met. After hours, late delivery, freight company delays or similar issues are subject to additional rush fees and/or the inability to meet holding times. All holding times are in effect as of the publication date of this fee schedule and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are retained for at least thirty (30) days after analysis has been completed. Sample storage for longer periods is by request only. Pre-arranged long term storage is subject to an additional charge. Samples will be discarded at the end of the pre-arranged storage time.

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

All pick up/sampling fees have been noted on the fee schedule. Reasonable time has been allocated for each pick up or service. Unnecessary delays during the pick up or sampling, might be assessed an additional fee.

Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

1. Definitions

"Terms and Conditions" means these Terms and Conditions of sale, including the price schedule, and any additions or amendments hereto which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity who may request laboratory services, consulting or sampling services and his or its heirs, successors, assigns and representatives. "Price Schedule" means Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule or such document may be amended or reissued from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services (as defined herein) only under the following General Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which does not incorporate the Terms. No modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the client and PCL.

The client may order services by submitting a written chain of custody (COC) to PCL. Any such order constitutes 1. an acceptance by the client of PCL's offer to do business with the client under the terms and condition and 2. an agreement to be bound by these terms and conditions. The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or initiation of consulting services constitutes the client's express assent to be governed by these terms and conditions. No contrary or additional terms and conditions expressed in a client's document shall be deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of the terms and conditions.

For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of workmanship in the profession. Where applicable, PCL will use analytical methodologies which are in substantial conformity with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), EA Waterboard (ELAP), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM) Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC), Standard Methods (SM) of the Examination of Water and Wastewater and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate due to the nature or composition of the samples or otherwise based on the reasonable judgement of PCL. Deviations, if any, will be made on a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and/or our QA/QC policies. The total liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or successors to the client arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided herein, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for said services. Client's acceptance of a work order and /or proposal releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in any client purchase orders or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel performs the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the condition which the samples are collected and for conditions in and about the sampling site and for advising PCL of the same and all information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder subject to payment for all services rendered and out-of-pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally, except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample materials provided by client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public or is the public domain or client has filed to pay PCL for all services rendered or is otherwise in breach of the agreement) subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of said data where such standard was observed. PCL reports and information provided thereon are for the exclusive use and benefit of client and client agrees there shall be no third party beneficiaries of such reports, data or information. Client will not disclose to any third party any information concerning technical information, software programs or other formulations.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent harmless from and against any and all liabilities, losses, damages, claims, demands, causes of action, suits and associated expenses, including, but not limited to all court fees (the Litigation Expenses), and awards arising in favor of Client or any third party as a result of, and/or in any way occurring incident to, arising out of, or in connection with, the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this Agreement and/or transportation, handling or disposal of client's materials and materials. 1. Injury, disease or death of persons 2. Loss of, damage to, loss of, or loss of use of property and or 3. Financial loss of every kind of character. This indemnity does not apply to any of the foregoing losses, costs, damages, or injuries caused solely by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall specifically apply to losses, claims damages, actions of every kind and character arising out of or in connection with the negligence of or breach of contract by any Indemnified Person, whether actual or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any liability which the client might otherwise have to PCL and the other Indemnified Persons. To the extent necessary under applicable law, client agrees that its indemnity obligation will be supported by available liability insurance coverage to be furnished by client, which insurance shall be in the maximum amounts permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable to client for indirect, punitive, special, incidental or consequential damages, including, without limitation, loss of profit or business interruption, Litigation Expenses or other fees (including, without limitation, attorney's fees, court costs, and/or pre or post judgment interest), or any other expenses or costs incurred by client or any other party in any litigation against or involving PCL or any indemnified person in connection with this agreement or all services provided under this agreement even if client is the prevailing party.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by client, client will provide and PCL will receive samples materials for analyses such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls, bacteria or any other hazardous or toxic material, wastes and substances which are defined, determined or classified as such under federal, state or local laws, rules, PCL policies or regulations (whether now existing or hereafter enacted or promulgated or any judicial or administrative interpretation of any thereof (the "Hazardous Materials"). Client understands and agrees that any hazardous material received by PCL from client or at client's request shall remain the property of Client and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of all unused portions of samples as specified by client or by PCL's QA/QC policies. In the event the client does not specify its preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain hazardous substances. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for any/all bacterial analysis, client will be charged a sample disposal fee, per sample submitted, in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect in the area of operations on the date the services were rendered or with prices quoted and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment in advance or when analysis is completed is required for all new clients or until a history of payment and/or credit account has been established with PCL. For those clients with an established credit account, the terms for payment of charges are NET CASH within thirty (30) days from date of invoices. To the fullest extent permitted (if at all) by applicable law, any amount unpaid at the end of thirty (30) days is subject to interest at the lesser of the maximum rate permitted by law or one and one half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balances. If unpaid amounts are collected through legal proceedings or by an attorney, the client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees or agents' fees associated with such collection procedure or efforts.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to the terms shall be effective only if in writing and executed by an officer of PCL and by Client's authorized representative, except that subsequent orders for additional services may be verbal or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries: No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information, or reports furnished by PCL. Client is entering services hereunder for his own account, and not as agent or broker, or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity. It is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party may rely on such data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that said data, information and reports are not requested, or shall be used to relied upon, in connection with or as part of, the purchase, sale, underwriting, or distribution of any securities, any periodic or other reporting to the holders of any securities, the issuing, amendment, renewal, or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender or the certification to or contracting with, directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advanced. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal rates will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are delivered on weekends or after 5pm on weekdays without prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed prior to any samples being received by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to the client if requested. All analyses with holding times of 14 days or less, samples must arrive within 96 hours to allow PCL to meet holding times without applying a rush surcharge. All short holding times, 2-7 days, samples must arrive at the lab within 24 hours before acceptance to ensure that the holding times can be met. Short Holding Times of 48 hours or less (bacteria or 6 hours) cannot be delivered that same day in order to guarantee holding times are met. After hours, late deliveries, freight company delays or similar issues are subject to additional rush fees and/or the inability to meet holding times. All holding times are in effect as of the publication date of this fee schedule and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are retained for at least thirty (30) days after analysis has been completed. Sample storage for longer periods of time can be arranged long term storage is subject to an additional charge. Samples will be discarded at the end of the pre-arranged storage time.

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

All pick up/sampling fees have been noted on the fee schedule. Reasonable time has been allocated for each pick up or service. Unnecessary delays during the pick up or sampling might be assessed an additional fee.

Rev 2 Effective 5/1/17

Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

1. Definitions

"Terms and Conditions" means these Terms and Conditions of sale, including the price schedule, and any additions or amendments hereto which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity who may request laboratory services, consulting or sampling services and his or its heirs, successors, assigns and representatives. "Price Schedule" means Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule as such document may be amended or reissued from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services (as defined herein) only under the following General Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which does not incorporate the Terms. No modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the client and PCL.

The client may order services by submitting a written chain of custody (COC) to PCL. Any such order constitutes 1. an acceptance by the client of PCL's offer to do business with the client under the terms and condition and 2. an agreement to be bound by these terms and conditions. The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or initiation of consulting services constitutes the client's express assent to be governed by these terms and conditions. No contrary or additional terms and conditions expressed in a client's document shall be deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of the terms and conditions.

For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of workmanship in the profession. Where applicable, PCL will use analytical methodologies which are in substantial conformity with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), LA Waterboard (LUAP), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM), Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC), Standard Methods (SM) of the Examination of Water and Wastewater and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate due to the nature or composition of the samples or otherwise based on the reasonable judgement of PCL. Deviations, if any, will be made on a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and/or our QA/QC policies. The total liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or successors to the client, arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided herein, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for said services. Client's acceptance of a work order and /or proposal releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in any client purchase orders or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel performs the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the condition which the samples are collected and for conditions in and about the sampling site and for advising PCL of the same and all information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder subject to payment for all services rendered and out-of-pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally, except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample materials provided by client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public, or is the public domain or client has failed to pay PCL for all services rendered, or is otherwise in breach of the agreement) subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of said data (other than gross negligence). PCL reports and information provided thereto are for the exclusive use and benefit of client and client agrees there shall be no third party beneficiary of such reports, data or information. Client will not disclose to any third party any information concerning technical information, software, processes or other formulations.

10. Hold Harmless

Client agrees to and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent companies from and against any and all liabilities, losses or damages, claims, demands, causes of action, suits and associated expenses including, but not limited to, court fees (and litigation expenses) and awards arising in favor of client or any third party as a result of, and/or in any way occurring incident to, arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or transportation, handling or disposal of client's hazardous materials, 3. theory, dispute or death(s) (personal injury, damage to, loss of, or loss of use of property and/or 3. financial loss of every kind) or expenses. This indemnity does not apply to any of the foregoing losses, costs, damages or injuries caused solely by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall specifically apply to losses, claims, damages, penalties of every kind and character arising out of or in connection with the negligence of or breach of contract by any indemnified Person, whether actual or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any liability which client may otherwise have to PCL and the other indemnified persons. To the extent necessary under applicable law, client agrees that its indemnity obligations will be supported by available liability insurance coverage to be furnished by client, which insurance shall be in the maximum amounts permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable to client for indirect, punitive, special, incidental or consequential damages (including, without limitation, loss of profit or business interruption, litigation Expenses or other fees (including, without limitation, attorney's fees, court costs, and /or pre or post judgment interest), or any other expenses or costs incurred by client or any other party in any litigation against or involving PCL or any indemnified person in connection with this agreement or an services provided under this agreement even if client is the prevailing party.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by client, client will provide and PCL will receive samples materials for analyses such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls, bacteria or any other hazardous or toxic material, wastes and substances which are defined, determined or identified as such under federal, state or local laws, rules, PCL policies or regulations (whether now existing or hereafter enacted or promulgated or any judicial or administrative interpretation of any thereof (the "Hazardous Materials"). Client understands and agrees that any hazardous material received by PCL from client or at client's request shall remain the property of Client and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of all unused portions of samples as specified by client or by PCL's QA/QC policies. In the event the client does not specify its preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain Hazardous Materials. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for any/all bacterial analysis, client will be charged a sample disposal fee, per sample submitted, in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect at the area of operations on the date the services were rendered or with prices quoted and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment in advance or when analysis is completed is required but where client or client's account of payment and/or credit account has been established with PCL. For those clients with an established credit account, the terms for payment of charges are NET (30) (written thirty (30) days from date of invoice). To the fullest extent permitted by or allowed by applicable law, any amount unpaid at the end of thirty (30) days is subject to interest at the lesser of the maximum rate permitted by law or one and one-half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balance. If unpaid amounts are collected through legal proceedings or by an attorney, the client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees or agents' fees associated with such collection procedure or efforts.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to the terms shall be effective on in writing and executed by an officer of PCL and by the client authorized representative, except that subsequent orders for additional services may be verbal or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries: No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information, or reports furnished by PCL. Client is securing services rendered for his own account, and not as agent or broker, or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity. It is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party may rely on such data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that said data, information and reports are not requested, or shall be used in whole upon, in connection with or as part of, the purchase, sale, underwriting, or distribution of any securities, any periodic or other reporting to the holders of any security, the securing, amendment, renewal, or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender of the consideration to or contracting with, directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advanced. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are delivered on weekends or after 3pm on weekdays without prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed prior to any samples being received by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to the client if requested. All analyses with holding times of 14 days or less, samples must arrive within 96 hours to allow PCL to meet holding times without applying a rush surcharge. All short holding times (2-7 days), samples must arrive at the lab within 24 hours before expiration to insure that the holding times can be met. Short Holding Times of 48 hours or less (bacteria is 6 hours) must be delivered that same day in order to guarantee holding times are met. After hours, late delivery, freight company delays or similar issues are subject to additional rush fees and/or the inability to meet holding times. All holding times are in effect as of the publication date of this fee schedule and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are retained for at least thirty (30) days after analysis has been completed. Sample storage for longer periods is by request only. Pre-arranged long term storage is subject to an additional charge. Samples will be discarded at the end of the pre-arranged storage term.

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

All pick up/sampling fees have been notated on the fee schedule. Reasonable time has been allocated for each pick up or service. Unnecessary delays during the pick up or sampling might be accessed an additional fee.

Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

1. Definitions

"Terms and Conditions" means these Terms and Conditions of sale, including the price schedule, and any additions or amendments hereto which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity who may request laboratory services, consulting or sampling services and his or its heirs, successors, assigns and representatives. "Price Schedule" means Pat Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule as such document may be amended or reissued from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services (as defined herein) only under this following General Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which does not incorporate the Terms. No modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the client and PCL.

The client may order services by submitting a written chain of custody (COC) to PCL. Any such order constitutes 1. an acceptance by the client of PCL's offer to do business with the client under the terms and condition and 2. an agreement to be bound by these terms and conditions.

The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or utilization of consulting services constitutes the client's express assent to be governed by these terms and conditions. No contrary or additional terms and conditions expressed in a client's document shall be deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of the terms and conditions.

For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of workmanship in the profession. Where applicable, PCL will use analytical methodologies which are in substantial conformity with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), CA Waterlabs (ELAP), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM), Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC), Standard Methods (SM) of the Examination of Water and Wastewater and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate due to the nature or composition of the samples or otherwise based on the reasonable judgement of PCL. Deviations, if any, will be made on a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and/or our QA/QC policies. The total liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or successors to the client, arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided herein, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for said services. Client's acceptance of a work order and/or proposal releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in any client purchase orders or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel performs the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the container which the samples are collected and for conditions in and about the sampling site and for advising PCL of the same and all information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder subject to payment for all services rendered and out of pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally, except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the samples materials provided by Client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public or in the public domain or Client is late to pay PCL for all services rendered or is otherwise in breach of the agreement), subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of said data where such standard was observed. PCL's reports and information provided thereon will be for the exclusive use and benefit of Client and not in agreement shall be no third party beneficiary of such reports, data or information. Client will not disclose to any third parties any information concerning technical information, software programs or other formulations.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases, and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent harmless from and against any and all liabilities, losses or damages, claims, demands, causes of action, suits and associated expenses including, but not limited to, attorneys fees (the Litigation Expenses) and awards arising in favor of Client or any third party as a result of, and/or in any way occurring incident to arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or transportation, handling or disposal of client's hazardous materials. 1. Injury, disease or death of persons & 2. loss of, damage to, or destruction of real or personal property, and or 3. financial loss of every kind of character. This indemnity shall not apply to any of the foregoing losses, claims, damages or injuries caused solely by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall specifically apply to losses, claims, damages, actions of every kind and character arising out of or in connection with the negligence or breach of contract by any indemnified Person, whether actual or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any liability which the client may otherwise have to PCL and the other indemnified Persons. To the extent necessary under applicable law, client agrees that its indemnity obligation will be supported by adequate liability insurance coverage to be furnished by client, which insurance shall be in the maximum amounts permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable to client for indirect, punitive, special, incidental or consequential damages (including without limitation, loss of profit or business interruption, litigation expenses or expert fees (including, without limitation, attorney's fees, court costs and the cost of in-house counsel) incurred by client or any third party in any way arising against or in favor of PCL or any indemnified person in connection with this agreement. In all proceedings filed under the agreement even if client is the prevailing party.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by client, client will provide and PCL will receive samples materials for analysis such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls (PCBs) or any other hazardous or toxic material, waste, and substances which are declared, determined, classified as such under federal, state or local laws, rules, PCL shall not be liable for any handling, storage, transportation, disposal or treatment of hazardous materials, toxic substances or contaminants (collectively "Hazardous Materials") Client understands and agrees that any Hazardous material received by PCL from Client or at client's request shall remain the property of Client and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of all unused portions of samples as specified by client or as PCL's QA/QC policies. In the event no client directive specify is preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain Hazardous Materials. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for asbestos bulk analysis, client will be charged a sample disposal fee, per sample submitted, in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect at the time of quotation on the date the services were rendered or with prices quoted and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment in advance or when analysis is completed is required for all new clients or until a history of payment and/or credit account has been established with PCL. For those clients with an open credit account, the terms for payments of charges are NET CASH within thirty (30) days from date of invoice. To the fullest extent permitted by law or as applicable law, any amount unpaid at the end of thirty (30) days is subject to interest at the lesser of the maximum rate permitted by law or one and one half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balances. If unpaid amounts are collected through legal proceedings or by an attorney, the client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees or agents' fees associated with such collection procedure or effort.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to the terms shall be effective only if in writing and executed by an officer of PCL and Client's authorized representative, except that subsequent orders for additional services may be verbal or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries: No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information, or reports furnished by PCL. Client is securing services hereunder for his own account, and not as agent or broker, or in any other representative capacity, for any other person or entity. It is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party may rely on PCL data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that said data, information and reports are not requested, or shall be used to relied upon in connection with or as part of, the purchase, sale, underwriting, or distribution of any securities, any periodic or other reporting to the holders of any securities, the securing, amendment, renewal, or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender or the client's provision of consulting with, diversity or indemnity to any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advance. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are received on weekends or after 3pm on weekdays without prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed prior to any samples being received by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to the client if requested. All analyses with holding times of 14 days or less, samples must arrive within 96 hours to allow PCL to meet holding times without applying a rush surcharge. For short holding times (< 7 days), samples must arrive at the earlier of 1 half before 4:00pm local time that is 3 holding times can be met. Short holding times of 72 hours or less (holders) is 3 hours must be received that same day in order to guarantee holding times are met. After hours, late delivery, Friday delivery, days or similar issues are subject to additional rush fees and/or the inability to meet holding times. All holding times are in effect as of the collection date of the first sample and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are stored for 30 days (thirty (30) days after results has been completed. Sample storage for longer periods is by request only. Any arranged long term storage is subject to an additional charge. Samples will be discarded at the end of the pre-arranged storage time.

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

All pick up/sampling fees have been notated on the fee schedule. Reasonable time has been allocated for each pick up or service. Unnecessary delays during the pick up or sampling may be assessed an additional fee.

Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

1. Definitions

"Terms and Conditions" means these Terms and Conditions of sale, including the price schedule, and any additions or amendments hereto which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity who may request laboratory services, consulting or sampling services and his or its heirs, successors, assigns and representatives. "Price Schedule" means Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule as such document may be amended or reissued from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services (as defined herein) only under the following General Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which does not incorporate the Terms. No modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing & executed by an authorized representative of the client and PCL.

The Client may order services by submitting a written chain of custody (COC) to PCL. Any such order constitutes 1. an acceptance by the client of PCL's offer to do business with the client under the terms and condition and 2. an agreement to be bound by these terms and conditions. The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or initiation of consulting services constitutes the client's express assent to be governed by these terms and conditions. No contrary or additional terms and conditions expressed in a client's document shall be deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of the terms and conditions.

For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed by the client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of workmanship in the profession. Where applicable, PCL will use analytical methodologies which are in substantial conformity with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), CA Waterboard (ELAP), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM), Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC), Standard Methods (SM) of the Examination of Water and Wastewater and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate due to the nature or composition of the samples or otherwise based on the reasonable judgement of PCL. Deviations, if any, will be made on a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and/or our QA/QC policies. The total liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or successors to the client, arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided herein, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for said services. Client's acceptance of a work order and/or proposal releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in any client purchase orders or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel performs the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the condition which the samples are collected and for conditions in and about the sampling site and for advising PCL of the same and all information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder subject to payment for all services rendered and out-of-pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally, except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample materials provided by client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public, or is the public domain or client has failed to pay PCL for all services rendered or is otherwise in breach of the agreement) subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of said data where such standard was observed. PCL reports and information provided thereunder are for the exclusive use and benefit of client and client agrees there shall be no third party beneficiary of such reports, data or information. Client will not disclose to any third party any information concerning technical information, software programs or other information.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent harmless from and against any and all liabilities, losses, damages, claims, demands, causes of action, suits and expenses (including, but not limited to, attorneys' fees, litigation expenses and amounts arising in favor of Client or any third party as a result of, and/or in any way involving incident to arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or characterization, handling or disposal of client's hazardous materials, 1. injury, illness or death of persons 2. loss of, damage to, loss of, or loss of use of property and/or 3. financial loss of every kind and character. This indemnity does not apply to any of the foregoing losses, costs, damages, to matters caused solely by the active negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, the indemnity shall specifically apply to losses, claims damages, actions of every kind and character arising out of or in connection with the negligence of or breach of contract by any indemnified person, whether active or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any liability which the client might otherwise have to PCL and the other indemnified Persons. To the extent necessary under applicable law, client agrees that its indemnity obligation will be supported by available liability insurance coverage to be furnished by client, which insurance shall be in the minimum amounts permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable to client for indirect, punitive, special, incidental or consequential damages (including without limitation, loss of profit or business interruption) Litigation Expenses or other fees (including, without limitation, attorney's fees, expert costs, and /or pre or post judgment interest), or any other expenses or costs incurred by client or any other party in any legal action against or involving PCL or any indemnified person in connection with this agreement or as services provided under this agreement even if client is the prevailing party.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by client, client will provide and PCL will receive samples materials for analyses such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls, bacteria or any other hazardous or toxic material, wastes and substances which are defined, determined or identified at such under federal, state or local laws, rules, PCL policies or regulations (whether now existing or hereafter enacted or promulgated or any judicial or administrative interpretation of any thereof the "Hazardous Materials"). Client understands and agrees that any hazardous material received by PCL from client or at client's request shall remain the property of Client and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of all unused portions of samples as specified by client or by PCL's QA/QC policies. In the event the client does not specify its preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain Hazardous Materials. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for any/all bacterial analysis, client will be charged a sample disposal fee, per sample submitted, in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect at the time of operations on the date the services were rendered or with prices quoted and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment in advance or when invoice is completed is required for all new clients or until a history of payments and/or credit account has been established with PCL. For those clients with an established credit account, the terms for payment of charges are NET (30) unless otherwise (30) days from date of invoice. To the extent a client pays (30) or more days after applicable law, any invoiced amount or the invoiced charge is subject to interest at the lesser of the maximum rate permitted by law or one and one-half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balances. If unpaid amounts are collected through legal proceedings or by an attorney, the client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees to PCL. Fees associated with such collection proceedings or efforts.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to the terms shall be effective only if in writing and executed by an officer of PCL and a client authorized representative, except that subsequent to fees for additional services may be issued in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries; No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information or reports furnished to PCL. Client is retaining services hereunder for its own account, and not as agent or broker, or in any other intermediary capacity, for any other person or entity. It is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party is entitled to rely on any data, information or reports. Client agrees, warrants, and agrees that said data, information and reports are not intended, or shall be used to solicit within connection with or as part of, the purchase, sale, underwriting, or distribution of any securities, any portion of other reporting to the holders of any security, the securing, solicitation, renewal, or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other holder of the certification to or contracting with, directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advanced. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are delivered on weekends or after 2pm on weekdays without prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed prior to any samples being received by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to the client if requested. All analyses with holding times of 14 days or less, samples must arrive within 96 hours to allow PCL to meet holding times without applying a rush surcharge. All short holding times (< 72 hrs), samples must arrive at the lab within 24 hours before expiration to ensure that the holding times can be met. Short Holding Times of 48 hours or less (excepting 6 hours) must be delivered that same day in order to guarantee holding times are met. After hours, late delivery, freight company delays or similar issues are subject to additional rush fees and/or the inability to meet holding times. All holding times are in effect as of the publication date of this fee schedule and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are retained for at least thirty (30) days after analysis has been completed. Sample storage for longer periods is by request only. Pre-arranged long term storage is subject to an additional charge. Samples will be discarded at the end of the pre-arranged storage time.

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

All pick up/sampling fees have been notated on the fee schedule. Reasonable time has been allocated for each pick up or service. Unnecessary delays during the pick up or sampling might be assessed an additional fee.

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally, except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample materials provided by client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public or is the public domain or client has failed to pay PCL for all services rendered or is otherwise in breach of the agreement) subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of said data where such standard was observed. PCL reports and information provided thereto are for the exclusive use and benefit of client and client agrees that there shall be no third party beneficiaries of such reports, data or information. Client shall not disclose to any third party any information concerning technical information, methods or reports or other communications.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases, and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent harmless from and against any and all liabilities, losses, damages, claims, demands, causes of action, suits and associated expenses including, but not limited to, attorneys' fees (for a full plaintiff's recovery) and awards arising in favor of Client or any third party as a result of, and/or in any way occurring, incident to, arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or transportation, handling or disposal of client's hazardous materials, 1. injury, disease or death of persons, 2. loss of, damage to, loss of, or loss of use of property, and or 3. financial loss of every kind or character. The foregoing does not apply to any of the foregoing losses, costs, damages, or injuries caused solely by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall specifically apply to losses, claims, damages, actions of every kind and character arising out of or in connection with the negligence of or breach of contract by any Indemnified Person, whether active or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any rights which the clients might otherwise possess PCL and the other Indemnified Persons. To the extent necessary under applicable law, client agrees that its indemnity obligation will be supported by available liability insurance it carries or is required by client, which insurance shall be in the minimum amounts permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable to client for indirect, punitive, special, incidental or consequential damages (including, without limitation, loss of profit or business interruption) (Litigation Expenses or other fees (including, without limitation, attorney's fees, court costs, and /or pre or post judgment interest), or any other expenses or costs incurred by client or any other party in any litigation against or involving PCL or any indemnified person in connection with this agreement or any services provided under this agreement even if client is the prevailing party.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by client, client will provide and PCL will receive samples materials for analyses such as asbestos, petrochemicals (oil/grease), bacteria or any other hazardous or toxic material, wastes and substances which are designated, determined or identified as such under federal, state or local laws, rules, PCL policies or regulations (whether now existing or hereafter enacted or promulgated or any judicial or administrative interpretation of any thereof) (the "Hazardous Materials"). In the event the client does not specify its preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain Hazardous Materials. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for any/all bacterial analysis, client will be charged a simple disposal fee, per sample submitted, in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect at the time of quotations or the date the services were rendered or with prices quoted and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment is due on or when analysis is completed is required for all new clients or until a history of payment and/or credit account has been established with PCL. For those clients with an established credit account, the terms for payment of charges are NET CASH within thirty (30) days from date of invoices. To the fullest extent permitted by at all by applicable law, any amount unpaid at the end of thirty (30) days is subject to interest at the lesser of the maximum rate permitted by law or one and one half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balances. If unpaid amounts are collected through legal proceedings or by an attorney, the client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees or agents' fees associated with such collection procedure or efforts.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to the terms shall be effective only if in writing and executed by an officer of PCL and by clients authorized representative, except that subsequent orders for additional services may be verbal or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries: No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information, or reports furnished by PCL. Client is providing services hereunder for his own account, and not as agent or broker, or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity. It is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party may rely on such data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that said data, information, and reports are not requested or shall be used to relied upon in connection with or as part of, the purchase, sale, underwriting, or distribution of any securities, any periodic or other reporting to the holders of any security, the securing, amendment, renewal, or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender or the certification to or contracting with, directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rev 2 Effective 5/1/17

Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

1. Definitions

"Terms and Conditions" means these Terms and Conditions of sale, including the price schedule, and any additions or amendments hereto which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity who may request laboratory services, consulting or sampling services and his or her heirs, successors, assigns and representatives. "Price Schedule" means Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule as such document may be amended or revised from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services (as defined herein) only under the following General Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which does not incorporate the Terms. No modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the client and PCL.

The client may order services by submitting a written chain of custody (COC) to PCL. Any such order constitutes 1. an acceptance by the client of PCL's offer to do business with the client under the terms and conditions and 2. an agreement to be bound by these terms and conditions. The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or initiation of consulting services constitutes the client's express assent to be governed by these terms and conditions. No contrary or additional terms and conditions expressed in a client's document shall be deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of these terms and conditions.

For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of workmanship in the profession. Where applicable, PCL will use analytical methodologies which are in substantial conformity with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), CA Waterboard (LLAP), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM), Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC), Standard Methods (SM) of the Examination of Water and Wastewater and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate due to the nature or conditions of the samples or otherwise based on the reasonable judgement of PCL. Deviations, if any, will be made on a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL's standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and/or our QA/QC policies. The total liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or successors to the client, arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided herein, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for said services. Client's acceptance of a work order and /or proposal releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services notwithstanding any provision to the contrary in any client purchase orders or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel performs the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the condition which the samples are collected and for conditions in and about the sampling site and for advising PCL of the status and all information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder subject to payment for all services rendered and out-of-pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally, except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample materials provided by client or at client's request and the results garnered by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public or is in the public domain or client has filed to pay PCL for all services rendered or is otherwise in breach of the agreement) subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of said data unless such disclosure was observed. PCL reports and communications prepared thereunder are for the exclusive use and benefit of client and client's agent. There shall be no third party beneficiaries of such reports, data or information. Client will not disclose to any third party any information concerning testing, information, software programs or other communications.

10. Hold Harmless

Client agrees to and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent harmless from and against any and all liabilities, losses, damages, claims, demands, causes of action, suits and associated expenses including, but not limited to all court fees (the Litigation Expenses) and awards arising in favor of Client or any third party as a result of, and/or in any way or coming incident to arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or from customer handling or disposal of client's hazardous materials. 1. Injury, disease or death of persons 2. Loss of damage to, loss of, or loss of use of property and or 3. Financial loss of every kind or character. This indemnity does not apply to any of the foregoing losses, costs, damages, or injuries caused solely by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall specifically apply to losses, claims, damages, actions of every kind and character arising out of or in connection with the negligence, tort or breach of contract by any subcontracted Person, whether actual or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any liability which the client might otherwise have to PCL and the other indemnified Persons. To the extent necessary under applicable law, client agrees that its indemnity obligation will be supported by available liability insurance coverage to be furnished by client, which insurance shall be in the maximum amounts permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable to client for indirect, punitive, special, incidental or consequential damages including, without limitation, loss of profit or business interruption, litigation Expenses or other fees (including, without limitation, attorney's fees, court costs, and our pre or post judgement interest), or any other expenses or costs incurred by client or any other party or any location against or involving PCL or any indemnified person in connection with this agreement or all services provided under this agreement even if client is the prevailing party.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by client, client will provide and PCL will receive samples (materials for analysis such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls, bacteria or any other hazardous or toxic material, wastes and substances which are defined, designated or identified as such under federal, state or local law) under PCL policies or regulations (whether now existing or hereafter enacted or promulgated or any political or administrative interpretation of any thereof) the "Hazardous Materials"). Client understands and agrees that any hazardous material received by PCL from client or at client's request shall remain the property of Client and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of all unused portions of samples as specified by client or by PCL's QA/QC policies. In the event the client does not specify its preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain Hazardous Materials. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for any lab bacterial analysis, client will be charged a sample disposal fee, per sample submitted, in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect at the time of operations on the date the services were rendered or with prices quoted and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment in advance or when analysis is completed is required for all new clients or until a history of payment and/or credit account has been established with PCL. For clients with an established credit account, the terms for payment of charges are NET CASH within thirty (30) days from date of invoices. To the fullest extent permitted by law as well by applicable law, any amount unpaid at the end of thirty (30) days is subject to interest at the lesser of the maximum rate permitted by law or one and one half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balances. If unpaid amounts are collected through legal proceedings or by an attorney, the client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees or agents' fees associated with such collection procedure or efforts.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to the terms shall be effective only in writing and executed by an officer of PCL and by Client's authorized representative, except that subsequent orders for additional services may be verbal or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries: No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information, or reports furnished by PCL. Client is entering services hereunder for its own account, and not as agent or broker, or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity. It is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party may rely on such data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that said data, information and reports are not requested, or shall be used to relied upon, in connection with or as part of, the purchase, sale, underwriting, or distribution of any securities, any periodic or other reporting to holders of any security, the securing, amendment, renewal, or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender or the certification to or contracting with, directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advanced. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are delivered on weekends or after 3pm on weekdays without prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed prior to any samples being received by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to the client if requested. All analyses with holding times of 14 days or less, samples must arrive within 96 hours to allow PCL to meet holding times without applying a rush surcharge. All short holding times, 7 days, samples must arrive at the lab within 72 hours before expiration to insure that the holding times can be met. Short Holding Times of 48 hours or less (bacteria is 6 hours) must be delivered that same day in order to guarantee holding times are met. After hours, late delivery, freight company delays or similar issues are subject to additional rush fees and/or the inability to meet holding times. All holding times are in effect as of the publication date of this fee schedule and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are retained for at least thirty (30) days after analysis has been completed. Sample storage for longer periods is by request only. Pre-arranged long term storage is subject to an additional charge. Samples will be discarded at the end of the pre-arranged storage time.

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

All pick up/sampling fees have been included on the fee schedule. Reasonable time has been allocated for each pick up or service. Unnecessary delays during the pick up or sampling, might be accessed an additional fee.

Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

1. Definitions

"Terms and Conditions" means these Terms and Conditions of sale, including the price schedules, and any additions or amendments hereto which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity who may request laboratory services, consulting or sampling services and his or its heirs, successors, assigns and representatives. "Price Schedule" means Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule as such document may be amended or revised from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services (as defined herein) only under the following General Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which does not incorporate the Terms. No modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the Client and PCL.

The client may order services by submitting a written chain of custody (COC) to PCL. Any such order constitutes 1. an acceptance by the client of PCL's offer to do business with the client under the terms and condition and 2. an agreement to be bound by these terms and conditions.

The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or initiation of consulting services constitutes the client's express assent to be governed by these terms and conditions. No contrary or additional terms and conditions expressed in a client's document shall be deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of the terms and conditions.

For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of written analysis for the profession. Where applicable, PCL will use analytical methodologies which are in substantial conformity with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), CA Waterboard (CLAP), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM), Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC), Standard Methods (SM) of the Examination of Water and Wastewater and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate due to the nature or constituents of the samples or otherwise based on the reasonable judgement of PCL. Deviations, if any, will be made on a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and/or our QA/QC policies. The total liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or successors to the client arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided herein, shall not exceed the invoice amount for said services. Client's acceptance of a proposal or work order and proposal releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in any client purchase order or contract.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel performs the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the condition which the samples are collected and for conditions in and about the sampling site and for advising PCL of the same and all information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder, subject to payment for all services rendered and non-cancelable expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern each particular of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample material provided by Client or at Client's request or of the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public or in the public domain or client has filed to pay PCL for all services rendered or is otherwise in breach of the agreement) subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of such data where such disclosure was beyond PCL's control and information provided thereto, due to the ordinary use and benefit of Client and Client agrees there shall be no third party beneficiaries of such reports, data or information. Client waives its right to any third party confidential information concerning testing information, software, processes or other such systems.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent harmless from and against any and all actions, losses or damages, claims, demands, causes of action, suits and associated expenses including, but not limited to, all costs (the Litigation Expenses) and expert witness fees arising in favor of Client or any third party as a result of, and/or in any way occurring incident to, arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or transportation, handling or disposal of client's hazardous materials. [Insert disclaimer or limit of property and/or 3. Loss of damage to, loss of use of any of property, and/or 4. Personal loss of any kind of character. This indemnity does not apply to any of the foregoing losses, costs, damages, or injuries caused solely by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall specifically apply to losses, claims, damages, actions of every kind and character arising out of or in connection with the negligence of or breach of contract by any Indemnified Person, whether or not in whole or in part, or the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any rights that the client might have at law or in PCL and the other Indemnified Persons. To the extent necessary under applicable law, client agrees that its indemnity obligation will be supported by adequate liability insurance coverage to be carried at by client, which insurance shall be in the minimum amounts required under applicable law. It is expressly PCL's desire to avoid all indirect, punitive, special, consequential or incidental damages and in no event shall PCL be liable to client for indirect, punitive, special, consequential or incidental damages, including, without limitation, loss of profit or business interruption, litigation expenses or attorneys' fees, including, without limitation, attorneys' fees, expenses, and any and all such damages, whether or not PCL has been advised of the possibility of such damages, and whether such damages are based on a claim or action by client or any other party, regardless of whether any such damages are sought for the breach or default of a contract, tort, negligence, strict liability, or any other theory of recovery, or otherwise in connection with this agreement or the services provided under this agreement even if client is the direct or third party beneficiary.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform services requested by client, client will provide and PCL will utilize samples material. No employee, agent or subcontractor of PCL is authorized to perform any services involving hazardous materials or any other hazardous or dangerous activities, unless specifically authorized in writing by PCL. Client represents and warrants that it has complied with all applicable laws, rules, regulations and ordinances with respect to the disposal of any hazardous materials, substances or wastes removed from or brought to the site in connection with services performed hereunder. If PCL's personnel or subcontractors are exposed to unanticipated hazardous materials or conditions, PCL may withdraw from the project without any liability to client. Client agrees to indemnify and hold harmless PCL, its officers, employees, agents and subcontractors from any and all claims, losses, damages, liabilities and expenses, including but not limited to attorneys' fees and costs, arising out of or in connection with the presence, existence, handling, removal, disposal or exposure of persons to hazardous materials, substances or conditions in any form while under the client's possession or control, whether sole or concurrent or active or passive, or caused by the negligence or any other fault of PCL or any of its subcontractors.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect at the time of operations on the date the services were rendered or with prices quoted and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment in advance or cash on delivery is required for all new clients or until credit of payment and/or credit account has been established with PCL. For those clients with an established credit account, the terms for payment of charges are NET CASH within thirty (30) days from date of invoices. To the fullest extent permitted (if at all) by applicable law, any amount unpaid at the end of thirty (30) days is subject to interest at the lesser of the maximum rate permitted by law or one and one half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balances. If suspect amounts are collected through legal proceedings or by an attorney, the client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees or agency fees associated with such collection procedure or efforts.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to the terms shall be effective only if in writing and executed by an officer of PCL and the clients authorized representative. Except that subsequent orders for additional services may be verbal or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries: No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information, or reports furnished by client in securing services hereunder for its own account, and not as agent or broker, or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity. It is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party may rely on such data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that said data, information and reports are not requested, or shall be used to relied upon, in connection with or as part of, the purchase, sale, underwriting, or syndication of any securities, any pledge or other hedging to the holders of any security, the securing, amendment, renewal or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender, or the participation in or connection with, directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advance. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of sample receipt delivered or scheduled or other data on weekends, without prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed prior to any samples being received by PCL. A listing of holding times can be provided to the client if requested. All samples will be held for a minimum of 14 days or less. Samples will be held indefinitely if client requests PCL to keep holding times without special storage. At least holding times of 7 days, samples must arrive at PCL within 24 hours before expiration to ensure that the holding times can be met. Short holding times of 24 hours or less will require a 4 hours drop off time in order to guarantee holding times are met. After hours, late delivery, freight company failure or other issues are subject to a handling fee and/or the inability to meet holding times. All holding times are effective as of the publication date of the fee schedule and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are retained for at least thirty (30) days after analysis has been completed. Sample storage for longer periods is available upon request and long term storage is subject to an additional charge. Samples will be disposed of at the end of the applicable retention time.

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

All pick up/sampling fees have been outlined on the fee schedule. Reasonable time has been allocated for each pick up or service. Unnecessary delays in the collection of samples, or services rendered, are subject to additional fee.

Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

1. Definitions

"Terms and Conditions" means these Terms and Conditions of sale, including the price schedule, and any additions or amendments thereto which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity who may request laboratory services consisting of sampling services and/or its heirs, successors, assigns and representatives. "Price Schedule" means Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule as such document may be amended or reissued from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services (as defined herein) only under the following General Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which does not incorporate the Terms. No modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the client and PCL.
The client may order services by submitting a written chain of custody (COC) to PCL. Any such order constitutes 1. an acceptance by the client of PCL's offer to do business with the client under the terms and conditions and 2. an agreement to be bound by these terms and conditions.
The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or initiation of consulting services constitutes the client's express assent to be governed by these terms and conditions. No contrary or additional terms and conditions expressed in a client's document shall be deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of the terms and conditions.
For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of workmanship in the profession. Where applicable, PCL will use analytical methodologies which are in substantial conformity with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), EA Workstream (EAPS), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM), Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC), Standard Methods (SM), of the Examination of Water and Wastewater, and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if laboratory or operational due to the nature of compositions of the samples or otherwise based on the reasonable judgement of PCL. Deviations, if any, will be made on a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and/or our QA/QC policies. The total liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or associates to the client, arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided hereby, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for said services. Client expressly and unconditionally and forever releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in any client purchase orders or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel perform the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the collection which the samples are collected and for conditions in and about the sampling site and for advising PCL of the same and all information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder subject to payment for all services rendered and out of pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally, except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample material provided by client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public or is the public domain or client has filed to pay PCL for all services rendered or is otherwise in breach of the agreement) subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of said data where such standard was observed. PCL reports and information provided thereto are for the exclusive use and benefit of client and client agrees there shall be no third party beneficiaries of such reports, data or information. Client will not disclose to any third party any information concerning technical information, software programs or other communications.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent harmless from and against any and all claims, losses or damages, costs, demands, causes of action, suits and associated expenses including, but not limited to, all court fees (the Litigation Expenses) and awards arising in favor of Client or any third party as a result of, and/or in any way occurring incident to arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or transportation, handling or disposal of client's hazardous materials, 1. injury, disease or death of persons 2. loss of, damage to, loss of, or loss of use of property and or 3. financial loss of every kind or character. This indemnity does not apply to any of the foregoing to the extent any damages or injuries were caused by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall additionally apply to losses, claims, damages, actions of every kind and character arising out of or in connection with the negligence or willful misconduct of client and its [illegible] Person, whether arising out of, or in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any liability or duty the client might otherwise have to PCL and the other indemnified persons. To the extent necessary, client shall waive, and agrees that its insurance carriers will be waive to the extent applicable, any subrogation rights to be exercised by them, which waivers shall be in the form of endorsements to client's applicable policies. In the event of PCL's inability to collect for indirect, punitive, consequential or special damages including, without limitation, loss of profit or business interruption (regardless of whether PCL was informed of the possibility of such damages), attorney's fees, court costs, and/or [illegible] judgment interest, or any other damages, in such amount incurred by client or any other party in any litigation against or involving PCL or any indemnified person in connection with this agreement, or all services provided under this agreement, even if there is the prevailing party.

11. Hazardous Substances

[illegible] The client agrees, prior to any sample collection and/or delivery, to disclose to PCL any and all known hazardous substances such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls, bacteria or any other hazardous or toxic materials, wastes and substances which are defined, designated or classified as such under federal, state or local laws. PCL reserves the right to refuse to accept any sample that PCL believes, in its sole discretion, may be hazardous. Client shall indemnify and agrees that any "special handling" charges incurred by PCL from dealing with such samples shall be borne by client. Client shall remain the property of client and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of all unused portions of samples in accordance with PCL's standard practices. In the event the client does not timely, in PCL's sole discretion, dispose of samples, the client will reimburse PCL for all costs incurred by PCL in connection with the disposal of such samples. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the reasonable storage of samples in accordance with PCL's normal sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for analysis hereunder, unless client has charged a sample disposal fee, will remain the property of client and PCL [illegible] will not be responsible for the storage of samples after [illegible] days from the completion of the analysis.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect in the area of operations on the date the services were rendered or with prices quoted and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment in advance is required when analysis is completed is required for all new clients or until a history of payment and/or credit account has been established with PCL. For those clients with an established credit account, the terms for payment of charges are NET CASH within thirty (30) days from date of invoices. To the fullest extent permitted by law, any amount unpaid after the end of thirty (30) days is subject to interest at the lesser of the maximum rate permitted by law or one and one half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balances. If unpaid amounts are collected through legal proceedings or by an attorney, the client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees or agents' fees associated with such collection procedure to PCL.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments of the terms shall be effective only in writing and executed by an officer of PCL and by clients authorized representative, except that subsequent orders for additional services may be verbal or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries: No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information, or reports furnished by PCL. Client is securing services hereunder for his own account, and not as agent or broker, or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity. It is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party may rely on such data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that said data, information and reports are not requested, or shall be used by client in connection with or as part of, the purchase, sale, underwriting, or distribution of any securities, any periodic or other reporting to the holders of such securities, securing, amendment, renewal, or enforcement of any loan from any financial institution or other lender or the certification to or contracting with, directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advance. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are delivered on weekends or other [illegible] days without prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed prior to any samples being received by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to the client if requested. All analyses with holding times of 24 hours or less samples must arrive within 30 minutes to allow PCL to meet holding times without charging a rush surcharge. All short holding times, [illegible] must be delivered at the lab within 24 hours. [illegible] Holding times of 48 hours or [illegible] hours must be delivered [illegible] to allow PCL to guarantee holding times are met. After hours, Sat delivery, freight company delays or similar issues are subject to additional rush fees and/or fee [illegible] to meet holding times. All holding times are in effect as of the publication date of this fee schedule and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are retained for at least thirty (30) days after analysis has been completed. Samples received for legal purposes will be retained for a [illegible] period of time. Samples will be returned to client at client's request and charge. Samples will be disposed of at the end of the [illegible] storage time.

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

All pick up/sampling fees have been outlined on the fee schedule. Reasonable time has been allocated for each pick up or sample. Unnecessary delays during the pick up or sampling might be assessed additional fee.

Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

1. Definitions

"Terms and Conditions" means these Terms and Conditions of sale, including the price schedule, and any additions or amendments hereto which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity who may request laboratory services, consulting or sampling services and his or its heirs, successors, assigns and representatives. "Price Schedule" means Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule as such document may be amended or restated from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services (as defined herein) only under the following General Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which does not incorporate the Terms. No modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the client and PCL.

The client may order services by submitting a written chain of custody (COC) to PCL. Any such order constitutes 1. an acceptance by the client of PCL's offer to do business with the client under the terms and condition and 2. an agreement to be bound by these terms and conditions. The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or initiation of consulting services constitutes the client's express assent to be governed by these terms and conditions. No contrary or additional terms and conditions expressed in a client's document shall be deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of the terms and conditions.

For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of workmanship in the profession. Where applicable, PCL will use analytical methodologies which are in substantial conformity with the U.S Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), CA Waterboards (ELAP), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM), Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC), Standard Methods (SM) of the Examination of Water and Wastewater and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate due to the nature of compositions of the samples or otherwise based on the reasonable judgement of PCL. Deviations, if any, will be made in a fashion consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and/or our QA/QC policies. The total liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or subcontractors to the client arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided herein, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for such services. Client's acceptance of a work order and our proposal releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in any client purchase orders or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel performs the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the condition which the samples are collected and for conditions in and around the sampling site and for advising PCL of the same and of information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder (Client to payment for all services rendered and out-of-pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally, except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample materials provided by client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public or is the public domain or client has filed to pay PCL for all services rendered or is otherwise in breach of the agreement) subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of said data where such standard was observed. PCL's reports and information provided thereon are for the exclusive use and benefit of client and client agrees that it shall be no third party beneficiaries of such reports, data or information. Client will not disclose to any third party any information concerning technical information, software programs or other formulations.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent harmless from and against any and all liabilities, losses, or damages, claims, civil fines, causes of action, suits and consultant expenses including, but not limited to all court fees (the Litigation Expenses) and awards arising in favor of Client or any third party as a result of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or the adulteration, marketing or disposal of client's characteristic materials: 1. injury, illness or death of persons 2. loss of, damage to, or use of any property of every kind of character. This indemnity does not apply to any of the foregoing losses, costs, damages or injuries caused solely by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall specifically apply to losses, claims damages, actions of every kind and character arising out of or in connection with the negligence or breach of representations by client, client's employees, agents, or subcontractors, whether actual or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any rights which the client might otherwise have at PCL and the other indemnified persons. To the extent necessary under applicable law, client agrees that its indemnity obligations will be supported by available liability insurance coverage to be maintained by client, which insurance shall be in the maximum amounts permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable to client for indirect, punitive, special, incidental or consequential damages, including without limitation, loss of profit or business interruption, litigation expenses or other fees (including without limitation attorney's fees, court costs, and fees for any appeal thereof), or any other judgement or costs incurred by client or any other party in any litigation against or involving PCL or any indemnified person in connection with this agreement. In all events, PCL's liability under this agreement even if client is the prevailing party.

11. Hazardous Substances

Prior to PCL to perform the services requested by client, client will provide and PCL will receive samples material(s) whatever such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls, radioactive or any other hazardous or toxic material, wastes and substances which are defined, determined or prescribed as such under federal, state or local laws, rules, PCL's standard operating procedures, or regulations (collectively "Hazardous Substances"). Client understands and agrees that no facilities or service rendered by PCL from client or at client's premises, shall include the generation of Client and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of all or any of portions of samples as specified by client or by PCL's SOP/QC policies. In the event the client does not specify its preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain Hazardous Substances. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for analytical analysis, client will be charged a sample disposal fee, per sample submitted, in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect at the time of operations on the date the services were rendered or with prices quoted and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment in advance or when analysis is completed is required for all new clients or until a history of payment and/or credit account has been established with PCL. For those clients with an established credit account, the terms for payment of charges are NET CASH within thirty (30) days from date of invoices. To the fullest extent permitted by law and applicable law, any amount unpaid at the end of thirty (30) days is subject to interest at the lesser of the maximum rate permitted by law or one and one-half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balances. If unpaid amounts are collected through legal proceedings or by an attorney, the client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees or agents' fees associated with such collection procedures or efforts.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to the terms shall be effective only if in writing and executed by an officer of PCL and by client's authorized representative, except that subsequent orders for additional services may be verbal or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries; No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for the client's use of or reliance on data, information, or reports furnished by PCL. Client in ordering services hereunder for his own account, and not as agent or broker or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity, is to agreed and acknowledges that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party may rely on such data, information or reports. Client represents, expressly and agrees that such data, information and reports are not requested, or shall be used to induce upon in connection with or as part of, the purchase, sale, assignment, or distribution of any securities, any reference to or reporting to the holder of any security, the sending, amendment, renewal, or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender or the consideration by or contracting with, directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advance. If for any reason we cannot meet the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are delivered on weekends or after 3pm on weekdays without prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be followed prior to any samples being received by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to the client if requested. All analytes with holding times of 14 days or less, samples must arrive within 96 hours or more PCL to meet holding times without applying a rush surcharge. For most holding times, i.e. those samples not in excess of the 96 hours (4 days) before expiration, notify that they might have can be met. In the holding times of 48 hours or less it is very important delivered that same day in order to guarantee holding times are met. After hours, late deliveries, weekend delivery service or similar situations subject to additional conditions about the analyses to meet holding times. All holding times are verified at the preparation date of the lab schedule and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are retained for at least thirty (30) days after analysis has been completed. Sample storage for longer periods is available. Pre-arranged long term storage is subject to monthly storage charge. Samples will be disposed of at the end of the pre-arranged storage time.

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

All pick up/sampling fees have been included in the fee schedule. Reasonable time has been allocated for each pick up or service. Unnecessary delays during the pick up or sampling might be accepted an additional fee.

Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

1. Definitions

"Terms and Conditions" means these Terms and Conditions of sale, including the price schedule, and any additions or amendments thereto which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity which requests laboratory services, consulting or sampling services and his or its heirs, successors, assigns and representatives. "Price Schedule" means Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule as such document may be amended or revised from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services (as defined herein) only under the following General Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which does not incorporate the Terms. No modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the client and PCL.

The client may order services by submitting a written chain of custody (COC) to PCL. Any such order constitutes 1. an acceptance by the client of PCL's offer to do business with the client under the terms and conditions and 2. an agreement to be bound by these terms and conditions. The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or initiation of consulting services constitutes the client's express assent to be governed by these terms and conditions. No contrary or additional terms and conditions expressed in a client's document shall be deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of the terms and conditions.

For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of workmanship in the profession. Where applicable, PCL will use analytical methodologies which are in substantial conformity with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), CA Water Board (CLARI), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM), Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC), Standard Methods (SM) of the Examination of Water and Wastewater and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate due to the nature or compositions of the samples or otherwise based on the reasonable judgement of PCL. Deviations, if any, will be made on a basis consistent with the Recognized Standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and/or our QA/QC policies. The total liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or contractors to the client arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided herein, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for said services. Client's acceptance of a work order and/or proposal releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in any client purchase orders or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel performs the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the condition which the samples are collected and for conditions in and about the sampling site and for assure PCL of the same and all information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder subject to payment for all services rendered and out-of-pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern the performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally, except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the samples materials furnished by client or at client's request and the results rendered by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public or in the public domain or client has failed to pay PCL for all services rendered or is otherwise in breach of the agreement) subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of said data where such standard was observed. PCL reports and information provided thereto are for the exclusive use and benefit of client and client agrees it may shall be no third party beneficiary of such reports, data or information. Client will not disclose to any third party any information concerning techniques, information, software programs or other formulations.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent harmless from and against any and all liabilities, losses or damages, claims, demands, causes of action, suits and associated expenses including, but not limited to, attorneys' fees, litigation expenses and awards arising in favor of Client or any third party as a result of, and/or in any way occurring incident to, arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or transportation, handling or disposal of client's hazardous materials. It being the intent of the parties hereto that PCL shall not be liable to Client for any claims, liabilities or penalties resulting from Client's failure to comply with any laws, regulations or ordinances. Client shall indemnify and hold harmless PCL and its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent from and against any and all liabilities, losses or damages, claims, demands, causes of action, suits and associated expenses including, but not limited to, attorneys' fees, court costs, and amounts paid in settlement and/or judgment, arising out of or in connection with the negligence, gross negligence or willful misconduct of Client, its employees, agents, contractors or subcontractors.

11. Hazardous Substances

It is PCL's practice to dispose of samples submitted by client and provide PCL will review samples submitted for analysis such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls, explosives or any other hazardous or radioactive wastes and substances which are defined, designated or classified as such under federal, state or local laws. Each PCL customer representative (whether now existing or have that enacted or promulgated by any political or administrative organization of any kind or the International Maritime Dangerous Goods Code, as amended from time to time) and to which PCL shall operate in strict compliance with such laws. Client agrees to comply with all laws applicable to the handling, storage, treatment and disposal of Client's hazardous materials. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of Client's samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for asbestos bacterial analysis, shall not be charged a sample disposal fee, per sample submitted, in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect at the time of quotation, or the date the services were performed or with prices quoted and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment in advance or when analysis is completed is required for all new clients or until a history of payment and/or credit account has been established with PCL. For those clients with an established credit account, the terms for payment of charges are NET CASH within thirty (30) days from date of invoices. To the fullest extent permitted by law and its applicable law, any amount unpaid at the end of thirty (30) days is subject to interest at the lesser of the maximum rate permitted by law or one and one half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balances. If unpaid amounts are collected through legal proceedings or by an attorney, the client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees or agents' fees associated with such collection proceedings or actions.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to the terms shall be effective only in writing and executed by an officer of PCL and by Clients authorized representative. Except that subsequent orders for additional services may be verbal or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries: No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information or reports furnished to Pat-Chem. In utilizing services hereunder for its own account and not as agent or broker, or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity, it is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party may rely on such data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that such data, information and reports are not intended for, or shall be used to reject upon, in connection with or as part of the purchase, sale, underwriting, or in the offering of any securities, any portion or other interest in the ownership and leasing, the servicing, amendment, renewal or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender or the participation in or connecting with, directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or instrument.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advance. If for any unforeseen reason the turnaround time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding samples that are received expired or samples that are delivered on weekends or after 3pm on weekdays without prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed prior to any samples being received by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to the Client if requested. All analytes with holding times of 72 hours or less, samples must arrive within 36 hours to allow PCL to meet holding times without applying a rush surcharge. All short holding times, 24 hours, samples must arrive at the lab within 24 hours and we cannot guarantee that the holding times can be met. Short holding times of 48 hours or less, fractions of hours must be indicated (not 1 day) in order to guarantee holding times are met. Other hours, late delivery, freight company delays or other issues are subject to additional rush fees and/or the inability to meet holding times. All holding times are in effect as of the publication date of this fee schedule and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are retained for at least thirty (30) days after analytical data is reported. Samples will be held for longer periods if so requested. Prior to long term storage it is subject to an additional charge. Samples will be maintained at the end of the pre-arranged storage time.

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

All pick up/sampling fees have been collected on the line item basis. A sufficient time has been allocated for each pick up or service. Unnecessary delays during the pick up or sampling might be assessed an additional fee.

Rev 2 Effective 5/1/17

Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

1. Definitions

"Terms and Conditions" means these Terms and Conditions of sale, including the price schedule, and any additions or amendments hereto which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity who may request laboratory services, consulting or sampling services and his or its heirs, successors, assigns and representatives. "Price Schedule" means Pat Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule as such document may be amended or reissued from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services (as defined herein) only under the following General Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which does not incorporate the Terms. No modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the client and PCL.

The client may order services by submitting a written chain of custody (COC) to PCL. Any such order constitutes 1. an acceptance by the client of PCL's offer to do business with the client under the terms and condition and 2. an agreement to be bound by these terms and conditions. The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or initiation of consulting services constitutes the client's express assent to be governed by these terms and conditions. No contrary or additional terms and conditions expressed in a client's document shall be deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of the terms and conditions.

For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of workmanship in the profession. Where applicable, PCL will use analytical methodologies which are in substantial conformity with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), CA Waterboard (ELAP), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM) Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC), Standard Methods (SM) of the Examination of Water and Wastewater and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate due to the nature or compositions of the samples or otherwise based on the reasonable judgement of PCL. Deviations, if any, will be made on a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and/or our QA/QC policies. The total liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or successors to the client, arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided herein, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for said services. Client's acceptance of a work order and /or proposal releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in any client purchase orders or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel performs the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the condition which the samples are collected and for conditions in and about the sampling site and for advising PCL of the same and all information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder subject to payments for all services rendered and out-of-pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally, except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample materials provided by Client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public or is the public domain or client has failed to pay PCL for all services rendered or is otherwise in breach of the agreement) subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of said data where such standard was observed. PCL reports and information provided thereto are for the exclusive use and benefit of client and client agrees there shall be no third party beneficiary of such reports, data or information. Client will not disclose to any third party any information concerning technical information, software programs or other formulations.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent harmless from and against any and all liabilities, losses or damages, claims, demands, causes of action, suits and associated expenses including, but not limited to, all court fees (the Litigation Expenses) and awards arising in favor of Client or any third party as a result of, and/or in any way occurring incident to arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or transportation, handling or disposal of client-hazardous materials 1. injury, disease or death of persons 2. loss of, damage to, loss of, or use of property, and or 3. Financial loss of every kind or character. This indemnity does not apply to any of the foregoing losses, costs, damages, or injuries caused solely by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall specifically apply to losses, claims damages, actions of every kind and character arising out of or in connection with the negligence of or breach of contract by any indemnified Person, whether actual or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any liability which the client might otherwise have to PCL and the other indemnified Persons. To the extent necessary under applicable law, client agrees that its indemnity obligations will be supported by available liability insurance (coverages to be furnished by client, which insurance shall be in the maximum amounts permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable to client for indirect, punitive, special, incidental or consequential damages including, without limitation, loss of profit or business interruptions. Litigation Expenses or other fees (including, without limitation, attorney's fees, court costs, and /or pre or post-judgment interest), or any other expenses or costs incurred by client or any other party in any location against or involving PCL or any indemnified person in connection with this agreement or any services provided under this agreement even if client is the prevailing party.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by client, client will provide and PCL will receive samples materials for analyses such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls (PCB), radioactive materials, explosives, chemical warfare agents or any other hazardous or toxic chemical, wastes and substances which are defined, designated or classified as such under federal, state or local laws, rules PCL agrees

Client will not disclose to any third party any information concerning technical information, software programs or other formulations.

10. Hold Harmless

Client reserves and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, successors and assigns harmless from and against any and all liabilities, claims, damages, losses, demands, causes of action, suits and associated expenses, including, but not limited to, attorneys fees (the Litigation Expenses) and awards arising in favor of Client or any third parties as a result of, and/or in any way resulting directly or arising out of, or in connection with the performance and services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or in connection with handling or disposal of client's hazardous materials. 1. Injury, disease or death of persons 2. Loss of, damage to, loss of, or use of property and/or 3. Financial loss of every kind or character. This indemnity does not apply to any of the foregoing to the damages, or injuries caused solely by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall specifically apply to losses, claims, damages, actions of every kind and character arising out of or in connection with the negligence of or breach of contract by any Indemnified Person, whether active or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any liability which the client might otherwise have to PCL and the other Indemnified Persons. To the extent necessary under applicable law, client agrees that its indemnity obligations will be supported by available liability insurance coverage to be furnished by client, which insurance shall be in the minimum amounts permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable to client for indirect, punitive, special, incidental or consequential damages (including, without limitation, loss of profit or business interruption) Litigation Expenses or other fees (including, without limitation, attorney's fees, court costs, and the cost of appellate proceedings), or any other expenses or costs incurred by client or any other party in any litigation against or involving PCL or any indemnified person in connection with this agreement or any services provided under this agreement even if client is the prevailing party.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by client, client will provide and PCL will receive samples materials for analysis such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls, bacteria or any other hazardous or toxic material, wastes and substances which are defined, determined or identified as such under federal, state or local laws, rules PCL outlines or regulations (and the rules, ruling or regulation enacted or promulgated in the future or administrative interpretation of any of the foregoing "Hazardous Materials") client understands and agrees that any hazardous materials owned by PCL from client or at client's request shall remain the property of Client and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of all unused portions of samples as specified by client or by PCL's QA/QC policies. In the event the client does not specify its preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain Hazardous Materials. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for mycfall Bacterial analysis, client will be charged a sample disposal fee, per sample submitted, in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's as provable price schedule in effect at the time of operations on the date the services were received or with price quoted and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment in advance or when analysis is completed is required for all new clients or where a history of payment and/or credit account has been established with PCL. For those clients with an established credit account, the terms for payment of charges are NET CASH within thirty (30) days from date of invoices. To the fullest extent permitted by law or any applicable law, any amount unpaid at the end of thirty (30) days is subject to interest at the lesser of the maximum rate permitted by law or one and one half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balances. If unpaid amounts are collected through legal proceedings or by an attorney, the client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees or agents' fees associated with such collection expenditure or efforts.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to the terms shall be effective only in writing and executed by an officer of PCL or the clients authorized representative, except that subsequent orders for additional services may be verbal or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries; No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information, or reports furnished by PCL. Client is ordering services hereunder for his own account, and not as agent or broker, or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity. It is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party may rely on such data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that said data, information and reports are not requested, or shall be used to relied upon, in connection with or as part of, the purchase, sale, underwriting, or distribution of any securities, any periodic or other reporting to the holders of any security, the securing, amendment, renewal, or extension of any loan from any financial institution or green lender or the verification of or contracting with, directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advance. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are delivered on Weekends or after 3pm on weekdays without prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed prior to any samples being received by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to the client if requested. All analyses with holding times of 14 days or less, samples must arrive within 96 hours to allow PCL to meet holding times without applying a rush surcharge. All short holding times, 7-7 days, samples must arrive at the lab within 24 hours before expiration to insure that the holding times can be met. Short holding times of 48 hours or less (Bacteria) 3 hours must be delivered that same day in order to guarantee holding times are met. After hours, late delivery, freight company delays or similar issues are subject to additional rush fees and/or the inability to meet holding times. All holding times are in effect as of the publication date of this fee schedule and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are retained for at least thirty (30) days after analysis has been completed. Sample storage for longer periods is by request only. Pre-arranged long term storage is subject to an additional charge. Samples will be discarded at the end of the pre-arranged storage time.

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

All pick up/sampling fees have been included on the fee schedule. Reasonable time has been allocated for each pick up or service. Unnecessary delays during the pick up or sampling might be accessed as additional fee.

Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

1. Definitions

"Terms and Conditions" means these Terms and Conditions of sale, including the price schedule, and any additions or amendments hereto which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity who may request laboratory services, consulting or sampling services and his or its heirs, successors, assigns and representatives. "Price Schedule" means Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule as such document may be amended or reissued from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services (as defined herein) only under the following General Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which does not incorporate the Terms. No modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the client and PCL.

The client may order services by submitting a written chain of custody (COC) to PCL. Any such order constitutes 1. an acceptance by the client of PCL's offer to do business with the client under the terms and condition and 2. an agreement to be bound by these terms and conditions. The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or initiation of consulting services constitutes the client's express assent to be governed by these terms and conditions. No contrary or additional terms and conditions expressed in a client's document shall be deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of the terms and conditions.

For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of workmanship in the profession. Where applicable, PCL will use analytical methodologies which are in substantial conformity with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), CA Waterboard (ELAP), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM), Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC), Standard Methods (SM) of the Examination of Water and Wastewater and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate due to the nature or composition of the samples or otherwise based on the reasonable judgement of PCL. Deviations, if any, will be made on a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and/or our QA/QC policies. The total liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or successors to the client, arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided herein, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for said services. Client's acceptance of a work order and /or proposal releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in any client purchase orders or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel performs the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the condition which the samples are collected and for conditions in and about the sampling site and for advising PCL of the same and all information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder subject to payments for all services rendered and out-of-pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally, except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample materials provided by client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public or is the public domain or client has filed to pay PCL for all services rendered or is otherwise in breach of the agreement) subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of said data where such standard was observed. PCL reports and information provided thereon are for the exclusive use and benefit of client and client agrees there shall be no third party beneficiary of such reports, data or information. Client will not disclose to any third party any information concerning technical information, software programs or other formulations.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases, and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent harmless from and against any and all liabilities, losses or damages, claims, demands, causes of action, suits and associated expenses including, but not limited to all court fees (the Litigation Expenses) and awards arising in favor of Client or any third party as a result of, and/or in any way resulting, incident to arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or transportation, handling or disposal of client's hazardous materials, 1. injury, disease or death of persons 2. Loss of, damage to, loss of, or loss of use of property and or 3. Financial loss of every kind or character. This indemnity does not apply to any of the foregoing losses, costs, damages, or injuries caused solely by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall specifically apply to losses, claims damages, actions of every kind and character arising out of or in connection with the negligence or breach of contract by any Indemnified Person, whether actual or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any liability which the client might otherwise have to PCL and the other Indemnified Persons. To the extent necessary under applicable law, client agrees that its indemnity obligation will be supported by available liability insurance coverage to be furnished by client, which insurance shall be in the maximum amounts permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable to client for indirect, punitive, special, incidental or consequential damages (including, without limitation, loss of profit or business interruption, litigation expenses or other fees (including, without limitation, attorney's fees, court costs, and/or pre or post judgment interest), or any other expenses or costs incurred by client or any other party or any litigation related or involving PCL or any indemnified person in connection with this agreement or all services provided under this agreement even if client is the prevailing party.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by client, client will provide and PCL will receive samples materials for analyses such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls (PCBs) or any other hazardous or toxic material, wastes and substances which are defined, determined or identified as such under federal, state or local laws, codes PCL acquires or regulations (whether now existing or hereafter enacted or promulgated or any judicial or administrative interpretation of any thereof the "Hazardous Materials"). Client understands and agrees that any hazardous material received by PCL from client or at client's request shall remain the property of Client and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of all unused portions of samples as specified by client or by PCL's QA/QC policies. In the event the client does not specify its preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain Hazardous Materials. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for any/all bacterial analysis, client will be charged a sample disposal fee, per sample submitted, in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect at the time of operations on the date the services were rendered or with prices quoted and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment in advance or when analysis is completed is required for all new clients to until a history of payment and/or credit account has been established with PCL. For those clients with an established credit account, the terms for payment of charges are NET CASH within thirty (30) days from date of invoices. To the fullest extent permitted (if at all) by applicable law, any amount owned at the end of thirty (30) days is subject to interest at the lesser of the maximum rate permitted by law or one and one half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balances. If unpaid amounts are collected through legal proceedings or by an attorney, the owing client will pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees or agency fees associated with such collection procedures or efforts.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to the terms shall be effective only in writing and executed by an officer of PCL and by clients authorized representative, except that subsequent orders for additional services may be verbal or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries: No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information, or reports furnished by PCL. Client is providing services for review for his own account, and not as agent or broker, or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity. It is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party may rely on such data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that said data, information and reports are not requested, or shall be used to relied upon in connection with or as part of, the purchase, sale, underwriting, or distribution of private securities, any periodic or other reporting to the holders of any security, the securing, amendment, renewal, or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender or the certification to or contracting with, directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advanced. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL will not be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are delivered on weekends or after 3pm on weekdays without prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed prior to any samples being received by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to the client if requested. All analyses with holding times of 14 days or less, samples must arrive within 96 hours to allow PCL to meet holding times without applying a rush surcharge. All short holding times, i.e. 72 hours, samples must arrive at the lab within 24 hours before weekends to make sure the holding times can be met. Short holding times of 48 hours or less (bacteriology) 8 hours must be delivered that same day in order to guarantee holding times are met. After hours, late delivery, freight company delays or similar issues are subject to additional rush fees and/or the inability to meet holding times. All holding times are in effect as of the publication date of this fee schedule and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are retained for, at its sole, thirty (30) days after analysis has been completed. Sample storage for longer periods is by request only. Pre-arranged long term storage is subject to an additional charge. Samples will be discarded at the end of the pre-arranged storage time.

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

All pick up/sampling fees have been quoted on the fee schedule. Reasonable time has been allocated for each pick up or service. Unnecessary delays during the pick up or sampling, might be assessed an additional fee.

Rev 2 Effective 5/1/17

Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

1. Definitions

"Terms and Conditions" means these Terms and Conditions of Sale, including the price schedule, and any additions or amendments hereto which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity who may request laboratory services, consulting or sampling services and his or its heirs, successors, assigns and representatives. "Price Schedule" means Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule as such document may be amended or reissued from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services (as defined herein) only under the following General Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which does not incorporate the Terms. No modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the Client and PCL.

The client may order services by submitting a written chain of custody (COC) to PCL. Any such order constitutes 1. an acceptance by the client of PCL's offer to do business with the client under the terms and conditions and 2. an agreement to be bound by these terms and conditions.

The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or initiation of consulting services constitutes the client's express assent to be governed by these terms and conditions. No contrary or additional terms and conditions expressed in a client's document shall be deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of the terms and conditions.

For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of workmanship in the profession. Where applicable, PCL will use analytical methodologies which are in substantial conformity with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), CA Waterboard (ELAP), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM), Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC), Standard Methods (SM) of the Examination of Water and Wastewater and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate due to the nature or composition of the samples or otherwise based on the reasonable judgement of PCL. Deviations, if any, will be made on a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and/or our QA/QC policies. The total liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or successors to the client, arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided herein, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for said services. Client's acceptance of a work order and/or proposal releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in any client purchase orders or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel performs the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the condition which the samples are collected and for conditions in and about the sampling site and for advising PCL of the same and all information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder subject to payment for all services rendered and out-of-pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample materials provided by client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public, or is the public domain or client has failed to pay PCL for all services rendered or is otherwise in breach of the agreement) subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of said data where such standard was met. With PCL reports and information provided means are for the exclusive use and benefit of client and client agrees there shall be no third party beneficiaries of such reports, data or information. Client will not disclose to any third party any information, including technical information, software, processes or other procedures.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent harmless from and against any and all liabilities, losses or damages, claims, demands, causes of action, suits and associated expenses, including, but not limited to, attorneys fees (for litigation, arbitration and appeals), asserted in favor of Client or any third party as a result of, and/or in any way occurring incident to, arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or transportation, handling or disposal of client's hazardous materials: 1. injury, disease or death of persons 2. claim of damage to, loss of, or loss of use of property; and/or 3. any violation of every kind of the same. This indemnity does not apply to any of the foregoing losses, costs, damages, or injuries caused solely by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, the indemnity of all specifically apply to losses, claims, damages, actions of every kind and character arising out of or in connection with the negligence of or breach of contract by any indemnified Person, whether actual or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any liability which the client might otherwise have to PCL and the other indemnified Persons. To the extent necessary under applicable law, client agrees that its indemnity obligation will be supported by available liability insurance coverage to be furnished by client, which insurance shall be in the maximum amounts permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable to client for indirect, punitive, special, incidental or consequential damages including, without limitation, loss of profit or business interruption, Litigation Expenses or other fees (including, without limitation, attorney's fees, expert costs, and for pre or post judgment interest), or any other expenses or costs incurred by client or any other party in any litigation against or involving PCL or any indemnified person in connection with this agreement or all services provided under this agreement even if client is the prevailing party.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by client, client will provide and PCL will receive samples materials for analysis such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls, bacteria or any other hazardous or toxic material, wastes and substances which are defined, determined or identified as such under federal, state or local laws, rules, PCL policies or regulations (whether now existing or hereafter enacted or promulgated) or any judicial or administrative interpretation of any thereof (the "Hazardous Materials"). Client understands and agrees that any hazardous material received by PCL from client or at client's request shall remain the property of Client and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of all unused portions of samples as specified by client or by PCL's QA/QC policies. In the event the client does not specify its preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain Hazardous Materials. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for any/all bacterial analysis, client will be charged a sample disposal fee, per sample submitted, in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect at the time of each order's or the date the services were rendered or as the most current and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment is due upon which services is performed is received for all new clients, or until a history of payment and/or credit account has been established with PCL. For those clients with an established credit account, the terms for payment of charges are NET 30DAYS which is 30 Days from date of invoices. To the fullest extent permitted by or as allowed by applicable law, any amount unpaid at the end of thirty (30) days is subject to interest at the rate of the maximum rate permitted by law or one and one-half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balances. If the said amount is not settled through legal proceedings or by an amicable, the client shall pay reasonable collection and attorney's fees or specific fees associated with such collection irrespective of others.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to this contract shall be effective only in writing and executed by an officer of PCL and by client's authorized representative. Verbal changes subsequent to fees for additional services may be invoiced at the time.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries: No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information or reports furnished by PCL. PCL and its personnel services hereunder for the sole benefit, and not as agent or broker, or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity. It is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party may rely on such data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that said data, information and reports are not requested, or shall be used to relied upon, in connection with or as part of, the purchase, sale, underwriting, or distribution of any securities, any periodic or other reporting to the holders of any security, the securing, amendment, renewal, or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender or the certification to or contracting with, directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advanced. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turn around time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are delivered on weekends or after 3pm on weekdays without prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed prior to any samples being received by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to the client if requested. All analyses with holding times of 24 hours or less, samples must arrive within 36 hours or above PCL to meet holding times without applying a rush surcharge. All short holding times (7 days, samples must arrive at the lab within 24 hours before expiration to ensure that the holding times can be met. Short Holding Times of 48 hours or less (Bacteria 6-8 hours) must be delivered that same day in order to guarantee holding times are met. After hours, late deliveries, freight company delays or similar issues are subject to additional rush fees and/or the ability to meet holding times. All holding times are in effect as of the publication date of this fee schedule and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are retained for at least thirty (30) days after analysis has been completed. Sample receipt for longer periods is by request only. Pre-arranged long term storage is subject to an additional charge. Samples will be discarded at the end of the pre-arranged storage time.

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

All pick up/sampling fees have been notated on the fee schedule. Reasonable time has been allocated for each pick up or service. Unnecessary delays during the pick up or sampling, may be processed an additional fee.

Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

1. Definitions

"Terms and Conditions" means these Terms and Conditions of sale, including the price schedule, and any additions or amendments hereto which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity who has request laboratory services, consulting or sampling services and his or its heirs, successors, assigns and representatives. "Price Schedule" means Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule as such document may be amended or restated from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services (as defined herein) only under the following General Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which does not incorporate the Terms. No modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the client and PCL.

The client may order services by submitting a written chain of custody (COC) to PCL. Any such order constitutes 1. an acceptance by the client of PCL's offer to do business with the client under the Terms and condition and 2. an agreement to be bound by these terms and conditions. The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or initiation of consulting services constitutes the client's express assent to be governed by these terms and conditions. No contrary or additional terms and conditions expressed in a client's document shall be deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of the Terms and conditions.

For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the client, including all analysis of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of workmanship in this profession. Where applicable, PCL will use analytical methodologies which are in substantial conformity with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), ("A Work Natural (ELAP), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM), Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC), Standard Methods (SM), or the Examination of Water and Wastewater, or other similar recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate due to the nature or composition of the samples or otherwise based on the reasonable judgement of PCL. Deviations, if any, will be made on a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and/or our QA/QC policies. The total liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or successors to the client, arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided herein, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for said services. Client's acceptance of a work sheet and /or analytical releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in any client purchase order or contract.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel performs the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the condition which the samples are collected and for conditions in and about the sampling site and for advising PCL of the nature and all information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder subject to payment for all services rendered and cost of packet expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally, except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample materials submitted by client or its clients's consult and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public or is the public domain or client has filed to pay PCL for all services rendered or is otherwise in breach of the agreement), subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of said data where such standard was observed. PCL reports and information or guided thereon are for the exclusive use and benefit of client and client agrees there shall be no third party beneficiary of such reports, data or information. Client will not disclose to any third party any information including technical information, software programs or other item without

10. Hold Harmless

Client indemnifies and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent harmless from and against any and all liabilities, losses or damages, claims, recoverable causes of action, suits and associated expenses (including, but not limited to all costs (less the Litigation Expenses) and awards arising in favor of Client or asserted each as a result of, and/or in any way ongoing incident to arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or in connection handling or disposal of client's hazardous materials: 1. Injury, disease or death of persons 2. Loss of, damage to, loss of, or loss of use of property, and or 3. Financial loss of every kind or character. The indemnity does not apply to any of the foregoing losses, suits, damages, or injuries caused solely by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall specifically apply to losses, claims damages, actions of every kind and character arising out of or in connection with the negligence of or breach of contract by any subcontractor hereto, whether actual or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The following schedules will be applicable to any liability which the client might incur or have in PCL and the other indemnified persons: To the extent necessary under applicable law, client agrees that its indemnity obligations will be supported by adequate liability insurance coverage to be furnished by client, which insurance shall be in the minimum amounts prescribed under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable to client for any lost, business, agency, incidental or consequential damages (including, without limitation, loss of profit or business interruption), litigation expenses or attorneys fees (including, without limitation, attorney's fees, court costs, and out of pocket expenses incurred by any other party in any way connected with any action, suit or other legal proceeding which is brought by client or any other party, in any way arising out of or relating to this agreement, regardless of whether such damages were foreseen or unforeseen, in connection with this agreement, except solely to the extent that such damages are caused by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL.

11. Hazardous Substances

As PCL is permitted, the services requested by client, client and possibly and PCL will receive samples or materials for analysis (such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls, lead or any other hazardous or toxic substance, wastes and substances which are regulated, controlled or identified as such under federal, state or local laws, rules, PCL advises or requests) (collectively, the "Hazardous Materials"). Client represents and agrees that any Hazardous Material received by PCL from client or its client's request shall remain the property of client and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of all unused portions of samples as specified by client or as PCL's QA/QC policies. In the event the client does not specify, or client's request is unclear, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain less than 1 liter/quart. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for any of bacterial analysis, client will be charged a sample disposal fee per sample submitted, in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect at the time of operations on the date the services were rendered or with prices quoted and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment in advance or when analysis is completed is required for all new clients or until a history of payment and/or credit account may have been established with PCL. For those clients with an established credit account, the terms for payment of charges are NET CASH within thirty (30) days from date of invoices. To the fullest extent permitted (if at all) by applicable law, any amount unpaid at the end of thirty (30) days is subject to interest at the lesser of the maximum rate permitted by law or one and one half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balances. If unpaid amounts are collected through legal proceedings or by an attorney, the client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees of agents' fees as determined and such collection procedure or efforts.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to the terms shall be effective only in writing and executed by an officer of PCL and by client's authorized representative, except that subsequent orders for additional services may be verbal or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries: No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information, or reports furnished by PCL. Client is securing services for/under for his own account, and not as agent or broker, or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity. It is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party shall rely on such data or information or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that said data, information, and reports are not required to, shall be used to recognized, incorporated within or part of, the purchase, sale, underwriting, or distribution of any securities, the securing, extension, renewal, or extension of any loan from any source of institutional or other lender or the participation in or contracting with, directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advance. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are delivered on weekends or after work or improperly collected prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed prior to all samples being received by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided in the event if requested. All samples with holding times of 14 days or less, samples must arrive within 24 hours of collection for PCL to meet holding times, unless otherwise specified and accepted by PCL. All short holding times (i.e. 15 minutes, 24 hours, 48 hours, etc.) or samples of the lab within 24 hours of collection, it is the client's responsibility to ensure that the holding times can be met. Short holding times of 48 hours or less (72 hours in some cases) must be discussed with PCL prior to sampling to guarantee holding times are met. After hours, the weekend, holiday delivery of samples could result in holding times being exceeded. Samples received outside of business hours are subject to additional fees and/or the inability to meet holding times. All holding times are in effect as of the publication date of this fee schedule and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are retained for 30 to 60 days (30 days after results have been completed). Sample storage for longer periods is by request only. Long term storage may require an additional charge. Samples will be disposed of at the end of the pre-arranged storage time.

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

All pick up/shipping fees have been defined in our fee schedule. Reasonable time has been estimated for each pick up or delivery. Unnecessary delays during the pick up or sampling (such as an attempted redelivery for

Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

1. Definitions

"Terms and Conditions" means these Terms and Conditions of sale, including the price schedule, and any additions or amendments hereto which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity who may request laboratory services, consulting or sampling services and his or its heirs, successors, assigns and representatives. "Price Schedule" means Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule as such document may be amended or reissued from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services (as defined herein) only under the following General Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which does not incorporate the Terms. No modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the client and PCL.
The client may offer services by submitting a written chain of custody (COC) to PCL. Any such order constitutes 1. an acceptance by the client of PCL's offer to do business with the client under the terms and condition and 2. an agreement by or bound to these terms and conditions.
The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or initiation of consulting services constitutes the client's express assent to be governed by these terms and conditions. No contrary or additional terms and conditions expressed in a client's document shall be deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of the terms and conditions.
For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of workmanship in the profession. Where applicable, PCL will use analytical methodologies which are in substantial conformity with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), CA Waterboard (ELAP), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM), Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC), Standard Methods (SM) of the Examination of Water and Wastewater and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate due to the nature or composition of the samples or otherwise based on the reasonable judgement of PCL. Deviations, if any, will be made on a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and/or our QA/QC policies. The total liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or successors to the client, arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided herein, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for said services. Client's acceptance of a work order and /or proposal releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in any client purchase orders or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel performs the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the condition which the samples are collected and for conditions in and about the sampling site and for advising PCL of the same and all information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder subject to payment for all services rendered and out-of-pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally, except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample materials provided by client or as client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public or in the public domain or client has failed to pay PCL for all services rendered or is otherwise in breach of the agreement) subject to any disclosure required by law or court process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of such data where such disclosure was beyond PCL's reasons and information provided thereon are for the exclusive use and benefit of client and client agrees that it shall be no third party beneficiary of such reports, data or information. Client will not disclose to any third party any information concerning technical information, software or processes or other intellectual

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases and will save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, having been, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent harmless from and against any and all liabilities, losses or damages, claims, demands, causes of action, costs and expenses including, but not limited to, attorneys fees (the obligation to indemnify and hold harmless shall apply whether Client or any third party acts as a result of, and/or in any way occurring incident to arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or transportation, handling or disposal of client's hazardous materials, 1. injury, disease or death of persons 2. loss of, damage to, pollution or loss of use of property and/or 3. Environmental harm of every kind or character. This indemnity shall apply to any of the foregoing losses, costs, damages or expenses caused solely by the active negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, and consistently with, if not limited by, law, claims, damages, penalties of every kind and character arising out of or in connection with the negligence or breach of contract by any indemnified person, whether actual or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any liability which the client might otherwise have to PCL and the other indemnified persons. To the extent necessary under applicable law, client agrees that its indemnity obligation will be supported by available liability insurance coverage to be furnished by client, which insurance shall be in the maximum amounts permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable to client for indirect, punitive, special, incidental or consequential damages (including, without limitation, loss of profits or business interruption, litigation expenses or other fees (including, without limitation, attorney's fees, court costs, and pre or post judgment interest)), or any other expenses or costs incurred by client or any other party in any litigation against or involving PCL or any indemnified person in connection with this agreement or all services provided under this agreement even if client is the prevailing party.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by client, client will provide and PCL will receive samples materials for analyses such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls, bacteria or any other hazardous or toxic material, wastes and substances which are defined, determined or identified as such under federal, state or local laws, rules, PCL policies or regulations (whether now existing or hereafter enacted or promulgated) or any judicial or administrative interpretation of any thereof (the "Hazardous Materials"). Client understands and agrees that any hazardous material received by PCL from client or at client's request shall remain the property of Client and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of all unused portions of samples as specified by client or by PCL's QA/QC policies. In the event the client does not specify its preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain Hazardous Materials. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for any lab bacterial analysis, client will be charged a sample disposal fee, per sample submitted, in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect at the time of acceptance of the order by PCL. Prices are subject to change at any time without notice. Payment in advance or when services are completed is required for all new clients or until a history of payment and credit worthiness has been established with PCL. For those clients with an established credit account, the terms for payment of charges are NET EOM within thirty (30) days from date of invoice. To the fullest extent permitted by all applicable law, any amount unpaid as the end of thirty (30) days is subject to interest at the lesser of the maximum rate recommended by law or one and one-half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balances. If unpaid amounts are referred to a collection agency or attorney, the client shall pay reasonable collection and attorney's fees or expenses both associated with such collection proceedings or efforts.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes in specifications or acceptance of offers to the terms shall be effective only in writing and executed by an officer of PCL and the client authorized representative. Unless otherwise subsequent orders for additional services may be given by or to agents.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries; No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information, or reports furnished by PCL. Client is securing services hereunder for its own account, and not as agent or broker, or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity. It is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party may rely on such data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that said data, information and reports will not be used in, or shall be used to rely upon, in connection with or as part of the purchase, sale, underwriting, or all distribution of any securities, any periodic or other reporting to the holders of any securities, the securities, advertisement, removal or extinguishment any bank loan any financial obligation or other lender or the satisfaction of or operating with, directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advanced. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are delivered on weekends or after 3pm on weekdays without prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed prior to any samples being received by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to the client if requested. All analytes with holding times of 14 days or less, samples must arrive within 96 hours to allow PCL to meet holding times without applying a rush surcharge. All short holding times, 2-7 days, samples must arrive at the lab within 24 hours before expiration to ensure that the holding times can be met. Short Holding Times of 48 hours or less (excluding 0 hours) must be delivered that same day in order to guarantee holding times are met. After hours, late delivery, freight company delays or similar issues are subject to additional rush fees and/or the inability to meet holding times. All holding times are in effect as of the publication date of this fee schedule and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are retained for at least thirty (30) days after analysis has been completed. Sample storage for longer periods is by request only. Pre-arranged long term storage is subject to an additional charge. Samples will be discarded at the end of the pre-arranged storage time.

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

All pick up/sampling fees have been noted on the fee schedule. Reasonable time has been allocated for each pick up or service. Unnecessary delays during the pick up or sampling might be assessed an additional fee.

Rev 2 Effective 5/1/17

Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

1. Definitions

"Terms and Conditions" means these terms and conditions of sale, including the price schedule, and any amendments or additions which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity who may request laboratory services, consisting of sampling services and PCL's (PCL, successors, assigns) and representatives. "Price Schedule" means Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule or such document may be amended or revised from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers expressly accepts orders for sales as (as defined below) only under the following General Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which incorporates the Terms. No modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the Client and PCL.

The Client may order services by submitting a written Order of Services (SOC) to PCL. Any such order constitutes 1. an acceptance by the Client of PCL's offer to do business with the Client under the terms and conditions and 2. an agreement to be bound by these terms and conditions. The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or initiation of consulting services constitutes the Client's express assent to be governed by these terms and conditions. No contrary or additional terms and conditions appearing in a client's document shall be deemed to be or form a part of the contract (each such acceptance of the terms and conditions).

For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of performance in the profession where applicable. PCL will use such reasonable efforts which are in accordance consistently with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), U.S. Waterboard (TCLAP), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM), Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC), Standard Methods (6th) of the Examination of Water and Wastewater and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate due to the nature or characteristics of the samples or otherwise based on the reasonable judgement of PCL. Deviations, if any, will be made on a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and/or our QA/QC policies. The entire liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or its servants to the client, arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided hereto, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for said services. Client's acceptance of a work order and/or proposal releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in any client purchase orders or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel performs the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the conditions which the samples are collected and for conditions in and about the sampling site and for advising PCL of the safety and all information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder subject to payment for all services rendered and out-of-pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally, except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the samples to be taken provided by client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence unless such information is generally available to the public or in the public domain or client has told to pay PCL for all services rendered to it, otherwise in regard to the agreements subject to, or client is required by law or legal process and shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and information, but shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of such data which cannot be prevented by PCL's exercise of such standard of care. PCL shall use such information for the exclusive use and benefit of client and client agrees that there shall be no third party beneficiaries of such reports, data or information. Client will not disclose any PCL's advisory information concerning technical information, price and specifics or other terms of work.

10. Hold Harmless

Client agrees and does hereby indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent companies from and against any and all claims, losses or damages, costs, liabilities, lawsuits or actions, suits and reasonable attorneys' fees, including, but not limited to, those that are brought or asserted and awarded arising in favor of client or any third party or a result of, and/or in any way occurring, incident to, arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and transportation, handling or disposal of client's hazardous substances, including, but not limited to, death of persons, property damage, injury, or loss of use or power to enjoy. A financial loss of every kind of client for any reason does not qualify as any of the foregoing unless such damages or injuries are caused by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall not apply to claims, damages, actions or causes of action arising out of or in connection with the negligence of or willful misconduct by any employee, agent or representative of PCL, whether active or passive, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities are to be mutual. In any case to which the client might otherwise have to indemnify PCL and the same indemnified herein. To the extent that any party would claim that, under Texas law, this indemnity provision will be supported by adequate consideration, it shall be furnished by client, which is acknowledged to be in the amount of $100.00 (a nominal sum) unless otherwise set forth in the invoice. In no event shall PCL be liable to client for indirect, punitive, special, incidental or consequential damages, including without limitation, loss of profits or revenues, increased operation expenses or other, including, without limitation, attorney's fees, court costs, and/or pre or post judgment interest, or any other expenses or costs incurred by client or any other party in any manner against or involving PCL or any indemnified person in connection with this agreement or as otherwise provided under this agreement, even if injury to the prevailing party.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services required by client, client will provide and PCL will receive samples materials for analysis such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls, bacteria or any other hazardous or toxic material, waste and substances which are defined, determined or identified as such under federal, state or local laws, rules, PCL policies or regulations (or other new existing or hereafter enacted or promulgated) (collectively "Hazardous Materials"). Client understands and agrees that any Hazardous Materials received by PCL from client or at client's request shall remain the property of Client and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of all unused portions of samples as specified by client or by PCL's QA/QC policies. In the event the client does not specify its preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain Hazardous Materials. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for aquatic bacterial analysis, client will be charged a sample disposal fee per sample submitted, in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect at the time of completion on the date the services are performed unless prices are fixed and quoted and in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. A current schedule of rates and prices is incorporated by reference herein. Client shall pay PCL for all services rendered to it otherwise in accordance with PCL's then-current credit and collection policies. Client shall pay PCL's invoices within thirty (30) days from the date of invoice. Time is of the essence with respect to payment. Unless otherwise agreed to in writing, all payments must be made in US dollars. Payments must be made by check or wire transfer. All payments are NET CASH within thirty (30) days from date of invoice. To the fullest extent permitted by law and applicable law, any amount unpaid at the end of thirty (30) days is subject to interest at the lesser of the maximum rate permitted by law or one and one half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balance. If unpaid amounts are given to a collection agency or an attorney, the client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fee in regard to the collection and collection of same.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to the terms shall be effective only in writing and executed by an officer of PCL and by client and shall reference this agreement. Oral or other communications between PCL and client shall not be binding.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries; No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information, or reports furnished to PCL. Client is retaining services hereunder for its own account, and not as agent or broker or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity. It is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no 3rd party may rely on conclusions, information or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that said data, information and reports are not intended for, or shall be used to relied upon, in connection with or as part of the purchase, sale, underwriting, or syndication of any securities, any periodic or other reporting to the issuer of any security, the securing, amendment, renewal, or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender or the participation in or consulting with, directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged or authorized. If, for any unforeseen reasons, the turn-around time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded in cases of samples that are received on weekends or short holiday weekdays without prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed prior to any samples being received by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to the client if requested. All analyses with holding times of 14 days or less, samples must arrive within 96 hours to allow PCL to meet holding times without applying a rush surcharge. All three hour times, 2-7 days samples must arrive at the lab within 24 hours before expiration to ensure that the holding times can be met. Short holding times of 48 hours or less (bacteria) is however, must be delivered the same day in order to guarantee holding time can be met. After hours, late delivery, weekend delivery or similar issues are subject to additional rush fees and/or the inability to meet holding times. All holding times are in effect as of the preparation date of the lab sample and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are retained for at least thirty (30) days after analysis has been completed. Samples storage for longer periods is to be agreed on by the assigned long term storage is subject to an additional charge. Samples will be discarded at the end of the prior arranged storage time.

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

All pick up/sampling fees have been stated on the fee schedule. Free sample bottles have been stocked for easy and quick service. Unnecessary delays during the pick up or sampling might be accessed an additional fee.

Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

1. Definitions

"Terms and Conditions" means these Terms and Conditions of sale, including the price schedule, and any additions or amendments hereto which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity who may request laboratory services, consulting or sampling services and his or its heirs, successors, assigns and representatives. "Price Schedule" means Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule as such document may be amended or reissued from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services (as defined herein) only under the following General Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which does not incorporate the Terms. No modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the client and PCL.

The client may order services by submitting a written chain of custody (COC) to PCL. Any such order constitutes 1. an acceptance by the client of PCL's offer to do business with the client under the terms and condition and 2. an agreement to be bound by these terms and conditions. The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or initiation of consulting services constitutes the client's express assent to be governed by these terms and conditions. No contrary or additional terms and conditions expressed in a client's document shall be deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of the terms and conditions.

For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of workmanship in the profession. Where applicable, PCL will use analytical methodologies which are in substantial conformity with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), CA Waterboard (ELAP), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM) Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC), Standard Methods (SM) of the Examination of Water and Wastewater and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate due to the nature or composition of the samples or otherwise based on the reasonable judgement of PCL. Deviation(s), if any, will be made on a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and/or our QA/QC policies. The total liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or successors to the client, arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided herein, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for said services. Client's acceptance of a work order and /or proposal releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in any client purchase orders or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel perform the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the condition which the samples are collected and for conditions in and about the sampling site and for advising PCL of the same and all information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder subject to payment for all services rendered and out-of-pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally, except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample materials provided by client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public or is the public domain or client has filed to pay PCL for all services rendered or is otherwise in breach of the agreement) subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of said data where such standard was observed. PCL reports and information provided thereon are for the exclusive use and benefit of client and client agrees there shall be no third party beneficiary of such reports, data or information. Client will not disclose to any third party any information concerning technical information, software programs or other formulations.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent harmless from and against any and all liabilities, losses or damages, claims, demands, causes of action, suits and associated expenses including, but not limited to all court fees (the Litigation Expenses) and awards arising in favor of Client or any third party as a result of, and/or in any way occurring incident to arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or transportation, handling or disposal of client's hazardous materials. 1. Injury, disease or death of persons 2. Loss of, damage to, use of, or loss of use of property and or 3. Financial loss of every kind of character. This duty shall likewise apply to any of the foregoing losses, costs, damages, or injuries caused solely by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall specifically apply to losses, claims damages, actions of every kind and character arising out of or in connection with the negligence of or breach of contract by any Indemnified Person, whether actual or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any liability which the client might otherwise have to PCL and the other Indemnified Persons. To the extent necessary under applicable law, client agrees that its indemnity obligations will be supported by available liability insurance coverages to be furnished by client, which insurance shall be in the maximum amounts permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable to client for indirect, punitive, special, incidental or consequential damages (including, without limitation, loss of profit or business interruption) Litigation Expenses or other fees (including, without limitation, attorney's fees, court costs, and cost pre or post judgment interest), or any other expenses or costs incurred by client or any other party in any litigation against or involving PCL or any indemnified person in connection with this agreement or all services provided under this agreement even if client is the prevailing party.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by client, client will provide and PCL will receive samples materials for analysis such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls, bacteria or any other hazardous or toxic material, wastes and substances which are defined, determined or identified as such under federal, state or local laws, rules, PCL policies or regulations (whether now existing or hereafter enacted or promulgated or any judicial or administrative interpretation of any thereof) the "Hazardous Materials". Client understands and agrees that any hazardous material received by PCL from client or at client's request shall remain the property of Client and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of all unused portions of samples as specified by client or by PCL's QA/QC policies. In the event the client does not specify its preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain Hazardous Materials. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for any/all bacterial analysis, client will be charged a sample disposal fee, per sample submitted, in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect at the time of quotation on the date the services were rendered or with prices quoted and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment in advance of when analysis is completed is required for all new clients or with a history of payment and/or credit account has been established with PCL. For those clients with an established credit account, the terms for payment of charges are NET CASH within thirty (30) days from date of invoices. To the fullest extent permitted (if at all) by applicable law, any amount unpaid at the end of thirty (30) days is subject to interest at the lesser of the maximum rate permitted by law or one and one half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balances. If unpaid amounts are collected through legal proceedings or by an attorney, the client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees or agents' fees associated with such collection procedure or efforts.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to the terms shall be effective on in writing and executed by an officer of PCL and by Clients authorized representative, except that... subsequent written additional services may be verbal or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries: No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information, or reports furnished by PCL. Client is securing services hereunder for his own account, and not as agent or broker or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity. It is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party may rely on such data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that said data, information and reports are not requested, or shall be used to relied upon, in connection with or as part of, the purchase, sale, underwriting, or distribution of any Securities, any periodic or other reporting to the holders of any security, the securing, amendment, renewal, or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender or the syndication to or contracting with, directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advanced. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are delivered on weekends or after 3pm on weekdays without prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed prior to any work is being received by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to the client if requested. All analyses with holding times of 14 days or less, samples must arrive within 96 hours to allow PCL to meet holding times without applying a rush surcharge. For short holding times, (7 days), samples must arrive at the lab within 24 hours. Please advise client to ensure that the holding times can be met. Short holding times of 48 hours or less (bacteria) 24 hours must be received that same day in order to guarantee holding time requirement. After hours, late deliveries, freight company delays or similar issues are subject to additional rush fees and/or the inability to meet holding times. All holding times are in effect as of the publication date of the fee schedule and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are retained for a period ninety (30) days after analysis has been completed, unless storage for longer periods is the request only. Any arrangements for storage is subject to an additional charge. Samples will be disposed of at the end of the pre-arranged storage time.

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

All pick up/sampling fees have been initiated on the fee schedule. Reasonable time has been provided for each pick up or service. If unnecessary delays during the pick up or sampling might be invoiced an additional fee.

Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

1. Definitions

"Terms and Conditions" means these Terms and Conditions of sale, including the price schedule, and any additions or amendments hereto which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity who may request laboratory services, consulting or sampling services and his or its heirs, successors, assigns and representatives. "Price Schedule" means Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule as such document may be amended or reissued from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services (as defined herein) only under the following General Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which does not incorporate the Terms. No modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the client and PCL.

The client may order services by submitting a written chain of custody (COC) to PCL. Any such order constitutes 1. an acceptance by the client of PCL's offer to do business with the client under the terms and condition and 2. an agreement to be bound by these terms and conditions. The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or initiation of consulting services constitutes the client's express assent to be governed by these terms and conditions. No contrary or additional terms and conditions expressed in a client's document shall be deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of the terms and conditions.

For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of workmanship in the profession. Where applicable, PCL will use analytical methodologies which are in substantial conformity with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), CA Waterboard (ELAP), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM) Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC), Standard Methods (SM) of the Examination of Water and Wastewater and/or other recognized methodologies. Deviations, if any, will be made on a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and/or our QA/QC policies. The total liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or successors to the client, arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided herein, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for said services. Client's acceptance of a work order and /or proposal releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in any client purchase orders or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel performs the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the condition which the samples are collected and for conditions in and about the sampling site and for advising PCL of the same and all information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder subject to payment for all services rendered and out-of-pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally, except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample materials provided by Client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public or is the public domain or Client has ceased to pay PCL for all services rendered or is otherwise in breach of the agreement) subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of said data where such standard was observed. PCL reports and information provided thereon are for the exclusive use and benefit of client and client agrees there shall be no third party beneficiary of such reports, data or information. Client will not disclose to any third party any information concerning technical information, software programs or other formulations.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent harmless from and against any and all liabilities, losses or damages, claims, demands, causes of action, suits and associated expenses including, but not limited to, all court fees (the Litigation Expenses) and awards arising in favor of Client or any third party as a result of, and/or in any way occurring incident to, arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or transportation, handling or disposal of client's hazardous materials, 1. injury, disease or death of persons 2. loss of, damage to, loss of, or loss of use of property and or 3. financial loss of every kind of character. This indemnity does not apply to any of the foregoing losses, costs, damages, or injuries caused solely by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall specifically apply to losses, claims damages, actions of every kind and character arising out of or in connection with the negligence of or breach of contract by any indemnified Person, whether actual or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any liability which the client might otherwise have to PCL and the other indemnified Persons. To the extent necessary under applicable law, Client agrees that its indemnity obligation will be supported by available liability insurance coverage to be furnished by client which insurance shall be as the maximum amounts permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable to client for indirect, punitive, special, incidental or consequential damages including, without limitation, loss of profit or business interruption, Litigation Expenses or other fees (including, without limitation, attorney's fees, court costs, and /or pre or post judgment interest), or any other expenses or costs incurred by client or any other party in any litigation against or involving PCL or any indemnified person in connection with this agreement or an services provided under this agreement even if client is the prevailing party.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by Client, client will provide and PCL will receive samples materials for analyses such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls, bacteria or any other hazardous or toxic material, wastes and substances which are defined, determined or identified as such under federal, state or local laws, rules, PCL is direct or regulations (whether now existing or hereafter enacted or promulgated or any judicial or administrative interpretation of any thereof (the "Hazardous Materials") Client understands and agrees that any hazardous material received by PCL from client or at client's request shall remain the property of client and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of all unused portions of samples as specified by client or by PCL's QA/QC policies. In the event the client does not specify its preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain Hazardous Materials. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for any/all bacterial analysis, client will be charged a simple disposal fee per sample submitted, in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect at the time of operations on the date the services were rendered or with prices quoted and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment in advance or when analysis is completed is required for all new clients or until a history of payment and/or credit account has been established with PCL. For those clients with an established credit account, the terms for payment of charges are NET CASH within thirty (30) days from date of invoice. To the fullest extent permitted (if at all) by applicable law, any amount unpaid at the end of thirty (30) days is subject to interest at the lesser of the maximum rate permitted by law or one and one half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balances. If unpaid amounts are collected through legal proceedings or by an attorney, the client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees or agents' fees associated with such collection procedure or efforts.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to the terms shall be effective only in writing and executed by an officer of PCL and by client's authorized representative, except that subsequent orders for additional services may be verbal or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries; No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information or reports furnished by PCL. Client is retaining services hereunder for his own account, and not as agent or broker, or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity. It is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party may rely on such data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that said data, information and reports are not requested, or shall be used to relied upon in connection with or as part of, the purchase, sale, underwriting, or distribution of any securities, any periodic or other reporting to the holders of any securities, the issuing, amendment, renewal, or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender or the certification to or contracting with, directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or instrument.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advanced. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are delivered on weekends or after 3pm on weekdays without prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed prior to any samples being received by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to the client if requested. All analyses with holding times of 24 hours or less, samples must arrive within 36 hours to allow PCL to meet holding times without accruing a rush surcharge. All short holding times, i.e. 7 days, samples must arrive at the lab within 24 hours before expiration to insure that the holding times can be met. Short Holding Times of 48 hours or less (bacteria) will not be allowed that will be day in order to guarantee holding times are met. After hours, late delivery, freight company delays or similar issues are subject to additional rush fees and/or the inability to meet holding times. All holding times are in effect as of the publication date of this fee schedule and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are retained for at least thirty (30) days after analysis has been completed. Sample storage for longer periods is by request only. Prolonged storage (30+ days) is subject to an additional charge. Samples will be disposed of at the end of the pre-arranged storage time.

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

All pick up/sampling fees have been outlined on the fee schedule. Reasonable time has been allocated for each pick up or service. Unnecessary delays during the pick up or sampling process may result in additional fee.

Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

1. Definitions

"Terms and Condition" means these terms and conditions of sale, including the price schedule, and any additions or amendments hereto which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity who may request laboratory services, something of sampling services and which its heirs, successors, assigns and representatives. "Price Schedule" means Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule in such document may be amended or removed from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL will serve as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL agrees and will accept orders for services as defined herein only under the following General Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which shall supersede the Terms. No modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the Client and PCL.

The Client may order services by submitting a written Chain of Custody (COC) to PCL, any such order (or Statement of Work) or other document executed by the Client or PCL's affiliate to do business with the Client under the Terms and Conditions and 2. an agreement to be bound by these terms and conditions. The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or initiation of consulting services constitutes the Client's express assent to be governed by these terms and conditions. Any additional terms and conditions contained in a Client's quotation shall be deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of the Terms and conditions.

For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the Client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of care prevalent in the profession. Where applicable, PCL will use analytical methodologies which are in substantial conformity with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), U.S. Waterboard (USP), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM), Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC), Standard Methods (SM) of the Examination of Water and Wastewater and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate due to the nature of compositions of the samples or otherwise based on the reasonable judgement of PCL. Deviations, if any, will be made on a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) and/or our QA/QC policies. The total liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or subcontractors to the client, arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided herein, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for said services. Client's acceptance of a work order and/or proposal releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services, notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in any client quotations or terms of contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel perform the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the decision which the samples are collected and for conditions in and about the sampling site and for acquiring PCL of the same and all information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder subject to payment for all services rendered and out-of-pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable price schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally, except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and final sample materials provided to client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be kept in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public or to the public domain or client is required to pay PCL for all services rendered). All information provided in this agreement subject to any statutory laws governed by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and client's in the responsible for unauthorized disclosure of such data using such standard use allowed by PCL reports and information provided pursuant to this agreement unless client gives PCL written authorization to release information to specified third parties or upon request by regulatory agencies. Please indicate your confidentiality.

10. Hold Harmless

Client agrees and shall save indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent harmless from and against any and all claims, losses, damages, liability, costs, demands, causes of action, suits and reasonable expenses (including, but not limited to, attorneys' fees), arising out of, or resulting from the negligence, recklessness and/or willful misconduct of Client or any third party as a result of, or in any way relating to the testing, sampling, handling, or transportation of the samples by PCL pursuant to this agreement. Client shall not be liable for any claims, losses, damages, expenses or costs to the extent caused by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity is specifically made to cover claims, damages, losses or costs and shall include reasonable attorneys' fees and costs incurred by PCL in connection with the negligence or misconduct of Client or any of its employees, agents or subcontractors, whether active or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any remedy which the law might otherwise have in favor of the other indemnified persons. To the extent necessary, to the maximum extent permitted by law, Client expressly waives any right or claim that it may have to indemnification and/or contribution from PCL with respect to any claim for which Client is required to indemnify PCL hereunder. Client shall not be liable to PCL and the other indemnified persons for consequential damages (including without limitation, loss of profits or business interruption, litigation expenses or other miscellaneous damages), without limitation, attorney's fees, court costs, and/or any expert judgment amounts, or any other expenses or costs incurred by Client or another party in any respect, relating to or resulting PCL or any indemnified person in connection with this agreement or services provided under this agreement, even if Client is made aware of such costs.

11. Hazardous Substances

Prior to or to perform the services requested by client, client will provide PCL with any and complete information regarding the presence of hazardous materials (as defined below) in the samples, including, but not limited to, any known or suspected hazardous, radioactive or explosive materials, and any other relevant information regarding the samples which are known to client. Client agrees that any samples or materials provided to PCL by client or on client's behalf shall remain the property of Client and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of all unused samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for analysis are the property of client and be charged a sample disposal fee, per sample basis, that in accordance with our SOP/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect at the time of quotation or on the date the services were rendered or such prices mutually and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment in advance or upon analysis is required unless credit has been established with PCL. For those clients with an established credit account, payments for services of charges are NET 30th calendar month 30 days from date of invoices. To the fullest extent permitted by law, any amounts unpaid after 30 days shall accrue interest at the lesser of the maximum rate permitted by law or one and one-half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balances. If unpaid amounts are referred to collection agency or attorney, the client shall pay reasonable collection and attorney's fees as well as any associated costs with collection procedure or litigation.

13. Agreement Modification

No part, modification or amendments to the Terms shall be effective unless in writing and executed by an officer of PCL and by client's authorized representative, except that subsequent orders for additional services may be verbal or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries: No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information, or reports furnished by PCL. Client's consulting services hereunder are for its own benefit, and not as agent or trustee for any other person or entity. It is hereby acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party shall rely on any work, information or reports. Client represents, warrants and agrees that said data, information and reports are not intended, or shall be used to relied upon, in connection with or as part of, the purchase, sale, underwriting, or syndication of any securities, any variable or other reporting to the holders of any securities, the securing, amendment, renewal, or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender or the participation in or conducting such activity or in relation with any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advance. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded for samples or analyses that are delivered on weekends or after 3pm on weekdays without prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed prior to any service being initiated by PCL. Lack of holding times can be prevented to the extent of practicality. All analyses with holding times of 24 hours or less, samples must arrive within 36 hours or less. PCL on most holding times within 48 hours of receipt, no charge. All short holding times, 0-2 days, samples must arrive at our lab within 24 hours. Please advise us to make sure the holding times can be met. Short holding times of 48 hours or less (such as 0-2 hours) must be delivered the same day in order to guarantee holding times are met. After hours, late delivery, weekend turnaround times or similar issues are subject to additional rush fees and/or the inability to meet holding times. All holding times are in effect as of the publication date of this fee schedule and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are retained for at least thirty (30) days from analysis has been completed. Sample storage for longer periods to be removed only if arranged long term storage is subject to an additional charge. Samples will be disposed of at the end of the pre-set storage time.

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

All pick up/sampling fees have been included on the fee schedule. Reasonable time has been allocated for each pick up or service. Unnecessary delays during the pick up or sampling might be assessed an additional fee.

Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

1. Definitions

"Terms and Conditions" means these terms and conditions of sale, including the price schedule, and any additions or amendments hereto which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity which may request laboratory services, including or sampling services and his or its heirs, successors, assigns and representatives. "Price Schedule" means Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule as such document may be amended or restated from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services (as defined herein) only under the following General Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which does not incorporate the Terms. No modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the client and PCL.

The client may order services by submitting a written chain of custody (COC) to PCL. Any such order constitutes 1. an acceptance by the client of PCL's offer to do business with the client under the terms and conditions and 2. an agreement to be bound by these terms and conditions. The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or initiation of consulting services constitutes the client's express assent to be governed by these terms and conditions. No contrary or additional terms and conditions expressed in a client's document shall be deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of the terms and conditions.

For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished to PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of workmanship in the profession. Where applicable, PCL will use analytical methodologies which are in substantial conformity with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), EPA Contract Laboratory Program (CLP), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM), Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC), Standard Methods (SM) of the Examination of Water and Wastewater, and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate due to the nature or composition of the sample or otherwise based on the reasonable judgement of PCL. Deviations, if any, will be made on a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and/or our QA/QC policies. The total liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or successors to the client, arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided herein, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for said services. Client's acceptance of a quote and/or proposal releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in any client purchase orders or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel perform the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the condition which the samples are collected and for conditions on and about the sampling site and for advising PCL of the same and all information provided to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder subject to payments for all services rendered and out-of-pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally, except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement if such events exceed its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample materials provided by client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence unless such information is generally available to the public or is the public domain or client has given to PCL for all services rendered or is otherwise in breach of the agreement, subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of said data where such standard was observed. PCL reports and information provided thereunder are for the exclusive use and benefit of client and client agrees there shall be no third party beneficiary of such reports, data or information. Client acknowledges that PCL's data and information concerning testing, information, software programs or other information.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent harmless from and against any and all liabilities, losses or damages, claims, demands, causes of action, suits and associated expenses including, but not limited to, all court fees, litigation expenses and awards arising in favor of Client or any third party as a result of, and/or in any way occurring incident to, arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this Agreement and/or transportation or handling or disposal of client's hazardous materials, 1. injury, disease or death of persons 2. loss of, damage to, loss of, or loss of use of property and/or 3. financial loss of every kind or character. This indemnity does not apply to any of the foregoing losses, costs, damages, or injuries caused solely by the gross negligence or wilful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall specifically apply to losses, claims, damages, actions of every kind and character arising out of or in connection with the negligence of or breach of contract by any Indemnified Person, whether actual or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any claims which the client might otherwise have to PCL and the other Indemnified Persons. To the extent mandatory state applicable law does not permit the indemnity obligation to be calculated by applying Louisiana comparative fault principles, the indemnity obligation of client will instead be limited to the maximum amount permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be responsible to client for indirect, punitive, special, incidental or consequential damages (including without limitation, lost profits or business opportunities, litigation expenses or costs, loss of data, contract termination, property damage or claims, and regardless of whether PCL was advised of the possibility of such losses) in connection with this agreement or any other agreement, quote or purchase order between any party and any subsidiary, agent or employee of PCL or any independent contractor hired by PCL to perform services in connection with this agreement or any other agreement, quote or purchase order. The agreements and obligations of client under this agreement shall survive the expiration or termination of this agreement.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by client, client and any of client's agents or employees must inform PCL in writing and PCL will receive samples or materials for analysis such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls, explosive or any other hazardous or toxic material, whether a substance which is defined as hazardous, dangerous or considered toxic under federal, state or local laws. Unless PCL advises or negotiates otherwise prior to client's execution of a chain of custody or any subsequent agreement, client agrees that any material you transmit to PCL for analysis or testing is not hazardous and agrees that any hazardous material is not transmitted to PCL from client or client's agents, employees or representatives. Client agrees that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of all unused portions of samples not consumed by client at PCL's option, unless the client specifies in writing its preferred method of disposal. PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain flammable substances. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the reasonable expenses incurred in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for aseptic bacterial analysis should not be changed. A sample disposal fee, commonly customized, in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect at the time of operations on the date the services were rendered or with prices quoted and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment in advance of when analysis is completed is required for all new clients or upon creation of payment and/or credit account has been established with PCL. For those clients with an established credit account, the terms for payment of charges are NET CASH within thirty (30) days from date of invoices. To the fullest extent permitted (if at all) by applicable law, any amount owed on the due of thirty (30) days is subject to interest at the lesser of the maximum rate permitted by law or one and one half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balances. If unpaid accounts are collected through legal proceedings or by an attorney, the client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees or penalties associated with such collection procedure or actions.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to the terms shall be effective only in writing and executed by an officer of PCL and by client's authorized representative, except that subsequent orders for additional services may be verbal or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries: No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information, or reports furnished by PCL. Client is acting, services hereunder for its own account, and not as agent or broker, or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity. It is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party may rely on such data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that said data, information and reports are not transmitted, or shall be used to relied upon in connection with or as part of the purchase, sale, underwriting, or qualification of any securities, and periodic or other reporting to the holders of any security, the issuance, amendment, renewal or extension of any loan, and to refrain from any attempt to solicit, sell, or to solicit any investment in connection with directly or indirectly any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and shall be at exception rationale. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are delivered or received or after 5pm on weekdays without prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding time and storage conditions should be followed upon the samples being received by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to the client if requested. All analyses with holding times of 24 days or less, samples must arrive within 96 hours of the PCL to meet holding times without incurring a rush surcharge. On short holding times, 3 days, samples must arrive at the lab within 24 hours before expiration to ensure that the holding times can be met. In all holding times of 48 hours or less, samples must arrive within one day of collection to guarantee holding times are met. After hours, like delivery, is infrequently utilized as certain clients are subject to additional costs they assume the liability to meet holding times. All holding times are in effect as of the publication date of the fee schedule and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are retained for at least thirty (30) days after analysis has been completed. Sample storage for longer periods is by request only. For prolonged time storage or subject to an additional charge. Samples will be disposed of at the end of the 30 day storage time.

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

All pick up/sampling fees have been included in the fee schedule. A sample pick up fee has been assigned for each pick up or service. Unnecessary delays during the pick up or sampling (flights, or assessed additional fee

Rev 2 Effective 5/1/17

Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

1. Definitions

"Terms and Conditions" means these Terms and Conditions of sale, including the price schedule, and any additions or amendments hereto which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity who may request laboratory services, consulting or sampling services and his or its heirs, successors, assigns and representatives. "Price Schedule" means Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule as such document may be amended or reissued from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services (as defined herein) only under the following General Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which does not incorporate the Terms. No modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the Client and PCL.

The client may order services by submitting a written chain of custody (COC) to PCL. Any such order constitutes 1. an acceptance by the client of PCL's offer to do business with the client under the terms and conditions and 2. an agreement to be bound by these terms and conditions.

The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or initiation of consulting services constitutes the client's express assent to be governed by these terms and conditions. No contrary or additional terms and conditions expressed in a client's document shall be deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of the terms and conditions.

For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of workmanship in the profession. Where applicable, PCL will use analytical methodology in which are in substantial conformity with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), CA Waterboard (ELAP), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM), Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC), Standard Methods (SM) of the Examination of Water and Wastewater and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate due to the nature or composition of the samples or otherwise based on the reasonable judgement of PCL. Deviations, if any, will be made on a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and/or our QA/QC policies. The total liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or successors to the client, arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided herein, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for said services. Client's acceptance of a work order and /or proposal releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in any client purchase orders or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel performs the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the condition which the samples are collected and for conditions in and about the sampling site and for advising PCL of the same and all information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder subject to payment for all services rendered and out-of-pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally, except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample materials provided by client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public or is the public domain or client has filed to pay PCL for all services rendered or is otherwise in breach of the agreement) subject to law, disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of such data when such standard was observed. PCL reports and information provided thereunder are for the exclusive use and benefit of Client and Client agrees that it will be entitled solely to rely on any of PCL's reports, data or information. Clients will not disclose to any third party any information concerning technical information, software programs or other formulations.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases and will save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries, and parent harmless from and against any and all claims, losses, damages, claims, demands, causes of action, suits and consequent expenses, including, but not limited to, all court fees (the litigation Expenses) and awards arising in favor of Client or any third party, as a result of, arising in any way arising in part or wholly out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or thereafter, handling or disposal of client's hazardous materials, injury, disease or death of persons or loss of, damage to, physical or loss of use of property and/or 3. financial loss of every kind of character. This indemnity does not apply to any of the foregoing losses, costs, damages or liabilities caused solely by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall specifically apply to losses, claims, damages and costs of every kind and character arising out of or in connection with the negligence of or breach of contract by any indemnified person, whether actual or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any liability which the client might otherwise have to PCL and the other indemnified persons. To the extent necessary under applicable law, Client agrees that its indemnity obligations will be supported by available liability insurance coverage to be furnished by client, which insurance shall be in the maximum amounts permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable to client for indirect, punitive special, incidental or consequential damages (including without limitation, loss of profit or business interruption) Litigation Expenses or other fees (including without limitation, attorney's fees, court costs, and /or pre or post judgment interest), or any other expenses or costs incurred by client or any other party, in any filing claim against or involving PCL or any indemnified person in connection with this agreement or all services provided under this agreement even if client is the prevailing party.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by client, client will provide and PCL will receive samples materials for analysis such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls, bacteria or any other hazardous or toxic material, wastes and substances which are defined, determined or identified as such under federal, state or local laws, rules, PCL policies or regulations (wastes) now existing or hereafter enacted or promulgated or any judicial or administrative interpretation of any thereof (the "Hazardous Materials"). Client understands and agrees that any hazardous materials received by PCL from client or at client's request shall remain the property of Client and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of all unused portions of samples as specified by client or by PCL's QA/QC policies. In the event the client does not specify its preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain Hazardous Materials. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for any/all bacterial analysis, Client will be charged a sample disposal fee, per sample submitted, in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect in the area of operations on the date the services were rendered or such prices quoted and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment in advance or when analysis is completed is required for all new clients or upon a history of payment and/or credit acquired has been established with PCL. For those clients with an established credit account, the terms for payment of charges are NET CASH within thirty (30) days from date of the invoice. To the fullest extent permitted by law or applicable law, any amount subject to the end of thirty (30) days is subject to interest at an annual rate of the lesser of one and one half percent (1.5%) per month or the highest interest allowed at such rate collected through legal proceedings or by an attorney, the client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees in seeking such collection and all court proceedings or efforts.

13. Agreement Modification

No change, modification or amendment to the terms shall be effective or binding and executed by an officer of PCL and by client authorized representative, except that subsequent orders for additional services may be verbal or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries; No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information or reports furnished to PCL. Client is securing services hereunder for its own account, and not as agent or broker, or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity. It is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party may rely on such data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that no data, information and reports are intended for, or shall be used to relied upon, in connection with or as part of the purchase, sale, underwriting, or syndication of any securities, any periodic or other reporting to the holders of any security, the securing, amendment, renewal, or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender or the certification to or contracting with, directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advanced. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are delivered on weekends or after 8pm on weekdays without prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed prior to any samples being received by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided on the client if requested. All analyses with holding times of 14 days or less (analysis is 6 hours) must be delivered that same day in order to guarantee holding times are met. After hours, late delivery, freight company delays or similar issues are subject to additional rush fees and/or the inability to meet holding times. All holding times are in effect as of the publication date of this fee schedule and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are retained for at least thirty (30) days after analysis has been completed. Sample storage for longer periods is by request only. Pre-arranged long term storage is subject to an additional charge. Samples will be discarded at the end of the pre-arranged storage time.

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

All pick up/sampling fees have been noted on the fee schedule. Reasonable time has been allocated for each pick up or service. Unnecessary delays during the pick up or sampling might be accessed an additional fee.

If a past amounts are collected through legal proceedings by our attorney, the client or all can include reasonable costs and attorney's fees (or specify) for the consistent with such collection proceedings or efforts.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to the terms shall be effective only if in writing and executed by an officer of PCL and by clients authorized representative, except that subsequent orders for additional services may be verbal or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries: No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information, or reports furnished by PCL. Client is acting solely responsible for his own account, and not as agent or broker or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity. It is expressly acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party may rely on such data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that said data, information and reports are not reasonable or shall be used to rated upon, in connection with or as part of, the purchase, sale, underwriting, or distribution of any securities, any periodic or other reporting to the Related of any security, the passing, amendment, renewal, or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender or the participation in or syndicating with, directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advanced. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are delivered on weekends or after 3pm on weekdays without prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed prior to any samples being received by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to the Client if requested. All analyses with holding times of 24 hours or less, samples must arrive within 36 hours to allow PCL to meet holding times without applying a rush surcharge. All short holding times (7 days, samples must arrive at the lab within 24 hours before expiration to ensure that the holding times can be met. Short Holding Times of 48 hours or less (fecal coli 8 hours) must be delivered that same day or prior to guarantee holding times at client. After hours, late delivery, freight company delays or similar issues are subject to additional rush fees and/or the inability to meet holding times. All holding times are in effect as of the publication date of this fee schedule and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are retained for at least thirty (30) days after analysis has been completed. Sample storage for longer periods is by request only. Pre-arranged long term storage is subject to an additional charge. Samples will be discarded at the end of the pre-arranged storage time.

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

All pick up/sampling fees have been included on the fee schedule. Reasonable time has been allocated for each pick up or service. Unnecessary delays during the pick up or sampling might be assessed an additional fee.

Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

1. Definitions

"Terms and Conditions" means these Terms and Conditions of sale, including the price schedule, and any additions or amendments hereto which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity who has requested laboratory services, consulting or sampling services and his or its heirs, successors, assigns and representatives. "Price Schedule" means Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule as such document may be amended or reissued from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services (as defined herein) only under the following General Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which does not incorporate the Terms. No modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the Client and PCL.

The client may order services by submitting a written chain of custody (COC) to PCL. Any such order constitutes 1. an acceptance by the client of PCL's offer to do business with the client under the terms and conditions and 2. an agreement to be bound by these terms and conditions.

The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or initiation of consulting services constitutes the client's express assent to be governed by these terms and conditions. No contrary or additional terms and conditions expressed in a client's document shall be deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of the terms and conditions.

For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of workmanship in the profession. Where applicable, PCL will use analytical methodologies which are in substantial conformity with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), EPA Watertboard (EAB), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM), Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC), Standard Methods (SM) of the Examination of Water and Wastewater and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate due to the nature or composition of the samples or otherwise based on the reasonable judgement of PCL. Deviations, if any, will be made on a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and/or our QA/QC policies. The total liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or successors to the client, arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided herein, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for said services. Client's acceptance of a work order and/or proposal releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in any client purchase orders or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel performs the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the conditions which the samples are collected and for conditions in and about the sampling site and for advising PCL of the same and all information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder subject to payment for all services rendered and out-of-pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing, or verbally, except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample materials provided by client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public or in the public domain or client has cited to pay PCL for all services rendered or is otherwise in breach of the agreement) subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of said data when such standard was observed. PCL reports and information provided thereon are for the exclusive use and benefit of client and use or agent(s) there shall be no third party beneficiary of such reports, data or information. Client will not disclose to any third party any information concerning testing, information, software programs or other communications.

10. Hold Harmless

Client covenants and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, related entities and parent companies from and against any and all liabilities, losses or damages, claims, demands, causes of action, suits and associated expenses including, but not limited to attorneys' fees (the Indemnification Expenses) and awards arising in favor of Client or any third party as a result of, and/or in any way occurring and/or relating to, arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or in connection with handling or disposal of client's hazardous materials. 1. Injury, disease or death of persons 2. Loss of damage to, loss of, or loss of use of property and of 3. Financial loss of every kind of character. This indemnity does not apply to any of the foregoing losses, costs, damages, or expenses caused solely by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall specifically apply to losses, claims, damages, actions of every kind and character arising out of or in connection with the negligence or breach of contract by any indemnified Person, whether actual or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be made solely to the extent to which the client might otherwise have direct PCL and the other Indemnified Persons. To the extent necessary or the applicable law, client agrees that its indemnity obligation will be supported by available liability insurance coverage to be furnished by client, when practicable (but not the maximum amounts permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable to client for indirect, punitive, special, incidental or consequential damages including, without limitation, loss of profit or business interruption (litigation Expenses or other fees (including, without limitation, attorney's fees, court costs, and (or are or your judgment interest), or any other expenses or costs incurred by client or any other party in any litigation against or involving PCL or any indemnified person in connection with this agreement or all services provided under this agreement even if client is the prevailing party.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by client, client will provide and PCL will receive samples, materials for analysis such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls, batteries or any other hazardous or toxic material, wastes and substances which are defined, determined or identified as such under federal, state or local laws, rules PCL policies or regulations (whether now existing or hereafter enacted or coming into force and judicial or administrative interpretation of any thereof (the "Hazardous Materials"). Client understands and agrees that any hazardous material received by PCL from client or at client's request shall remain the property of Client and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of all unused portions of samples as specified by client or by PCL's EH/QC policies. In the event the client does not specify its preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain hazardous substances. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for analysis by fecal analysis, client will be charged a sample disposal fee, per sample submitted, in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect at the time of quotation on the date the services were rendered or with prices quoted and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment in advance or when all work is completed is required for all new clients or until a history of standard and/or credit accounts has been established with PCL. For those clients with an established credit account, the terms for payment of charges are NET CASH within thirty (30) days from date of invoices. To the fullest extent permitted by law and by applicable law, any amount unpaid at the end of thirty (30) days is subject to interest at the lesser of the maximum rate permitted by law or one and one-half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balance. If unpaid amounts are collected through legal proceedings or by an attorney, the client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees or agents' fees associated with such collection procedure or efforts.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to the terms shall be effective only in writing and executed by an officer of PCL and by clients authorized representative, except that subsequent orders for additional services may be verbal or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries; No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information, or reports furnished by PCL. Client is retaining services hereunder for its own account, and not as agent or broker, or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity. It is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party is to rely on such data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that said data, information and reports are not requested, or shall be used to relied upon, in connection with or as part of, the purchase, sale, underwriting, or distribution of any securities, any periodic or other reporting to the holders of any security, the securing, amendment, renewal, or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender or the certification to or contracting with, directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advanced. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are delivered on weekends or after 2pm on weekdays without prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed prior to any samples being received by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to the client if requested. All analyses with holding times of 14 days or less, samples must arrive within 36 hours or allow PCL to meet holding times without applying a rush surcharge. All short holding times 2-7 days samples must arrive at the lab within 24 hours before expiration to ensure that the holding times can be met. Short holding times of 48 hours or less (bacteria is 6 hours) must be delivered that same day in order to guarantee holding times are met. After hours, late delivery, freight company delays or sooner dates are subject to additional rush fees and/or the inability to meet holding times. All holding times are in effect as of the publication date of our fee schedule and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are retained for at least thirty (30) days after analysis has been completed. Sample storage for longer periods is by request only. Pre-arranged long term storage is subject to an additional charge. Samples will be discarded at the end of the pre-arranged storage time.

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

All pick up/sampling fees have been outlined on the fee schedule. Reasonable time has been allocated for each pick up or service. Unnecessary delays during the pick up or sampling might be accessed as additional fee.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample material provided by client or at client's expense and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public or is the public domain or client has filed to pay PCL for all services rendered or is otherwise in breach of the agreement) subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of said data unless such disclosure is attributed PCL reports and information provided hereunder are for the exclusive use and benefit of client and no persons there shall be no third party beneficiary of PCL reports, data or information. Client will not disclose or any third party any information containing PCL's proprietary information, such as procedures or other formulations.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent harmless from and against any and all liabilities, losses, damages, claims, demands, causes of action, suits and associated expenses including, but not limited to, attorneys fees, the Litigation Expenses and awards arising in favor of Client or any third party as a result of, and/or in any way occurring, incident to, arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or transportation, handling or disposal of client's hazardous materials. If injury, disease or death of persons, loss of, damage to, loss of, or use of use of property, and all financial loss of every kind of character. This indemnity does not apply to any of the foregoing losses, costs, damages, or expenses caused solely by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall specifically apply to claims, charges, damages or costs of every kind and character arising out of or in connection with the negligence or strict liability of PCL, its employees, agents, contractors or subcontractors. Client's obligation to indemnify, defend and hold harmless PCL shall be limited to available liability insurance coverage to be carried by client, which insurance shall be in the minimum amounts permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable to client for indirect, punitive, special, incidental or consequential damages including, without limitation, loss of profits or business interruption, even if PCL has been advised, knew, foreseen, or should have known the possibility of such damages, including, without limitation, attorney's fees, court costs, and/or any other costs and expenses of any kind incurred by client, whether based on contract, tort, negligence, strict liability, or otherwise, arising out of or resulting from PCL's performance of services under this agreement, even if PCL is negligent, or otherwise at fault. Client agrees to defend, indemnify and hold PCL harmless from any and all claims, liabilities, losses, costs or expenses (including reasonable attorney's fees and expert witness fees) asserted against PCL by client's employees or third parties based upon, arising out of, or related to, in whole or in part, the services provided by PCL under this agreement, except to the extent the claims arise from the sole negligence of PCL.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services required by client, client and/or its agents will provide samples that are known or suspected to contain hazardous substances, such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls, petroleum or other flammable or toxic materials, known and unknown radioactive materials, pathogenic or infectious agents, or other substances harmful to human health or the environment if improperly used, handled, stored, transported, released or disposed of ("Hazardous Substances"). Client acknowledges that it is the client's responsibility to inform PCL of the existence of any Hazardous Substances in the samples to be analyzed by PCL prior to the commencement of services by PCL. Client further acknowledges that it is the client's responsibility to inform PCL of the existence of any Hazardous Substances that may be encountered or created by PCL in the performance of services at the client's property. Client shall be responsible for the proper handling, storage, transportation and disposal of all Hazardous Substances in accordance with all applicable laws, rules and regulations. Client shall provide PCL with all information, training and warnings necessary to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently. Client shall be responsible for all costs associated with the proper handling, storage, transportation and disposal of all Hazardous Substances. Client shall indemnify, defend and hold PCL harmless from any and all claims, liabilities, losses, costs or expenses (including reasonable attorney's fees and expert witness fees) asserted against PCL by any person based upon, arising out of, or related to, in whole or in part, the Hazardous Substances provided by client to PCL, except to the extent the claims arise from the sole negligence of PCL. Client shall promptly inform PCL if any of the samples contain Hazardous Substances. If PCL reasonably believes that samples contain Hazardous Substances, PCL may, in its sole discretion, return the samples to client or dispose of the samples at client's expense. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for its disposal of unused samples to accelerate service. PCL's normal sample disposal policy is 30 days. In addition, all samples received by PCL for any air, hazardous analysis, client will be charged a sample disposal fee, per sample submitted, or as stated in individual QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect at the time of quotation or the date the services were rendered or such prices quoted and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment in advance or when analysis is completed is required for all new clients or clients without a history of payment and/or credit account has been established with PCL. For those clients with an established credit account, the terms for payment of charges are NET CASH within thirty (30) days from date of invoices. To the fullest extent permitted by law or any applicable law, any amount unpaid at the end of thirty (30) days is subject to interest at the lesser of the maximum rate permitted by law or one and one half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balances. If unpaid amounts are collected through legal proceedings or by an attorney, the client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees or agents' fees associated with such collection procedure or efforts.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to the terms shall be effective only if in writing and executed by an officer of PCL and be client's authorized representative, except that subsequent orders for additional services may be verbal or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries; No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information, or reports furnished by PCL. Client is securing services hereunder for its own account, and not as agent or broker, or on any other basis and has no authority for any other person or entity. It is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party may rely on its data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that said data, information and reports are not requested, or shall be used to bind upon, in connection with or as part of, the purchase, sale, underwriting, or distribution of any securities, any persons or other properties, or the holders of any thereof, the issuing, assignment, renewal or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender or the continuation of or contracting with, directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analysis are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advance. If not, the information cannot be guaranteed and cannot be used, the work or you will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL can not be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are delivered or shipped or other time constraints without prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed prior to any samples being received by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to the client if requested. All analyses with holding times of 14 days or less, samples must arrive within 96 hours to allow PCL to meet holding times without incurring a rush surcharge. All short holding times of 7 days or less must arrive at the lab within 24 hours before a potentially missed holding time can be met. For holding times of 48 hours or less (Fluoride, pH testing, etc.) we recommend that same day arrival to guarantee holding times are met. After hours, late delivery, freight company delays or similar issues are subject to additional rush fees and/or the inability to meet holding times. All holding times are a reflection of the publication date of the test reference and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are retained for at least thirty (30) days after report is issued unless otherwise requested. Sample storage for longer periods is available only by prior arrangement and is subject to an additional charge. Samples will be disposed of at the end of the 30 day storage period unless

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

All pick up/sampling fees have been outlined on the fee schedule. Reasonable time has been allocated for each pick up or sample. Unnecessary delays during the pick up or sampling might be assessed as additional fee.

Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

1. Definitions

"Terms and Conditions" (collectively "these Terms and Conditions") of sale, including the price schedule, and any additions or amendments hereto which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity who may request laboratory services or sampling services and his or her heirs, successors, assigns and representatives. "Price Schedule" means Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule as such document may be amended or revised from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services (as defined herein) only under the following General Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which does not incorporate the Terms. No modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the Client and PCL.

The client may order services by submitting a written chain of custody (COC) to PCL. Any such action constitutes 1. an acceptance by the client of PCL's offer to do business with the client under the terms and conditions and 2. an agreement to be bound by these terms and conditions. The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or solicitation of consulting services constitutes the client's express assent to be governed by these terms and conditions. No contrary or additional terms and conditions expressed in a client's document shall be deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of these terms and conditions.

For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of workmanship in the profession. Where applicable, PCL will use analytical methodologies which are in substantial conformity with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), 40 code of federal regulations, American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM), Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC), Standard Methods (SM) of the Examination of Water and Wastewater, and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate due to the nature or composition of the samples or otherwise based on the reasonable judgement of PCL. Deviations, if any, will be made in a manner consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and/or our QA/QC policies. The data, industry or PCL, its officers, agents, employees or successors to the client, arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided herein, shall not exceed the charges received for said services. Client's acceptance of a work proposal and its proposal conveys PCL from any liabilities, expenses or loss incurred beyond the value received for the services rendered hereunder and pursuant to the contract or any client purchase orders or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel perform the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the condition which the samples are collected and for conditions in and about the sampling site and for advising PCL of the same and all information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder subject to payment for all services rendered and out of pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally, except as otherwise specifically modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the samples materials provided by client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public or is in the public domain) Client is free to use PCL for all services rendered or is otherwise in breach of the agreement, subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of said data where such standard was observed. PCL reports and information are used solely for the exclusive use and benefit of Client and PCL agrees that it shall be responsible to defend all such rights, data or information. Client will not disclose to any third party any information regarding testing performed by PCL without prior written consent.

10. Hold Harmless

Client will defend and hold save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent companies free and against any and all harmless, damage or damages, claims, demands, causes of action, suits and associated expenses including, but not limited to, all court fees, litigation expenses and awards arising in favor of Client or another party as a result of, and/or in any way arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or transportation, handling, disposal of client's material hereunder. Injury, disease or death of personnel, loss of business or profit, or loss of use of property or land, or however caused, even if such loss or damage is alleged to be caused in whole or in part by the negligence of PCL, its employees, agents, or subcontractors. Further, this indemnity shall specifically apply to claims, costs, damages, attorney's fees, penalties, expenses or liability incurred by PCL arising out of the enforcement of any provision of this agreement. The foregoing indemnities shall be in addition to any remedy which the client might otherwise have to PCL and the other indemnified persons. To the extent mandatory and/or applicable law, client agrees that if client's material, sample, waste, or substance is considered or categorized as hazardous, dangerous, toxic, or regulated by any federal, state, or local law, regulation, ordinance, order, code, permit, or guideline governing human health or the environment, client will indemnify, defend, and hold harmless PCL, its officers, directors, employees, agents, affiliates, successors, and assigns from and against any and all claims, demands, causes of action, damages, losses, costs, expenses, fines, penalties, and liabilities (including attorneys' fees, court costs, and expert witness fees) arising out of or in any way related to the presence, disposal, release, or threatened release of any hazardous, dangerous, toxic, or regulated material, sample, waste, or substance that is in the possession or under the control of client, its employees, agents, or subcontractors. This indemnification shall apply whether or not client was aware of or knew of the hazardous, dangerous, toxic, or regulated nature of the material, sample, waste, or substance. This indemnification shall survive the termination or expiration of this agreement.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL operations that may involve exposure to [illegible] and PCL will obtain samples from the analytical [illegible] and other investigative techniques [illegible] personnel [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

Rev 2 Effective 5/1/17

Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

1. Definitions

"Terms and Conditions" means those Terms and Conditions of sale, including the price schedule, and any additions or amendments hereto which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity who may request laboratory services, consulting or sampling services and his or its heirs, successors, assigns and representatives. "Price Schedule" means Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule as such document may be amended or reissued from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services (as defined herein) only under the following General Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which does not incorporate the Terms. No modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the client and PCL.

The client may order services by submitting a written chain of custody (COC) to PCL. Any such order constitutes 1. an acceptance by the client of PCL's offer to do business with the client under the terms and condition and 2. an agreement to be bound by these terms and conditions. The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or initiation of consulting services constitutes the client's express assent to be governed by these terms and conditions. No contrary or additional terms and conditions expressed in a client's document shall be deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of the terms and conditions.

For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of workmanship in the profession. Where applicable, PCL will use analytical methodologies which are in substantial conformity with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), CA Waterboard (ELAP), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM), Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC), Standard Methods (SM) of the Examination of Water and Wastewater and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate due to the nature or compositions of the samples or otherwise based on the reasonable judgement of PCL. Deviations, if any, will be made on a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and/or our QA/QC policies. The total liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or successors to the client, arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided herein, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for said services. Client's acceptance of a work order and /or proposal releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in any client purchase orders or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel performs the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the condition which the samples are collected and for conditions in and about the sampling site and for advising PCL of the same and all information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder subject to payment for all services rendered and out-of-pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample materials provided by client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public or is the public domain or client has filed to pay PCL for all services rendered or is otherwise in breach of the agreement) subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of said data where such standard was observed. PCL reports and information provided thereon are for the exclusive use and benefit of client and client agrees there shall be no third party beneficiary of such reports, data or information. Client will not disclose to any third party any information concerning technical information, software programs or other formulations.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, related entity and parent harmless from and against any and all liabilities, losses or damages, claims, demands, causes of action, suits and associated expenses including, but not limited to all court fees (the Litigation Expenses) and awards arising in favor of Client or any third party as a result of, and/or in any way occurring incident to arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or transportation handling or disposal of client's hazardous materials. 1. Injury, disease or death of persons 2. Loss of, damage to, lost of, or loss of use of property and or 3. Financial losses of every kind of character. This indemnity does not apply to any of the foregoing losses, costs, damages, or injuries caused solely by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall specifically apply to losses, claims damages, actions of every kind and character arising out of or in connection with the negligence of or breach of contract by any indemnified Person, whether actual or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any liability which the client might otherwise have to PCL and the other indemnified Persons. To the extent necessary under applicable law, Client agrees that its indemnity obligation will be supported by available liability insurance coverage to be furnished by client, which insurance shall be in the maximum amounts permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable to client for indirect, punitive, special, incidental or consequential damages (including, without limitation, loss of profit or business interruption, Litigation Expenses or other fees (including, without limitation, attorney's fees, court costs, and/or pre or post judgment interest), or any other expenses or costs incurred by client or any other party in any litigation against or involving PCL or any indemnified person in connection with this agreement or all services provided under this agreement even if client is the prevailing party.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by client, client will provide and PCL will receive samples material) for analyses such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls, bacteria or any other hazardous or toxic material, wastes and substance of which are defined, determined or identified as such under federal, state or local laws, rules PCL policies or regulations (weather now existing or now shall enacted or promulgated) or any judicial or administrative interpretation of any thereof (the "Hazardous Materials"). Client understands and agrees that any Hazardous material received by PCL from client or at client's request shall remain the property of Client and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of all unused portions of samples as specified by client or by PCL's QA/QC policies. In the event the client does not specify its preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain Hazardous Materials. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for any/all bacterial analysis, client will be charged a sample disposal fee, per sample submitted, in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect at the time of operations on the date the services were rendered or with prices quoted and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment in advance or when analysis is completed is required for all new clients or until a history of payment and/or credit account has been established with PCL. For those clients with an established credit account, the terms for payment of charges are NET CASH within thirty (30) days from date of invoices. To the fullest extent permitted by law and all applicable law, any amounts unpaid at the end of thirty (30) days is subject to interest at the lesser of the maximum rate permitted by law or one and one-half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balances. Unpaid amounts are collected through legal proceedings or by an attorney. The client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees or "collection" fees associated with such collection procedure or efforts.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to the terms shall be effective only if in writing and executed by an officer of PCL and the client's authorized representative, except that subsequent orders for additional services may be verbal or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries: No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use or reliance on data, information, or reports furnished by PCL. Client is acting, services hereunder for his own account, and not as agent or broker, or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity. It is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party may rely on such data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants and agrees that said data, information and reports are not requested, or shall be used to relied upon, in connection with or as part of, the purchase, sale, underwriting, or distribution of any securities, any periodic or other reporting to the holders of any security, the securing, amendment, renewal, or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender or the certification to or contracting with, directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advanced. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal rates will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are delivered on weekends or after 5pm on weekdays without prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed prior to any samples being received by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to the client if requested. All analyses with holding times of 24 days or less, samples must arrive within 36 hours to allow PCL to meet holding times without applying a rush surcharge. For short holding times, e.g. 7 days, samples must arrive at the lab within 24 hours before application to inquire that the holding times can be met. Short holding times of 48 hours or less (such as 24 hours) must be requested that same day as sample to guarantee holding times are met. After hours, free delivery. Early in the morning deliveries or weekend drop-off is subject to additional rush fees and/or the inability to meet holding times. All holding times are in effect as of the publication date of this fee schedule and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are retained for at least thirty (30) days after analysis has been completed. Sample storage for longer periods is by request only. Prearranged long term storage is subject to an additional charge. Samples will be disposed of at the end of the arranged storage time.

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

All pick up/sampling fees have been included on the fee schedule. Reasonable time has been allocated for each pick up or service. Unnecessary delays during the pick up or sampling might incur an additional fee.

Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

1. Definitions

"Terms and Conditions" means these Terms and Conditions of sale, including the price schedule, and any additions or amendments hereto which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity who may request laboratory services, consulting or sampling services and his or its heirs, successors, assigns and representatives. "Price Schedule" means Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule as such document may be amended or reissued from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services (as defined herein) only under the following Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which does not incorporate the Terms. No modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the client and PCL.

The client may order services by submitting a written chain of custody (COC) to PCL. Any such order constitutes 1. an acceptance by the client of PCL's offer to do business with the client under the terms and conditions and 2. an agreement to be bound by these terms and conditions.

The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or initiation of consulting services constitutes the client's express assent to be governed by these terms and conditions. No contrary or additional terms and conditions expressed in a client's document shall be deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of the terms and conditions.

For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of workmanship in the profession. Where applicable, PCL will use analytical methodologies which are in substantial conformity with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), CA Waterboard (ELAP), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM), Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC), Standard Methods (SM) of the Examination of Water and Wastewater and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate due to the nature or composition of the samples or otherwise based on the reasonable judgement of PCL. Deviations, if any, will be made on a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and/or our QA/QC policies. The total liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or successors to the client, arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided herein, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for said services. Client's acceptance of a work order and /or proposal releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in any client purchase orders or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel performs the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the condition which the samples are collected and for conditions in and about the sampling site and for advising PCL of the same and all information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder subject to payment for all services rendered and out-of-pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally, except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the raw pre-materials provided by client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in Confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public or is the public domain or client has filed to pay PCL for all services rendered or is otherwise in breach of the agreement) subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of such data where such disclosure was made via PCL reports and information provided therein and for the exclusive use and benefit of client and client agrees there shall be no third party beneficiary of our reports, data or information. Client will not disclose to any third party any proprietary concerning technical information, software programs or other formulations.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL (its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, consultants and owners) harmless from and against any and all Liabilities, losses or damages, claims, demands, causes of action, costs and associated expenses, including, but not limited to all court fees (or litigation Expenses) and attorneys' fees arising in favor of Client or any third party, as a result of, and/or in any way occurring incident to arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or transportation, handling or disposal of client's hazardous materials, 1. injury, disease or death of persons 2. loss of, damage to, loss of, or loss of use of property and or 3. financial loss of every kind of character. This indemnity does not apply to any of the foregoing losses, costs, damages or causes of action caused solely by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall specifically apply to client's own acts, actions of every kind and character, out of or in connection with and the negligence of or breach of contract by any indemnified Person, whether actual or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any liability which the client might otherwise have to PCL and the other indemnified persons. To the extent necessary under applicable law, client agrees that its indemnity obligations will be supported by available liability insurance coverage to be furnished by client, which insurance shall be in the maximum amounts permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable to client for indirect, punitive, special, incidental or consequential damages (including, without limitation, loss of profit or business interruption) Litigation Expenses or other fees (including, without limitation, attorney's fees, court costs, and /or pre or post judgment interest), or any other expenses or costs incurred by client or any other party in any litigation against or involving PCL or any indemnified person in connection with this agreement or all services provided under this agreement even if client is the prevailing party.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by client, client will provide and PCL will receive samples materials for analyses such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls, bacteria or any other hazardous or toxic material, wastes and substances which are defined, determined or identified as such under federal, state or local laws, rules, PCL policies or regulations (whether now existing or hereafter enacted or promulgated) or any judicial or administrative interpretation of any thereof (the "Hazardous Materials"). Client understands and agrees that any Hazardous material received by PCL from client or at client's request shall remain the property of Client and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of all unused portions of samples as specified by client or by PCL's QA/QC policies. In the event the client does not specify its preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain Hazardous Materials. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for any lab bacterial analysis, client will be charged a sample disposal fee per sample submitted, in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Clients shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect at the time of operations or the date the services were rendered or such prices quoted and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment is due net 30 days unless otherwise expressly required by PCL. Clients who have not been established with PCL for credit terms with an established credit account, the terms for payment of charges are NET CASH within thirty (30) days from date of invoices. Sixty (60) days past due shall accrue interest at the rate of one and one half percent (1.5%) per month (or the highest lawful rate permitted by law, if less) and shall be subject to late administration fee. Unpaid accounts may be collected through legal proceedings by an attorney. The client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees or experts' fees in addition to the principal amount owed.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to the terms shall be effective only in writing and executed by an authorized PCL officer. Client authorized representative. Except that subsequent orders for additional services may be verbal or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries: No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information, or reports furnished by PCL. Client is retaining services knowledge for his own account, and not as agent or broker, or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity. It is hereby and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party may rely on such data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants and agrees that such data, information and reports are not requested, or shall be used to relied upon, in connection with or as part of, the purchase, sale, underwriting, or distribution of any securities, any periodic or other reporting to the holders of any securities, the securing, amendment, renewal, or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender or the participation in or contracting with, directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advance. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are delivered on weekends or after 5pm on weekdays without prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed prior to any samples being received by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to the client if requested. For analyses with holding times of 14 days or less, samples must arrive within 96 hours to allow PCL to meet holding times without applying a rush surcharge. For short holding times, 2-7 days, samples must arrive at the lab within 24 hours before expiration to ensure that the holding time can be met. Short Holding Times of 48 hours or less (compliance is 6 hours) must be delivered that same day in order to guarantee holding times are met. After hours, late delivery, freight company delays or similar issues are subject to additional rush fees and/or the inability to meet holding times. All holding times are in effect as of the publication date of this fee schedule and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are retained for at least thirty (30) days after analysis has been completed. Sample storage for longer periods is by request only. Pre-arranged long term storage is subject to an additional charge. Samples will be discarded at the end of the pre-arranged storage time.

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

If pick up/sampling fees have been noted on the fee schedule, reasonable time has been allocated for each pick up or service. Unnecessary delays during the pick up or sampling, may be assessed an additional fee.

Client's acceptance of a work order and/or proposal releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in any client purchase orders or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel perform the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the condition which the samples are collected and for conditions in and about the sampling site and for advising PCL of the safety and all information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder subject to payments for all services rendered and out-of-pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally, except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample materials provided by client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public or is the public domain or client has filed or pay PCL for all services rendered or is otherwise in breach of the agreement), subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of said data where such standard was observed. PCL reports and information provided thereon are for the exclusive use and benefit of client and client agrees there shall be no third party beneficiary of such reports, data or information. Client will not disclose to any third party any software, computer programs or other formulations.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent companies from and against any and all liabilities, losses or damages, claims, demands, causes of action, suits and associated expenses including, but not limited to all court fees (the Litigation Expenses) and awards arising in favor of Client or any third party as a result of, and/or in any way occurring incident to arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or transportation, handling or disposal of client's hazardous materials, 1. injury, disease or death of persons 2. loss of, damage to, use of, or theft of client's property and/or 3. financial loss of every kind or character. This indemnity does not apply to any of the foregoing losses, suits, damages, or injuries caused solely by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall specifically apply to losses, claims damages, actions of every kind and character arising out of or in connection with the negligence of or breach of contract by any indemnified Person, whether actual or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any liability which the client might otherwise have to PCL and the other indemnified Persons. To the extent permitted under applicable law, client agrees that its indemnity obligations will be supported by available liability insurance coverage to be furnished by client, which insurance shall be in the maximum amounts permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable to client for indirect, punitive, special, incidental or consequential damages including without limitation, loss of profit or business interruption. Litigation Expenses or other fees (including, without limitation, attorney's fees, court costs and costs of any judgment rendered), or any other amounts or costs incurred by client or any third party in any way arising against or involving PCL or any indemnified person in connection with this agreement or as services are provided under this agreement even if client is the prevailing party.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by client, client will provide and PCL will receive samples materials for analysis such as asbestos, pathogenic bacteria, bacteria or any other hazardous or toxic material, wastes and substances which are defined, designated or identified as such under RCRA, state or local laws, rules, PCL policies or regulations (whether now existing or hereafter enacted or promulgated) or any judicial or administrative interpretation of any thereof (the "Hazardous Materials"). Client understands and agrees that any hazardous material received by PCL from client or at client's request shall remain the property of client and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of all unused portion of samples as specified by client or per PCL's EH/QC policies. In the event the client does not specify its preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain Hazardous Materials. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for any/all bacterial analysis, client will be charged a sample disposal fee, per sample submitted, in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect at the time of operations on the date the services were rendered or with prices quoted and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment in advance or when analysis is completed is required for all new clients or until a history of payment and/or credit account has been established with PCL. For those clients with an established credit account, the terms for payment of charges are NET CASH within thirty (30) days from date of invoices. To the fullest extent permitted by at all by applicable law, any amount unpaid at the end of thirty (30) days is subject to interest at the lesser of the maximum rate permitted by law or one and one-half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balances. If unpaid amounts are collected through legal proceedings or by an attorney, the client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees or penalty fees associated with such collection procedure as applies.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to the terms shall be effective only in writing and executed by an officer of PCL and by clients authorized representative, except that subsequent orders for additional services may be verbal or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries: No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information, or reports furnished by PCL. Client is securing services hereunder for his own account, and not as agent or broker, or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity. It is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party may rely on such data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that said data, information and reports are not requested, or shall be used to relied upon, in connection with or as part of, the purchase, sale, underwriting, or distribution of any securities, any periodic or other reporting to the holders of any security, the securing, arrangement, renewal, or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender or the certification to or contracting with, directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advanced. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are delivered on weekends or after 3pm on weekdays without prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed prior to any samples being received by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to the client if requested. All analyses with holding times of 14 days or less, samples must arrive within 36 hours for PCL to meet holding times without incurring a rush surcharge. All short holding times, 2-7 days, samples must arrive at the lab within 24 hours unless arrangements made that the holding times can be met. Short holding times of 48 hours or less (bacteria is 8 hours) must be delivered that same day in order to guarantee holding times are met. After hours, late delivery, freight/customs delays or courier issues are subject to additional rush fees and/or fee waiver to meet holding times. All holding times are as reflected as of the publication date of this fee schedule and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are retained for at most thirty (30) days after analysis has been completed. Sample storage for longer periods is by request only. Pre-arranged long term storage is subject to an additional charge. Samples will be discarded at the end of the pre-arranged storage time.

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

All pick up/sampling fees have been quoted on the fee schedule. Reasonable time has been allocated for each pick up or service. Unnecessary delays during the pick up or sampling might be assessed an additional fee.

Rev 2 Effective 5/1/17

Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

1. Definitions

"Terms and Conditions" means these terms and conditions of sale, including the price schedule, and any additions or amendments hereto which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity which may request laboratory services, consulting or sampling services and his or its heirs, successors, assigns and representatives. "Price Schedule" means Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule as such document may be amended or reissued from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services (as defined herein) only under the following General Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which does not incorporate the Terms. No modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the client and PCL.

The client may order services by submitting a written chain of custody (COC) to PCL. Any such order constitutes 1. an acceptance by the client of PCL's offer to do business with the client under the terms and condition and 2. an agreement to be bound by these terms and conditions.

The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or initiation of consulting services constitutes the client's express assent to be governed by these terms and conditions. No contrary or additional terms and conditions expressed in a client's document shall be deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of the terms and conditions.

For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished to PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of workmanship in the profession. Where applicable, PCL will use analytical methodologies which are in substantial conformity with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), CA Waterboard (ELAP), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM) Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC), Standard Methods (SM) of the Examination of Water and Wastewater and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate due to the nature or compositions of the samples or otherwise based on the reasonable judgement of PCL. Deviations, if any, will be made on a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and/or our QA/QC policies. The total liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or successors to the client, arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided hereto, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for said services. Client's acceptance of a work order and /or proposal releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in any client purchase orders or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel performs the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the condition which the samples are collected and for conditions in and about the sampling site and for advising PCL of the same and all information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder subject to payment for all services rendered and out-of-pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally, except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample material(s) provided by client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public or is the public domain or client has filed to pay PCL for all services rendered or is otherwise in breach of the agreement) subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of said data where such standard was observed. PCL reports and information provided thereunder are for the exclusive use and benefit of client and client agrees there shall be no third party beneficiary of such reports, data or information. Client will not disclose to any third party any information concerning technical information, software programs or other formulations.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent harmless from and against any and all liabilities, losses or damages, claims, demands, causes of action, suits and associated expenses including, but not limited to all court fees (the Litigation Expenses) and awards arising in favor of Client or any third party as a result of, and/or in any way occurring incident to arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or transportation handling or disposal of client's hazardous materials. 1. Injury, disease or death of persons 2. Loss of, damage to, lost of, or loss of use of property; and or 3. Financial loss of every kind of character. This indemnity does not apply to any of the foregoing losses, costs, damages, or injuries caused solely by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall specifically apply to losses, claims damages, actions of every kind and character arising out of or in connection with the negligence of or breach of contract by any indemnified Person, whether actual or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any liability which the client might otherwise have to PCL and the other indemnified Persons. To the extent necessary under applicable law, client agrees that its indemnity obligation will be supported by available liability insurance coverage to be furnished by client, which insurance shall be in the maximum amounts permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable to client for indirect, punitive, special, incidental or consequential damages (including without limitation loss of profit or business interruption Litigation Expenses or attorney fees (including, without limitation, attorney's fees, court costs, and cost pre or post judgment interest), or any other expenses or costs incurred by client or any other party in any litigation against or involving PCL or any indemnified person in connection with this agreement or its services provided under this agreement even if client is the prevailing party.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by client, client will provide and PCL will receive samples materials for analysis such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls, hazardous or any other hazardous or toxic materials, wastes, and substances which are defined, determined or identified as such under federal, state or local laws, rules, PCL policies or regulations (weather now existing or hereafter enacted or promulgated) or any judicial or administrative interpretation of any thereof (the "Hazardous Materials"). Client understands and agrees that any Hazardous Material received by PCL from client or at Client's request shall remain the property of Client and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of all unused portions of samples as specified by Client or by PCL's QA/QC policies. In the event the client does not specify or you keyed method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain Hazardous Materials. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for any/all bacterial analysis, client will be charged a sample disposal fee, per sample submitted, in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect in the area of operations on the date the services were rendered or with prices quoted and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment in advance or when analysis is completed is required for all new clients or until a history of payment and/or credit account has been established with PCL. For those clients with an established credit account, the terms for payment of charges are NET CASH within thirty (30) days from date of invoices. To the fullest extent permitted by or as by applicable law, any amount unpaid at the end of thirty (30) days is subject to interest at the lesser of the maximum rate permitted by law or one and one-half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balances. If unpaid amounts are collected through legal proceedings or by an attorney, the client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees or agents' fees associated with both collection procedure or efforts.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to the terms shall be effective only in writing and executed by an officer of PCL and by clients authorized representative, except that subsequent orders for additional services may be verbal or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries: No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information, or reports furnished by PCL. Client is securing services hereunder for his own account, and not as agent or broker, or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity. It is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party may rely on such data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that said data, information and reports are not requested, or shall be used by client or upon, in connection with or as part of, the purchase, sale, underwriting, or dissemination of any securities, any periodic or other reporting to the holders of any securities, the servicing, amendment, renewal or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender or the certification to or contracting with, directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or instrumentality.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advanced. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are delivered on weekends or after 3pm on weekdays without prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed prior to any samples being received by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to the client if requested. All analyses with holding times of 14 days or less, samples must arrive within 96 hours to allow PCL to meet holding times without applying a rush surcharge. All short holding times, 2-7 days, samples must arrive at the lab within 24 hours before a person to receive (but the holiday, time) can be used. Short holding times of 48 hours or less (bacteria is 8 hours) must be delivered that same day in order to guarantee holding times are met. After hours, late delivery, freight company delays or similar issues are subject to additional rush fees and/or the inability to meet holding times. All holding times are in effect as of the publication date of this fee schedule and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are retained (for at most thirty (30) days after analysis has been completed. Sample storage for longer periods is by request only. Pre-arranged long term storage is subject to an additional charge. Samples will be discarded at the end of the pre-arranged storage time.

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

All pick up/sampling fees have been notated on the fee schedule. Reasonable time has been allocated for each pick up or service. Unnecessary delays during the pick up or sampling, ought to, or cause an additional fee.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advanced. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are delivered on weekends or after 5pm on weekdays without prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed prior to any samples being received by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to the client if requested. All analyses with holding times of 14 days or less, samples must arrive at the laboratory within 48 hours of sampling. For analyses with holding times of 7 days or less, samples must arrive at the laboratory within 24 hours of sampling. Please note that the holding times can be shorter than the regulatory limit. Short holding times of 48 hours or less must be discussed with the project manager at the time of sampling to guarantee holding times are met. After hours, (see definition) freight company delivery or sample drop-off by the client is not considered a valid way to meet holding times. All holding times are in effect as of the publication date of the fee schedule and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are received for 30 days (XX days after analysis has been completed. Sample storage for longer periods is by request only. Pre-arranged long term storage is available for an additional charge. Samples will be disposed of at the end of the pre-arranged storage time.

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

All pick up/sampling fees have been included on the fee schedule. Reasonable time has been allocated for each pick up or service. Unnecessary delays during the pick up or sampling visits or as viewed as additional fee.

The following report contains the results for the one aqueous sample received on April 11, 2019. This sample was analyzed for 2,3,7,8-TCDD by EPA 1613B. Routine turn-around time was provided for this work.

Continuing Calibration Verification (CCV) Requirements
All associated calibration verification standard(s) (CCV) met the acceptance criteria.

This work was authorized under Pat-Chem Laboratories' Project # 19D0194.

The report consists of a Cover Letter, Sample Inventory (Section I), Data Summary (Section II), Sample Tracking (Section VI), and Qualifiers/Abbreviations (Section VII). Raw Data (Section III), Continuing Calibration (Section IV), and Initial Calibration (Section V) are available in a full report (.pdf format) upon request.

If you have any questions regarding this report, please feel free to contact me at (916)932-5011.

Sincerely,

CASE NARRATIVE

The samples were received outside the EPA recommended temperature of less than or equal to 6° C.

S1: The surrogate recovery was below the lower acceptance limit. The surrogate recoveries for the quality control samples were within acceptance limits. This indicates the low recovery may be due to matrix effects from the sample.

EPA 549.2:
Diquat strongly adsorbs to soil particles that are suspended in water. The strong chemical bonds make the herbicide chemically inactive. When bound with soil particles, the extraction procedure for method EPA 549.2 is ineffective at isolating the bound diquat. Any reported diquat represents the dissolved analyte in the water that has not been bound to the soil particles.

Introduction: This report package contains total of 6 pages divided into 3 sections:

Case Narrative	(2 pages)	: An overview of the work performed at FGL.
Sample Results	(2 pages)	: Results for each sample submitted.
Quality Control	(2 pages)	: Supporting Quality Control (QC) results.

Case Narrative

This Case Narrative pertains to the following samples:

Sample Description	Date Sampled	Date Received	FGL Lab ID #	Matrix
19D0194-01	04/05/2019	04/09/2019	SP 1904727-001	W

Sampling and Receipt Information: All samples were received in acceptable condition and within temperature requirements, unless noted on the Condition Upon Receipt (CUR) form. All samples arrived on ice. All samples were prepared and analyzed within the method specified hold time. All samples were checked for pH if acid or base preservation is required (except for VOAs). For details of sample receipt information, please see the attached Chain of Custody and Condition Upon Receipt Form.

Quality Control: All samples were prepared and analyzed according to the following tables:

ND=Non-Detected. PQL=Practical Quantitation Limit. * PQL adjusted for dilution.

MDA = Minimum Detectable Activity (Calculated at the 95% confidence level) = Data utilized by DHS to determine matrix interference.
MCL / AL = Maximum Contamination Level / Action Level. Alpha's Action Level of 5 pCi/L is based on the Assigned Value (AV).
AV = Assigned Value(Gross Alpha Result + (0.84 x Error)). CCR Section 64442: Drinking Water Compliance Note: Do the following
If Gross Alpha's (AV) exceeds 5 pCi/L run Uranium. If Gross Alpha's (AV) minus Uranium exceeds 5 pCi/L run Radium 226.

Drinking Water Compliance:
Gross Alpha (AV) minus Uranium is less than or equal to 15 pCi/L
Uranium is less than or equal to 20 pCi/L
Radium 226 + Radium 228 is less than or equal to 5 pCi/L

Note: Samples are held for 3-6 months prior to disposal.

Laboratory Report

Introduction: This report package contains total of 5 pages divided into 3 sections:

Case Narrative	(2 pages)	: An overview of the work performed at FGL.
Sample Results	(1 page)	: Results for each sample submitted.
Quality Control	(2 pages)	: Supporting Quality Control (QC) results.

Case Narrative

This Case Narrative pertains to the following samples:

Sample Description	Date Sampled	Date Received	FGL Lab ID #	Matrix
19D0194-01	04/08/2019	04/12/2019	SP 1904937-001	W

Sampling and Receipt Information: All samples were received in acceptable condition and within temperature requirements, unless noted on the Condition Upon Receipt (CUR) form. All samples arrived on ice. All samples were prepared and analyzed within the method specified hold time. All samples were checked for pH if acid or base preservation is required (except for VOAs). For details of sample receipt information, please see the attached Chain of Custody and Condition Upon Receipt Form.

Quality Control: All samples were prepared and analyzed according to the following tables:

Rev 2 Effective 5/1/17

Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

1. Definitions

"Terms and Conditions" means these Terms and Conditions of sale, including the price schedule, and any additions or amendments hereto which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity who may request laboratory services, consulting or sampling services and his or its heirs, successors, assigns and representatives. "Price Schedule" means Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule as such document may be amended or reissued from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services (as defined herein) only under the following General Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which does not incorporate the Terms. No modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the client and PCL.

The client may order services by submitting a written chain of custody (COC) to PCL. Any such order constitutes 1. an acceptance by the client of PCL's offer to do business with the client under the terms and condition and 2. an agreement not to be bound by these terms and conditions. The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or initiation of consulting services constitutes the client's express assent to be governed by these terms and conditions. No contrary or additional terms and conditions expressed in a client's document shall be deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of the terms and conditions.

For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of workmanship in the profession. Where applicable, PCL will use analytical methodologies which are in substantial conformity with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), CA Waterboard (ELAP), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM) Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC), Standard Methods (SM) of the Examination of Water and Wastewater and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate due to the nature or compositions of the samples or otherwise based on the reasonable judgement of PCL. Deviations, if any, will be made on a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and/or our QA/QC policies. The total liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or successors to the client, arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided herein, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for said services. Client's acceptance of a work order and /or proposal releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in any client purchase orders or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel performs it a sampling, the client shall be responsible for the conditions which the samples are collected and for conditions in and about the sampling site and for advising PCL of the same and all information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder subject to payment for all services rendered and out-of-pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally, except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample materials provided by client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public or is in the public domain or client has filed to pay PCL for all services rendered or is otherwise in breach of the agreement) subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of said data where such standard was observed. PCL reports and information provided therein are for the exclusive use and benefit of client and client agrees there shall be no third party beneficiary of such reports, data or information. Client will not disclose to any third party any information or data concerning PCL test methods, software programs or other formulations.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases, and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, investors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent harmless from and against any and all liabilities, losses or damages, claims, demands, causes of action, suits and associated expenses including, but not limited to, all court fees (the Litigation Expenses) and awards arising in favor of Client or any third party as a result of, and/or in any way occurring incident to arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to any agreement and/or subcontractor pertaining to disposal of client's characteristic materials, 1. injury, disease or death of persons 2. loss of, damage to, or loss of use of property and or 3. financial loss of every and all character. This indemnity does not apply to any of the foregoing losses, costs, damages, or expenses caused solely by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall specifically apply to losses, claims damages, actions of every kind and character, arising out of or in connection with the negligence of or breach of contract by any indemnified Person, whether actual or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any liability which the client might otherwise have to PCL and the other indemnified Persons. To the extent not prohibited by applicable law, client agrees that its indemnity obligation will be supported by available liability insurance coverage to be carried by client, which insurance shall be in the minimum amounts permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable to client for indirect, punitive, special, incidental or consequential damages (including, without limitation, loss of profit or business interruption, litigation Expenses or other fees (including, without limitation, attorney's fees, court costs, and /or pre or post judgment interest)), or any other expenses be such be sought by client in a claim made by a customer against or involving PCL, or any indemnified person in connection with this agreement, or any services provided under this agreement, even if client is the prevailing party.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by client, client will provide and PCL will receive samples materials for analysis such as soil, water, polychlorinated biphenyls, asbestos or any other hazardous or toxic material, wastes and substances which are defined, determined or identified as such under federal, state or local laws, rules, PCL policies or regulations (together, the existing or hereafter enacted or promulgated or any judicial or administrative interpretation of any thereof the "Hazardous Materials"). Client understands and agrees that any Hazardous Material received by PCL from client or client's agent shall remain the property of client and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of all unused portions of samples as specified by client or by PCL's QA/QC policies. In the event the client does not specify its preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain Hazardous Materials. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples to accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for analysis bacterial analysis, client will be charged a sample acceptance fee per sample submitted, in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect in the area of operations where the services were performed or with prices disclosed and rates confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment in advance or when analysis is completed is required for all new clients or until a history of payment and/or credit account has been established with PCL. For those clients with an established credit account, the terms for payment of charges are NET CASH within thirty (30) days from date of invoices. To the fullest extent permitted by law or applicable law, any amount unpaid at the end of thirty (30) days is subject to interest at the lesser of the maximum rate permitted by law or one and one-half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balances. If unpaid amounts are collected through legal proceedings or by an attorney, the client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees against fees associated with such collection proceedings or otherwise.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to the terms shall be effective only in writing and executed by an officer of PCL and by client's authorized representative. Except that subsequent orders for additional services may be placed by or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries; No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability to client's use or reliance on data, information, or reports furnished by PCL. Client is securing services hereunder for its own account, and not as agent or broker, or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity. It is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party may rely on such data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that said data, information and reports are not requested, or shall not be relied upon, in connection with or as part of, the purchase, sale, underwriting, or distribution of any securities, any periodic or other reporting to the SEC or any securities, the securing, amendment, renewal or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender or the certification to or confirmation with, directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or instrumentality.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analysis are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advanced. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are delivered on weekends or after 3pm on weekdays without prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed prior to any samples being received by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided upon client if requested. All analyses with holding times of 24 hours or less, samples must arrive within 36 hours to allow PCL to meet holding times without additional rush charge. All short holding times (< 72 hours) samples must arrive at the lab within 48 hours. Please inquire to receive additional holding times can be met. Short holding times (48 hours or less (bacteria is 8 hours) must be relevant that same day in order to guarantee holding times are met. After hours, time delivery, traffic emergency delays or similar issues are subject to additional rush fees and/or the inability to meet holding times. All holding times are in effect as of the publication date of this fee schedule and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are retained for at least thirty (30) days after analysis has been completed. Sample storage for longer periods is by request only. The accepted long term storage is subject to an additional charge. Samples will be discarded at the end of the pre-arranged storage time.

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

All pick up/sampling fees have been notated on the fee schedule. Reasonable time has been allocated for each pick up or service. Inconsistencies detect during the pick up or sampling, might be accessed an additional fee.

Rev 2 Effective 5/1/17

Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

1. Definitions

"Terms and Conditions" means these terms and conditions of sale, including the price schedule, and any additions or amendments hereto which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity who has required laboratory services, consulting or sampling services and his or its heirs, successors, assigns and representatives. "Price Schedule" means the Client Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule as such document may be amended or revised from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services (as defined herein) only under the following General Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which does not incorporate the Terms. No modifications to the Terms must be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the client and PCL.

The client may order services by submitting a written order of counter (COC) to PCL. Any such order constitutes 1. an acceptance by the client of PCL's offer to do business with the client under the Terms and condition and 2. an agreement to be bound by these terms and conditions. The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or initiation of consulting services constitutes the client's express assent to be governed by these terms and conditions. No contrary or additional terms and conditions expressed in a client's document shall be deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of the terms and conditions.

For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the Client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of workmanship in the profession where applicable, PCL will use analytical methodologies which are in substantial conformity with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), the Water Board (ELAP), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM), Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC), Standard Methods (SM), of the Examination of Water and Wastewater and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate due to the nature or composition of the samples or otherwise based on the reasonable judgement of PCL. Deviations, if any, will be made on a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) within our QA/QC program. The total liability of PCL or its officers, agents, employees or successors to the client arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided herein, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for said services. Client's acceptance of a work order and/or analytical relieves PCL from any liability in excess of the limiting amount for the services notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in any client purchase orders or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel perform the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the condition which the samples are collected and for conditions in and about the sampling site and for advising PCL of the risk and all information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder subject to payment for all services rendered and out of pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally, except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay in failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the samples or extract provided or used by or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence however such information is generally available to the public or is the entire subject of client has filed or has PCL for services rendered or is otherwise in breach of the agreement (or any amendment requested by law or court process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of such data unless such standard was observed. PCL reports and information provided thereunder is the exclusive use and benefit of client and client agrees that shall be the exclusive beneficiary of such reports, data or information. Client shall not rely on any third party to whom client has provided reports or other information prepared by PCL.

10. Hold Harmless

Client agrees and shall indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, successors and assigns harmless from and against any and all liabilities, losses or damages, claims, demands, causes of action, suits and costs, (and attorneys' fees including, but not limited to, litigation expenses) and awards arising in favor of client or any third party as a result in whole or any way occurring incident to, arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or transportation, handling or disposal of client's hazardous materials. Client agrees to indemnify and hold harmless PCL, its officers, employees, agents, successors and assigns from and against any and all claims, demands, damages, liabilities, losses, costs, expenses, causes of action, suits, and judgments of every kind and character arising out of or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement, whether actual or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any liability which the client might otherwise have to PCL and the other indemnified parties. To the extent that any client shall be a law firm agent or party, indemnity obligations will be supported by an errors & omissions insurance policy in the minimum amount of $1 million per occurrence. Client shall be responsible for all costs and expenses associated with any action instituted to collect on any debt owed to PCL by client, to enforce any indemnity provision of this agreement or any other agreement between client and PCL, or to defend any counterclaim, cross-claim, or third-party claim asserted against PCL by client in any dispute, whether any such claim is successful or not. In the event any client or any of client's employees or agents shall be required by oral deposition, subpoena, or otherwise to testify or produce documents regarding any matter relating in any way to the services performed by PCL for client hereunder, client agrees to pay PCL its then prevailing hourly rates for employee time spent in responding to such requests, including preparation for and travel time, and all out-of-pocket expenses incurred by PCL, including, without limitation, attorneys' fees, court costs, and the costs of any court reporters, experts, and other consultants employed by PCL in any dispute in any manner connected with or relating to PCL's performance of services or client's performance of its obligations under this agreement, or any other agreement between client and PCL, or PCL's employment by client. In any dispute between client and PCL or any independent person or company bound by any agreement to arbitrate any dispute, which any agreement exists, client and PCL agree to submit any such dispute to binding arbitration before a single arbitrator mutually selected by the parties. The arbitration proceeding shall be governed by the Federal Arbitration Act, 9 U.S.C. Sec. 1-16, not by any state law governing arbitration proceedings. The arbitration shall be conducted in Los Angeles, California, before the American Arbitration Association ("AAA") under the AAA's Commercial Arbitration Rules then existing. Any arbitration hearing shall commence within 90 days of the date on which a demand for arbitration is filed. Client waives the right to resolve any dispute with PCL through a trial by jury or judge or by class action. Client shall submit to the exclusive jurisdiction of the state and federal courts located in Los Angeles County, California, and agrees that any such action shall be tried only in a court located in Los Angeles County, California. Client agrees that the prevailing party shall be entitled to recover its reasonable attorneys' fees and costs, including expert witness fees, incurred in connection with any dispute between client and PCL or any action to enforce any provision of this agreement, whether or not such dispute results in arbitration or litigation.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by client, client will provide PCL with relevant samples to analyze. For example, in planning, performing and interpreting the results of any other hazardous waste evaluation, client will provide PCL with all relevant information in client's possession or control with respect to the existence of hazardous materials at or near the location from which samples are to be collected. Client recognizes and agrees that PCL is not responsible for the characterization, identification, treatment, storage, handling, transportation, disposal, or removal of hazardous materials found or identified at client's site. PCL assumes no responsibility or liability for any plan or response actions that may be required at client's site. Client shall indemnify, defend and hold harmless PCL, its officers, employees, agents, successors and assigns from and against any and all claims, losses, damages, liabilities and expenses (including, but not limited to, all fees and charges of attorneys, experts and arbitrators and all costs of litigation) which may be imposed on, incurred by or asserted against PCL, its officers, employees, agents, successors and assigns in any way relating to any hazardous materials that are present at client's site, whether or not PCL was negligent in causing or contributing to the release or threatened release of such hazardous materials. Client shall not ship hazardous samples to PCL's laboratory without prior written approval from PCL. Client shall properly label all samples shipped to PCL according to U.S. Department of Transportation regulations. Client shall indemnify, defend and hold harmless PCL, its officers, employees, agents, successors and assigns from and against any and all claims, losses, damages, liabilities and expenses (including, but not limited to, all fees and charges of attorneys, experts and arbitrators and all costs of litigation) which may be imposed on, incurred by or asserted against PCL, its officers, employees, agents, successors and assigns in any way relating to any hazardous materials that are present at client's site, whether or not PCL was negligent in causing or contributing to the release or threatened release of such hazardous materials. Client shall not ship hazardous samples to PCL's laboratory without prior written approval from PCL. Client shall properly label all samples shipped to PCL according to U.S. Department of Transportation regulations.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect at the time of quotations on the date the services were rendered or with price reported and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment in advance or when services are rendered is required for some clients or until a history of payment and/or credit account has been established with PCL. For those clients with an established credit account, the terms for payment of charges are NET CASH within thirty (30) days from date of invoice. In the absence of payment of all or any portion of the invoice within said period or the close of the month, rate permissible by law or one and one half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balances. If unpaid amounts are collected through legal proceedings or by an attorney, the client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees or agents' fees associated with such collection whether suit is filed or not.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to the terms shall be effective only if in writing and executed by an officer of PCL and by clients authorized representative, except that subsequent orders for additional services may be verbal or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries: No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information or reports furnished by PCL. Client is accepting services hereunder for its own account, and not as agent or broker, or on any other representative capacity for any other person or entity. It is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party may rely on such data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants and agrees that said data, information and reports are not warranted, or shall be used or relied upon, in connection with or as part of, the purchase, sale, underwriting, or distribution of any securities, any periodic or other reporting to the holders of any security, the securing, amendment, renewal or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender or the participation in or coordinating with any effort or activity of any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analysis are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advance. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the work will not be rushed.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for missing holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are delivered on weekends or after hours or weekdays without prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed prior to any sampling being initiated by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to the client if requested. All analyses with holding times of 14 days or less samples must arrive within 96 hours to allow PCL to meet holding times without incurring a rush surcharge. All analyses having 7 days, samples must arrive in the lab no later than 72 hours before expiration. Expiration of the holding times can be met. Short holding times (24 hours or less) or immediate (field) must be received the same day, or prior to guarantee holding times are met. After hours, late delivery, freight company delays or similar issues are subject to additional rush fees and/or the inability to meet holding times. All holding times are effective as of the collection date of the five schedule and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are retained for a period thirty (30) days after analysis has been completed. Sample storage for longer periods is by request only. The arranged long term storage is subject to an additional charge. Samples will be disposed of at the end of the prearranged storage time.

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

All pick up/sampling fees have been included on our fee schedule. Reasonable time has been allocated for each pick up or service. Unnecessary delays during the pick up or sampling event or services are additional fee.

Rev 2 Effective 5/1/17

Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

1. Definitions

"Terms and Conditions" means these Terms and Conditions of sale, including the price schedule, and any additions or amendments hereto which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity who may request laboratory services, consulting or sampling services and his or its heirs, successors, assigns and representatives. "Price Schedule" means Pat Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule as such document may be amended or reissued from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services (as defined herein) only under the following General Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which does not incorporate the Terms. No modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the client and PCL.

The client may order services by submitting a written chain of custody (COC) to PCL. Any such order constitutes 1. an acceptance by the client of PCL's offer to do business with the client under the terms and condition and 2. an agreement to be bound by these terms and conditions. The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or initiation of consulting services constitutes the client's express assent to be governed by these terms and conditions. NO contrary or additional terms and conditions expressed in a client's document shall be deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of the terms and conditions.

For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of workmanship in the profession. Where applicable, PCL will use analytical methodologies which are in substantial conformity with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), CA Waterboard (ELAP), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM), Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC), Standard Methods (SM) of the Examination of Water and Wastewater and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate due to the nature or composition of the samples or otherwise based on the reasonable judgement of PCL. Deviations, if any, will be made on a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and/or our QA/QC policies. The total liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or successors to the client, arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided herein, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for said services. Client's acceptance of a work order and/or proposal releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services not withstanding any provisions to the contrary in any client purchase orders or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel performs the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the conditions which the samples are collected and for conditions in and about the sampling site and for advising PCL of the same and all information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder subject to payment for all services rendered and out-of-pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally, except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample materials provided by client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public or is the public domain or client has filed to pay PCL for all services rendered or is otherwise in breach of the agreement) subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of said data where such standard was observed. PCL reports and information provided thereon are for the exclusive use and benefit of client and client agrees there shall be no third party beneficiary of such reports, data or information. Client will not disclose to any third party any information concerning technical information, software programs or other formulations.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent harmless from and against any and all liabilities, losses or damages, claims, demands, causes of action, suits and associated expenses including, but not limited to all court fees (the Litigation Expenses) and awards arising in favor of Client or any third party as a result of, and/or in any way occurring incident to arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or transportation, handling or disposal of client's hazardous materials. 1. Injury, disease or death of persons 2. Loss of, damage to, loss of, or loss of use of property and or 3. Financial loss of every kind of character. This indemnity does not apply to any of the foregoing losses, costs, damages, or injuries caused solely by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall specifically apply to losses, claims damages, actions of every kind and character arising out of or in connection with the negligence of or breach of contract by any indemnified Person, whether actual or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any liability all or the client might otherwise have to PCL and the other indemnified Persons. To the extent necessary under applicable law, client agrees that its indemnity obligations will be supported by available liability insurance coverage to be furnished by client, which insurance shall be in the maximum amounts permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable to client for indirect, punitive, special, incidental or consequential damages (including, without limitation, loss of profit or business interruption, Litigation Expenses or other fees (including, without limitation, attorney's fees, court costs, and/or pre or post judgment interest), or any other expenses or costs incurred by client or any other party in any litigation against or involving PCL or any indemnified person in connection with this agreement or all services provided under this agreement even if client is the prevailing party.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by client, client and any role and PCL will receive samples materials for analysis such as asbestos, pyrophoric, corrosive, biohazards, explosive or any other hazardous or toxic material, wastes and substances which are defined, determined or identified as such under federal, state or local laws, rules, PCL policies or regulations (whether now existing or hereafter enacted or promulgated or any change in administrative interpretation of any thereof the "Hazardous Materials"). Client understands and agrees that any Hazardous material received by PCL from client or at client's request shall remain the property of client and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of all unused portions of samples as specified by client or as PCL's QA/QC policies. In the event the client does not specify its preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain Hazardous Materials. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for any EPA bacterial analysis, client will be charged a sample disposal fee, per sample submitted, in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect in the area of operations on the date the services were rendered or with prices quoted and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment in advance or when analysis is completed is required for all new clients or until a history of payment and/or credit account has been established with PCL. For those clients with an established credit account, the terms for payment of charges are NET CASH within thirty (30) days from date of invoices. To the fullest extent permitted by law and by applicable law, any amount unpaid at the end of thirty (30) days is subject to interest at the lesser of the maximum rate permitted by law or one and one-half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balances. If unpaid amounts are collected through legal proceedings or by an attorney, the client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees or agents' fees associated with such collection procedure or efforts.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to the terms shall be effective on in writing and executed by an officer of PCL and by clients authorized representative, except that subsequent orders for additional services may be verbal or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries: No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information, or reports furnished by PCL. Client in executing services hereunder for his own account, and not as agent or broker, or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity. It is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party may rely on such data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that said data, information and reports are not requested, or shall be used to rely upon in connection with or as part of, the purchase, sale, underwriting, or distribution of any securities, any periodic or other reporting to the holders of any securities, the securing, encumbrance, renewal, or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender or the certification to or contracting with, directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advance. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are delivered on weekends or after 5pm on weekdays without prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed prior to any samples being received by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to the client if requested. All analyses with holding times of 14 days or less, samples must arrive within 96 hours to allow PCL to meet holding times without applying a rush surcharge. All short holding times, 2-7 days, samples must arrive at the lab within 24 hours before expiration to ensure that the holding time can be met. Short Holding Times of 48 hours or less (Nitrate is 48 hours) must be delivered that same day in order to guarantee holding times are met. After hours, late delivery, freight company delays or similar issues are subject to additional rush fees and/or the inability to meet holding times. All holding times in effect as of the publication date of this fee schedule and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are retained for at least thirty (30) days after analysis has been completed. Sample storage for longer periods is by request only. Primary and long term storage is subject to an additional charge. Samples will be discarded at the end of the pre-arranged storage time.

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

All pick up/sampling fees have been inflated on our fee schedule. Reasonable time has been allocated for each pick up or service. Unnecessary delays during the pick up or sampling might be accessed an additional fee.

Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

1. Definitions

"Terms and Conditions" means these Terms and Conditions of sale, including the price schedule, and any additions or amendments hereto to which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity who may request laboratory services, consulting or sampling services and his or its heirs, successors, assigns and representatives. "Price Schedule" means Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule as such document may be amended or restated from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services (as defined herein) only under the following General Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which does not incorporate the Terms. No modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the client and PCL.

The client may order services by submitting a written chain of custody (COC) to PCL. Any such order constitutes 1. an acceptance by the client of PCL's offer to do business with the client under the terms and conditions and 2. an agreement to be bound by these terms and conditions. The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or initiation of consulting services constitutes the client's express assent to be governed by these terms and conditions. No contrary or additional terms and conditions expressed in a client's document shall be deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of the terms and conditions.

For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of workmanship in the profession. Where applicable, PCL will use analytical methodologies which are in substantial conformity with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), CA Waterboard (ELAP), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM), Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC), Standard Methods (SM) of the Examination of Water and Wastewater and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate due to the nature of compositions of the samples or otherwise based on the reasonable judgement of PCL. Deviations, if any, will be made on a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and/or our QA/QC policies. The total liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or successors to the client, arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided herein, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for said services. Client's acceptance of a data report shall be deemed releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in any client's purchase orders or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel performs the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the condition which the samples are collected and for conditions in and about the sampling site and for advising PCL of the same and all information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder subject to payment for all services rendered and out-of-pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally, except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample materials provided by client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public domain or client has filed to pay PCL for all services rendered or is otherwise in breach of the agreement) subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of said data where such standard was observed. PCL reports and information provided thereunder are for the exclusive use and benefit of Client and client agrees there shall be no third party beneficiary of such reports, data or information. Client will not disclose to any third party any information concerning PCL's methodology, software programs or other formulations.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, assigns in each and parent harmless from and against any and all liabilities, losses or damages, claims, demands, causes of action, suits and associated expenses including, but not limited to attorneys fees (the Litigation Expenses) and awards arising in favor of Client or any third party as a result of, and/or in any way occurring incident to, arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or transportation, handling or disposal of client characterize materials. 1. Injury or loss or death of persons 2. Loss of, damage to, lien of, seizure of use of property and/or 3. Financial loss of every kind of character. This indemnity does not apply to any of the foregoing losses, costs, damages, or injuries caused solely by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall specifically apply to losses, claims damages, actions of every kind and character arising out of or in connection with the negligence of or breach of contract by any Indemnified Person, whether actual or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any liability which the client might otherwise have to PCL and the other Indemnified Persons. To the extent necessary under applicable law, Client agrees that its indemnity obligations will be supported by, and the Client shall maintain, insurance to be furnished by Client, which insurance shall be in the maximum amounts permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable to Client for indirect, punitive, special, incidental or consequential damages including, without limitation, loss of profit or business interruption or cancellation expenses or other fees (including, without limitation, attorney's fees, court costs, and our post-trial judgment collection), or any other economic loss sustained by Client in any way connected with any claim against or involving PCL or any Indemnified Person in connection with this agreement, in an amount greater than the fees paid by Client to PCL for the services which are the subject of this agreement.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by client, client will provide and PCL will receive samples materials for analysis such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls, bacteria or any other hazardous or toxic material, waste and substances which are defined, designated or classified as such under federal, state or local law. Unless PCL is subject to regulations (whether now existing or hereafter enacted or promulgated) or any public or governmental interpretation of any thereof (the "Regulations Materials"), Client understands and agrees that any such material received by PCL from client or at client's request shall remain the property of Client and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of all unused portions of samples as specified by client or its PCL's QA/QC policies. In the event the client does not specify as preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain Hazardous Materials. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for analysis bacterial analysis, client will be charged a sample disposal fee, per sample submitted, in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect at the time of quotation or on the date the services were rendered or with prices quoted and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment in advance or when analysis is completed is required for all new clients or until a history of payment and/or credit account has been established with PCL. For those clients with an established credit account, the terms for payment of charges are NET CASH within thirty (30) days from date of invoices. To the fullest extent permitted by law, any amount unpaid at the end of thirty (30) days is subject to interest at the lesser of the maximum rate permitted by law or one and one half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balances. If unpaid amounts are collected through legal proceedings or by an attorney, the client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees or agents' fees associated with such collection procedure or efforts.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to the terms shall be effective only in writing and executed by an officer of PCL and by clients authorized representative, except that subsequent orders for additional services may be verbal or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries: No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information, or reports furnished by PCL. Client is ordering services hereunder for its own account, and not as agent or broker, or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity. It is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party may rely on such data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that said data, information and reports are not requested, or shall be used to relied upon, in connection with or as part of, the purchase, sale, underwriting, or distribution of any securities, any periodic or other reporting to the holders of any security, the securing, amendment, renewal or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender or the certification to or contracting with, directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advance. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are delivered or unreceived after 5pm on weekdays without prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed prior to any samples being received by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to the client if requested. All analyses with holding times of 14 days or less' samples must arrive within 36 hours to allow PCL to meet holding times without assuming rush surcharge. All short holding times, 7 days, samples must arrive at the lab within 24 hours prior acceptance to ensure that the holding times can be met. Short Holding Times of 48 hours or less (Bacteria) should be delivered the same day in order to guarantee holding times are met. After hours, late delivery, freight damaging delays or similar issues are subject to additional rush fees and/or the inability to meet holding times. All holding times are in effect as of the publication date of this fee schedule and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are retained for a minimum sixty (30) days after analysis has been completed. Sample storage for longer periods is by request only. Pre-arranged long term storage is subject to an additional charge. Samples will be disposed at the end of the pre-arranged storage time.

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

All pick up/sampling fees have been notated on the fee schedule. Reasonable time has been allocated for each pick up or service. Unnecessary delays during the pick up or sampling stage, as determined by PCL will be

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample materials provided by client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public or is the public domain or client has failed to pay PCL for all services rendered or is otherwise in breach of the agreement) subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of said data where such standard was observed. PCL reports and chemical data provided thereto are for the exclusive use and benefit of Client and client agrees client shall not be a third party beneficiary of such reports, data or information. Client will not disclose to any third party any information concerning technical information, software programs or other formulations.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent harmless from and against any and all liabilities, losses, damages, claims, demands, causes of action, costs and associated expenses including, but not limited to, all court fees (including Expenses) and awards arising in favor of Client or any third party as a result of and/or in any way resulting incident to, arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or their subsequent handling or disposal of client's hazardous substance, 1. injury, disease or death of persons 2. loss of, damage to, loss of, or loss of use of property and or 3. environmental or waste of any of the foregoing losses, costs, damages, or injuries caused solely by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall specifically apply to actions, claims, damages, or loss of every kind and character that may arise out of or in connection with the negligence or breach of contract by any indemnified person, whether actual or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any liability which the client might otherwise have to PCL and the other indemnified Persons. To the extent not prohibited under applicable law, client agrees that its indemnity obligation will be supported by available liability insurance coverage to be furnished by client, which insurance shall be in the maximum amounts permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable to client for indirect, punitive, special, incidental or consequential damages (including, without limitation, loss of profit or business interruption), Litigation Expenses or other fees (including, without limitation, attorney's fees, court costs, and cost of your judgment interest), or any other expenses or costs incurred by client or any other party in any litigation against or involving PCL or any indemnified person in connection with this agreement or any services provided under the agreement even if client is the prevailing party.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by client, client will provide and PCL will receive samples materials for analyses such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls, bacteria or any other hazardous or toxic material, waster and substances which are defined, determined or identified as such under federal, state or local law(s), rules, PCL policies or regulations (whether now existing or hereafter enacted or promulgated) or any judicial or administrative interpretation of any thereof (the "Hazardous Materials"). Client understands and agrees that any hazardous material received by PCL from client or at client's request shall remain the property of Client and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of all unused portions of samples as specified by client or by PCL's EHS/QC policies. In the event the client does not specify its preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain hazardous Materials. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for any/all bacterial analysis, client will be charged a sample disposal fee, per sample submitted, in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect in the area of operation on the date the services were rendered or with prices quoted and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment in cash or check or credit card is required for all services rendered to clients or until a history of payment and/or credit account has been established with PCL. For those clients with an established credit account, the terms for payment of charges are NET CASH without invoice thirty (30) days from date of invoices. To the fullest extent permitted by law, by applicable law, any amount unpaid at the end of thirty (30) days is subject to interest at the lesser of the maximum rate permitted by law or one and one half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balance. If unpaid amounts are collected through legal proceedings or arbitration, the client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees (or agents' fees associated with such collection procedure as well.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes to conditions or amendments to the terms shall be effective only if signed and executed by an officer of PCL and by the client or a representative showing that individual's right for additional services may be verbal or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries; No Right or Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information, or reports furnished by PCL. PCL is passing services hereunder for its own account and not as agent or broker, or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity. It is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party may rely on PCL's data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that said data, information and reports are not requested or will be used to/relied upon, in connection with or as part of, the purchase, sale, underwriting, or other disposition of any securities, or with regard to other transactions of a similar nature, including, without limitation, any offering of securities, syndication, assignment, participation, recapitalization, amendment, renewal or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender or the certification of any fact in connection with, directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advance. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are delivered on weekends or after 3pm on weekdays without prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed prior to any samples being received by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to the client if requested. All analyses with holding times of 14 days or less, samples must arrive within 72 hours of collection for PCL to meet holding times without incurring a rush surcharge. All short holding times, (72 hours, samples must arrive at the lab within 24 hours, before expiration to insure that the holding times can be met. Short Holding Times of 48 hours or less (Coliform is 6 hours) must be delivered that same day in order to guarantee holding times are met. After hours, late delivery, freight company delays or similar issues are subject to additional rush fees and/or the inability to meet holding times. All holding times are in effect as of the publication date of this fee schedule and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are retained for at least thirty (30) days after analysis has been completed. Sample storage for longer periods is by request only. Pre-arranged long term storage is subject to an additional charge. Samples will be discarded at the end of the pre-arranged storage time.

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

All pick up/sampling fees have been quoted on the fee schedule. Reasonable time has been allocated for each pick up or service. Unnecessary delays during the pick up or sampling might be accessed an additional fee.

Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

1. Definitions

"Terms and Conditions" means these terms and conditions of sale, including the price schedule, and any additions or amendments to them which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity who may request laboratory services (including sampling services) and who is the party, employee, agent and representative. "Price Schedule" means Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule, as such document may be amended or revised from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent [illegible] in providing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services or estimates for only under the following General Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall govern PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which does not incorporate the Terms. No modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the Client and PCL.

The Client may order services by submitting a written request to PCL or PCL may solicit orders from Client. An acceptance by the Client of PCL's offer to do business with the Client under the terms and conditions and 2. an agreement to be bound by these Terms and conditions. The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or acceptance of consulting services constitutes the Client's consent to be governed by these terms and conditions. No additional or additional terms and conditions expressed in a Client's document shall be deemed to become a part of this contract, regardless of payment of the terms and conditions.

For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of workmanship in the profession where applicable. PCL will use analytical methodologies whenever or numerical conformity with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), U.S. Patent and Trade Mark Office, American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM), Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC), Standard Methods for the Examination of Water and Wastewater and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate to the nature or composition of the samples or materials based on the reasonable judgement of PCL. Deviations, if any, will be made on a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs and/or the QA/QC policies. The total liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees, or successors to the client arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided herein, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for such services. Client's acceptance of a work order or of the proposal relevant PCL hereby limits its liability to the invoiced amount for the services notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in any client purchase orders or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel performs the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the conditions which the samples are collected and for conditions in and about the sampling site and for advising PCL of the same and all information relevant to enable PCL to perform its services safely and all clients.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder, subject to payment for all services rendered and out-of-pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally, and shall be the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform its obligations pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample materials provided by Client or at Client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence unless such information is previously available to the public or is the public domain or client has given written PCL for all services rendered. In the absence of the agreement, subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in conducting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of test data where such disclosure was [illegible] PCL reports and information provided pursuant to this agreement or Client's failure to maintain confidentiality when Client uses PCL reports or test results. Client will not disclose PCL's test procedures, information concerning methodologies, software programs or secret formulations.

10. Hold Harmless

Client will defend and hold harmless, indemnify, and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent companies and agents, and each of its successors, heirs or assigns (jointly, severally or collectively, each and individually referred to as "Indemnified Party") from and against any and all claims, demands, losses, liabilities, costs and expenses (including reasonable attorneys' fees and costs) of any kind or nature whatsoever, whether or not involving a third party claim, which arise out of, result from or are related to (a) any actual or alleged infringement of any patent, trademark, copyright or trade secret, or misappropriation or misuse of any confidential information or other proprietary right of any person or entity, which arise out of or are related to the performance of the services by PCL or the use by Client or any other person or entity of the services, deliverables or other materials provided by PCL hereunder, or (b) any actual or alleged death of or injury to any person, damage to any real or personal property or any other loss, claim, damage or liability of any kind or character whatsoever, whether or not due to third party claims, which arise out of or are related to the performance of the services by PCL or the use by Client or any other person or entity of the services, deliverables or other materials provided by PCL hereunder, except to the extent finally judicially determined to have been caused by the willful misconduct or gross negligence of the Indemnified Party. Without limiting the foregoing, Client will indemnify, defend and hold harmless each Indemnified Party from and against any and all losses, damages, liabilities, deficiencies, actions, judgments, interest, awards, penalties, fines, costs or expenses of whatever kind, including reasonable attorneys' fees, arising out of or resulting from any claim, action or proceeding by any person or entity which is based on or arises from (i) Client's breach of any representation, warranty or obligation set forth in this agreement, or (ii) any negligent or more culpable act or omission of Client (including any reckless or willful misconduct) in connection with the performance of its obligations under this agreement or any activities contemplated by this agreement.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by Client, Client will identify and PCL will receive certain materials or substances which are known to be hazardous, toxic or otherwise harmful to or dangerous to persons or property and which are regulated by any federal, state or local law, rule, regulation or ordinance (collectively, "Hazardous Materials"). Client will comply with all applicable laws, rules, regulations and ordinances and all PCL policies or regulations (whether now existing or hereafter enacted or promulgated) pertaining to Hazardous Materials. Client represents and warrants to PCL that Client has fully informed PCL in writing of the characteristics and identity of all Hazardous Materials that may be delivered to, received by or handled by PCL hereunder. Client will indemnify, defend and hold harmless each Indemnified Party from and against any and all losses, damages, liabilities, deficiencies, actions, judgments, interest, awards, penalties, fines, costs or expenses of whatever kind, including reasonable attorneys' fees, arising out of or resulting from any claim, action or proceeding by any person or entity which is based on or arises from (i) Client's failure to properly identify any Hazardous Materials delivered to PCL hereunder, or (ii) any negligent or more culpable act or omission of Client (including any reckless or willful misconduct) in connection with the performance of its obligations under this agreement or any activities contemplated by this agreement with respect to the Hazardous Materials delivered to PCL hereunder. Client will promptly pay the reasonable and customary charges that PCL may establish from time to time for the handling of Hazardous Materials. Client acknowledges that PCL is not a waste disposal site, transfer station or storage facility. Client will not deliver to PCL any Hazardous Materials without PCL's prior written consent. If PCL accepts any Hazardous Materials, Client will sign a separate bailment agreement with PCL. Client will not deliver to PCL any Hazardous Materials that Client knows or has reason to know are explosive or radioactive. Client will not deliver to PCL any Hazardous Materials that are regulated by the Nuclear Regulatory Commission. Client will not deliver to PCL any Hazardous Materials that are regulated by the Drug Enforcement Administration.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect at the time of execution of the agreement for services provided in such prices quoted and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment in accordance with such schedule is required for all new clients prior to the initiation of services under this agreement. For clients [illegible] with PCL [illegible] with an established account, the terms for payment of invoices are NET CASH within thirty (30) days from date of invoices. To the fullest extent permitted by law or applicable law, any amount unpaid at the end of thirty (30) days is subject, at the option of the insured, to a late charge of one and one-half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balance. Unpaid amounts are turned over to legal counsel or collection attorney. The client may also be responsible for all attorney fees or costs incurred with such collection procedure or action.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to this terms shall be effective only if in writing and executed by an officer of PCL [illegible] Failure to object to provisions contained in any confirmation, invoice or other communication shall not be construed as a waiver of any provision of these terms and conditions.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries; No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information, or reports furnished to PCL. Client is solely responsible for its own account, and not as agent or broker, or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity. It is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party may rely on data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that test data, information and reports are not transmitted, in whole or in part, to any other person or entity as part of the purchase, sale, underwriting, or dissemination of any securities, any offering or other reporting to the holders of any security, the renewal, replacement, reissuance or extension of any loan or any financial institution or other lender or in any certification or compliance with, or audit of, federal, state or municipal laws, rules or regulations.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advance. If for any subsequent request, the rush time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL [illegible] responsible for holding times for all samples received or samples that are delivered on unreasonably short time schedules and/or prior to confirmation and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed prior to any sampling being performed by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to the client if requested. No analyses with holding times of 24 hours or less, samples must arrive within 36 hours of collection. PCL is not responsible for holding these samples if arrival is after 24 hours. Additional charges may apply. In most cases, written approval of the laboratory is required prior to the collection of these samples. PCL reserves the right to reject samples that are received outside of holding times. All holding times are in effect as of the publication date of this fee schedule and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are retained for at least thirty (30) days after analysis has been completed. Sample storage for longer periods is by request only. Pre-arranged long term storage is subject to an additional charge. Samples will be discarded at the end of the pre-arranged storage time.

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

All work performed by PCL has been initiated on the fee schedule. Reasonable time has been provided for [illegible] and client service. Unnecessary delays during the pick up or sampling might be considered additional for

Rev 2 Effective 5/1/17

Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

1. Definitions

"Terms and Conditions" means these Terms and Conditions of sale, including the price schedule, and any additions or amendments hereto which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity who may request laboratory services, consulting or sampling services and his or its heirs, successors, assigns and representatives. "Price Schedule" means Pat Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule as such document may be amended or reissued from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services (as defined herein) only under the following General Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which does not incorporate the Terms. No modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the client and PCL.

The client may order services by submitting a written chain of custody (COC) to PCL. Any such order constitutes 1. an acceptance by the client of PCL's offer to do business with the client under the terms and condition and 2. an agreement to be bound by these terms and conditions. The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or initiation of consulting services constitutes the client's express assent to be governed by these terms and conditions. No contrary or additional terms and conditions expressed in a client's document shall or deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of the terms and conditions.

For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of workmanship in the profession. Where applicable, PCL will use analytical methodologies which are in substantial conformity with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), CA Waterboard (ELAP), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM), Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC), Standard Methods (SM) of the Examination of Water and Wastewater, and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate due to the nature or ~~~ compositions of the samples or otherwise based on the reasonable judgement of PCL. Deviations, if any, will be made on a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and/or our QA/QC policies. The total liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or successors to the client, arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided herein, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for said services. Client's acceptance and/ a work order and /or proposal releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in any client purchase orders or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel perform the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the conditions in and about the sampling site and for advising PCL of the same and all information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder subject to payment for all services rendered and out-of-pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally, except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample materials provided by client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public or is the public domain or client has ~~~ filed to pay PCL for all services rendered or is otherwise in breach of the agreement) subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of said data where such standard was observed. PCL reports and information provided therein are for the exclusive use and benefit of client and client agrees there shall be no third party beneficiary of such reports, data or information. Client will not disclose to any third party any information concerning tests, information, software programs or other formulations.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent harmless from and against any and all liabilities, losses or damages, claims, demands, causes of action, suits and associated expenses including, but not limited to all court fees (the Litigation Expenses) and awards arising in favor of Client or any third party as a result of and/or in any way occurring incident to arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or transportation, handling or disposal of client's hazardous materials, 1. injury, disease or death of persons 2. loss of, damage to, loss of, or loss of use of property and or 3. financial loss of every kind or character. This indemnity does not apply to any of the foregoing losses, costs, damages, or injuries caused solely by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall specifically apply to losses, claims damages, actions of every kind and character arising out of or in connection with this agreement (1) a breach of contract by any indemnified Person, whether actual or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any liability which the client might otherwise have to PCL and the other indemnified Persons. To the extent necessary under applicable law, client agrees that its indemnity obligation will be supported by available liability insurance coverage to be purchased by client, which insurance shall be in the maximum amounts permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable to client for indirect, punitive, special, incidental or consequential damages (including without limitation, loss of profit or business interruption, Litigation Expenses or attorneys fees (including without limitation, attorney's fees, court costs, and pre and post judgment interest), or any other expenses or costs incurred by client or any other party or any legal action against or involving PCL or any indemnified person in connection with this agreement or an order provided under this agreement, even if client is the prevailing party.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by client, client will provide and PCL will receive samples materials by samples such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls, bacteria or any other hazardous or toxic material, wastes and substances which are defined, determined or identified as such under federal, state or local laws, rules, PCL policies or regulations (whether now existing or hereafter enacted or promulgated or any judicial or administrative interpretation of any thereof the "Hazardous Materials"). Client understands and agrees that any hazardous material received by PCL from client or at client's request shall remain the property of Client, and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of all unused portions of samples as specified by client or by PCL's QA/QC policies. In the event the client does not specify its preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain Hazardous Materials. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for any cell bacterial analysis, client will be charged a sample disposal fee, per sample submitted, in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect in the area of operations on the date the services were rendered or with prices quoted and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment in advance or when analysis is completed is required for all new clients or until a history of payment and/or credit account has been established with PCL. For those clients with an established credit account, the terms for payment of charges are NET CASH within thirty (30) days from date of invoices. To the fullest extent permitted (if at all) by applicable law, any amount unpaid at the end of thirty (30) days is subject to interest at the lesser of the maximum rate permitted by law or one and one half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balances. If unpaid amounts are collected through legal proceedings or by an attorney, the client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees or agents' fees associated with such collection procedures or efforts.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to the terms shall be effective only in writing and executed by an officer of PCL and by clients authorized representative, except that subsequent orders for additional services may be verbal or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries: No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability for client's use of or reliance on data, information, or reports furnished by PCL. Client is securing services hereunder for his own account, and not as agent or broker, or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity. It is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party may rely on such data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that said data, information and reports are not requested, or shall be used to relied upon, in connection with or as part of, the purchase, sale, underwriting, or distribution of any securities, any periodic or other reporting to the holders of any securities, the securing, amendment, renewal or any extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender or the certifications to or contracting with, directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advanced. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are delivered on weekends or after 3pm on weekdays without prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed prior to any samples being received by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to the client if requested. All analyses with holding times of 14 days or less, samples must arrive within 96 hours to allow PCL to meet holding times without applying a rush surcharge. All short holding times, 2-7 days, samples must arrive at the lab within 24 hours before acceptance to ensure that the holding times can be met. Short Holding Times of 48 hours or less (bacteriology 8 hours) must be delivered that same day in order to guarantee holding times are met. After hours, late delivery, freight company delays or similar issues are subject to additional rush fees and/or the inability to meet holding times. All holding times are in effect as of the publication date of this fee schedule and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are retained for all in no shorts (30) days after analysis has been completed. Sample storage for longer periods is by request only. Pre-arranged long term storage is subject to an additional charge. Samples will be discarded at the end of the pre-arranged storage time.

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

All pick up/sampling fees have been included on the fee schedule. Reasonable time has been allocated for each pick up or service. Unnecessary delays during the pick up or sampling might be assessed an additional fee.

Rev 2 Effective 5/1/17

Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) Terms and Conditions

1. Definitions

"Terms and Conditions" means these Terms and Conditions of sale, including the price schedule, and any additions or amendments hereto which are agreed to in writing. "Client" means the individual or entity who may request laboratory services, consulting or sampling services and his or her heirs, successors, assigns and representatives. "Price Schedule" means Pat-Chem Laboratories (PCL) standard price schedule as such document may be amended or reissued from time to time by PCL.

2. Independent Contractor

PCL acts solely as an independent contractor in performing all services.

3. Orders and Acceptance

PCL offers and will accept orders for services (as defined herein) only under the following General Terms and Conditions (the "Terms"). These Terms shall not apply if PCL and the Client shall have executed a separate agreement in writing which does not incorporate the Terms. No modifications to the Terms shall be valid and binding unless in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the Client and PCL.

The client may order services by submitting a written chain of custody (COC) to PCL. Any such order constitutes 1. an acceptance by the client of PCL's offer to do business with the client under the terms and condition and 2. an agreement to be bound by these terms and conditions. The Client's delivery of samples to PCL or initiation of consulting services constitutes the client's express assent to be governed by these terms and conditions. No contrary or additional terms and conditions expressed in a client's document shall be deemed to become a part of the contract created upon acceptance of the terms and conditions.

For purpose of this agreement, "services" shall mean all work to be performed for the client, including provision of all equipment and materials to be furnished by PCL.

4. Limit of Liability

PCL will perform the services in accordance with the normal standards of workmanship in the profession. Where applicable, PCL will use analytical methodologies which are in substantial conformity with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), CA Waterboard (ELAP), American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM), Association of Official Analytical Chemists (AOAC), Standard Methods (SM) of the Examination of Water and Wastewater and/or other recognized methodologies. PCL reserves the right to deviate from these methodologies if necessary or appropriate due to the nature or compositions of the samples or otherwise based on the reasonable judgement of PCL. Deviations, if any, will be made on a basis consistent with the recognized standards of the industry and/or PCL Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and/or our QA/QC policies. The total liability of PCL, its officers, agents, employees or successors to the client, arising out of or in connection with the services to be provided herein, shall not exceed the invoiced amount for said services. Client's acceptance of a work order and/or proposal releases PCL from any liability in excess of the invoiced amount for the services notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in any client purchase orders or contracts.

5. Clients Responsibility

Unless PCL personnel performs the sampling, the client shall be responsible for the condition which the samples are collected and for conditions in and about the sampling site and for advising PCL of the same and all information required to enable PCL to perform its services safely and efficiently.

6. Cancellation

Client may cancel any order for services hereunder subject to payment for all services rendered and out-of-pocket expenses incurred up to the date of cancellation in accordance with the applicable Price Schedule.

7. Overriding Agreement

The parties agree that the Terms shall govern performance of Client's initial order and all subsequent orders for additional services, whether placed in writing or verbally, except to the extent the Terms are modified in writing and executed by an authorized representative of both parties.

8. Force Majeure

PCL shall not be responsible for delay or failure to perform the services pursuant to this agreement due to causes beyond its control.

9. Confidentiality

Data and the sample materials provided by client or at client's request and the results obtained by PCL shall be held in confidence (unless such information is generally available to the public or is in the public domain or client has failed to pay PCL for all services rendered or is otherwise in breach of the agreement) subject to any disclosure required by law or legal process. PCL shall use the same standard of care it uses in protecting its own confidential data and shall not be responsible for unauthorized disclosure of said data where such standard was observed. PCL reports and information provided thereto are for the exclusive use and benefit of client and client agrees there shall be no third party beneficiary of such reports, data or information. Client will not disclose to any third party any information concerning technical information, software programs or other formulations.

10. Hold Harmless

Client releases and shall save, indemnify, defend and hold PCL, its employees, officers, directors, agents, affiliates, subsidiaries and parent harmless from and against any and all liabilities, losses or damages, claims, demands, causes of action, suits and associated expenses including, but not limited to all court fees (the Litigation Expenses) and awards arising in favor of Client or any third party as a result of, and/or in any way occurring incident to, arising out of, or in connection with the performance of services by PCL pursuant to this agreement and/or transportation, handling or disposal of client's hazardous materials, 1. injury, disease or death of persons 2. loss of, damage to, use of, or loss of use of property and or 3. financial loss of every kind or character. This indemnity does not apply to any of the foregoing losses, suits, damages, or injuries caused solely by the gross negligence or willful misconduct of PCL or its employees. Further, this indemnity shall specifically apply to losses, claims, damages, actions of every kind and character arising out of or in connection with the negligence or breach of contract by any indemnified person, whether actual or alleged, in the performance of services under this agreement. The foregoing indemnities will be in addition to any liability which the client might otherwise have to PCL and the other indemnified persons. To the extent necessary under applicable law, Client agrees that its indemnity obligation will be supported by available liability insurance coverage to be purchased by client, which insurance shall be in the maximum amounts permitted under applicable law. In no event shall PCL be liable to client for indirect, punitive, special, incidental or consequential damages including, without limitation, loss of profits or business interruption, Litigation Expenses or other fees (including, without limitation, attorney's fees, court costs, and for pre-or post-judgment interest), or any other expenses to client incurred by client or any other party in any civil action against or involving PCL or any indemnified person in connection with this agreement or an services provided under this agreement even if client is the prevailing party.

11. Hazardous Substances

For PCL to perform the services requested by client, client will provide and PCL will receive samples materials for analysis such as asbestos, polychlorinated biphenyls, bacteria or any other hazardous or toxic materials, wastes and substances which are defined, determined or identified as such under federal, state or local laws, rules, PCL policies or regulations (whether now existing or hereafter enacted or promulgated) or any judicial or administrative interpretation of any thereof (the "Hazardous Materials"). Client understands and agrees that any Hazardous Material received by PCL from client or at client's request shall remain the property of client and that upon completion of PCL's services, PCL will dispose of all unused portions of samples as specified by client or its PCL's QA/QC policies. In the event the client does not specify its preferred method of disposal, PCL will return to the client all unused samples which contain hazardous substances. PCL reserves the right to charge the client for the disposal of unused samples in accordance with PCL's current sample disposal policy. In addition, all samples received by PCL for any of bacterial analysis, client will be charged a sample disposal fee, per sample submitted, in accordance with our QA/QC policies and procedures.

12. Prices/Payments

Client shall pay PCL in accordance with PCL's applicable price schedule in effect in the area of operations on the date the services were rendered or with prices quoted and later confirmed in writing. The price schedule is subject to change at any time without notice. Payment in advance or when analysis is completed is required for all new clients or until a history of payment and/or credit account has been established with PCL. For those clients with an established credit account, the terms for payment of charges are NET CASH within thirty (30) days from date of invoices. To the fullest extent permitted (if at all) by applicable law, any amount unpaid at the end of thirty (30) days is subject to interest at the lesser of the maximum rate permitted by law or one and one-half percent (1.5%) per month on the unpaid balances. If unpaid amounts are collected through legal proceedings or by an attorney, the client shall pay reasonable costs and attorney's fees or agents' fees associated with such collection procedures or efforts.

13. Agreement Modification

Changes, modifications or amendments to the terms shall be effective only in writing and executed by an officer of PCL and by client's authorized representative, except that subsequent orders for additional services may be verbal or in writing.

14. No Third Party Beneficiaries: No Right of Reliance

PCL shall have no responsibility or liability to client's use of any report or data, information, or reports furnished to PCL. Client is securing services hereunder for its own account, and not as agent or broker, or in any other representative capacity for any other person or entity. It is agreed and acknowledged that there are no third party beneficiaries to this agreement, and that no third party may rely on such data, information or reports. Client represents, warrants, and agrees that said data, information and reports are not requested, or shall be used to rely upon, in connection with or support of, the purchase, sale, underwriting, or distribution of any securities, any periodic or other reporting to the holders of any securities existing, anticipated, renewed, or extension of any loan from any financial institution or other lender or the certification to or contracting with, directly or indirectly, any governmental agency or department.

15. Rush Analysis

Rush analyses are available for an additional charge and must be arranged in advanced. If, for any unforeseen reason, the rush turnaround time cannot be met, the normal price will apply.

16. Holding Times

PCL cannot be responsible for holding times that are exceeded because of samples that are delivered on weekends or after 3pm on weekdays without prior notification and acceptance. Standard holding times and storage conditions should be reviewed prior to any samples being received by PCL. A list of holding times can be provided to the client if requested. All analyses with holding times of 14 days or less, samples must arrive within 96 hours or allow PCL to meet holding times without applying a rush surcharge. All short holding times, 3-7 days, samples must arrive at the lab within 24 hours before expiration to ensure that the holding times can be met. Short holding times of 48 hours or less (bacteria) must be received and delivered the same day in order to guarantee holding times are met - after hours, late delivery, transit company delays or similar issues are subject to additional rush fees and/or the inability to meet holding times. All holding times are in effect as of the publication date of this fee schedule and are subject to change without notice.

17. Sample Retention

All samples are retained for at least thirty (30) days after analysis has been completed. Sample storage for longer periods is by request only. Pre-arranged long term storage is subject to an additional charge. Samples will be discarded at the end of the pre-arranged storage time.

18. Sample Pick Up/Field Tech Sampling

All pick up/sampling fees have been notated on the fee schedule. Reasonable time has been allocated for each pick up or service. Unnecessary delays during the pick up or sampling may be assessed an additional fee.
